The Daily Patriot and Union may be had at Jack's Book Store, corner of Third and Market streets.

PATRIOT AND UNION.—The Daily Patriot and Union can be had by Dauphin subscribers, every morning, at the periodical store of J. S. FRANK.

LATE MAKING HAY.—Workmen have been busy this week making hay on Capitol and Reservoir Parks. This is rather late in the season, but the crop looks pretty fair.

APPOINTMENT BY THE GOVERNOR.—Gov. Packer has appointed Samuel Wherry, Esq., Associate Judge of Cumberland county, in place of Judge Woodburn, deceased.

BASE BALL CLUB.—We understand that efforts are being made to organize a base ball club. The young gentlemen who have the matter in contemplation are anxious to have the co-operation of a number of others, and are soliciting such to join them in this healthy and favorite amusement.

MELANCHOLY DEATH.—Miss Alice Jane Casey, daughter of the Hon. Joseph Casey, of this city, died in Lewisburg, where she was attending school. Miss Casey was an unusually beautiful and interesting young lady, beloved and esteemed by a large circle of acquaintances.

THE LAMP POST ORDERED BY COUNCIL to be put in Fourth street, between Walnut and South, has been placed at that point. There are several more beautiful regions where light is wanted. While our City Fathers are on that subject, let them place posts wherever needed. Many citizen tax-payers will thank them.

A special meeting of the Harrisburg Typographical Union, No. 14, will be held at the Citizen engine house, on Saturday evening, the 20th inst., at 7 o'clock. A general attendance of the members is requested, as business of importance will be brought before the Union. By order of the President.

A LARGE YIELD FROM HALF AN ACRE.—The Rev. Y. M. M'Ghee, of Lancaster county, says the Express, raised from a half acre of ground this season the following crop: Thirty bushels of corn, sixteen bushels of potatoes, one hundred and fifty heads of cabbage, twelve large pumpkins, a half bushel of beans, and a peck of peas. This is certainly a remarkable yield for a half acre, and if any of our agricultural friends know of anything to beat it we would be pleased to hear from them.

The Capitol Park looks lovely in its autumn dress of yellow and red, and gold and brown, with a shade of green intervening. This will not last long, for the leaves are falling, falling, falling; and soon the winds of winter will reveal among the naked branches. Though there is a beauty and a grandeur about it, and the trees in the sunlight look as if they were alive, yet there comes a saddening thought to many hearts at the gloomy prospect their varied hues foretell.

NEW SCHOOL PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.—The Synod of the New School Presbyterian Church will meet in this city on Friday. If we are rightly informed, this is called the Philadelphia Synod, and embraces nearly, if not fully, one-half of the States. The meetings will be held in the Church of the dominion in Market Square, both for business and religious services. The occasion will serve to attract a great many strangers to our city, to whom a cordial and brotherly welcome will be extended.

SCARCITY OF BARK.—This necessary building material has become very scarce, and many who purposed erecting houses this fall have been compelled to postpone it until next spring. Col. Brant, we see, has been prevented from finishing the improvement to the European Hotel, and has been obliged to stop with the ground floor. To protect this from the weather he is having it roofed. This is much to be regretted. All the brick in this neighborhood, as far as made, are engaged to finish the shops and smoke stack of the machine shops of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

DEATH OF OLD SOLDIERS.—On Friday last, says the Mechanic Journal of the 11th inst., an aged and respected citizen of Monroe township, Cumberland county, departed this life. Mr. Peter Phillips served in the war of 1812-14 as a Lieutenant in Captain Hendel's Company, Pennsylvania Volunteers. His years were nearly four-score, and his life was marked by an upright and consistent course. For the last ten years he received a pension from the Government.

Mr. David Eberly, another aged and respected defender of his country, is no more, having died at his residence, in Cumberland county, on Sunday last. He was also a Lieutenant in the war of 1812. Peace to their ashes!

STABBING APPRAY AT JOHNSTOWN.—On Saturday night, 6th inst., a young man named Michael Keelan was stabbed by another named Patrick Cassidy, while in attendance at a raffish match in Millville borough. The stabbing was a deliberate and premeditated act, as was evident from the fact that no quarrel or difficulty had occurred between them, but was doubtless induced by a spirit of revenge for the part Keelan had taken as a witness against Cassidy's father, tried some months since for the cruel beating of a man named Mulholland.

THE FRIENDSHIP BALL.—We direct special attention to the advertisement of the Friendship Fire Company for their ball, to be given on the evening of the 25th inst. We do not so much direct attention to the ball itself, as we do to the object in view in getting it up. It will be seen that the money realized is to be added to the fund for some time past accumulating for the purchase of a steam fire engine. The company has resolved to have a steam fire engine. It has long since been reduced to a mere question of time. If the ball is a success—and there is every reason to believe that it will be a triumph—then shall we have a steamer in our midst at an early day.

We have heard the expression frequently that our city is too small for a steamer, and in the early part of the summer we made a similar expression—something in regard to it being "ahead of time," but many do not think so, and among them the company themselves. The latter fixed the fact, and the little city of Harrisburg will have a steamer before the larger cities of Lancaster and Reading.

