

Georgia Campaign.

Particulars of the Advance of Howard and Slocum.

BOTH COLUMNS ACROSS THE OCOREE.

Reported Occupation of State Capital Confirmed.

Volunteers for the State Guard.
It is now clearly understood that all volunteers for the first five regiments of the State Guard will, if embraced in any future drafts, be furnished by the War Department for the time they actually remain in the State service. And when this time in the State Guard is served out, it will be regarded as the expiration of this furlough, the man thereafter to be ordered into the United States army, there to complete the time for which he was drafted. All such volunteers will also be credited on any future drafts which the War Department may make for their full term of service to the State, thus: If a volunteer in the State Guard serves one year, and he should after the expiration of his time be drafted by the United States, for two or more years, he will receive a credit on such a draft of the year devoted to the State. These are important facts, and will no doubt induce the speedy filling up of the first five regiments of the State Guard.

Deserters in Canada.
Our Canadian neighbors have had a good time in affording refuge and encouragement to the patriots who deserted from the armies of the United States, while the sneaks who abandoned the cause of their country in the hour of its greatest need, calculated that they would enjoy themselves hugely while living under the protection of the British flag. But "the tables have been turned." The deserters now in Canada begin to yearn for their old homes and a place in the land of the free. Lately a meeting of these deserters was held, at which a petition was adopted, praying the President of the United States to receive them again as soldiers, and asking to be allowed to return to their country, exempt from the punishment which they incurred as deserters. But the Government is not to be brought to terms by any set of men who are without desert, and the preliminary conditions demanded by these refugees preclude the possibility of any compliance with their requests. The United States are not so bad off for men that the acquisition of the uncertain services of bounty-jumpers and deserters is a matter which justifies the abandonment of the dignity of the people. Had the refugees petitioned to be taken back, and trusted to the mercy of the President, their case would have been different. But they cannot be allowed to make their own terms with the Executive. Consequently, we suppose, they will be compelled to endure the miseries of their Canadian refuge, furnishing to others a powerful warning of the folly and miseries which would result from an imitation of their example.

THE BARBAROUS TREATMENT OF UNION PRISONERS IN THE HANDS OF THE REBELS, IS BEGINNING TO ATTRACT THE ATTENTION OF THE CIVILIZED WORLD. History contains no story of brutality, oppression and selfishness equal to that which establishes the fact of the treatment of our brave boys now in the power of the rebels. The sick and wounded are thrust into desolate cells, left to lay neglected on the cold ground deprived of all medical attention, refused even common food, and robbed of what little comfort they may have had from their persons when captured. These accounts beggar all description. The world never heard anything like this treatment of our soldiers; and sooner or later, every civilized nation in Christendom will be forced to acknowledge that a people adding these inhumanities to the already great crime of bartering in human flesh, are not fit to exist on the face of the earth.

GEN. HOWARD'S MOVEMENTS.
GORDON OCCUPIED ON THE 21ST—ORCHESTRAL WORKS AND FOUNDRY DESTROYED AT GRISWOLDVILLE.
[From the Savannah News, Nov. 29.]
A private dispatch, dated Gordon, half past two o'clock, states that at that hour the enemy were within two miles of Gordon. They had burnt the chemical works, a lumber train and a foundry at Griswoldville. A Confederate force in sufficient numbers to meet them was at Gordon. The force of the enemy was but a raiding party.
Since the above was in type we learn that a force of the enemy occupied Gordon yesterday.

ADDITIONAL PARTICULARS OF THE OCCUPATION OF GORDON AND GRISWOLDVILLE.
[From the Augusta Constitutionalist, Nov. 22.]
Passengers who came down on this road last night report that a raiding party of the enemy tapped this road at Griswoldville, ten miles this side of Macon, at three o'clock on Sunday afternoon. They confirm the report of the capture and destruction of a lumber train. Two freight trains going hence to Macon approached very near to the wreck before discovering the presence of the enemy. The lumber train captured was set on fire, the valve of the engine reversed, and the train started down the track.
The freight trains were reversed and put back as rapidly as possible. A short distance this side of Gordon heavy cannonading and rapid discharges of small arms were heard. It is supposed that the firing was at Gordon, and that General Wayne, who was holding that position, had been attacked. Others report that the firing was at Macon. The discharges of artillery were very rapid. The regular mail train to Macon turned back at Tennille.

