LOCAL NEWS.

THE DAILY PATRIOT AND UNION may be had at Jack's Book Store, corner of Third and Market streets.

PATRIOT AND UNION.—The DAILY PATRIOT AND UNION can be had by Dauphin subscribers, every morning, at the periodical store of J. S. FRAIM.

CAMERON GUARDS, ATTENTION!—The members of the Cameron Guards are requested to meet at their armory on Friday evening, at 7½ o'clock, for drill. Every member is requested to be in attendance at the time stated. By order of the Captain.

A CLEAN SLATE.—There was not a single case before the Mayor yesterday morning. The morals of our city are improving, the revolving vagrants must be turning into winter quarters, and strychnine whisky is below par.

ABSENT.—Mr. H. Godbold, the piano tuner, will be absent for a few days on professional business. All orders for his services may be left at the music store of W. Knoche, and they will receive prompt attention immediately on his return.

THE Huntingdon Union says information has been made against the Treasurer of that county, Henry T. White, charging him with having illegally used the public funds. He gave bail in $500 to answer the charge.

LOSS BY FIRE.—The large barn of Mr. William Glenn, in Dickinson township, Cumberland county, was burned down on Friday last, about noon. The barn was filled with grain and hay. How the fire originated we have not been able to learn. The loss cannot be less than about $1,000.

THE CASE OF HALL.—The case of the Commonwealth vs. B. F. Hall, charged with attempting to pass a forged check on the Lebanon Bank, was called up in the Lebanon Court of Quarter Sessions on Monday, and put off until the January term.—This is the second time it has been continued.

A LARGE TURNIP.—There has been on exhibition for several days, at Jack's bookstore, a turnip from the farm of Samuel Flickinger, Susquehanna township, which weighed 6½ pounds, and measured 24 inches in circumference, when taken from the ground. It is quite large enough to make a meal for an ordinary sized family.

HEENAN FESTIVAL.—The hero of Farnbrough, and the other gentlemen who travel on their muscle in his company will hold forth at Brant's Hall this evening. We think we are entirely safe in predicting a full house.

Mr. Heenan and his party will arrive to-day in the 12.40 train from Williamsport.

THE MARKET.—There was an abundant supply of everything in the fish, flesh, fowl and vegetable line at market yesterday morning. There having been no rain storm on Tuesday night, butter went down the scale to 18 cents a pound, and pullets could be had for 25 cents a pair. Eggs were still 20 cents a dozen; but take it all in all, prices ruled in favor of the buyer.

BONNETS.—A "Fashion" writer in a New York paper says the winter bonnets promise to be as plain as a Shaker meeting-house; feathers and flowers will be seen as rarely as birds on a prairie. Dark velvet depressed over the forehead, with almost straight sides, plain crown, and decoration of rich, real lace only will be recognized as ton by the initiated.

ABOUT AGAIN.—The time for the distribution of quack medicine almanacs has again come around, in the course of human events, and everybody takes them; on compulsion, of course; but whether everybody reads them, or what use a majority who have them thrust in their doors make of them, this deponent saith not, further than that he believes many of them are used for kindling the fire.

COURT HOUSE STEEPLE.—Yesterday the spire on the new Court House steeple was elevated. It contains a vane, and a gilded ball—the latter as yet covered with canvass. The steeple itself is rapidly approaching completion, and we think will be quite an ornamental affair, in spite of the opinion of some that it will be too massive for the height. All criticisms on the building should be postponed until its completion.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—On Monday last, Frederick Kenner and John Thompson, two citizens of Carlisle, went to the country in search of game, and when in the neighborhood of Bosler's mill, in South Middleton township, the gun of Mr. Thompson was accidentally discharged, and the contents, a heavy charge of shot, lodged in the face of Kenner, very severely injuring him. He was brought home in a critical condition and properly cared for.

OIL EXCITEMENT.—The oleaginous fever has broken out in Cambria county. It is reported that there are surface indications of oil in many places on the mountain; and it is said that a saw-mill in that county has been supplied from the surface of the dam, for years past, with all the oil needed for burning and greasing purposes. Several companies are forming, and wells are about being sunk to ascertain the truth of the reports.

