NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC NOMINATIONS.

FOR PRESIDENT, JOHN C. BRECKINRIDGE, OF KENTUCKY.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT, JOSEPH LANE, OF OREGON.

* * * THE CONSTITUTION AND THE EQUALITY OF THE STATES: THESE ARE SYMBOLS OF EVERLASTING UNION. THESE ARE THE GREAT PRINCIPLES OF THE PEOPLE. J. C. BRECKINRIDGE.

Democratic Electoral Ticket.

The following is the regular Democratic electoral ticket formed by the Reading Convention. As there are spurious tickets in circulation, Democrats should be careful to compare their tickets with this before voting:

- ELECTORS. GEORGE M. KEIM, RICHARD VAUX, FREDERICK A. SWEET, WILLIAM C. PATTERSON, JOSEPH CROCKETT, JOHN G. BRENNER, GEORGE W. JACOBY, CHARLES KELLY, OLIVER P. JAMES, JOHN A. AHL, JOEL B. DANNEY, JOHN W. GARDNER, HORATIO N. LEE, JOSHUA B. HOWELL, THOMAS H. PATTERSON, SAMUEL M. SHAW, WILLIAM BOOK, BYRON D. HAMILIN, GAYLORD CHURCH.

Go and Vote.

Let no Democrat omit voting under the impression that there is no use of going to the polls, and that his vote cannot affect the result. Vote early and vote for the Reading electoral ticket. See that no Democratic vote is lost through indifference or apathy. This is your solemn duty as an American citizen, which cannot be avoided by any such frivolous excuse as that there is no chance of carrying the State. The way to make a chance is to go to the polls and work for it.

Look Out for Spurious Tickets.

We caution Democrats to examine every name on their tickets before voting, in order to guard against deception. The ticket at the head of the PATRIOT and UNION is the regular Democratic electoral ticket as formed at Reading, and all other pretended Democratic tickets are spurious. Designing men, who are employed by the Republicans, have flooded the State with spurious tickets. These are well calculated to deceive. Beware of them and see that your tickets conform to the one at the head of our columns.

SHALL THE MAJORITY GOVERN?

CONSIDERATIONS FOR VOTERS.

On this day the citizens of the United States will choose a President, to whom will be committed the administration of the affairs of the General Government for four years from the 4th of March next. Always a matter of importance, peculiar circumstances have invested the result of this day's election with the most momentous consequences. For the first time in the history of our Government the election of a President by one section of the country against the earnest protest of another section seems imminent. For the first time a sectional minority of the whole people are about to impose a man, entertaining objectionable principles and pledged to unconstitutional legislation, upon an unwilling majority. There is no doubt that on this day the large majority of the American people will vote against ABRAHAM LINCOLN, under the firm conviction that his elevation to the Presidency would be inimical to the best interests of the country, and with the apprehension that it may result in disaffection, sectional alienation, strife, civil war, and possibly disunion; and yet, notwithstanding the protest of the majority, it is highly probable that the sectional minority, concentrated in the Northern States, will, under the forms of the Constitution, insist upon forcing LINCOLN upon an unwilling people, and thus precipitating the fearful crisis that has so long threatened this Union.

