PROSPECTUS

The Pennsylvania Telegraph,

FOR THE YEAR 1865.

In issuing our Prospectus for the various editions of the HARRISBURG TELEGRAPH for the year 1865, the proprietor begs to re-turn his frank acknowledgments for the very liberal share of patronage received from the people of Harrisburg, as well as from those of the State, who have long been subscribers to the paper. The year which is about to close, has been an eventful one in the history of the newspaper press of Pennsylvania. More than those engaged in any other business, the publishers of the State have had to struggle to support immense burdens, growing out of the extraordinary rise in the price of printing materials, the increase of labor, Ac. The increase in the price of paper during the past year, was alone 100 per cent. in advance of the cost of the same article a year ago. When it is remembered that no equal rise in the price of the TELEGRAPH has been made, it will be seen that the profits of the publishing busines are anything but remunerative. Hence, the less circulation most newspapers have, the more money they make.

Notwithstanding the adverse circumstances, the TELEGRAPH has successfully reached the completion of another, and will enter on a new volume with every prospect of being able as successfully to meet the business embarrassments of a new as it overcame those barrassments of a new as it overcame those of the past year. It will be our purpose to continue the paper in the old political path, maintaining it as a faithful exponent of pure Republican principles, ever fearless in the advocacy of the right and loyalty to the National Government, regardless of the party by which its affairs may be constitutionally administered. It is our highest aim to serve our country through our party—compelling our country through our party—compelling the interests and the policies of party in all cases to harmonize with those of the country.

THE PENNSYLVANIA TELEGRAPH, During the sessions of the Legislature, will contain a full synopsis of the daily proceedings of that body, so that it will really constitute the best current record of the business of legislation published regularly during the sessions. In addition, ample correspondent sessions. In addition, ample arrangements have been made to secure the earliest and most reliable reports of news from the army, most renadic reports of news from the army, with such other general intelligence, foreign and domestic, as daily passes over the telegraphic wires. With these advantages, we are put at least ten hours shead, with our are put at least ten nours snead, with our morning edition, of the newspapers of New York and Philadelphia, and by which edition the readers along our different lines of railroad, north, west and south, receive the very earliest intelligence of all the important events occurring in the country.

TERMS OF THE DAILY TELEGRAPH. The DAILY TELEGRAPH is served to subscribers by mail at $6 per annum, payable in advance. If the advance payment is neglected $7 will be charged.

Oity subscribers are served at 12½ cents per week, payable to the carriers. THE WEEKLY TELEGRAPH

Is printed on a large double medium sheet, with new type, and contains all the most important news of the day. Full telegraphic reports of the markets and daily events are published in advance of our cotemporaries, and it enjoys a very large circulation.

TERMS OF THE WEEKLY TELEGRAPH. Single copies paid in advance $200 per annum.

Any person getting up a club of ten sub-scribers and paying in advance for them, will receive one copy free while the paper is sent

No subscription for a less period than one year will be entered on the books.

PERSONAL AND POLITICAL.

SENATOR WILSON'S only son, for "distinguished services in the face of the enemy," has been promoted to a position on Gen. Ferrero's staff.

A. W. THAYER has been appointed Consul at Trieste, vice Richard Hildreth, resigned. GENERAL MORGAN L. SMITH has succeeded

General Dana in command of the Post and District of Vicksburg. GENERAL THOMAS has two men in his employ who serve as scouts and spies at the imminent hazard of their lives. The rebel General Johnston offered a reward of $50,000 for their capture. They have been much within the rebel lines, and often in their very camps, but so disguised as to defy detection.

THE Louisville Democrat says that the Lieutenant Governor of Kentucky, R. T. Jacobs, who was recently ordered through the Confederate lines by the military authorities of that State, is now at Gallipolis, Ohio. The rebel authorities refused to receive the exile, saying that they "do not intend to let President Lincoln make a Botany Bay of the South."

