HAMLIN and the "Old Soldiers" Congressional Globe, Vol. 26, page 1094. Mr. Hamlin voted against Mr. Brodhead's amendment giving the soldiers of the war of 1812, 160 acres of land, which passed however without his vote.

Vol. 30, page 563. He voted against an amendment, which provided that the surviving soldiers who, in any of the wars in which this country has been engaged, performed military services against the public enemy, though not regularly mustered into the service of the United States, and the widows and children of such soldiers, shall be entitled to all the benefits of the first section of the Bounty Land Act. This also passed without his vote. Yeas 26, nays 18.

Page 567. On the final passage of the Bounty Land bill Mr. Hamlin voted against it. The bill was passed without his vote. Yeas 30, nays 15.

An Indication. The Chester and Delaware Congressional District was the only one in the State in which a direct issue was made between the supporters of Breckinridge and Douglas. JOHN H. BARKER was nominated as the Breckinridge candidate, and P. FRAZER SMITH as the Douglas candidate. The result shows the utter insignificance of the Douglas party in a county where they have a straight-out organ, and where they made an open fight. The following is the vote for member of Congress in Chester county: Jeha Hickman, Republican, 7,193; John H. Barkin, Breckinridge, 5,670; P. F. Smith, Douglas, 292.

In Delaware county the vote for BARKIN exceeds that given to Foster 43 votes; so SMITH, the Douglas candidate, was nowhere in the contest.

After all the talk of the Douglas men about the immense popularity of their candidate, and the necessity of adhering to him as the regular nominee, it turns out that he has no strength at all where his claims are subjected to the popular test. The only result accomplished by his adherents has been to weaken and defeat the Democratic party.

A Premium for Mob Law.

The Ottawa rescue case, in Illinois, is well remembered. The fugitive slave "Jim" was forcibly taken from the custody of the U. S. Marshal by a mob, among whom two men named Hossack and Stout were prominent actors. The two latter were subsequently committed to jail, where they are now serving out their ten days' imprisonment, Judge Drummond, of the U. S. District Court, having attached a very trivial penalty to an aggravated offense, probably to avoid action which might have been attributed to vindictive motives. Observe, now, how partisan influences are immediately brought to bear to defeat the ends of justice and bring the law into contempt, by extending aid and encouragement to these so-called "martyrs." The Mayor of the city, who is also a prominent Republican editor, at once proceeds to raise the sum of $1,600 67, where-with to pay the fines and costs of these men, and secure their release. But the facts are better presented in the following, from the Chicago Times and Herald: MAD-STARK MAD.—The question of the sanity or insanity of the Abolitionists is no longer doubtful. They are stark mad! John Hossack has been sentenced by a Republican Judge to pay a fine for the most flagrant and open violation of a law which even his Republican counsel admitted to be constitutional. No sooner is this sentence passed, than the highest judicial and executive officers of the law in our city, and our ministers of the gospel, have forward to defeat the just punishment of the offender, and to throw their entire influence to discredit the law of the land. John Wentworth, the Mayor of the great city of Chicago, and editor of the leading Republican journal in the Northwest, openly throws wide the doors of the Mayor's office to receive subscriptions to pay Hossack's fine. Judge Maniery, who has been clothed with the ermine of justice, for the preservation of the law and the punishment of its violators, openly parades in the public press his sympathy and respect for the criminal, and his subscription of $100 to shield a criminal from punishment for the violation of a Constitution which he has solemnly sworn to support! Men professing to be ministers of that God who has commanded obedience to the powers that be, are vainly showing their ten dollars into the pile that is to screen the criminal from the offended law! These men are mad.

