SATURDAY EVFNING, DECEMBER 3. 1864.

PERSONAL AND POLITICAL.

Under any other man than Simon Cameron, says the Lancaster Inquirer, and with different management than our State Committee in augurated throughout the whole State, we consider that M'Clellan would have carried the State by from five to ten thousand majority! The closeness of the vote shows this. and that it was only by the hardest fighting, the most unceasing watchfulness, and the proper means at General Cameron's disposal, that has enabled us to carry Pennsylvania for the Union ticket. We want no better evidence than the foul abuse, the malignant vituperation and perfect torrent of charges of fraud, that the democracy have so abundantly poured forth on General Cameron's devoted head, to show in what light they regard his measures, and how they feared him personally. The same spirit that animates the rebels to curse and howl at Grant, Sherman, Sheridan and Farragut, and every other Union commander that hurts their cause and means to crush out their confederacy, is manifested both by the Pennsylvania copperhead journals and a few sorehead Union papers. Instead of of the Commonwealth, for the purpose of ingrowling at our leaders, we should all be teresting them in the effort to defeat the rasthankful that we gained the State at all, and return to them the hearty thanks that their hard fight richly merited.

John J. M'Elhone, one of the chief reporters of the official proceedings of Congress, has purchased a splendid residence in Chester. Delaware county, Pa., where he intends hereafter permanently to reside. There are few men of his age, in the country, more brilliantly endowed or thoroughly educated. As a political writer, he is able and bold; as a man frank and generous. Mr. M'Ilhone will continue to serve as a reporter in Congress, but during the time intervening between its sessions, will enjoy the retirement of his new home on the Delaware.

Three of the oldest men in Tanworth, New Hampshire, attended town meeting on the eighth, and all voted for Father Abraham. Their names and ages are as follows: Mr. Stephen G. Philbrick, aged ninety-four, walked four miles to attend the meeting. He waited until the papers came announcing the but when this protection fails the responsiresult. took a Boston Journal, and started for home, apparently fifteen years younger than when he came. Mr. Henry Wiggin, ninety- it not so, war would resolve itself into mere three; Mr. Wm. P. Hidden, brother of the late Rev. Samuel Hidden, ninety-three.

At the Presidential election Lincoln carried eight of the large cities, and M'Clellan seven. The Lincoln cities were Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chicago, St. Louis, Baltimore and Indianapolis. For M'Clellan -New York, Brooklyn, Albany, New Haven-Buffelo, Milwaukee, and Louisville.

Gen. Thomas has two men in his employ who serve as scouts and spies at the imminent hazard of their lives. The rebel Gen. Johnson has offered a reward of $50,000 for their capture. They have been much within the rebel lines, and often in their very camp, but so disguised as to defy detection.

Rev. Arthur Cleveland Coxe, D. D., Epis copal Bishop of Western New York, preached a sermon in Brooklyn, a few days ago, in which he proposed a union of Episcopalians, Presbyterians. Methodists, Moravians and other sects, on the basis of the Nicene creed.

Mrs. Stephen Berry, of Machias, Maine,

The Influence of the Approaching Session of the State Legislature. If ever there was a time in the history of the State of Pennsylvania, when it became the people thereof, by the aid of the press, to watch the movements of men about to be invested with legislative authority, that time has now arrived. Already are combinations Fulton. being formed, not only among individuals, but by corporations, so to shape legislation as to threaten the social prosperity as well as the political harmony of the Commonwealth. It is unnecessary for us to aver that the tendency of legislation for years past has been towards a corruption at once frightful and disgraceful. Neither party is responsible for this-neither party is willing to be directly connected with the kind of legislation referred to -but both are justly chargeable with lacking the moral force and virtue to oppose the machinations of individuals to use their party, when in power, for self-aggrandizement. In , both political organizations, there are bad men ready to resort to evil means to carry their personal ends; men who, while thus employed, seek to drag the party to which they belong, and the State of which they are citizens, to disgrace or destruction, so that their own personal ends are served, or their own dirty aims of plunder made successful. It is against this class of politicians that it becomes men of all parties to war; and it is to the combinations now forming by these men, that we desire to call the attention of our cotemporaries in all parts cals by exposing their frauds.

. There are now two great schemes being ar ranged--one of which is to take money already in, out of the treasury, and devote it to illegitimate purposes; to bloat, and render still more arrogant, what are already overgrown corporate powers--while the other scheme has for its object the recognition of claims growing out of rebel raids. An effort will be made, during the coming session of the Legislature, to saddle on the State the expense of paying for every fence rail burned, every blade of provender consumed, every grain of wheat, rye or corn carried off, with all the cattle appropriated to their use by the rebels during their raids into Pennsylvania.

