

Ordered for Duty in the West. Major-General Couch, stationed for the past year at Chambersburg, has been ordered to duty in Major-General Thomas' department.

The Board of Military Claims. Gen. W. W. Irwin, President of the State Board of Military Claims, desires us to announce that all persons holding warrants issued by the State Treasurer, for Military Claims, are requested to transmit the same to the Hon. Isaac Slenker, Auditor General, for re-issue and liquidation.

Notice to Presidential Electors. By the provisions of the law controlling the election of Presidential Electors, it is made the duty of the Governor of the Commonwealth to ascertain the number of votes given for each person so voted for, and shall thereupon declare by proclamation the names of the persons thus elected, and shall cause a notification of his election to be delivered to each person so chosen, on or before the last Wednesday of November next after such election.

Sherman's operations in Georgia will have an influence on more matters than the mere existence of the Confederacy, and will be sensibly felt in commercial and financial circles long before they have any practical effect on the affairs of the Government. Already the sharks who have been bleeding the country on the gold question begin to give signs of pain, and are making arrangements for the re-action which must soon overtake and destroy their piratical business.

"Hog Winder." The New York Evening Post, under this caption, prints a scathing article in relation to the brute Winder, who has had in charge the Federal prisoners in and about Richmond. When the sufferings of our poor fellows, confined in the Libby Prison and on Belle Isle near Richmond, became known, a cry of horror was raised here and in Europe over the barbarity of the rebels. What then did Davis and the other rebel leaders do? Did they order the ruffing of the Libby prison? Did they court-martial and punish Winder and his subordinates, who perpetrated this long series of cruel outrages? Did they explain that these things occurred without their knowledge, and were disapproved by them? Not at all; but when the evidence grew too clear for them; when they found that if these cruelties continued to be perpetrated under their eyes and near Richmond, they, the rebel leaders, would be everywhere held responsible for them, they removed the prisoners. They sent them from Belle Isle and the Libby to Andersonville; from a place where their cries could be heard and their sufferings known, to one so obscure, so remote, that no inhumanity practiced there could be immediately known; a place where the prisoners were in a tenfold degree more at the mercy of their jailors. And whom did they send to be the jailer? The same infamous wretch, Winder, whose cold-blooded and systematic cruelties had made the prisons of Belle Isle and the Libby a scandal no longer endurable so near to Davis; the same who, known from his early youth at West Point as "Hog Winder," notorious ever since in the old army for his meanness, his abominable cruelty, and shunned as the possessor of every shameful vice, completed his infamy by the systematic maltreatment of helpless prisoners of war in Richmond—this person was continued in his place, and was sent by Davis, with his victims to Andersonville. Would this have been done had not the intention been to starve and every way ill-treat our men? Would not Davis have selected some other person to rule over the prison, had he desired to alleviate the sufferings of the prisoners? Is not this selection of Winder proof positive that he and his confederates intentionally commit these atrocities?

John H. Young, editor-in-chief of the Philadelphia Press, has been on a tour through the oil regions of Western Pennsylvania.

Let By-Gones be By-Gones. We have no spiteful tendencies in our nature, nor are we disposed to be resentful. Hence, so far as we are personally concerned, we are cheerfully in favor of letting the by-gones of the political contest which has just closed so gloriously for the cause of the Union, civil liberty and civilization, be by-gones. But there are others to consult besides ourselves. Our weakness in this matter of forgiveness will not meet the accord of all our fellow-citizens, simply because there are those who have deeply suffered at the hands of the political opponents with whom we have been forced to contend. By the record which those opponents made, they will hereafter be judged, so that every man in the north who openly arrayed himself in hostility to the cause of the Government, will be made to feel, as long as he lives, the disgrace of his action, as well as the diabolical heinousness of the object he sought to accomplish.

The recent vote in the different armies now in the field contending with traitors, exhibits fairly the true feeling of the soldiers. When rebellion was precipitated, thousands and hundreds of thousands of men left the peaceful walks of life, abandoned prosperous trades and professions, left happy and attractive homes, to peril their lives in defence of a government forming the source of all this prosperity, peace and happiness. The civil rights, the free institutions, and the domestic ties of the people in the free and loyal States, were all equally involved in the objects of the slaveholders' rebellion. To destroy the Union in order to benefit the institution of slavery, was merely the first step in the bloody programme devised by the conspirators. Once the Union was destroyed, and the Government thereby weakened, aggression would have followed aggression, as the victorious slaveholders usurped one right after the other of the conquered North, until every white laboring man in the new free States would have found himself the subject of a master more cruel and exacting than those from whom the serfs of Russia are now being released. And just at this point we arrive at the position where the Democratic leaders have forever made themselves odious to the free masses of the North. These leaders never denied that the conspirators of the South were contending for the enslavement of all labor, and in the face of this fact, when the free white men of the North were struggling with conspirators who aimed at their enslavement, at this very period, the Democratic leaders took the bold ground of opposition to extending the elective franchise to the soldier.