MAJOR GENEBAL ALEXANDER M'DOWELL M'-Cook received orders this week to report to Major General Sheridan, and left Dayton on Tuesday to do so. General Sheridan was the commander of a division in M'Cook's Corps during the Chickamauga campaign. As both ones—ladies of fashion and gentlemen of buare true soldiers, the change in their relations will be a subject of less interest to them than

A perrition from fifty thousand citizens of Illinois will be presented the coming session of the Legislature of that State for the repeal of the Black Laws of Illinois, which forbid negroes coming into the State under severe penalties. Mr. Jones, of Chicago, a colored man of great energy formerly a slave but now the owner of one of the finest buildings in the city, is among the most active in urg-

It is noteworthy that the three States which are more directly responsible than any others, South Carolina excepted; for this rebellion, are the very three that suffered most severely from its effect. We mean Missouri, Georgia and Virginia.

A DEMOCRATIC editor in Iowa says his party in that State has taken the degree of L. L. D. -"Licked Like the Devil!"

The Duty on Paper.

We have ever advocated, says the Pittsburg Gazette, the principle of protection to American manufactures, in all cases where protection against foreign competition was essential to the establishment and development of any manufacturing interest requiring it; but there are some branches of manufacture that do not require it, in order to enable those engaged in them to compete successfully and profitably with foreigners engaged in the same business. In such cases a protective tariff only operates to enrich a few at the expense of the many. To this last class of manufactures, most emphatically, may be used for newspapers, sold for 9 and 10 cents per pound. In another year it rose to 12 and 13 cents. The third year it advanced to 15 and 16 cents, when gold was at nearly as high a premium as it is now. So far there was nothing of which reasonable men could complain. But, during the past eight months, the price has advanced from the last mentioned figures to 24@27 cents per pound.

This enormous advance is the result of a combination among eastern manufacturers, and is at least six to seven cents per pound beyond what would yield them a fair and legitimate profit. The fact is, paper can be manufactured in this country at a profit-no matter what may be the condition of the money market-without any governmental protion against foreign manufacturers. Now as the duty on imported paper is twenty per cent., payable in coin, and as manufacturers have graduated their prices just a shade below what the imported article, after paying that tariff, would cost, it follows that this twenty per cent. goes to enhance their profits would be the effect? Would it stop our American mills? Not at all; but it would at once reduce the price of paper about twenty per cent., which would be about half a cent upon every sheet of paper like this, but still enable the mills to make a fair profit.

We have said that paper can be profitably manufactured in this country without the protection of a tariff. There is no country on the globe more productive of the raw ma terials-rags, straw (which now enters largely into the composition) and the other cheap and simple ingredients, including the necessary alkalies. True, the cost of rags is very high now, but a very little importation of the manufactured article will bring down the price of rags to a reasonable figure, and then that importation may cease.

The manufacture of paper is by no means in its infancy in the United States, so as to need the fostering hand of a paternal government. So far from that, there are few if any countries in the world where it is so enormous, so firmly established, or so perfect in all its appliances To protect this great and now exacting interest is only to injure the country, without any compensating benefit to protection or of revenue is the duty on paper (which is really a tax on knowledge and intelligence) justifiable. It is not needed; it yields no revenue; it is a direct tax upon publishers, and through them upon the whole people; it curtails the diffusion of general intelligence, and even enters the school house to levy its exactions upon the fountains of knowledge And what for? That a comparatively few rich men may grow enormously wealthy.

We most earnestly commend this important subject to the attention of Congress, expressing at the same time our conviction that they cannot do a more just, beneficial and popular act than to repeal at once the duty on paper-a duty not needed to strengthen and build up a struggling interest, which yields no revenue, and is an onerous tax upon the people, at a time when, in all conscience they are taxed enough.