THE REPORTED OCCUPATION OF MILLEDGEVILLE CONFIRMED.
[From the Augusta Constitutionalist, Nov. 22.]
Milledgeville is supposed to be in the hands of the enemy. It had been entirely evacuated by our forces. Everything of value had been brought off.

ADDITIONAL PARTICULARS OF THE MOVEMENT ON MILLEDGEVILLE.
AUGUSTA, NOV. 21.—A raiding party of the enemy tapped the Central Railroad, at Griswoldville, at 3 o'clock P. M., on Saturday, Nov. 19th, and captured and destroyed a lumber train. Nothing else is known of their operations in that quarter, except that heavy firing was heard a few hours afterwards.
The movement of Sherman was a feint, for the purpose of concentrating our forces there, and the raid upon the railroad was for the purpose of keeping them there, whilst the whole force of the enemy moves upon and captures Augusta or Savannah.

THE NEWSPAPERS LEAVING MACON.
[From the Macon Confederate, Nov. 20.]
The Southern Confederacy and the Intelligencer have packed up and left the city. We learn that they are going eastward.

ADDITIONAL PARTICULARS OF THE MOVEMENT ON MILLEDGEVILLE.

DEATH OF THE HON. WILLIAM OVERFIELD.
Hon. William Overfield, a gentleman well known throughout the State, died at his residence, in Monroe county, on Monday of last week. During his life he filled many public positions of responsibility. He was once a member of the board of Canal Commissioners, and also served his district in both the Senate and House of Representatives. When he died he was in his 75th year.

THE REBELS MASSING AN ARMY TO OPPOSE SHERMAN.
[From the Augusta Chronicle and Sentinel, Nov. 20.]
It is stated that a large cavalry force has left Greenville, S. C., and is moving across the country in the direction of Atlanta, probably with a view of cutting off the Yankee column which is moving down the Georgia road in this direction.

GEN. BRECKINRIDGE FIGHTING TO THE RESCUE.
[From the Augusta Chronicle and Sentinel, Nov. 20.]
We are also told that the wife of a prominent General, who is at present in our city, has received a letter from her husband, in which it is stated that General Breckinridge and his troops under him would leave Upper East Tennessee Saturday, Nov. 20th, on their march southward. By this time this command must be well advanced towards the Georgia line, and will undoubtedly soon give a good report of itself.

REBEL ACCOUNTS AS TO SHERMAN'S MOVEMENTS.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.
The subscriptions to the Seven-Thirty loan during the past week amounted to $3,200,000. The Savannah Republic of the 22d contains contradictory reports as to Sherman's movements, particularly as to his crossing the Oconee river.
The column operating on the Georgia road kept the Western side and struck off in the direction of Macon, as though contemplating a junction with the forces in that vicinity.
It is stated that a strong force of cavalry is following Sherman, and that it is not impossible that Forrest may ere long hang like a wolf on his rear and flank.
Some of the recently exchanged prisoners have reached Washington, and say that when they arrived at Savannah from Millen, they were kindly treated, and furnished with the best food which could be procured, and that the people intimated that there were forces under Beauregard and Johnson at Macon and Augusta to oppose Sherman, but they did not believe he would encounter them, or that the military authorities would in time decide whether to concentrate the force they had at Savannah. There were over 500 men who could make a feeble resistance.