The boys have said it, therefore, oh! ye devotees of pleasure, go in!

PROPOSALS FOR GRADING RIDGE ROAD.—By reference to our advertising columns it will be seen that proposals are at last invited for the grading of that principal thoroughfare in the new section of our city. A portion of the work was done under the old Borough Council—that part of the road from the Reservoir to Hammond's lane, which was then the Borough line—at an expense of nearly $3,000. Some person undoubtedly made money by that operation, for no person of common sense would even imagine that the work done was ever worth half of that amount. But the Borough Treasury had to suffer, and now we understand that certain parties are anxious to have a similar haul. We trust, however, they may be frustrated, and that the work to be done be given to whoever will do it the most reasonable. No one doubts that the grading of that avenue is necessary, but since it must be done let us not pay too dear for it. When our tax-payers at the close of the present year see the expenses of our city government they will be astonished at more items than one.

The new Pennsylvania Passenger Depot, to which we alluded some weeks ago, as being in process of erection at Greensburg, is now finished—and was opened on Tuesday to the traveling public. It is certainly a credit to the place, and the Pennsylvania Railroad Company deserve the thanks of the community for thus giving them a station house worthy of the business done at that point. The building is a neat, substantial brick, with a projecting ornamental cornice and a gravel roof. It is fifty-five by thirty feet, with a porch four feet wide, extending all around, and stands just twelve feet from the tracks. The intervening space is planted on a level with the track, thus doing away with the usual raised platform, and it is said, diminishing the liability of accidents.—The arrangements within, embrace a gents' room, twenty-seven by twenty feet; a ladies' room, sixteen by twenty; also, a ladies' private room, ten by twenty, with complete toilet arrangements.—These rooms are well lighted with large windows, heated with stoves, and are properly ventilated.—They are furnished in elegant style with oak-grained furniture of comfortable and substantial make. The whole inside part of the wood-work is of oak finish. The walls are of plain, white plaster, with four feet of panel work or vaucing.—The entrance is by a large door in the centre of the building, to a hall eight by twelve, with doors to right and left entering the ladies and gents' rooms. Facing the front entrance in the hall we have the ticket office, which is twelve by twelve, and the telegraph office, six by twelve, separated from the ticket office by a lattice partition. The entrance to these offices is from the gents' room; the agent communicates with the entrance hall and the ladies' and gents' rooms through wickets opening into each. The building is well supplied with gas fixtures both inside and out; a beautiful chandelier graces the ladies' room, whilst an elegant double pendant serves the gents'. Two doors at the south side furnish the means of ingress and egress from the principal rooms to an enclosed yard at the rear of the building. Taken altogether, we think for convenience, comfort and elegance, it is unsurpassed by any of the station houses west of the mountains.

THE NEW UNITED STATES SENATOR.—CAUCUS OF ASPIRANTS.—A number of prominent gentlemen connected with the Republican party of the State were in this city yesterday. Many of them have been mentioned in connection with the United States Senate. It was extensively rumored that they held a caucus during the day, which adjourned with some ill feeling among the several partisans, and a general expression of sentiment that no Philadelphia would be elected.

We were unable to obtain any definite statement relative to said caucus. The rumor probably originated in the fact that Colonel Curtin had arrived in town. So says the Press of yesterday, and it ought to know. We wonder if Forney was present, and if so as a mere adviser, or as an aspirant. As the pantomime play says, "now the fun begins." The cohorts of Republicanism who have fought in union, before the blood of the slain enemy has oozed out, or his body become cold, are now quarrelling over the plunder. But this is nothing to be compared to what is to follow when the Governor goes to deal out his patronage. The lean and hungry patriots, or those who go for "protection for the sake of protection"—plunder for the sake of plunder, will come in swarms like the locusts of Egypt. The Flour Inspectors will come—the Whisky Inspectors will come—and the Bark and Leather Inspectors will come, and the Notaries Public will come. Like the gaunt wolves who come down from the mountain to hunt and fight over the carrion, so will the office-hunters come, in pairs, in troops, in myriads. God help the poor of our city! We do not expect a famine to follow in their wake, but we predict such troops of office-hunters, and their friends in this city early in January, as will place the price of provisions beyond the reach of poor men. Mark our prediction! But there will be fun to those who can afford to enjoy it, in watching the angry expectants trying to eat each other up. May we all be here to see.

PIPE LAYING IN TWO SENSES.—We are not aware that any particular committee of Council has a right to give out a contract for work without first submitting the same to the action of the whole body, and yet recently the contract for laying water pipes in Ridge Road, was given to Mr. Wm. Parkhill, and afterwards Council was called upon to give its consent! This is a very extraordinary proceeding. Mr. Parkhill is a very deserving mechanic, and we do not know that Council could possibly give the job to a better person or more capable, yet it has always been customary to give out all such work by first advertising for proposals, which were submitted to Council, and the lowest and best bidder for the work awarded the contract. In this case the rule was departed from, and the Water Committee gave it to Mr. P.—why and wherefore, we are in blissful ignorance. Now, to say the least of it, this is all wrong, and our citizens expect that their delegates will allow nothing but what is fair and honorable and just. If they will pursue a course that will permit their constituents to be swindled, as our old borough was many and many a time, they must expect to be called to account.