CURIOUS SIMILE.—Henry Ward Beecher delivered a half-sermon, half-political harangue at his church in Brooklyn on Sunday night, in which he used the following curious simile:

As men grow rich they grow mean. Why I know men—pious men—who actuallly perjure themselves about the value of their property that they may save what is justly due the city for taxes. They are as mean as—well—meanness has tunneled them from end to end, and the biggest one lies through the heart, and the Devil daily runs his train through and through.

MAN MISSING.—Jacob Bolger, of Martinsburg, left his home on the 7th inst., since which no tidings of him have been had. His spirits were greatly depressed in consequence of the death of a son. Mr. Bolger is about 50 years of age, rather sharp features, and about 5 feet 10 inches or 6 feet in height. He was dressed in a black frock coat and black pants, morocco shoes, and a brown straw hat. Any tidings of the missing man, communicated to Rev. J. Hassler, J. C. Everhart, or A. S. Morrow, Martinsburg, Pa., will be gratefully received by his distressed and afflicted family.

THE IRON STEAM PASSENGER CAR.—The Massillon Times gives the following statement in regard to the new steam passenger car, which recently made a trip over the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago Road:

The advantages of this over the common cars now in use for carrying passengers, are many and obvious. In the first place, the cost of a car of this description is about $6,000. The cost of a train of cars of equal capacity is: For locomotive, $10,000; two passenger cars, $5,000; baggage car, $1,000; total, $16,000. Here, then, is a saving of about $10,000 on first cost. Again, it will not take more than one-fourth the amount of fuel and oil to run the car; and will only require two or three persons, at the farthest, to manage it, when five is the least number that could be employed on the other. The weight of this car is about seventeen tons; while that of a train the size we have named is eighty-five tons, and hence the wear and tear of the road in running would be proportionately less. It is also safe, because being so much lighter it can be stopped quicker, and even in case of collision the concussion would not be so great, and the flexibility of the iron would cause it to give, and thus partially break the violence of the shock. These considerations, with others we might mention, are such as will eventually cause this car to supercede, for the most part, those now in use.

IMPROVEMENTS IN LOCOMOTIVES.—Within the past ten years, says the Ledger, many important improvements have been made in the locomotives constructed in Philadelphia, in the two extensive establishments of Norris and Baldwin; and by these improvements Philadelphia has been enabled to supply nearly all the Southern and Western roads with engines that cannot be excelled in any part of this or any other country. The improvements have not only consisted of matters of utility, but also of an ornamental character, all of which can be seen upon one of the largest class, made for the Southern Road of Mississippi, by Baldwin.—The cylinders are level, and 12½ inches in diameter, and 22 inches stroke. The boiler and fire-box are made throughout of iron rolled at Coatesville, Pa. The fire-box is 40 inches long on the grate, and 38 inches wide, the whole inside depth of fire-box being 57 inches. The barrel of the boiler is 39 inches in diameter, and contains 101 copper tubes, 9 feet 9 inches long. The pistons are of the usual construction, with the exception that the inside as well as the outer rings are of brass. The reversing lever is fitted up in a convenient and durable form. The arched guide, in which the notches are cut, is a single solid bar, the lever being split to embrace both sides of it. The catch is on the front of the lever, the better to resist the tendency of the latter to crowd forward when the engine is running; while the thumb lever, by which the catch is lifted, is on the back of the reverse lever. The valves are of cast iron, which, it is said, wears better than brass, where care is taken in each case to prevent cutting on steep grades.—The external finish of the engine, as well as nearly all built by both firms mentioned, is of the most improved character. The dome is lagged and handsomely covered, the barrel of the dome being finished with Russia iron, while the base mouldings and hemispherical cap and cornice are of brass. The engine is also supplied with Radley & Hunter's spark arrester, a large lamp, steam guage and a foam cock, to blow off water from the surface.

But aside from these improvements, the greatest that have yet been made are those which substitute coal for wood as a fuel for generating steam, and as soon as proper arrangements are made for the consumption of smoke by coal burning engines, the improvement will extend to every railroad where coal can be procured at anything like a reasonable cost. Upon the subject of consuming smoke in coal-burning locomotives, an English scientific paper states, "that the consumption of smoke is not the difficult job many persons seem to imagine in locomotives." In referring to a railroad having smoke-consuming locomotives, the same paper says "that a number of plans were tried without success, but the desired result had at last been accomplished by the following simple plan: 'At each side of the fire-box a few air holes have been made by inserting short pieces of fine tubing, properly ferruled, about an inch and three-quarters diameter; a powerful steam jet is placed in the chimney under the control of the driver; and one important rule is observed by the fireman, that is, never to feed while standing at a station, when it is possible to avoid it." Engines constructed upon this principle, it is said, never emit smoke, or, if any, just enough to discolor the steam."