Shall this be the case? Shall the choice of a minority of the people be made President of the United States? Shall the perilous consequences sure to follow in the footsteps of such an event be thrust upon the country? These are serious questions that come directly home to every citizen upon this day. The question is not whether the Northern minority of the people have the power to elect a President against the protest of the majority, but whether it is just and proper to exercise that power. We have the power under the Constitution to do many acts that would be utterly subversive of the Constitution. The Northern States might determine never to allow the South to have a voice in the Government. They might by virtue of their numerical preponderance always choose Northern Presidents. They might through their sectional power in Congress refuse to appropriate a cent of money to be expended in the Southern States; exclude Southern men from office; allow them no share in the Administration, and practically govern them as inferior and subject provinces. And it would be possible to do this without infringing upon the letter of the Constitution. But who does not see that such a sectional and proscriptive policy would be utterly subversive of the spirit of the compact binding together free, equal, sovereign States, and destroy the Union just as surely as if the letter of the Constitution should be directly violated? In casting our votes for President of the United States we should regard the interests of the whole Union, and not allow our views to be circumscribed by the narrow boundaries of a State, or cramped and dwarfed by sectional prejudices. We should act as citizens of the United States, and not as citizens of any single State. We should in some measure consult the wishes of others; and not seek to establish dominion over them. In so doing we contribute to the advancement of our own highest interests, which are bound up in the Union and dependent upon its perpetuity. We should guard against the first triumphs of sectional prejudices, which, under the fair pretence of devotion to the letter of the Constitution, may yet lead to its destruction by the process of concentrating power in the stronger section of the Union, in the manner already indicated. Our strength should be tempered with moderation, and used with due regard to the rights and interests of those whose fate is bound up in ours.

"It is good to have a giant's strength, but it is tyrannous to use it like a giant." Now our government is so constituted that a minority of the people may choose a President objectionable to the majority—from the fact that the controlling minority is concentrated in the great Northern States, and the majority diffused over the whole country—the only remedy against the practical subversion of our government by wresting the power from the hands of the majority, is in the good sense and patriotism of the people. We profess to respect the will of the majority. Every good citizen deems it a duty to submit to the government of the majority. Every man knows that the majority of the people of the United States are against the election of Lincoln. Shall the opinions of this majority be respected? Shall it not influence our choice on this day? And is it not a duty we owe to the people of the United States to vote against Lincoln?

"Governments derive all their just powers from the consent of the governed," is a saying that has passed into a political axiom. If we apply this truism to the present state of the country, we find that it leads us to the conclusion that a government deriving its powers from a minority of the people and against the wishes of a majority, must be without that moral strength that has its source in the consent of the governed. The Administration of Lincoln would, in fact, be the Administration of a sectional minority of the people, deprived of those just powers necessary to good government.

Let reflecting men who have the mind and heart to rise above narrow sectionalism, consider these truths, and act upon them. Take a comprehensive view of the whole country, and then determine whether the government of the majority of the people is not more calculated to insure peace and the perpetuity of the Union, than a government founded upon the demands of a sectional minority.

THE "IRREPRESSIBLE CONFLICT" IN NEW YORK.—Shocking Murder.—It is stated that intense excitement prevails throughout Orange county, N. Y., in consequence of the heartless and deliberate murder of Phineas T. Wood, Esq., a highly respectable resident of Goshen, by a black demon in human form, on Saturday evening week, for no other reason than that the unfortunate man was a union or fusion man, and therefore opposed to the hypocritical Republican pretence of negro equality. The N. Y. Express says:

A Union meeting was held in the town on Saturday evening, and after the adjournment, most of the people having gone home, a gang of black ruffians, some fourteen or fifteen in number, made a furious attack upon a handful who remained in the public house where the meeting was held. The negroes being all stalwart, ferocious fellows, and outnumbering the whites, succeeded in dispersing the latter, leaving their marks on them in many a wound. The negroes remaining masters of the field, they set to work with their knives, and administered to the negroes a severe chastisement, after which everything was quiet. This took place on Thursday evening. On Friday, one of the negroes, thirsting for revenge, paraded the streets of Goshen, with a rifle in his hand, saying he "was going to shoot a—d—white Democrat," and bawling out that "every Democrat ought to have his throat cut." People thought he was not in earnest, and did not mind his threats. The negro then, with his gun loaded to the muzzle, proceeded to his home, about three miles out of the village. At this time Mr. Wood happened to be coming along on his way to Goshen, seeing whom, the negro came out, and deliberately leveled his gun at him. The gun missed fire, whereupon some words passed between Mr. Wood and his assailant, after which the latter, unheeding the remonstrance of the unhappy man, reprimed his gun, and shot Mr. Wood dead on the spot, the ball taking effect in the back of his head. The miscreant was subsequently arrested by the authorities, and conveyed to prison.