CAMP SLOUGH, WEST ALEXANDRIA, Va.,
Saturday Evening, Dec. 10, 1864.
ED. TELEGRAPH—Dear Sir:—The weather
in Dixie is as capricious and changeable as the people themselves. For the past week we had back to their quarters from their late expediremarkable weather-Indian Summer-show ers, warm and evanescent as those of a May. day—bright, sunny mornings and calm, de-lightful twilights, lasting up to Friday evening, when a snow-storm set in, and the wind blew strong and cold from North-west, making out-door life extremely disagreeable .-This morning we found our camp graced with a bed of snow and ice, three inches in depth, and the atmosphere keen enough to cut the moustache off a soldier's lip! At an early hour sleighs made their appearance—reminding us of the familiar New England song,

"Jingle, jingle, clear the way, "Tis the merry, merry, sleigh." And the streets were literally alive with all man siness-clad in furs, and enveloped in robes gaily ornamented, and the gay carnival given by His Majesty, the Storm King, the first of by His Majesty, the South Ang, the Hirst or the season, was kept up till a late hour in the evening, whon the streets looked as though they contained a bed of Spanish brown, in-stead of a bed of snow of virgin purity, as they appeared twelve hours previous!

We noticed some gay teams—fast nags and handsome cutters of the "cupid" pattern—the horses embellished with costly harness and jingling bells, which must have been burden-some to the fast "Morgans" and "Black-hawks"—but for the life of us we "could'nt see" the handsome faces, and gaily dressed lady populace, out on a frolic, as we were wont to do in the streets of Harrisburg! Now, wont to do in the streets of Harrisburg! Now, I call on my friend and fellow soldier, Poulton, the artist, for proof! How is it, Silas? "By the piper that played before Moses, you are right Sergeant, is his answer! There, now! Hurrah for old Harrisburg!

Produce is advancing here. Country-folks attending market ask 75 cents for butter; eggs 50 cents. Poultry, $1 50 to $2 per pair for chickens; $2 a piece for geese; $12 and $15 per h-ad for live calves, and everything in oportion.

"Kriss-kringle" made his appearance in camp this P. M. I observe a Government team laden with Express-boxes from the North; all labelled for the 201st. The boys are walking away from the Quartermaster's department, laden with boxes and packages heavy enough for a donkey to "tote" conveying them to their respective she-bangs. The recipients of these favors look as pleased and contented as though the pay-master had been "around." The thought of pay and greenbacks does not for a moment trouble them, if we should judge from the manner in which they dive into their boxes, overhauling the contents! A two story frame building, on Henry St., near the Soldiers' Rest, took fire this morntwenty per cent. goes to enhance their profits ing, (supposed from the sparks of a locomoto just about that amount. At one time we concluded bination, have rendered the wholesome principle of competition inoperative. But suppose the duty on paper were repealed, what as unconcerned as you please, never attempting to lend a hand. The engines, two or three in number, finally commenced to play on the fire, and managed to save the building, when nearly burned to the ground. The "Citizens," "Hivers," "Friendys" or Paxton Boys of our native city could have finished the job in half the time; and, in all probability, have saved the building.

While Poulton and I were purchasing some artist's materials, to-day, in an establishment on King street, we noticed a fine portrait of President Lincoln, in a neat large frame, standing inside a show-window. We stepped up to the door facing the street, awaiting the shop man's pleasure to wait upon us in turn.
While looking into the street, scanning the faces of the passers-by, we observed a pretty, rosy-cheeked girl of 16—her face almost hidden in golden curls, which hung around her neck, and fell profusely down her back and over her shoulders—her eyes seemed like two violets, and her cheeks as delicate as the blos-som of the prettiest fuschia—and her lip heavens! a ripe strawberry was no comparison! She tripped along blithely as the gazelle; but suddenly, esping the handsome engraving, she bolted right up to the window—looked at the features of the worthy Chief Magistrate of the nation—and—well, if you ever saw any person eating a green persimmon, or biting into a pod of red person have a faint idea of the up" her rosy lips secesh.