The Messrs. Norris are now finishing two powerful locomotives, fitted with Phleger's boilers, for coal burning. The cylinders are 17 inch, with 24 inch stroke. The whole length of the boiler over the fire-box and smoke-box is 24 feet.

GHOSTS ON THE CHICAGO, BURLINGTON AND QUINCY RAILROAD.—The ghost stories of specters, vampyres and goblins seen at night on the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad, are being revived. The Burlington Hawkeye is responsible for the following:

The queer sights at night on the Chicago and Burlington Railroad still continue. An engineer on the road says that as he was approaching Galesburg, a few nights since, he suddenly saw a woman standing upon the track about ten feet ahead of the engine. The train was at full speed, and, of course, could not be stopped. The engineer remarked to the persons on the engine that it was the first person he had ever killed during his railroad experience. Arriving at the depot, he sent men and lights back to the spot where he saw the woman, but no sign or trace of anything was there. There was nobody, no blood, no marks upon the track. Next morning the search was renewed, with no better success. It is said that lights have been seen, lighting several acres of land with the brilliancy of noon-day.

THE PARADISE OF RAILROADS.—A Buenos Ayres letter of the 30th of August furnishes the following curious information:

The Government has determined to proceed at once with the railroad, which is already in operation for twenty miles to the west. The concessions given to railroad companies in this country are unheard of in the United States. For example, it is usual for the State to guarantee an interest of from seven to nine per cent. per annum; to give a free right of way through private as well as public property; to give ample grounds for buildings, freedom from taxes, release from duties in transporting materials, &c. If railroad stock, with such bolstering, is not good, it cannot be good anywhere. Add to these concessions the fact that here are no hills to dig down, and but few low places to be raised; that there it no tunneling to be done, but few streams to be crossed, and no frosts nor floods to provide against, and this must be the paradise of railroads.

A WIDDER'S GRIEF.—"Artemus Ward" remarks, that "There is something indescribly beautiful in the true wife's devotion to her husband. There is something very awful in her grief when death takes him away. 'Leaves have their time to fall,' but death comes irregularly and relentlessly. We recently heard a most touching instance of the resignation of an affectionate woman, at the funeral of her husband. Though she had adored him, she did not repine at this dark hour. Looking at the remains of her loved and lost husband for the last time, she put on her bonnet and thus spoke to the gentlemen whose sad duty it was to officiate as pall-bearers:—'You pall-bearers, just go into the buttery and get some rum, and we'll start this man right along!'"

TO CLEAN THE EYE OF DUST.—When the eye is irritated by dust or intrusive particles of any kind, the sufferer invariably shuts and rubs his eye, and not unfrequently the removal of the irritating cause becomes more difficult. The proper practice is to keep the eye open, as if staring; a sort of rotary movemeet of the ball takes place, the surface becomes covered with water, the particle is gradually impelled to the corner of the eye, and is there floated out, or can be easily removed, without any of the disagreeable consequences that attend shutting and rubbing.

NEW GOODS! NEW GOODS!—Having returned from New York, I have received now a large lot of goods, all of which I bought at auction. One hundred pieces of beautiful Set Flower De Laines, the best quality, which generally sells for 25 cents, at 20 cents; 50 pieces Unbleached Muslin, the best in town, at 10 cents; 150 pieces of Cassinetts, Satinetts and Cassimeres, from 25 cents up to $1.25 a yard; 25 pieces of White Flannel, cotton mixed, at 15 cents; 25 dozen of White Merino Stockings at 15 cents; 50 dozen of Gent's Wool Socks, 20 cents a pair; 10 dozen Gent's All-Linen Pocket Handkerchiefs with Colored Borders, very fine, 31 cents; good Merino Undershirts and Drawers, at 65 and 75 cents a piece. A lot of beautiful Traveling Baskets. Best Calicoes, 10 cents, warranted fast colors.