But what shall we say of that still larger class of the Republican party who are not mad—who feel, know and recognize that the punishment of Hossack is legal and just, and yet who dare not refuse to pay their mite to the "criminal fund"? The end of it is the same—But the moving cause how different! In one case, it is the fever of a dark and settled mon-mania—in the other, the promptings of a craven fear and a dastardly meanness! This, then, is the protection to "all the constitutional rights of the South" professed by the Republican party. They will herald to the world that whatever it may cost to override those rights, will be paid by the Republican party; that fanatics have nothing to dread from a breach of the laws for the protection of the constitutional rights of the South; that the punishment will never follow, and that the criminals will be made heroes and martyrs by this constitutional (?) party. We have fallen on evil times.

Treachery Acknowledged.

Since the election Forney's Press, the leading Douglas organ in this State, exults over the defeat of Foster and admits the agency of the straight-out Douglas men in accomplishing that result. In an article deploring the fraud by which Mr. Lehman was cheated out of the return from the First Congressional District, the Press says:

"The Republican party have just achieved a magnificent triumph, and in the joy with which they hail it, they have the sympathy of thousands of honest Democrats."

This is a distinct admission that "thousands of honest Democrats," like Forney, who are so ready to "sympathize" with the Republicans in their "magnificent triumph," were so very honest and honorable as to vote for ANDREW G. CURTIN and strike down HENRY D. FOSTER. Democrats committed the fatal mistake of supposing it possible for these men to be sincere in their professions of attachment to HENRY D. FOSTER, but true to their disorganizing instincts they united to accomplish his defeat, and assisted the Republicans to their "magnificent victory."

It may be gratifying to these allies of the Republicans to know that their services are duly appreciated and recognized. The North American returns thanks to Mr. Douglas for his efficient services, and says "without his assistance in Pennsylvania we should probably have fallen several thousands behind our present triumph."

HAMLIN'S TARIFF RECORD.

We call the attention of our readers, especially of those who have heretofore placed implicit confidence in the representations made by the Black Republican papers, that Mr. Hamlin, the Republican candidate for Vice President, is a protective tariff man, to the following record, which will decide the question:

Congressional Globe, Vol. 13, pp. 99, Jan. 3, 1844. The following resolution was offered by Mr. Black, of Georgia, (so-called Southern Loco Foco Free Trader), for which Mr. Hamlin voted. Yeas 10, nays 10.

Resolved, That the Committee of Ways and Means be instructed to report a bill, as soon as practicable, revising the present tariff, and imposing duties on imports on the principle of revenue only.

Mr. Hamlin voted for a similar resolution on the next day, see page 102. Was defeated again.

April 9, see page 495, dodges a vote on the tariff question.

April 10, see page 508, dodged again on the tariff question.

April 15, see Vol. 13, (Appendix) page 506. In a speech he declared that the tariff "had well been called a black tariff, and the manner in which it operated "was as black as midnight."

April 22, see page 544, and again you find him dodging a vote on the tariff.

May 10, see page 591. On this day there are no notes recorded on the subject of the tariff, and Mr. Hamlin's five votes are with the so-called Southern Loco Foco Free Traders. The bill was laid upon the table.

Vol. 15, page 1165, July 29, 1846. The first two votes on the tariff Mr. Hamlin dodged. Four additional votes were taken, Hamlin all votes voting with the so-called Southern Loco Foco Free Traders. The last of these votes decided the fate of the Tariff of 1842. It was repealed—Hamlin voting for its repeal.

Vol. 17, page 56, Dec. 31, 1846. Mr. Brodhead moved to suspend the rules, to enable him to offer a resolution, directing the Secretary of the Treasury to report to the House on what articles the duties embraced in the Tariff Act of 1846 might be increased beyond the then existing rates. Mr. Hamlin was too much of a so-called Free Trader to vote even for this proposition—he voted No!

Vol. 30, page 790, Feb. 17, 1855. The bill granting railroad companies three years in which to pay the duties on all iron rails, spikes, bolts, fastenings, &c., being under consideration, Mr. Hamlin declared as follows: "I am a good deal of a free trade man, and the probability is that I shall vote for this bill."

Page 794. An amendment to the bill was offered: "That on the railroads benefited by this act, the mails of the United States be transported at such compensation as shall be prescribed by law." Hamlin voted against this proviso and the amendment was defeated.