THE EMPEROR NAPOLEON AND THE AMERICAN MINISTER.—The Paris correspondent of the New York Times writes that the American Minister to Paris (Mr. Faulkner) was recently summoned to the palace of St. Cloud to deliver into the hands of His Majesty the letter of recall of the Count de Sartiges as Minister at Washington. This ceremony, where ministers only are concerned, is usually performed with the Minister of Foreign Affairs; but the Emperor desired, no doubt, to show a special attention on this occasion to the agent of the United States. In this interview Mr. Faulkner was retained a long time in friendly conversation with His Majesty, in which the latter displayed that wonderful general knowledge of affairs all over the world, for which he is remarkable, and recalled, in all its details, with many expressions of delight, his visit to the United States. He spoke of his astonishment at the wonderful activity of New York after arriving from sluggish Europe. He referred at length to the war-fears of England, and denounced those fears as the greatest absurdity. He had not now and never had a thought of provoking a war with England. His pride and ambition was to elevate France to a high position of commercial and agricultural prosperity, and he could best accomplish this by remaining the friend and ally of England. To suppose that he would go to war with England for revenge was a small compliment to his statesmanship. The Emperor was warm in his expressions of friendship to the people of the United States, and promised his good will in the conclusion of a new commercial treaty.

SAD SCIENCE.—On the 28th ult., Frank M. Brown, a native of Baltimore, aged 26 years, was found dying in his house in New Orleans. The deceased was a very fine and gentlemanly young man, who had been employed as a clerk in a jewelry store on Camp street and in several other respectable houses. Some six months ago he married an amiable young lady, whom he loved devotedly, and with whom and his wife's mother he lived contentedly. All were poor; he was the only stay; he lost one situation after another; grim poverty stalked in at the door, and he fell to despair. On Saturday, the 27th, he was as lively and gay as ever, to all appearances. In the evening he left home, telling his wife he would be back. In good time he returned, caressed his wife, talked merrily and gave her a paper of candy, which he had bought. Then saying he was sleepy, he went to bed early, and his dreadful purpose was not known till his involuntary groans gave the alarm. Physicians were called and arrived, and did all they could, but too late. In spite of their efforts he died. When he came home, as it appears, he had a paper of candy in one pocket for his loving young wife, and in his other pocket a vial of laudanum for his despairing self.

BLONDIN AT TROY.—He Gets a Fall.—The daring rope walker has been performing at the theatre in Troy, and on Tuesday evening met with an accident. The Times of that city says: "The same or similar mishaps at the Falls would have landed him in the scorching waters below the cataraet, and the little Frenchman would have been heard of no more on this side of eternity. While performing on stilts he attempted to turn a summersault, but the notch that sustained the rope suddenly gave way, and he fell among the seats and the people below. He was considered hurt by the fall, and one of his arms appeared to be partially paralyzed by contact with the hard substance on the floor of a seat. After picking himself up and repairing damages, he essayed the feat with more success; but in making a subsequent turn over, without stilts or balancing pole, he again lost his balance and came near falling. His whole performance was very thrilling, and was witnessed with anxiety for his safety by the audience. We think much of his ill-success owing to the imperfect manner in which the rope was adjusted. The 'professor' will doubtless guard against such mishaps hereafter."—N.Y. Republic

GENERAL NEWS.

OUR AFFAIRS WITH PERU.—It was announced on Saturday, that Mr. Clay, U. S. Minister to Lima, finally sent in his ultimatum in respect to American claims on the 2d ult., which was for a settlement of the claims for the seizure of the Georgianna and Lizzie Thompson within five days, or a suspension of diplomatic intercourse with Peru, and that President Castilla declined to accede to the demand, and gave as one reason for his refusal that he could not declare the irrevocable law prizes. Mr. Clay responded by showing that within a year or two Castilla had set aside the decision of the courts, and quoted the instances. The President subsequently declined to send Mr. Clay his passports, or rather urged him to remain, with the view, it is presumed, of offering new conditions of arbitration. The Lima Comercio urges that the whole matter be left to the decision of the U. S. Supreme Court.

