

TOWN AND COUNTRY.

Market Days at the New Market House. Tuesday morning, from 5 to 10. Friday morning, from 5 to 10. Saturday afternoon and evening, from 3 to 8.

Substitute Papers promptly made out by Sullivan S. Child, claim agent, Walnut street, 48 door below Third.

PERSONAL.—Maj. Morgan, of the 201st, was in town, on Saturday, looking hearty.

The late fall of snow caused considerable detention of railroad trains, on Saturday. But few, if any of them, arrived here on time.

FLUATING.—The river has been covered with floating ice, for several days past. There must have been a sudden thaw "up north."

SCOTCH.—Ann Zahn, of Providence township, Lancaster county, recently committed suicide by suspending herself to a tree on her premises.

Geo. F. Miller, Esq., Congressman elect, in this district, had his pocket picked, while in the cars, a few days ago. His loss was small.

POISONED.—The family of Isaac Whisler, in Millin township, Cumberland county, has been poisoned, by eating apple-butter that had been placed in new crocks. The whole family is lying in a critical condition.

REMOVED.—John Kemmerer has removed his Hair Cutting and Shampooing saloon to Will's building, Market street, where he is prepared to receive his customers in an elegant style. He has also fitted up hot and cold baths.

OIL ON THE BRAIN.—New song, 35 cents. "Stocks par—stocks up—on the wane. Everybody troubled with 'oil on the brain.' All the rage—very popular. Get copy at Ward's Music Store, Third street. Mailed on receipt of price.

We are having winter in earnest. Last night a sudden "north-wester" blew over us, freezing all the standing water upon the streets and pavements, and rendering locomotion difficult. Sleighing is excellent, and the ice in fine condition for skating.

ACCIDENT AT A FARGE.—Peter Myers, a workman employed at Pine Grove Forge, in Cumberland county, was recently killed. He fell upon a large wheel which whirled him around at a rapid rate, breaking his neck and arms, and causing instant death.

DROWNED.—Mrs. Manley, wife of the lock-keeper at Snaveley's Mill, Lancaster, was drowned on Thursday afternoon last. She was passing a boat through the lock, and accidentally fell into the water. Before assistance could reach her, life was extinct.

GOOD TEMPLARS.—At the last regular meeting of Washington Lodge, No. 1, I. O. of G. T., the time of meeting was changed to Tuesday evening. The next regular meeting will, therefore, be held at the usual place, on Tuesday evening, December 13th inst. A full attendance is requested.

THE GERMAN REFORMED CHURCH, Chestnut street, will be opened this (Monday) evening, that all persons who feel inclined may have an opportunity to rent or to exchange pews. Members of the Reformed denomination who have removed to this city from other places, who are as yet unsupplied with seats, are cordially invited to be present.

SALE OF CATTLE.—About three thousand head of captured cattle will be sold at the Miller House, York, Pa., on Monday, the 19th inst. A large number of the cattle are of the Durham and Devonshire stock. The sale will be continued from day to day, until the entire lot is disposed of. Bargains may be had.

DROWNED.—A boy named Chester E. Snyder, aged 14 years, was recently drowned in the canal, at the Molley Bullion Spring, about half way between Northumberland and Lewisburg. He fell from a canal boat, which was struck by another boat, and in the confusion he was not got out of the water until life was extinct. He was a son of Daniel and Elizabeth Snyder, of Chillesqueague.

WAR AT HOME.—War has been declared against the hogs, and is being carried on with relentless vigor. We hear their squeal of distress almost every morning, as one after another of our porcine inhabitants falls a victim to the destroyer. If a treaty of peace is not soon made between the hogs and butchers, the former will be exterminated. Like the Democrats of the Union a certain school, the porcines are in favor of an armistice—and are willing to make peace on any terms.

That excellent journal, the M'Lean Miner, speaks as follows of our paper: "We get our latest news now from the Harrisburg Daily Telegraph. It always contains the important news, and is received along the line of the P. and E. R. 24 hours ahead of the Philadelphia and New York dailies. It is really one of the best and most reliable of the daily papers published in the interior of the State, and deserves the liberal patronage which we understand it receives."

OUTRAGEOUS.—On Saturday night, some miscreant who does not possess the least regard for God or man, and who has lost the last vestige of decency, disgraced the new and beautiful fence that surrounds the Free Baptist Church, by tearing down a number of the palings, and breaking some of them. The proprietor, who went to the trouble of turning the snow to accomplish his purpose, deserves reprimand, and the scaffold will lose one of its proper subjects if he escapes punishment.—Should the officers of the church obtain any clue to the individual, we have no doubt that he will serve a term at "hard labor" within the walls of a public hotel.