Will the American soldier, can he forget such treatment? Will such by-gones be by-gones? There is something ominous in the vote of the soldier on this subject. That vote in all the armies has almost been unanimous in support of all the issues involved in the administration policy to crush rebellion. From this we are satisfied that the soldiers in the field, in regard to Copperheadism at home, are not satisfied that "by-gones shall be by-gones." They do not see the propriety of forgetting that there are those in the rear who do not endorse the efforts they are making for the restoration of the Union by force of arms, when the rebels themselves have declared that there was no available argument for such a purpose save the bayonet's point. They do not recognize that such candidates for the Federal Congress are any more entitled to their votes than if they were offered for the same kind of a gathering to meet at the rebel capital. Their votes show this fact as plain as the bright sun at noonday, and the inevitable conclusion is that Peace Democratic candidates for national legislation are not much in favor with the army. By-gones may be by-gones with the Democracy at periods when it is desirous of success, for the sake of place and spoils, but the principle does not apply to men who peril their lives in behalf of their country and its institutions.

Frankly Spoken. The following from the Agitator, the gallant organ of the Republicans of Tioga county, is frankly uttered. It is according to Cobb's nature to say and do just things: Now that the battle is far progressed and decisively in favor of Union, we cannot forbear giving praise to the unflinching zeal and tireless energy of the Chairman of the Union State Central Committee, Gen. Cameron, who had long ago established his reputation for energy and superior executive ability. If anything could add lustre to that reputation, his conduct of the campaign in Pennsylvania unquestionably may. No man has more entirely given his time and energies to the work. Day and night at the post of duty, he has once been sentinel and Commander-in-chief. No duty has been neglected, none delayed. He accepted the position with reluctance. He will retire from it with the proud consciousness of duty performed. He has borne himself above the scurrilous tricks of politicians, and led to victory through a vigorous prosecution of honorable warfare.

NATIONAL MISSIONARY SOCIETY OF THE METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH.—The General Missionary Committee of the Methodist Episcopal Church concluded their labors on Monday evening, November 14, having appropriated $621,910 for the support of the foreign and domestic missions under their supervision. The distribution of the money was made: To foreign missions, $312,235 15; To foreign populations other than Germany, 10,475 00; Indian missions, 5,150 00; American domestic, including the three German conferences and the German missions belonging to the New York and California missions, 184,050 00; Missions in new Territories, 20,000 00; Missions in Southern Territory, 35,000 00; Contingent fund, 25,000 00; Office expenses, 18,000 00; Incidental expenses, 13,000 00. Total, $622,910 15.

XXIst Congressional District. The Greensburg Herald, of the 23d inst., contains the following emphatic reference to the result in the XXIst Congressional District. It exhibits fully the desperation of the men with whom the friends of the Union had to deal at the late election: Many persons are anxious to know if Dr. Fuller is fairly elected to Congress in this District. We answer that he is fairly elected by the soldiers' vote. But as the return judges in this and Fayette county took upon them the illegal right to throw out a large number of soldiers' votes, and because a number of Army Returns did not arrive in time to be counted by the judges, John L. Dawson has the certificate of election, and if Dr. Fuller gets his majority will have to contest Mr. Dawson's right to his seat.

subject to all the pains and penalties of the crime of desertion. Volunteer organizations formed into companies, battalions, regiments, brigades or divisions, will be accepted for forty days, even if they approximate to the number which is required in each organization by the militia laws of the State, which were in force prior to the late act. All police companies formed in counties for home defence will report, leaving at home for the time only those over fifty-five years of age; and all those having Confederate details or exemptions, who, by the late decision of the Supreme Court of this State, are held to be liable to State militia service, and bound to obey the call of the Governor. All such refusing to report will be arrested by the police force, or by any aid-de-camp or other officer of this State, and carried immediately to the front. The necessary employees of railroads, now actively engaged, and the necessary agents of the express company and telegraph operators, are, from the necessity of their services in the present emergency, excused. All ordained ministers of religion of a church or synagogue are also excused. All railroad companies in this State will transport all persons applying for transportation to the front, and in case any one refuses, its President, Superintendent, Agent and employees will be immediately sent to the front. All aids-de-camp and other State officers are required to be active and vigilant in the execution of the orders contained in this proclamation, and all Confederate officers are respectfully invited to aid State officers in their vicinity, in sending forward all persons hereby ordered to the front. The enemy has penetrated almost to the centre of your State. If every Georgian able to bear arms would rally round him he would never be able to escape.