Page 885. Mr. Seward offered an amendment, to give to railroad companies using American iron the same bounty granted by the bill to those using foreign iron. Against this amendment Mr. Hamlin voted. Page 886. Mr. Hamlin voted for the final passage of the bill.

Page 1088, March 2, 1855. Mr. Hamlin dodged a vote on the revision of the tariff.

Mr. Hamlin formally withdrew from the Democratic party, June 12, 1856—See Vol. 32, Part 2, page 1296.

Vol. 34, page 247, June 6, 1857. The Speaker of the House stated that the special order for this day would be the tariff. Mark Mr. Hamlin's smartness next day in the Senate, (see same page.) Mr. Hamlin resigns his seat and is consequently no longer a Senator. Our readers will naturally wonder why this resignation should just then happen. Don't they see?—Why, he naturally to escape taking part in the discussions and to dodge the vote on the tariff, which the Black Republican party in the House had determined should be reduced.

Now follow us to page 704, and you will then discover that Mr. Hamlin has completely outdone his cute exploit of the 7th of January. He managed to have himself re-elected, although he had just about 6 weeks previously resigned his seat. The proceedings are as follows: Feb. 16, 1857, Mr. Fessenden presented the credentials of the Hon. Hannibal Hamlin, elected a Senator by the Legislature of the State of Maine, for six years, commencing on the 4th of March, 1857.

Mr. Hamlin was shrewd enough to know that the reduction of the tariff of 1846 would be accomplished during that session, so it would end March 3, 1857. He felt quite safe in having himself re-elected, because he could not be called upon to perform the duties of a Senator until after the passage of the act, which happened March 2, 1857. From the 7th of January to the 4th of March, 1857, Mr. Hamlin was not a Senator, so that by his cunning he escaped showing his hand on the Tariff of 1857.

Vol. 30, Part 1, page 203, Jan. 6, 1856. Mr. Crittenden, for resolutions, favoring a material increase of duties, home manufactures, &c., were laid upon the table; but not a word came from the lips of Mr. Hamlin, although as the record shows he was in his seat. See page 205.

Vol. 28, Part 1, page 878, Feb. 8, 1855. Mr. Hamlin voted to proceed to the consideration of a resolution offered by Mr. Bigler, which declared that the creation of a large public debt in time of peace is inconsistent with the true policy of the United States, and as the present revenues are insufficient to meet the unavoidable expenses of the Government, Congress should proceed without delay to so re-adjust the revenue laws as not only to meet the deficit in the current expenses, but to pay off the present debt so far as it may be liable to immediate cancellation.

Probably the Black Republican party will decide that the above is a protective tariff vote. This will not answer, however, for not less than 7,000 of the Southern Loco Foco Free traders voted for the above resolution, together with a number of other Democrats. It says an opponent, "when Mr. Hamlin voted and spoke against the tariff he was a Democrat, but he has left the Democrats and now he is a protective tariff man." Let us examine this matter. Mr. Hamlin left the Democratic party on the 12th of June, 1856, according to his own declaration; but not a word did he say that he differed with the Democratic party on the tariff question. The negro was first with him. He had a more exalted opinion of the negro than the Democratic party has; and the truth is, that while he professed to be a Democrat he could not conceal his strong sympathies for the negro. He esteemed the colored population to such a degree, that he finally became estranged from the Democratic party and joined the Black Republican party, whose feelings are all in that direction. That is the only reason why Mr. Hamlin left the Democratic party. If he has changed his opinions on the tariff question, why did he not express himself to that effect? From the 31st January to the 14th February, 1859, during the discussion of Mr. Bigler's tariff resolution, Mr. Hamlin remained silent as death. He was perfectly mum on the tariff question, and we have therefore a right to infer that he did not consider it of any importance. And yet he was told that he is a protective tariff man! The 17 Senators who took part in the discussions on that occasion, desired the community to know their sentiments on the tariff. Not so, however, Mr. Hamlin. And yet he is the candidate of these-called protective tariff men. Out upon such humbuggery!

