The Eintracht soirces are always popular, for every one who attends them gets the value of his money.

LYKENS ITEMS .- We copy the following items srom the Lykenstown Journal of yesterday:

Accidents .- On Monday, the 19th inst., John Mackinay was considerably bruised about the hips by a fall of coal in the Lykens Valley mines.
Thomas Martin was slightly injured, about ten days ago, by a fall of coal in the same mines.

Large Train .- One of the small (15 ton) engines on the Lykens Valley Railroad took down a train of 85 cars on Friday morning last, containing about 360 tons of coal. Considering the size and age of the engine this is big work.

A GLOOMY DAY .-- Yesterday was a genuine day for the blues. Wee unto the man who was compelled to borrow his market money. He must have been bluffed off several times before he succeeded. A fine mantle of snow covered the ground at daylight, and fine flakes of it were falling at the time, but it soon changed into a nasty drizzle, and stood at that all day, making everything without dark, damp and dreary. Oh! for a spell of weather "foreneast" the kind we've had for some considerable time past.

WORTHY OF IMITATION .- Here is something worthy of imitation in this quarter, and in all other quarters where the same or a similar practice does not prevail: In a Western town, recently, a "spelling match" took place, in which all the children of the county were invited to participate .-The prize, an Unabridged Pictorial Dictionary, was awarded to a little girl about twelve years old, she having "stood up" the longest. School Directors could not expend a few dollars of the public funds more usefully than in providing a Webster Unabridged to be awarded annually as a prize to the best speller in each of the public schools.

NEW COUNTERFEIT .-- A new counterfeit $20 note on the Farmers' Bank of Reading has made its appearance. The plate is a very fine one. In the eentre is a medallion head of Washington, on the right a vignette representing a woman with a sickle and bunch of grain-in the background the head of a cow: on the left a sailor leaning on a tiller. On each of the upper corners are stamped the figures 20. At the top of the note is the name, "The Farmers' Bank," and above the words "State of Pennsylvania." These latter words, as vell as the word "Reading," which appears in another part of the note, seem to have been insorted by means of a common hand stamp.

Deep's Mercantile College, Pittsbueg .- The Senior Principal of this time-honored establishment is the author of Duff's System of Book-keeping, sanctioned by the American Institute and Chamber of Commerce of New York as the best to use. As a merchant, as an author, as an accountant and as an instructor; his lectures bring students over 1,500 miles past numbers of other colleges. The Junior Principal is equally distinguished as a penman. Some of his contributions to our Fairs were new designs and remarkable performances. The Western Verginia, Western Pennsylvania and the Pennsylvania State Fairs awarded him eight first class premiums over all competitors. viz: For Business writing, Recording hand, Text hands, Ornamental lettering, Pen drawing and Card writing. Proving his superiority in every branch of the penman's art.

THE LAST OF A GREAT RAILWAY BRIDGE .- The Railroad Engineer says that the Cascade bridge of the New York and Erie Railroad, one of the wonders of American engineering, is about going the way of all wooden bridges. Crossing a chasm one hundred and eighty-five feet deep, its destruction by fire would have interrupted the business of the road for a long time. So much anxiety has been felt on this account, that Mr. McCallum, while Superintendent of the road, always kept materials ready for throwing a suspension bridge across the chasm, in the event of fire. About two years ago, it was determined to supersede the great bridge altogether, and an embankment of broken stene was commenced on the upper side. This is now complete, and trains have been running over it for the last fortnight. The water coming over the cascade percolates readily through the broken stone embankment, which is, therefore, safe from floods. The great bridge is now being taken down. It is generally in good condition, although some of the timbers have rotted. The Cascade bridge was erected in 1848, at a cost of $45,000. It had a single timber arch of two hundred and seventy-five feet clear span, and was altogether the most remarkable structure of the kind in existence.

THE TORTOISE SHELL OF COMMERCE.-The tortoise shell of commerce is obtained from the hawksbill turtle, a native of the seas of the torrid zone. As in the other animals of the order to which it belongs, the hawksbill turtle is enclosed in a bony case, formed underneath by the expanded breastbone, and on the back by the flattened ribs and spine; on the latter bony arch grow the scales of tortoise shell. These scales are thirteen in number, besides twenty-ave small ones at the edge; they are thick in proportion to the size and age of the animal, and overlap one another to a great extent. The scales are readily removed from the bony arch by heating it over a fire; this process loosens them, and they are separated easily by a knife.-In manufacturing, tortoise shell is first softened by boiling in salt and water, and is then pressed flat until cold; it is rendered smooth and of uniform thickness by scraping and filing, and if larger pieces are required than can be obtained from single plates two or more pieces are united together. The pieces to be joined are sloped off to the distance of about a quarter of an inch from the edge. The margins are so placed as to overlap one another, and pressed together by an iron clamp; the whole is then placed for some time in boiling water, by which means the two pieces become so perfeetly united that the joint cannot be seen. The filings and powder of the various processes are not lost; they are collected and placed in metal moulds, and, by warmth and pressure, are formed into any shape that may be desired.