THE NEW ALMADEN CASE.—The argument in this case, in which many distinguished lawyers are engaged, was commenced at San Francisco on the 8th ult., by Mr. Peachy, who occupied three days in his preliminary statement. Edmund Randolph, whose brief addresses to popular audiences are said to be generally three and a half hours long, is to follow him. Then Senator Benjamin and Mr. Randolph to follow him. Then the Hon. Randolph to follow him, Baltimore, and then Mr. Randolph again. There are two other very fluent counsel for the claimants, each one of whom Mr. Randolph will be sure to follow.

A NEW CATTLE DISEASE.—It is to be feared that we have a new and very fatal cattle disease in our midst. Mr. Samuel Emerson of this county has lost three fine cattle in the following singular manner. The throat was observed to swell to a considerable extent when, soon afterwards, this was followed by an itching of the eyes, supposed to be so from the catarrh of the eye, against the fence with mad-like impetuosity. But this did not last long, as they soon suddenly dropped dead. They were attacked successively.—Social Journal (Boston Md.)

SINGULAR PRESERVATION OF PROPERTY AT NEW YORK.—On Thursday afternoon, during the confusion attending the departure of the steamship Bienville, a trunk containing $600 worth of jewelry slipped from the shoulder of the porter, and striking the wheel-house was broken open and the contents scattered in the river. Two officers of the steamboat squad, at the risk of their lives, descended to the surface of the water, and succeeded in recovering nearly all of the property. The jewelry, being attached to cards, floated about until picked up.

AN ALCHEMIST.—A man has recently been engaged, in Detroit, Michigan, in endeavoring to crystallize the flints, agates and cornelias of the Lake Superior region and secure such a point of brilliancy as to equal the diamond.—He showed some disintegrated agates, some of which were burned, others showing the action of acids which seemed to have eaten out the impurities and left the flint as clear and transparent as water, and succeeded in recovering nearly all of the property. The jewelry, being attached to cards, floated about until picked up.

"BEWARE OF THE VIDDERS."—A short time since in Cincinnati, a young man in a joke, so he says, introduced a friend to a widow lady of some means. An intimacy sprang up between them, which resulted in an engagement of marriage. The was-to-be groom, so won on the confidence of his intended as to borrow from her some sixteen hundred dollars, with which he soon made himself scarce. The sequel to the affair is that the widow has brought suit against the man who introduced her to the deceiver, as a party to the swindling transaction.

SINGLE BOTTOMS FOR SHOES.—The Shoe and Leather Reporter says: The plan for using shingles in the bottom of shoes originated about thirteen years ago, the first lot being cut in New Hampshire; the use of paper and straw board being about the same time. To give some idea of the extent of this branch of the business during the past year, five or six acres of heavy pine timber have been used for wood filling, nearly all by the manufacturers of Natick, Massachusetts, and the adjoining towns, in the sales of brogans.

CRIME IN NEW ORLEANS.—Sunday, the 28th ult., was a day of blood in the city of New Orleans. There were no less than five men stabbed in as many affrays; one died, and three others mortally wounded. In one case, Mr. Victor Piquet was out walking with his wife, when a youth, named Joseph Prudhomme, insulted her; this Mr. P. resented, when an affray ensued, and P. was stabbed, dying in a few minutes. In another affray, Ed. Fitzgerald was mortally stabbed by B. S. Brown.

ANOTHER "JOHN BROWN" RAID.—According to the Lynchburg Virginian, Gov. Letcher recently received a letter from some person in Cincinnati, intimating that there was an organization on foot which contemplated another raid upon Virginia, to be made on a day of election, and in the neighborhood of Lynchburg. Although no confidence is placed in the letter, he has instructed the military to be in readiness whenever called on.