It is a well established principle of nations that, when engaged in war, no government is responsible to its subjects for damages sustained from the blows of the enemy. So faras possible, the government of each country protects its citizens from loss during war, bility ceases, and all claims for damages growing out of such losses are invalid. Were efforts at desolating territory and destroying property. Belligerents would merely seek the bankrupting of each other as the surest way to conquest, and nations would, in a few campaigns, become beggars, from their inability to meet damages growing out of such claims of individuals for losses sustained in .

war. It is now well established, that a combined effort is to be made at the coming session of the Legislature, to recognize claims for dam ages resulting from the operations of the rebels in the Cumberland Valley. The men who are expected to pay these claims, are of those who left their homes to assist in repel ling the invaders, and who, by that act, made sacrifices of business and time involving a cost fully equal to that of the damages suffered by every nine out of the ten men who will clamor at the doors of the Legislature, the coming winter, for payment of their losses. out of the payment of such losses, will not fall upon the State Treasury. This is a mere three miles of Nashville. Yesterday the two hostile armies were engaged in skirmishing, subterfuge. The money to meet the payment of such claims would necessarily at first come out of the State Treasury, after which payment, the State authorities could only look to the National Government for a reimbursement of the sum thus disbursed.

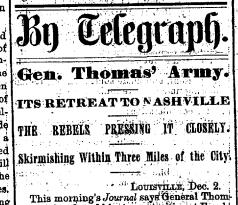

could only be construed by the rebels themselves as favoring raids if not inviting devastating incursions into the north. At the November election, the following was the result: November Election. Union. Democrat. Cumberland ..... 4,356 9,016 .3.604605 3,821 Bedford......2,336 8.500 . . Total vote .18,587 23,314 18,587 - 1

Copperhead majority in the six coun-

In view of these figures, to leave out of the question the invalidity as well as the impolicy of such claims at this time, what right have these people to thrust their injuries on the Union men of the State? We do not pretend to deny that there were many really loyal men who suffered by these losses, and with whom we deeply sympathize. But this cannot change the merits of the question. Its legal aspects must remain the same; while its political position is such that the great majority being thus against those who struggled with the Government to put an end to the rebellion. they have no right to ask for legislation at the hands of a party not responsible for the alleged wrongs they have suffered.

-This is an important subject, and we trust that our cotemporaries all over the Commonwealth, will give it the attention it deserves. The expenses of the State-the burdens of the nation are now of colossal proportions. It is not politic, therefore, to encourage legislation which would have a tendency to increase these burdens. Let us first restore the land to peace. Let us first liberally provide for wives who have lost husbands and the children who have been deprived of fathers by the insatiable fury of treason. These now demand the nation's first fostering care. These have liens upon the bounty of Commonwealths; and until these are lifted from the dark shadows which encircle their paths, and their hearts made glad by the practical evidence of a redeemed people's gratitude, claims for mere pecuniary damages must be regarded as of the least possible importance. . To all such claimants, a restored Union, a vindicated Government and a free home, whence all true prosperity is derived, must be ample remuneration for all the losses in a struggle from which they escaped with their lives. Nor is it in keeping with the true spirit and power of the nation that we should encourage the growth and aggrandizement of an aristocracy of corporations, while we are pouring out, in crimson torrents, our life's blood, to crush the aristocracy of slavery. We allude now to the dan gerous growth of corporate powers within our midst. If it is not checked at once, it will require the bayonets of the next or a coming generation to resist its encroachments on the rights and the interests of the masses.

wounded three times as many as we did, while the number of their wounded is at least six times more than ours, most of our men eing wounded in the head, arms, and breast. The artillery fire of the enemy was made with great precision, but their ammunition consisted chiefly of shot and shell, while for two hours immense quantities of more murderous missiles were hurled with fearful fury into the rebel lines. All the attempts of the rebels to gain a permanent advantage were frustrated, and at dark the Federal position was unchanged, while the rebels retired under cover of the woods, south of the Columbus Pike. The rebel loss, as before stated, is fully 6,000, including over 1,000 prisoners, an unusual number of which were officers. Our loss reached a total of about 1,000. An artillery duel was kept up till nearly midnight, when our forces commened cross ing the Harpeth river, bringing all our trains and paraphernalia over in safety before day-The enemy then retired to Wilson, light four miles from this city, at which point our front line confronts the enemy. The falling back of the army is in accordance to the programme, and the battle at Franklin, although one of the most brilliant form, was an incomplete affair, and brought about owing to the necessity of checking the rebel advance, and insure the safe crossing of the river by our troops.

LATER.

NASHVILLE, Dec. 2.—Additional reports re-ceived increase the magnitude of the late vic-tory at Franklin. Thirty stands of colors were captured by the Union forces of General Stanley's corps; the 49th Indiana captured five; the 88th Illinois three; General Reilly's old brigade 18, and the 23d corps captured 4. General Stanley, commanding the 4th corps, had a very narrow escape, having had his horse killed under him, and was shot in the right shoulder, the ball traversing the back, and going out the left shoulder. He is in the city, and though suffering considerably, is still attending to duty. It is confirmed that Gen. Pat Cleburne, of Tennessee, is killed. General Kimball, commanding the 2d Division of General Stanly's corps, in the heat of battle passed a rebel major general, who told him he was mortally wounded. His men succeeded in carrying off the body. It is believed that Hood's main army is threatening Murfreesboro, and Forrest's rebel cavalry is making a demonstration on our front and right flank.