THE SCIENCE OF "HONEY-FUGLING"-When the Republican County Convention was held at a very sult the Telegraph announced that, as usual, there were a number of "sore heads" among the disaplar nominees had fallen through—ended in smoke. Subsequently, he learned that there was a prospect of the volunteers braving the dangers of inman who would lend himself as a tool to distract the party could never expect any favors from it hereafter. He was particularly sweet upon Hoffman after Boas announced himself as a candidate, and particularly bitter against the latter. The Democrats made no nomination for Sheriff, with the express understanding that, as a measure of party policy, they should all vote for Boas. When we urged this, the Telegraph comes boldly to the rescue for Hoffman, and asks the Democrats, inasmuch as they have no candidate of their own, to vote for Hoffman. But, worse than this, in order to defeat Boas, a circular was got up at the Telegraph office, in which it was shown, in dollars and cents, how much money the Boas family had been paid for holding office-even traveling out of the record, and, like ghouls, delving among the bones of a grandfather, who held office under Gov. Sny-

Now, observe the change! Much to the surprise of the Telegraph men, Boas is elected. They awake suddenly to the discovery that Boas is a very good man, and a sound Republican. He is nolenger a "sore head," and the treachery of running against the regular nominee is forgotten and forgiven. Nay, in its admiration for the man, it goes so far yesterday as to say that Mr. Boas is a Republican in principle, and went before the people as such ! And further, that " Sheriff Boas is fully competent to manage his own business."-These are admissions the Tetegraph would not have made before the election. Now they are presumed to be dictated by the preserence shown to Republicans by the appointment of Mr. Shell as Deputy, and the pretented discovery that the Democrats are displeased with the appointment .--We have not heard of any Democrat being an applicant for the place, neither have we heard any Democrat finding fault with Mr. Boas for using his prerogative in appointing whom he pleases.

The real cause of this changing of front-this attempt at "soft-sawdering," or "honey-fugling" of the Sheriff elect-whom the Telegraph could not defeat-may be traced to the fact that Mr. Boas has some four or five hundred dollars worth of all concerned: printing to dispose of annually. Hence the spoilsman is after him with a sharp stick! Will he win? We shall see.

THE WILD HUNT .- The irrepressible conflict among the Republicans for office is beginning to assume a very attractive shape. We chronicle the fact that the number of applicants for the Johnstown Post Office is twenty. Col. Kacy, the route agent between this city and Altoona, says there are ten applicants for his situation in the latter place-about the same number in this city, and from three to five in every little town along the route-making a total of about seventy-five for the one office. We copy the following amusing account of an exciting race from the Leck Haven Democrat:

It may be set down as a maxim, that, as a general thing, the patriots who swear by old Abe and vote the Republican ticket, are not averse to holding offices of public trust and responsibility.--Hardly had the telegraph finished flashing over the wires the astounding pluralities of Lincoln in the Northern States, than it became apparent that there was an urgent necessity for a new Postmaster in Lock Haven. At least a dozen men awoke to a consciousness of this fact about 12, meridian, the day after the election. Two of them, with the very swiftest adaptation of means to ends, forthwith took horse for Bellefonte. At Bellefonte is the residence of Congressman Hale, who is supposed to earry in his breeches pocket the death warrants of all Postmasters now holding office, and the commissions of all who are going to hold office in this district. The competitors had a very even start. They were about of a weight. The horseflesh selected presented a tolerably even balance of "ability." The race was nearly a neck-and-neck performance throughout. The winning party only distanced bis competitor five minutes and five seconds, and had not time to break the ice with the Hon, member elect before the man of converse opinion appeared. How the amiable Hale managed his anxious friends we do not know. They probably both have his "distinguished assurances." But if the bottle-washers and scullions in the great Ship of State, are to be run down and ridden over in this manner by the clamorous army of outsiders, what will become of the great Rail Splitter who stands at the helm?

Police Record.-The Mayor, who had been absent, looking at the panic in New York, resumed the Chair yesterday morning.

Albert Umling, a revolving German, who claimed to belong to Mechanicsburg, had became a voluntary lodger, and was permitted to vamose.

Andy Sponsler was brought in in a one-horse carriage, in consequence of his powers of locomotion giving out. The carriage is one of those onewheeled vehicles propelled by Irishmen while the more cheerful. wroughting upon the railroad, and the horse for this occasion only, was Dan Callender, keeper of the lock-up. This took place on Thursday night and Andy was not a little surprised to find himself in hoc yesterday morning. He was let off on a

Augustus Rickard and a little fellow whose name we could not learn, were in the lock-up, both for being "tosticated," and raising Cain at home .-They were both remanded for a further hearing this morning, having spent all day yesterday in the dark and dismal lock-up.