COSEY OF SCOTCH AND A DOG.—Some of our sportsmen went to the country, on a gunning expedition, when upon a certain farm, the proprietor shot a valuable dog belonging to the hunters. We are in-lunging to one of the hunters before the farmer had notified the sportsmen to vacate the premises, and before any notice had been published cautioning the public against trespassing upon the property. Suit was instituted against the farmer by the owner of the dog, and a hearing was had before one of our Aldermen, which resulted in a verdict in favor of the plaintiff, compelling the farmer to pay $50, the value of the dog, to the owner, besides the costs, which amounted to over $10. This case is one of great importance to farmers and sportsmen, as it settles a point which has caused numerous disputes.

Rev. T. H. Robinson would hereby, in behalf of the United States Christian Commission, thankfully acknowledge the receipt of the following sums: Canton Branch U. S. C. O. $10 00. Millington M. E. Church Choir Concert 30 00. Employees of the "Harrisburg Car Manufacturing Co." 283 50. H. N. W. Erie, Pa. 5 00. Rev. Wesley Howe, Green Village, Franklin county, Pa. 6 35. Presbyterian Church, Market Square, Harrisburg, Pa. 176 25. Lutheran Church, M'Alisterville, Juniata county, Pa. 11 00. Thanksgiving collection, Millersburg, Dauphin county, Pa. 23 46. Thanksgiving collection, Halifax, Dauphin county, Pa. 24 05. Thanksgiving collection, Berryburg, Dauphin county, Pa. 15 70. Thanksgiving collection, M. E. Church, Centre, Perry county, Pa. 20 85. Total $606 18.

Other churches and individuals have contributed liberally, but have forwarded their contributions directly to the General Treasury Philadelphia. Permit me, also, to register the names of Miss Henrichs, Mrs. K. J. Fleming and Mr. J. Shick, for late contributions of cordials, coverlets, shirts, &c., for Hospital use. Further contributions in money, clothing, &c., will be thankfully received and immediately put to use in behalf of our soldiers.

The late generous contribution of the electoral college of our State, amounting to over one hundred dollars, merits special notice, not only on account of the generosity of the individual donors, but also of the high regard which our public men have for the United States Christian Commission, as a worthy agent in distributing public charities.

From the 201st Regiment. CAMP SLOUGH, WEST ALEXANDRIA, VA., Thursday Afternoon, Dec. 8, 1864.

EDITOR TELEGRAPH.—Dear Sir:—I was greatly surprised to receive an "official document" from the Harrisburg Post Master, this morning. Thanks, many thanks for the substantial favor, so opportune and acceptable at this time.

We have a sudden change of weather since yesterday evening. From a steady, drizzling, warm rain, the clerk has treated us to a blast from Norway or Spitzbergen—with the sun doing his best (in vain) to make us comfortable. It is decidedly cold, but by the hardy, robust and quick-tempered Northerners, this is only termed healthy, bracing weather. The Dixieites say "cold disagreeable, unpleasant," and open their eyes with astonishment when you tell them "the weather is fine to-day!" The force of habit, however, is great—the indolent, spiritless and labor-despising portion of Dixie enjoy themselves with the thermometer high up in the nineties, and shrug their shoulders at the sight of a trifling hair-frost or a slight sprinkling of snow.

As before intimated, quite a number of our warm-hearted Northern ladies have made their appearance in camp to visit their husbands. Now, it happens, that a respectable boarding house cannot, at all times, be found near the camp. Consequently our Union friends are obliged to patronize old C—s Hotel, (quite a respectable place, by the way,) a caravanserie which has the reputation of being Scotch, in the fullest sense of the word. Old C—, the proprietor, undertook to exhibit some of his little ones to a Northern lady and her pretty, interesting child. Said he: "Madame, would you take $500 for your pretty little girl?" "By no means, sir. I would not part with my child for twice the amount."

I should have to offer you $1000. Why, Madame, I would undertake to buy a cargo of little ones to like a piece.

"Sir," said the Northern mother, her face flushing with indignation—"we do not traffic in human souls, at the North! We understand life and its true objects better than that. What is common and fashionable in Southern society, is revolting and obnoxious to a free Christian people!" Old C—"dried up" in-stantly, and has not since annoyed our noble Northern lady visitor.