2D EDITION. Army of the Potomac. Capture of the Rebel Ex-Gen. Roger A. Pryor. WASHINGTON, Nov. 29. The rebel ex-General, Roger A. Pryor, now a private soldier in the Confederate army, was captured on Friday last, by the Fifth Corps pickets of the Army of the Potomac, while attempting to exchange papers with our pickets, as a retaliatory act for the recent capture of Capt. Burbridge, by the rebel pickets, under similar circumstances. He says that General Lee had issued an order for the return of Captain Burbridge on Saturday, and he will probably be returned as soon as Burbridge is sent back. Since his capture Captain Burbridge has been dismissed from the army for disobeying the order forbidding the exchange of papers, or holding intercourse with the enemy under any pretence whatever. Pryor has been brought to Washington and committed to the Old Capitol Prison. WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—The information from the Army of the Potomac, on Sunday evening, is, that the usual amount of picket firing was heard along the front, but beyond that was quiet. In Gen. Butler's Department the picket firing was heavier than usual on that day, and there was also cannonading.

FROM NASHVILLE. Repulse of Hood's Army at Columbia. NASHVILLE, Nov. 28. Nothing has been heard from Hood's army on our front since yesterday evening. The telegraph wires are down. Hood made an assault on our works at Columbia, south of Duck river, Saturday, and was badly repulsed. A small portion of the rebel cavalry had succeeded in crossing Duck river. Hood has made no other developments of his plans. Thus far he has accomplished nothing further than the conscripting of some of his dear friends. There is no foundation for the rumor of the evacuation of Johnsonville, except a proper precaution for possible contingencies. The military situation is satisfactory to the authorities. The impression gains ground that Hood will move east across the Chattanooga, probably with the hope of accomplishing something with the aid of Breckinridge.

Cambria County—Official. EBENSBURG, Pa., Nov. 28. Home vote, 1,856; Soldiers' vote, 388. M'Clellan's official majority, 792. A Democratic office since October.

From North Carolina. THE DESTRUCTIVE FIRE IN NEWBERN—THE REBELS REPULSED AT PLYMOUTH—BOANOCK AND CHOWAN REPORTED BEING FORTIFIED. NEWBERN, N. C., Nov. 26. The fire here last Saturday night destroyed twenty buildings, mostly business houses, some containing large stocks, and mostly uninsured. The principal sufferers are Hurlbut & McLean, Robert Dunn, J. B. Oxley, J. A. Thompson, J. N. Allen, John M'Sorley, J. Lewis, L. Ber, D. Montanus, John Good, R. M'Elvey, J. J. Schellinger, R. Berry and William Bangert. A skirmish occurred at Plymouth, a few days since, in which the enemy were repulsed. It is reported that the rebels are fortifying the Roanoke and Chowan Rivers, with a view to the evacuation of Virginia. A daily line of steamers now runs to Fortress Monroe from this city.

General Sherman's Army. EXTRACTS FROM GEORGIA PAPERS—ATLANTA NEARLY ALL BURNED—THE GEORGIANS FURIOUS OVER SHERMAN'S BOLD ADVANCE. FORTRESS MONROE, Nov. 28. The Savannah Daily News of the 23d inst., says that a body of troops entering Atlanta shortly after it was evacuated report that the larger portion of the business section of the town was burned. An editorial mentions that Milledgeville was evacuated, and that the archives and all valuable Government and personal property had been removed. The nation, and except those engaged in the Legislative or Judicial Departments of the Government, which are by the recent acts of the Legislature declared exempt from compulsory service. All others are absolutely required, and members of the Legislature and Judges are invited to report immediately to Major General G. A. Smith, at Macon, or wherever else in Georgia his camp may be, for forty days' service under arms, unless the emergency is sooner passed. The statute declares that all persons hereby called out shall be subject, after this call, to all the rules and articles of war of the Confederate States, and on failure to report shall

Proclamation of Gov. Brown, of Georgia. THE GOVERNOR GREATLY EXCITED. EVERY MAN UNDER 55 CALLED OUT. SHERMAN IN THE CENTRE OF THE STATE. From the (Ga.) Daily Constitutionalist, Nov. 22. STATE OF GEORGIA, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, MILLEDGEVILLE, Nov. 19, 1864. The whole people understand how imminent is the danger now threatening the State. Our cities are being burned, our State laid waste, and our wives and children mercilessly driven from their homes by a powerful enemy. We must strike like men for freedom, or we must submit to subjugation. Death is preferred to the loss of liberty. All must rally to the field for the present emergency, or the State is overrun. I therefore, by virtue of the authority vested in me by the statutes of this State, hereby order a levy en masse of the whole white male population now residing or domiciled in the State, between sixteen and fifty-five years of age, except such as are physically unable to bear arms, which physical defect must be plain and undoubted, or they must be sent to camp for examination, and except those engaged in the Legislative or Judicial Departments of the Government, which are by the recent acts of the Legislature declared exempt from compulsory service. All others are absolutely required, and members of the Legislature and Judges are invited to report immediately to Major General G. A. Smith, at Macon, or wherever else in Georgia his camp may be, for forty days' service under arms, unless the emergency is sooner passed. The statute declares that all persons hereby called out shall be subject, after this call, to all the rules and articles of war of the Confederate States, and on failure to report shall