FAILURE OF THE EXPEDITION OF THE KNIGHTS OF THE GOLDEN CIRCLE.

The Knights of the Golden Circle, who have been so far benighted as to march to Western Texas, have concluded that they have had about as near a view of the elephant as would pay. The Corpus Christi Ranchero says: "The last detachment of Knights of the Golden Circle started here, instead of going further toward the frontier, was unable to go to Iowa to work on a farm. On the 8th of this month the man was found near Iowa city, murdered. It is supposed that becoming suspicious he was killed by the kidnapers that they might retain possession of the women.—The citizens of Galena have offered a reward of five hundred dollars for the apprehension of the kidnapers."

Burning of a Medical School Building. LOUISVILLE, Oct. 15. The interior of the edifice occupied by the Kentucky School of Medicine, corner of Fifth and Queen streets, was burned this morning. Loss five thousand dollars. The Museum and Cabinet were saved. The lecturers will be continued at the hospital without interruption.—The edifice will be restored in a few weeks.

The Weather. POTTSVILLE, Oct. 15. Snow fell last night in this vicinity, and the hills are covered to the depth of 3/4 an inch.

BINGHAMPTON, N. Y., Oct. 15. Three inches of snow fell last night but it is fast disappearing.

MARCH CHUK, October 15. During last night a snow storm set in quite briskly. About two inches fell here before it stopped.

GENERAL NEWS.

EXPLOSION AND DEATH BY ETHERAL OIL.—A terrible accident happened, on the 5th inst., on the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal, a little ways above Hancock, causing the death of a boatman named George Patterson. He was, it appears, filling an ethereal lamp, when it exploded, burning him most horribly, and causing his death. The Williamsport Times says his death was fairly charged; the oil run into his ears, and the fire followed; his chest was burned into a crisp, and his sinews laid bare on his roasted arms. He leaves a wife and child.

OX TEAMS.—Horses and mules have most generally taken the place of oxen in this part of the country, but the farmers of New England continue to use ox teams to a considerable extent. At an agricultural exhibition in Bristol county, Mass., last week, there were present between sixty and seventy yoke of oxen, fifty of which were entered for the plowing and drawing matches, and are described as splendid animals. The advantages of oxen is that after having done good service to the owners they supply the market with beef.

ANOTHER MYSTERIOUS MURDER CASE IN NEW YORK.—A man was discovered floating in the East River on Friday morning, with his throat cut and several bruises upon his head, which clearly indicated that he had been foully murdered. He was apparently 35 years of age, stout built, weighing 170 pounds, and is supposed, from the peculiarity of his clothing, to have been recently an inmate of Blackwell's Island Hospital.

WARM TIMES IN FLORIDA.—In Calhoun county, Fla., on the 25th ult., the "Regulators" killed Jesse Durden, Willis Musgrove and Larkin C. Musgrove, charged with murderous crimes. The first brigade of Florida militia has been called out to operate against them.—Judge Finley, of the United States District Court of Western Florida, has declared the country to be in a "state of insurrectionary war."

VERDICT OF A MORMON JURY.—Brigham Young has recovered a verdict of $5,310 against Peter K. Dotson, late U. S. Marshal in Utah, for seizing the plates of "The Deseret Currency Association," a wild act which Brigham was interested. It was a Mormon jury that gave the verdict, and their forbearance in not making the damages ten times as great is the only astonishing thing about it.

ACCIDENT TO A QUEEN.—The Queen of Spain met with an accident on the 22d of September, while traveling from Mahon to Barcelona.—She was on board the frigate Princess des Austrias, when one of the poles supporting an awning erected for the occasion on the deck fell. The Queen received three wounds on the head, but the result was not serious.