Down the valley of the Occoquan, some 15 or 20 miles from Alexandria, resides a Scotch farmer, by the name of McQuire, (I think.) Being an uncompromising Union man, he has, in that locality, forced him to leave his farm, consisting of 400 acres, stealing his stock and destroying whatever they could. During the whole of last winter, however, he remained at home, assisting some of the Michigan cavalry in picket duty, close to his premises. When the Michiganers left, however, he was obliged to leave also, and return to some of his friends in Alexandria. It was not safe to remain there, he says, for the guerrillas would have seized him, on the first opportunity, while at work, in the fields.

"It makes no difference," quoth he. "The time will surely come when the devils will be chased out of that, and the followers of auld Jaff will be obliged to flee the country! It cannot last forever." "Slavery," he said, "is the cause of curses! A thrifty, respectable white man has no business where slavery is in vogue. The planter extorts from the slave all he can—uses and works him to death with scarcely a dollar of expense. He enriches himself, inflates his pocket-book, turns up his aristocratic nose, and considers himself a 'lord of creation.' While, on the other hand, he despises the honest, humble mechanic, and shuns the 'white trash' as he would a felon. These are not the worst features of the institution. I could relate circumstances to you, sir, too revolting for the pen to damnable in their nature to publish in the world. Slavery is an unmitigated evil. What we want to clear the evil away is more Northern influence. We want farmers from the North to tear up worn-out fields and to plant them with the hands of free labor. We want mechanics, workmen, free schools and all else pertaining to civilization. These we must have, and will have, eventually, sir, to make us a prosperous and happy people, once more."

The cannie old Scotchman is sincere, and apparently well known here in Alexandria. His friends pronounce him a tip-top Union man—a martyr to the cause of freedom—and as sprunk as a mastiff. It would afford you great to be present some evening to witness President Wm. A. Bush, of the drum corps, and his ten assistants "rattling the music out of their drums, in front of Col. Wall's quarters, at reveille. Bush, Kreider and Felix, of Harrisburg, Entick, of Middletown, Ehler, of Goldsboro, and others, make the sticks rattle on the parchment to some purpose, while our old friend Drain, of Harrisburg, and Wm. Snyder, of Philadelphia, handle themselves Snyder, or fill life to some purpose. In fact, both the Regimental Band and Drum Corps have improved wonderfully. They will satisfy their friends when we return to our homes again, the Lord willing.

Ford's theatre, King street, is doing a heavy business. For the past three nights they produced "Robert McGaire," "Camille," in the melo drama line, and "Handy Andy" and a burlesque on "Mazepa," in the comedy and farce line. The place is well patronized, and crowded nightly. Frank Drew, a well known Philadelphia comedian, is at present fulfilling an engagement.

The men of our regiment are, with few exceptions, well, in good spirits, and seemingly contented and happy. More anon. A. H. B.

THE CRICKET IS HERE!—We have the pleasure of announcing that Miss Fanny B. Price, the celebrated actress whose grand performance were so greatly admired during a recent engagement, has returned to our city, and will this evening commence an engagement at Benson's Theatre. The mere announcement of the fact is sufficient to draw a full house, as Miss Price is the favorite of our citizens. This evening she will appear in the beautiful play entitled FANÇON, THE CRICKET. This piece is one of the grandest ever produced here, and all who witnessed it during Miss Price's former engagement will be sure to attend. There is a great demand for secured seats, the sale of which commenced at an early hour, and if we are not mistaken, the hall will be crowded to its utmost capacity. FANÇON is one of the most popular plays now performed. We notice that it is having an immense run in the large cities. In this play Miss Price is said to be unequalled by any actress on the stage, and will appear at the theatre during the week. Secure your seats at Bannart's Drug Store.

OUR IMPRESSIONS AND INTENTIONS.—In our generous moods we have at times fancied ourselves in possession of the means and the disposition to relieve, by wholesale, the wants and distress growing out of the disproportion in the remuneration for labor, as compared with the cost of the necessary sustenance of life; and we here say, while we could not practically do more, we have always, through the conception we have of business generally, and our interest, as we understand it, contributed in every way to make the lives of those who patronize us mutual. Our daily study is to obtain goods cheap, and dispose of them at a lower price than our honest competitors, so as to convince the public that our object is not to make large profits, but for the purpose of increasing the amount of business done, which enables us to sell goods at smaller profits. Under the foregoing considerations we seek the attention of buyers to C. L. Bowman's large stock of staple and fancy dry goods, at the cheap store, No. 1, southeast corner of Front and Market streets, Harrisburg, Pa.

FEVER AND AGUE can be cured. Do not think because you have tried everything you could read or hear of, that you cannot get anything to cure you, for you have not taken the cure.