LARGE RECEIPTS OF SILVER IN ENGLAND.—The Emperor Parmian arrived at Southampton, England, on the 1st of the month. Had on board $5,602,000 in silver from the West Indies and Mexico. It was contained in 2,168 packages, was landed in seven hours, and deposited in 36 railway wagons, drawn by two engines. At London it was transferred to 36 street wagons, and was drawn by upwards of one hundred horses. It took seven hours to receive the whole in the vaults of the Bank of England.

PROGRESS OF FORGERY.—The November number of Peterson's Detector records that 64 new counterfeiters have been put into circulation in the month of October, among these are the following dangerous forgers, viz.: Fives of the Allegheny Bank, Pittsburg; do. on the Bank of Commerce; do. on the Bank of Middletown; do. on the Bank of Pawling, N. Y.; do. on the Bank of the Republic, Mass.; do. on the Belvidere Bank, N. J.

CURE FOR BURNS.—The "Gazette Medicale" of France says that, by an accident, charcoal has been discovered to be a cure for burns. By laying a piece of cold charcoal upon a burn, the pain subsides immediately. By leaving the charcoal on one hour, the wound is healed, as has been demonstrated on several occasions. The remedy is cheap and simple, and certainly deserves a trial.

A YOUNG SEA SERPENT IN MILES RIVER.—On last Saturday a most singular fish was caught in Miles river, and brought to town by Mr. Wm. Horney. It is three feet three inches long, has a tail like a rat, a head like a mackerel, except that it has teeth almost equal to a small dog; has no fins except two small ones under the gills, and a mane upon its back about one inch and a half broad running from head to tail.—Easton (Md.) Star.

BISHOP OF PITTSBURGH.—The Right Rev. Michael Domeneo, of the congregation of the Mission, has been appointed by the Pope Bishop of Pittsburg, Pa., in place of Right Rev. Bishop O'Connor, who lately resigned. Bishop Domeneo has been for a number of years pastor of the Church of St. Vincent de Paul at Germantown, Pa.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—On Tuesday, as Thomas McCollister, Jr., son of Mr. Thomas McCollister, of Dorchester county, Md., was hauling corn, the oxen he was driving ran off, turning the cart over on him, breaking several of his ribs and otherwise so injuring him that he died almost immediately.

DEATH OF FANNY ELLSNER'S SON.—Fanny Ellsner's son died in Nubia a short time ago.—Fanny is now Madame von Barim, and resides in Vienna. The Prince Adalbert of Prussia is united to her by amorganatic marriage and this was his child.

FLORIDA ELECTION.—The official returns from all the counties, except Brevard, (which has never cast over 15 votes,) gives Milton, Democratic candidate for Governor, a majority of 1,762. Hilton's majority for Congress 1,562.

POLITICAL.—Albert Stuart, Esq., a Douglas man, made a speech at Alexandria, Va., on Thursday evening last, in which he announced his determination to vote for Breckinridge, in order to prevent Bell from carrying the State. During the canvass Mr. S. has made several Douglas speeches.

DEATH BY CHOKER.—The ship Octavius, at New York from Calcutta, reports that on the 19th of April, while at Calcutta, William Smith, of Baltimore, and Edward Dorse, of Portland, died of cholera.

FLOUR FOR LIVERPOOL.—A consignment of 1,200 bbls. flour was shipped from Richmond, Va., last week to Liverpool—the first export of that commodity to an English port from Richmond for several years.

PATENT OFFICE EXAMINER.—Prof. D. K. Whitaker, well known for his literary attainments, has been promoted from a clerkship in the land office, at Washington, to a second assistant examinership in the patent office.

OIL IN WESTERN VIRGINIA.—The Clark County (Va.) Journal contains a letter from Wirt County House, which gives an account of the extraordinary discoveries of oil now being made in Western Virginia.

Frank Drew, the comedian, was married last week in St. Louis to Mademoiselle Ella Zoyara, the equestrienne attached to Dan Rice's show.