A GLANCE AT BUSINESS MEN .- Messrs. Jester & Barringer have just completed their "Glance at Business Men," which, as an attractive and ornamental method of advertising, cannot easily be excelled. It has the great merit of originality. It consists of a large frame, in which are arranged the business cards of forty of the business men of Harrisburg, on glass 4x8, of different colors, and the lettering and ornamenting executed in gold and silver. It will be placed in the Post-office, and the artists will immediately commence a duplicate .-Persons who wish to be counted in should apply

Splitting a Fat Passenger .- Down east there resides a gentlemen who is a huge, though not so witty, as Falstaff. It is his custom, when he travels, to book two places, and thus secure the half the inside for himself. He one day sent his ser-the following pleasing news: "Sir, I have booked you; there were not two places inside left, so I booked you one in and one out!

CHANGE OF SCHEDULE .-- A change in the time of running the passenger trains on the North Central Railroad will take place on Monday, in order to conform to the general change on nearly all the roads in the State, in order to make the usual close connections. The time of arrivals and departures will be found in the advertising department of today's paper.

Invalids should read Dr. Stewart's advertisement.

ODD FELLOWSHIP,-The Right Worthy Grand Lodge, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, which early day last summer, as an appendix to the re- | held its Annual Communication at Nashville, Tennessee, was placed in possession of a considerable number of interesting facts. The officers of pointed, and the ridiculous proposition of running | the Grand Lodge are as follows:-Most Worthy as volunteer candidates was entertained by some Grand Sire, R. B. Lewyt, of Baltimore; and Right Worthy Grand Messenger, John E. Chamberlain, of Baltimore. The statistics of the Grand Lodge exhibit a very satisfactory state of affairs. The revenue of the Grand Lodge during the year makes an aggregate of $14,562.63, besides which there was due on the same day, and payable during the session, $3,892.49, making an aggregate revenue of $18,475.12. The receipts estimated for the year were $20,500. The report states that the deficit has arisen principally in the item of diplomas, the sales of which did not reach the estimate by one-half. The following statistics will prove interesting to the members of the Order :---Number of Lodges 3,548, number of initiations 408,680, present number of members 173,818. The number of members relieved since the organization has been 314,726, and the number of widowed families relieved 35,350. The number of deaths within the last year was 24,211. The amount paid for relief since the organization $7,202,347.87, amount paid for the education of orphans $165,-803 37, and the amount paid for burying the dead $1,208,394 95. The aggregate amount of relief since the organization has been $8,478,528 41, and the aggregate amount of revenue $19.345,841.92. The amount paid for relief is entirely exclusive of special appplications for assistance from widows and non-affiliated brethren, and of contributions made outside of the Order by Lodges during the prevalence of epidemic diseases, which have been very considerable.

PROCEEDINGS OF PRESENTERY .-- At a meeting of the Presbytery of Carlisle, at Harrisburg, October 18, 1860, a committee of two ministers and one elder was appointed to each church under its care, to inquire into the spiritual condition of the congregation, to hold religious meetings as may be found practicable and useful, and to endeavor in all suitable ways to stimulate both officers and private persons to increased fidelity in their respective duties. The time in which each church is to be visited may be learned from the following schedule, which is published for the information of

A Coren Persy.-We regret to say that a few days ago our proverbial good nature entrapped us into a favorable notice of a book called the "Business Guide of the Pennsylvania Railway," which book, on a closer inspection, turns out to be a requires no restriction of action or diet. For either sex. catch-penny humbug, filled with gross inacouracies, and unreliable information. Hollidaysburg is set down as one of the oldest towns in the western part of the State, when the fact is that there were not a dozen houses in it thirty years ago. The compiler gives a list of the first class hotels in this city, in which he omits the Buehler House, one of the very best in the interior of the State. The Brady House-than which few better can be found any where, is noticed as a second class hotel! But to cap all, the European Hotel, which our friend Brant has been expending a vast deal of money upon in order to rate it as an A No. 1 establishment, also falls to a second class hotel in the Guide! The publisher has no doubt spoken according to the inducements offered, but he has put his foot in it most egregiously, and we advise him to keep out of this nock of timber, unless he is prepared to stand a prosecution for libel.

FRUITS OF THE REPUBLICAN TRIUMPH!-Yesterday the Harrisburg Bank suspended-as a measure of self-defence, of course-and before this reaches our readers, nearly all of the banks in the Union will also have suspended. This, then, is the beginning of the glorious times promised us as soon as honest Old Abe was elected!