Commander Fitch is here with a fleet of oried out in her sleep, one night last week, that some one had cut her throat. She was covered with blood, and on examination it was found that a rat had bitten the side of her neck and ear severely. The animal also attacked a child in an adjoining room.

Gen. M'Clellan is not as popular with the Spaniards as most people imagined. The Trenton Gazette says John P. Stockton is much more likely to be elected United States Senator from New Jersey than is Gen. M'Clellan.

The soldiers' vote, of Erie county, gave Mr. Lincoln 421-adding this to the 2,768 majority on the resident vote, we have an aggregate of 3,189 majority in Erie county for the Administration.

William Beales, Esq., senior proprietor of the Boston Post, celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of his wedding on the evening of the 21st ult., at his residence.

M'Clellan's majority in Northumbarland county, on the combined soldier and resident vote, is officially put down at 691.

The home vote of Ohio, for Presidential Electors, foots up 419,819; of which Lincoln received 224,008, and M'Clellan 195,811. Lincoln's majority 28,197. The vote is much heavier than for October. The entire majority for Lincoln, including that cast by the soldiers, will be about 60,000.

There are now only seven copperhead papers in Maine, and three of these are apparently on their last legs.

Nine men in Brattleborough, Vt., over eighty years of age, among them the Hon. William C. Bradley, voted for Lincoln. F. W. Pollock, Esq., was, on Monday, elected President of the Northumberland County Bank for another term.

It is significant that the only prominent hotel in the metropolis that was not fired on Friday night, was the New York Hotel, the general rendezvous of the secessionists.

The Nashville Press, the M'Clellan organ in Tennessee, now comes out flatly for a se aration of North and South.

The Union majority on the soldiers' vote Crawford county, is 439, making, with th home vote, a majority of 1,915 for Lincol and Johnson in the county.

diers' and resident vote, gives Mr. Linco 6,023 majority.

before Congress, where the discussion of a proposition to appropriate money for such a purpose, would strip the subject of its local merits. Congress, controlled by the inexorable law of nations in such cases, would promptly reject a proposition to misapply the public money to such uses, and in the end the entire burden of the payment of those claims would fall back on the people of the States recognizing their validity. But even suppose (which is not likely) that Congress will recognize and pay such accounts. Pennsylvania is not the only State where such claims exist. If they are pushed here and recognized by the Government, every State over which the wave of war has rolled, will render accounts for settlement, until the na tion is broken down with a load of debt incurred, not in meeting the expense of the war conducted on its own part, but in paying for the brutality of the enemy and the cupidity of those in our own midst who are ever ready to take advantage of States as well as individuals, if the vonture promises a pecuniary re-

There are other phases in which this subject can be viewed, than that merely of protecting the treasuries of the State and the Nation, on the score of economy. On all the issues designed to affect the speedy prosecution of the war to a satisfactory end, a decided majority of the people in the counties through which the rebels raided, and in which these claims for damages exist, took ground against the National as well as the State Government. At the October election, on the Congressional vote, the following was the result in the counties most interested in this matter:

THIRTY STAND OF COLOES CAPTURED.

NASHVILLE, Dec, 2 .- I have received full accounts of the late battle at Franklin and its outskirts, which must be chronicled as one of the most brilliant in its general results of the whole war.

For three days sharp skirmishing was kept up during the retirement of our army from Duck river to Franklin, during which time a multiplicity of exploits and successes resulted to the national army. General Cor conducted the rearguard, and on the 29th ult. achieved a splendid victory over the rebels at Spring Hill, while Gener Wilson's cavalry gained a series of important successes over Forrest's advance, under Roddy, on the pike between Trevine (?) and Spring Hill.

During the afternoon of the 30th ult. the rebel army sorely pressed us, under Hood, who had Cheatham's and Stewart's corps, and a portion of Dick Taylor's command, number-ing in all over 22,000 men. Owing to Cox's gallant check at Spring Hill, pertion of the 4th and 23d Corps were enabled to gain Franklin early in the day, where they threw up light breastworks, extending from one end to the other of the curves in the river, and behind which our entire infantry command took position

At 4 o'elock-précisely-the-entire rebel force At 4 Centre internet and succeeded in making a made a charge, and succeeded in making a temporary break in our centre, commanded by Wagner. With characteristic impetuosity, the soldiers of Cheatham's corps dashed into iocrat 3,808 2,759 the breastworks, co-operating with an attack-ing party on their left, in an attempt to en-3,457 velop and destroy our. left ... In the nick o 2.504 time, the troops of Wagner were rallied, and throwing the whole force upon the rebels 7,432 Lancaster county, with her combined sol-liers' and resident vote, gives Mr. Lincoln 3,023 majority. Joseph McMillen, the oldest Mason in the I. S., was buried in Philadelphia, on Thurs-lay afternoon. His funeral was conducted with great pomp by the Masonic order.