The Shenandoah Valley.
NEW CREEK CAPTURED AND BURNED BY THE REBELS—AN ATTACK ON PIEDMONT REPULSED.
WHEELING, Va., Nov. 19.
The rebels under General Payne surprised, captured and burned New Creek, on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, yesterday. They sent a force of about 300 to Piedmont, but were stubbornly resisted by Company 6th West Virginia Volunteers, who fought them three hours, when they retreated on the Elk Garden road. The damage inflicted to the railroad was very slight, and the communication between this point and Cumberland is re-established.

THE FEELING AT MACON.
[From the Macon Confederate, Nov. 20.]
We are glad to note an increased feeling of confidence in the city. The whole available force of the community is under arms and ready at a moment's notice for the trenches. The enemy are believed to be east of the city, about thirty miles distant. The direction of their march is uncertain. They are reported to have a wagon train eight miles long.
Many are of the opinion that they intend to leave Macon unmolested, fearing to attack the large force gathered here, and the splendid fortifications which surround the city. One thing is certain—Macon is to be defended to the last, and those best informed believe it can be held against any force Sherman can bring against it.
There are no Yankees on the railroad between this point and Griffin.
HARDEE AND BEAUREGARD AT MACON—WHO IS IN FRONT OF SHERMAN?
[From the Macon Confederate, Nov. 20.]
Lieutenant General Hardee arrived in the city this morning.
General Beauregard will probably be in town to-morrow afternoon. The clarion voice of this gallant Louisianian, like the blast of Roderick's bugle, will be worth a thousand men.
[Since the date mentioned it will be observed that communication with the East has been interrupted by Sherman, and the aforementioned gallant Louisianian and the Georgian Hardee are left far in the rear of Sherman.]

Fortress Monroe.
FORTRESS MONROE, Va., Nov. 28.
The fire which caused the destruction of the steamer Greyhound, while coming down the James river, yesterday afternoon, with Major General Butler and Schenck, and Rear Admiral Porter on board, is supposed to have originated in the locality of the falling, with which it is customary to protect the wood-work of steamers from the heat of the boiler and steam chimney.
The valuable horses belonging to Major General Butler and staff all perished. Two persons on board managed to obtain a small portion of their clothing, and with this exception the captain, pilot and all hands, experienced the loss of all their personal effects.
The Greyhound belonged to Mr. George H. Powers, of Hudson, New York, and was universally acknowledged to be the swiftest steamer in these waters.
The pirate Florida sunk at her anchorage off Newport News, this morning. Vessels bound down the James river, report that merely the topmasts are visible above the water's edge. It has been well known that it was with great difficulty that the Florida could be kept free of water while lying in the harbor, on account of the breach made by the prow of the Wachusett, in the encounter off Bahia, having extended nearly down to the water line.

MORE ABOUT MR. PRYOR.
He is a Captain of Scouts, and is Charged With Being a Spy.
How He Behaved in Washington To-Day.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.
The Old Capitol Prison received a distinguished visitor this morning, in the person of Roger A. Pryor, formerly a member of Congress from Virginia, the maimed of Clemens, of Alabama, and would-be murderer of Potter, of Wisconsin.
It appears that several days ago one of our officers, belonging to the 9th Corps, who had gone out on the picket line to exchange papers with the rebels, was taken prisoner by them. Our boys determined to retaliate for this outrage, and an opportunity presented itself night before last. About dusk a rebel officer came down to our picket line in front of General Potter's position, and exchanged papers. He was immediately arrested and taken before General Potter on the charge of being a spy, as he had a private's coat on over his uniform.
He turned out to be Captain Roger A. Pryor, formerly a general in the rebel service, but subsequently reduced in rank by Beauregard. At the time of his capture he was a Captain of an independent company of scouts. Gen. Potter, by whom he was examined, is a first cousin to Potter, of Wisconsin; whom Pryor, in former days, challenged to a duel. Captain Pryor came up on the mail boat this morning, and appears again in Washington, but under somewhat different auspices than formerly. On his way up the Avenue, this morning, he evinced a great deal of nonchalance with the United States officers on each side of him.
He sauntered along, smoking his cigar, and