DIVORCE MADE EASY.—The following is the substance of a bill now before the Vermont Legislature:

"A divorce from the bonds of matrimony may be granted where either of the parties is an habitual drunkard; or shall have joined any religious sect or society which professes to believe the relation of husband and wife to be unlawful; or refused to cohabit with each other for the space of three years."

According to the above provision, a wrangling or indifferent couple have but to agree to live apart for three years, and they are divorced for the asking.

THE PLANNING OF CITIES.—The London Builder says that a spider's web furnishes a better plan for the laying out of new cities, than any which has yet been devised by surveyors and engineers. Any one who can find a distinct and complete web unbroken, will see how beautifully regular it is, and how perfectly adapted for the quickest passage from any one point to another. The concentric rings are not circles, but polygons, the radiating exquisitely regular and straight.

EVERY MAN HAS HIS FORTE.—Every man has his weakness, and the whole art of arranging society consists in so placing all the citizens of a State that their weak points shall produce the least possible evil, and their strong points shall have every opportunity for an abundant development and the production of the greatest amount of good. Early habits and education are probably among the greatest determining causes of man's strong points. As the twig is bent the tree is inclined. When a man becomes, in after life, distinguished by any extraordinary power, it may generally be traced back to something in natural disposition or early life that started him off in that direction. Walter Scott was laid on his back, a sick and crippled boy, and read a whole library of novels for amusement. Sick of that, he read history. Then he got better and roamed the country with his dogs and gun; and finally his father took him into his office and made him write and read law. All of these thing together combined to form the future writer of historical romances. Even the business habits of the law office contributed no small share to his success, by making him the most business-like and mechanically industrious man of genius of his age, the most wholesale literary writer of his day. It is on this account that in India the system of caste is so strong, and lies at the basis of everything. Each man must be what his father was before him, what he is therefore brought up to, and thus his forte will, it is supposed, be assuredly developed. Yet what sort of a mere signet-writer would Sir Walter Scott ever have made going through the routine of his father's office? As a lawyer, a sheriff, or even as a judge, he would only be second rate. Thus it is that all unnecessary restriction only represses the strong points of men, and often compels them to exhibit nothing but weakness.

The opposite system in our own government, however, has its dangers also. Here everything is left so very free, that unless a man knows accurately his own strong and weak points, he is quite as apt, in the endless changes that are taking place, to spend all his life without finding out his true vocation, and without developing anything but weakness in everything, and real strength and perfection in nothing. The hope of making money faster leads many men to change from what they were doing well, or the supposition of one employment being more respectable than another leads thousands to change or choose an occupation, without the least regard to their own particular fitness of character and attainments for it. Many a first-rate mechanical genius is repressed, and the possessor of it turned into the channels of trade, and many a superior man of business brings up his son to smoke cigars in a law office, when he has no taste for its metaphysical niceties. If a man can do any one thing successfully, let him stick to that until he can do something else better. All changes from an occupation in which a man is doing well ought at least to be very slow, and prepared for by many experiments to see how he will succeed in that to which he aspires.

FEVER AND AGUE, AND ALL FEVERS are cured by perseverance with BRANDRETH'S PILLS, which takes all poisons, of whatever nature they may be, from the circulation.

Mr. John Y. Haight, Supervisor of New Castle, Westchester county, New York, says, November, 1858:

"I was, two years ago, attacked with fever and ague, which, notwithstanding the best medical advice, continued to sorely afflict me for six tedious months; I became yellow as saffron, and reduced to skin and bone. Medicine and physicians were abandoned in despair. As an experiment, I concluded to try a single dose of six of Brandreth's Universal Vegetable Pills, on an empty stomach, early in the morning. The first dose seemed to arouse all the latent energies of my exhausted frame. I feared the worst—their purgative effect was different from anything I had ever used or heard of. At length this effect ceased, and I seemed lighter and breathed freer. That evening I was indeed sensibly better and slept soundly all night. The next day I followed the same course, and continued to take the pills in this way about three weeks, when I found myself entirely cured. My health has been surprisingly good ever since."

Mothers, read this.