ECONOMY OF FUEL.—There are estimated to be 9,000 locomotives in use in the United States, their total annual mileage being about 175,000,000 miles. The average cost of fuel at ten cents a mile (the average in the State of New York is 18 cents) would be $17,500,000. A saving of only two cents a mile in fuel would reduce this sum $3,500,000.

RUN OFF.—A man named Brewster, a school teacher from Massachusetts, was ordered out of Somerville, Ala., last week, for alleged incendiary sentiments. In his trunk was found a letter from Senator Sumner, written four years ago, congratulating him on his labors in "the cause."

SENTENCED TO BE HUNG.—Three negro men, two of them slaves of M. L. Spencer, and the other owned by John A. Johns, were convicted at the County Court of Lunenburg, Va., last week of an attempt to poison the family of Mr. Spencer, and sentenced to be hung on Friday, the 9th day of November.

CHOKED TO DEATH.—A gentleman named Francis Tate, residing near Winston, N. C., came to his death last week by choking. While eating his dinner a large piece of beef lodged in his throat and could not be extricated until life was extinct.

LATEST BY TELEGRAPH.

The Prince's Departure from New York. New York, Oct. 15.

The Prince of Wales and his party left here this morning in the Italian States Rowing Steamer Harriet Lane, for West Point. They went aboard of her at the Battery, in the presence of an immense crowd. Gen. Scott and staff accompany him to the Point. Salutes were fired from the fort as they departed. A number of excursion boats, decorated with flags and filled with people, accompanied the steamer.

On the Prince's arrival at West Point, he was to be received with a salute, and with all military honors, from the officers and cadets. Apartments have been engaged for the party at Cosens's Hotel.

A Family Feud.—Three Men Killed. VAN BUREN, Ark., October 13.

After a regimental muster which was held here to-day, a difficulty occurred, during which three men, Rufus and Jackson, brothers, and Richard Covington, a son of the latter, were killed by two brothers named Silas and Den. Edwards. Several others were badly cut and injured on both sides. An old feud existed between the parties, but the Edwardses, who have long been the terror of this part of the State, were the aggressors.

While they were trying to make their escape, they were overtaken a short distance from town by the constable and his posse and lodged in the jail. A large crowd, however, unable to get into the jail, surrounded the jail for the purpose, but were finally pacified. The people are very much excited, and it is feared that the prisoners will yet be lynched. The affair was one of the most atrocious that ever occurred here.

Kidnaping and Murder.

CHICAGO, Oct. 15. An outrageous case of kidnaping occurred at Galena, the latter part of September. A negro named Jerry Boyd, forty-five years of age, wife, a mulatto of thirty-five years, and daughter, a female, were made and taken to Iowa to work on a farm. On the 8th of this month the man was found near Iowa city, murdered. It is supposed that becoming suspicious he was killed by the kidnapers that they might retain possession of the women.—The citizens of Galena have offered a reward of five hundred dollars for the apprehension of the kidnapers.

DIPHTHERIA.—The Easton (Md.) Gazette states that this dreadful disease is raging on Tighman's Island, and there are from 38 to 40 cases on the island, and it is still on the increase.—So fatal is the disease that six deaths have occurred from it within the last two weeks.

We call the attention of our readers to an article advertised in another column, called BLOOD FOOD. It is an entirely new discovery, and must be accompanied with any of the numerous patent medicines of the day. It is FOOD FOR THE BLOOD, and is prepared for absorption; pleasant to the taste and natural in its action, and is the only medicine of the kind, then, who are suffering from poverty, impurity or deficiency of blood, and consequently with some chronic diseases or ailments, which have been long and vainly stored to health. We notice that our druggists have received a supply of this article, and also of the world-renowned Dr. E. H. Clark's SERRA CORDEA, which very rarely corrects this disorder. It contains no patent or artificial ingredients of any kind whatever, and of course must be invaluable to the persons. It will allay all pain, and soften the joints in process of test, and in the same time regulate the bowels. Let all mothers and nurses, who have endured anxious days and sleepless nights, procure a supply and be at once relieved. oct15-d&wlm