NICE OPENING FOR A YOUNG MAN.—In the Philadelphia Ledger, we find the following advertisement, which, for cool impudence, we think can certainly remove the dilapidated lien from our bush: WANTED—By a respectable colored family, a WHITE BOY 14 or 16 years of age, to wait on the table and make himself generally useful about the house. Address with reference "Pendergrast," Blood's Despatch.

Where are you, all you nice little boys who are eternally asking to be employed. Here's a chance for you, such a chance, in a highly colored family; bring on your references as to age and competence to make yourself "generally useful," for Mr. Pendergrast, Mrs. Pendergrast, and all the little Pendergrasts are suffering for your services. All you are wanted to do is to wait on the table and make yourself generally useful. Remember you are not expected to be ornamental, nor are desired to make any "irrepressible conflict" when told to scrub knives and forks, black boots, wash the pavement, or are called by the irate Mrs. "Grass" a "dirty little white trash."

APPLES.—A case of apples in front of the Park House has been attracting considerable attention for a few days past, containing as it does, many fine specimens of the apples usually raised in New York and northern Pennsylvania. At the figure which the New York apples are brought here, they must be selling as low as 20 cents a bushel from first hands. Lately a great many have been brought here from the North Branch country—entire bushel loads, which have been sold at a dollar a bushel. This would seem like a steep price, when we are told they are sold in the orchards at 20 to 25 cents per bushel, and yet at the vendor makes but the profit of ordinary business transactions. Strange as it may seem, apples are brought here from Connecticut—a distance of not less than 400, and probably 500 miles, and are sold at a dollar a bushel. The speculator buys them, and employs men to pick them—the cooper barrels them—the drayman takes them to the shipping depot—unloads them into the cars, and the carman takes them to New York. Here the commission merchant's men unload and place them in the warehouse. Next they load them upon a vessel, or canal propeller, and take them to Philadelphia. More unloading. Next, dragging to depot. More unloading into cars, and finally your apples reach Harrisburg, and are dragged to the dealer, who is obliged to re-pick, and loses about a peck to the bushel. Now, mark you, the bushel of apples on its route passes through some seventeen hands, at least four of which are speculative—and that is the reason why the bushel of apples costs a dollar here, or seventy-five cents more than it costs on the banks of the Connecticut river. Verily, there are "wheels within wheels."

FRUITS OF AN INSANE MAN.—John Wheeler, says the Tyrone Star, will probably recollect the "mysterious disappearance," and subsequent "mystified" re-appearance near Janesville, of a man named Stoner—of his purchase of a large saw-mill seat and farm, which he did not pay for, and of the excitement which the whole matter occasioned.—Mr. Stoner is undoubtedly insane, and has lately "turned up" again—this time in a new character. He met with a buxom widow living in Clearfield county, (whose name it is needless to mention,) became desperately enamored, and made fierce love to her. He represented that he owned a large farm near Lewisburg, to which they would move at once, if she would but consent to make him happy. His devotion—his despair—and his vain conquests were so concerted, that the intractable knot should be tied here. So a justice was summoned and the train were made one flesh.

Early the next morning, however, the happy bridegroom mysteriously disappeared. The Esquire was not paid, neither was the hotel bill, and the bride of a night was left in a strange place, in a strange situation, and in tears.

Some time after, post haste, came another individual from Clearfield county in search of Stoner! It appeared that he, too, was a victim of misplaced confidence. Stoner had sold him a farm of six acres, containing a thirty year orchard of twenty-five trees, for a gun and a horse worth $160. The gun Stoner had with him. He had sold the horse, and the money was in his pocket, but the farm was not to be found. Here was a muss indeed. Stoner must be caught. So the entire force of this city, including the entire constabulary force, and the enraged landlord (whose bill wasn't paid) started in search of him, and found him trudging along towards Birmingham with his bundle. He was brought back and placed in the town lock-up for safe keeping.

It being evident that he was non compos, he was finally allowed to depart.

Sewing Machines. THE GROVER & BAKER FAMILY SEWING MACHINE is rapidly supplanting all others for family use. The Double Lock-Stroke formed by this Machine is found to be the only one which survives the wash-tub on bias seams, and, therefore, the only one permanently valuable to all who purchase and use it. READ THE FOLLOWING TESTIMONY: "Mrs. JEFFERSON DAVIS, presents her compliments to Grover & Baker, and takes pleasure in saying that she has used their Sewing Machine for several years, and finds it still in good order, makes a beautiful article, and does easily work of any kind."—Washington, D. C. "It is a beautiful thing, and puts everybody into an excitement of good humor. We are a Catholic, and we insist upon Grover & Baker having an eternal holiday in commemoration of their good deeds for humanity."—St. Louis, Mo. My family has been most successful in its use, from the start, without any trouble or difficulty whatever in its management. It is a most valuable article, and could not be induced to dispense with its use—in all of which most heartily concur."—James Pollock, Esq., Governor of Tennessee.