The following is an extract from a letter written by a pastor of the Baptist Church to the Journal and Messenger, Cincinnati, Ohio, and speaks volumes in favor of that world-renowned medicine—MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP FOR CHILDREN TEETHING:

"We see an advertisement in your columns of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. Now we never said a word in favor of a patent medicine before in our life, but we feel compelled to say to your readers, that this is no humbug—WE HAVE TRIED IT, AND KNOW IT TO BE ALL IT CLAIMS. It is, probably, one of the most successful medicines of the day, because it is one of the best. And those of your readers who have babies can't do better than to lay in a supply. sep29-d&wly

Sewing Machines.

THE GROVER & BAKER
NOISELESS
FAMILY SEWING MACHINE

is rapidly superseding all others for family use. The DOUBLE LOCK-STITCH formed by this Machine is found to be the only one which survives the wash-tub on bias seams, and, therefore, the only one permanently valuable for Family Sewing.

READ THE FOLLOWING TESTIMONY:

"MRS. JEFFERSON DAVIS, presents her compliments to Grover & Baker, and takes pleasure in saying that she has used one of their Machines for two years, and finds it still in good order, makes a beautiful stitch, and does easily work of any kind."—Washington, D. C.

"It is a beautiful thing, and puts everybody into an excitement of good humor. Were I a Catholic, I would insist upon Saints Grover & Baker having an eternal holiday in commemoration of their good deeds for humanity."—Cassius M. Clay.

"My wife has had one of Grover & Baker's Family Sewing Machines for some time, and I am satisfied it is one of the best labor-saving machines that has been invented. I take much pleasure in recommending it to the public."—I. G. Harris, Governor of Tennessee.

"On the recommendation of a friend, I procured, some months since, one of your Family Sewing Machines. My family has been most successful in its use, from the start, without any trouble or difficulty whatever in its management. My wife says it is a 'family blessing,' and could not be induced to dispense with its use—in all of which I most heartily concur."—James Pollock, Ex-Governor of Pennsylvania.

"The undersigned, CLERGYMEN of various denominations, having purchased and used in our families GROVER & BAKER'S CELEBRATED FAMILY SEWING MACHINE, take pleasure in recommending it as an instrument fully combining the essentials of a good machine. Its beautiful simplicity, ease of management, and the strength and elasticity of its stitch, unite to render it a machine unsurpassed by any in the market, and one which we feel confident will give satisfaction to all who may purchase and use it."

JOHN C. HEENAN'S

RECEPTION FESTIVAL.
AT BRANT'S HALL, HARRISBURG, ON THURSDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 15TH.

Upon which occasion he will be assisted by AARON JONES, of London, and NED PRICE, of Boston.

The arrangements will be conducted upon the most unexceptionable principles, and will be found in every respect worthy of the patronage of the elite. It is the intention of the management of the Festival to present as nearly as possible, the INTERNATIONAL CONTEST between Messrs. SAYERS and HEENAN, at Farnborough, England, April 17. In which the principals will give their MANLY MEETINGS, SO THAT LADIES AND GENTLEMEN OF THIS CITY can witness the EXCITING AND CHIVALRIC EMULATIONS between the knights and champions of the 24 feet space.

The object of this Fete, independent of conferring a well-merited compliment to the recipient of the ovation, is to allow that portion of the community who have never seen a struggle for superiority of science or strength between opponents an opportunity of witnessing the modus operandi incident to such events, void of the unpleasant features that too often are attendant upon a personal encounter.

THE CHAMPION AND HIS FRIENDS will appear in the same costume and display the same colors (a fac simile of the handkerchief is given above,) as were employed at the meeting in England.

Mr. JOHN C. HEENAN WILL PERSONALLY APPEAR IN THE CONTEST.

All the movements and preliminary arrangements, and the entire management on both sides will FAITHFULLY REPRESENT THE GREAT CONTEST as it took place in England on the 17th of April last, with the real colors, &c.

Besides this interesting portrayal of the Great National Battle, Mr. Heenan will sustain the onset of the several eminent professors in a series of Sparring Scenes of a chaste and scientific character.

The performances will be enlivened by an EXCELLENT BAND OF MUSIC.

To give additional eclat to this most imposing and novel entertainment, an engagement has been effected with MONS. GREGOIRE, THE MODERN HERCULES, whose astonishing feats of strength are the wonder of both the OLD AND NEW WORLD, and acknowledged by all who have witnessed his miraculous exercises, to be the STRONGEST MAN IN THE WORLD!

The most effective measures have been made to secure good order by the management.

Doors open at 7, commencing at 8.

Tickets 50 cents.
