The TELEGRAPH has been Selected by the Secretary of the United States as the medium for the publication of the Public Laws, Treaties, &c., promulgated by the United States authorities.

Major Gen. George H. Thomas.

In the midst of the glory which now surrounds the career of the other heroes of the war, and when Grant, Sherman and Sheridan are hailed with the acclamations of a nation, it is well enough the people should be reminded of the great fact, that had General George H. Thomas failed in his Tennessee campaign, and permitted victory to perch on the banners of Hood, Sherman's victory at Savannah would have been barren of practical results; Grant's hold on Lee would have been weakened for the time being, and our armies everywhere compelled to arrange new plans for other campaigns than those which are now placed beyond all shadow of failure.

The Congressional representative of this district, says the Lewisburg Chronicle, professes to be a Democrat, and to be governed by the wishes of his constituents. The following is the vote of the district on the question of sustaining the Administration of President Lincoln:

others, who, if they devoted the same time to filling up the quotas of their wards, by fair means, would contribute materially to that end. Instead of frittering away valuable time in hunting up corporal blemishes, and establishing physical disabilities, let every active and influential man in each district, at once constitute himself a recruiting officer. We believe that we have a half a million able-bodied men in the old free States, ready to volunteer for a year, if the proper inducements are held out by the leading men in each district. If these men go into the armies as volunteers, they will at once become fit for service before the enemy. But if the same men are drafted, one-half of them will either be in the hospitals of the army or at home on sick leave, three months after they have been mustered into service. Seek to conceal it as we may, the draft does not produce soldiers as rapidly as volunteering. Draft a good man and you more or less impair his martial qualities. Let an indifferent man volunteer, and he seems to become inspired for service by his own free act of patriotism. By this time those representing the Government should understand these facts, and take advantage of the lesson which they inculcate by volunteering. This encouragement should be offered in liberal bounties, fair and impartial promotion, and such other means as are at the command of a nation whose resources are inexhaustible. Acting in conjunction with the Government, the people themselves should manifest an interest in this matter. Indeed, if the people do not act, the draft will undoubtedly follow. Let this be relied upon as a stern and solemn truth.

Instructions to Gen. Miller. The Congressional representative of this district, says the Lewisburg Chronicle, professes to be a Democrat, and to be governed by the wishes of his constituents. The following is the vote of the district on the question of sustaining the Administration of President Lincoln:

Table with 2 columns: Name and Vote. Includes Lincoln, M'Clellan, Dauphin, Juniata, Northumberland, Snyder, Union, and totals.

Majority..... 1219 for Lincoln. Here are 1219 special instructions for Gen. Wm. H. Miller, as the servant of the people, to vote for the Constitutional amendment to prohibit Slavery, and for such other measures, involved in the President's policy, as were decided in the election of President.

LATEST FROM GEN. THOMAS.

Hood's Pontoons Reported Swept Away.

A BATTLE EXPECTED.

NASHVILLE, Dec. 24. The river has now twenty feet of water, and is stationary. It is reported that Hood cannot cross the Tennessee river, on account of the high stage of the water, which in many places has overflowed the banks. The rebel pontons are said to be swept away. General Thomas' headquarters are still at Columbia, although his advance is still pushing after the rebel army. A battle this side of the Tennessee river is consequently expected. The cars will run to Duck river to-day. It is rumored that Hood's rebel army has abandoned the wagon trains.

From Richmond papers of Saturday, we extract the following:

A BIT OF CONSOLATION.

[From the Sentinel.] Grant having, at the commencement of the campaign, tried the effect of concentration and failed, is now operating by means of "raids" in several directions at the same time. One has just come to grief in the Valley and a second at Gordonsville, another in Alabama, also one in Southwest Virginia.

UNION EXPEDITION ON WELDON.

We learn from the Petersburg Express that a raiding column, composed of infantry and cavalry and artillery, has started off in the direction of Weldon, N. C., from Suffolk, no doubt to operate as a diversion in favor of the naval expedition against Wilmington.

BEAUREGARD HEARD FROM.

CHARLESTON, Dec. 22.—To General S. Cooper:—On the 16th inst., the enemy, 800 strong, occupied Pollard. After burning the Government and railroad buildings they retired in the direction in which they came. They were pursued thirty miles, losing a portion of their transportation, baggage and supplies, and leaving many dead negro troops on the road. Our forces were commanded by Gen. Liddell, and acted with spirit and gallantry.

The Raid in Kentucky.

LOUISVILLE, Dec. 5.

An officer of the Sixth Kentucky (Watkins' brigade) reports that 600 of Lyon's rebel cavalry went from Elizabethtown to Hadenville, yesterday, and encamping was heard at Muldraugh's Hill from the direction of Elizabethtown, last evening, supposed from a collision between Generals M'Cook and Lyon's forces. Headquarters are advised that the remainder of Lyon's troops, estimated at 2,500, with but one piece of artillery, left Elizabethtown at 2 o'clock this morning, going towards Hadenville, and was inquiring en route the way to Greensburg. Lagrange's brigade, of M'Cook's command, was reported closely upon their rear. Lyon was himself at Hadenville yesterday. THIS Company has three different tracts of land now producing Oil, and ample revenues to guarantee regular dividends.

The three tracts with wells on them are capable of extensive development, and the Company have five engines and all the fixtures ready to prosecute the work.

It has 120 acres in fee on Allegheny river, immediately opposite Oil city, with 110 rods river front, and 75 rods front on Lay's Run. This land is now worth $100,000.

It has 160 acres in fee in the Cherry Run district, immediately adjoining Cherry Run Petroleum Company, and losses are about to be executed with two strong pumps to sink wells on lease on this tract. The Company to receive half of the oil.

It has two tracts of land on Oil creek, each producing over ten barrels per day, and one tract on the Allegheny producing ten barrels of heavy Oil, worth $21 per barrel. All of these tracts will be promptly developed, and they are well tested Oil lands.

It is organized on a certain basis to pay dividends from the start. Its revenues from the Oil alone are more than twelve per cent. per annum on the capital; and new wells are about to be sunk on lease, without cost to the company, and one-half the proceeds will belong to the company.

The company has $250,000 of its own capital in reserve belonging to the stockholders, and taking it altogether its resources for certain dividends are not approached by any other Oil stock now in the market at even double the original price.

The directors of this company mean to prosecute the development of these lands most energetically, and they have entire confidence that they will yield very large dividends on the capital stock.

Subscriptions will be received at this office by GEORGE BERGNER, dec26-41
