Sewing Machines.

THE GROVER & BAKER
NOISELESS
FAMILY SEWING MACHINE
is rapidly superseding all others for family use. The DOUBLE LOCK-STITCH formed by this Machine is found to be the only one which survives the wash-tub on bias seams, and, therefore, the only one permanently valuable for Family Sewing.
READ THE FOLLOWING TESTIMONY:
"MRS. JEFFERSON DAVIS, presents her compliments to Grover & Baker, and takes pleasure in saying that she has used one of their Machines for two years, and finds it still in good order, makes a beautiful stitch, and does easily work of any kind."—Washington, D C.
"It is a beautiful thing, and puts everybody into an excitement of good humor. Were I a Catholic, I would insist upon Saints Grover & Baker having an eternal holiday in commemoration of their good deeds for humanity."—Cassius M. Clay.
"My wife has had one of Grover & Baker's Family Sewing Machines for some time, and I am satisfied it is one of the best labor-saving machines that has been invented. I take much pleasure in recommending it to the public."—I. G. Harris, Governor of Tennessee.
"On the recommendation of a friend, I procured, some months since, one of your Family Sewing Machines. My family has been most successful in its use, from the start, without any trouble or difficulty whatever in its management. My wife says it is a 'family blessing,' and could not be induced to dispense with its use—in all of which I most heartily concur."—James Pollock, Ex-Governor of Pennsylvania.
"The undersigned, CLERGYMEN of various denominations, having purchased and used in our families GROVER & BAKER'S CELEBRATED FAMILY SEWING MACHINE, take pleasure in recommending it as an instrument fully combining the essentials of a good machine. Its beautiful simplicity, ease of management, and the strength and elasticity of its stitch, unite to render it a machine unsurpassed by any in the market, and one which we feel confident will give satisfaction to all who may purchase and use it."

ST. NICHOLAS HOTEL,
BROADWAY,
NEW YORK
When completed, six years ago, the St. Nicholas was universally pronounced the most magnificent, convenient, and thoroughly organized establishment of the kind on this continent.
What it was then, it remains to-day—without a rival in size, in sumptuousness, and in the general elements of comfort and enjoyment.
The Hotel has accommodations for ONE THOUSAND SIX HUNDRED GUESTS, including ONE HUNDRED COMPLETE SUITES OF APARTMENTS for families.
SIX HUNDRED PERSONS can be comfortably seated at the tables of its three public dining rooms, and nothing that modern art has devised for the convenience and social gratification of the traveling public has been omitted in its plan, or is neglected in its practical details.
The early reputation of the house at home and abroad, derived from its magnitude, its superb appointments, and its home-like comforts and luxuries, has been enhanced every year by the unwearied exertions of the Proprietors.

The Patriot & Union.

THURSDAY MORNING, NOV. 29, 1860.

KENTUCKY AND THE UNION.

Kentucky has more than one hundred and seventy millions invested in slave property, over one-third of her whole valuation; has seven hundred miles of border line; is losing at the rate of two hundred thousand dollars per annum of this property by Abolition thieves; and has, therefore, more danger to encounter from the Abolitionists than all the other smaller States put together. An official voice from this quarter is worth listening to. We have it, clear, ringing and patriotic, in a noble letter from that straight forward official, Governor Magoffin. It is in reply to letters asking him what will Kentucky do, and what ought she to do, now that Lincoln is elected? His reply is in a tone of frankness that cannot be too warmly commended.

At the outset, the Governor thus speaks for Kentucky:

"She will stand by the equality and the rights of the States, and the equality and the rights of the people in the States. She will stand by the repeal of the Missouri Compromise, by the Dred Scott decision, and by the enforcement of the Fugitive Slave Law. She will stand by every right she has under the Constitution of the United States. She will demand that slavery shall not be interfered with wherever it exists under the Constitution of the United States, and under the laws and Constitutions of the separate States. She will demand that slavery shall not be abolished in the District of Columbia, or wherever it now exists in the Union, and that the slave trade between the States shall not be interfered with by Congress. She will demand her equal rights in all the Territories of this Government. She will stand by the position that slave property is entitled to the same protection with other property therein, and that no discriminations can be made by the territorial legislatures against that property, so as to exclude it directly, or to impair the right of the owners to it, or by unfriendly legislation to render it valueless. She will demand that whenever the people of a territory having sufficient population shall form a State constitution, with or without slavery in it, and ask of Congress admission as a State into the Union, she shall be admitted, provided her constitution is republican in form. She will keep her present status upon the slavery question, believing the laws, the Constitution, and the courts afford her adequate protection. She will stand immovably upon the Democratic platform adopted last winter at Frankfort and upon the one adopted last summer at Baltimore, upon which her noble son has just been defeated. Entrenched in this position behind the decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States, her rallying cry will be, her rights and her equality in the Union. She will ask nothing she will not concede to her sister States. She wants all her rights under the Constitution, and she will neither give up nor compromise a single one of them. She will show her devotion to the Union by standing steadfastly by these, the only principles upon which it can be preserved."

Will the Black Republican slanderers of the objects of the South, will those who have been deceived and led away by such slander, note what Kentucky will stand by? Will they notice that she here makes no demand—1, to re-open the foreign African slave trade, as the Black Republicans have represented in every Northern village the South to be bent upon; 2, to so force the free States to recognize slavery that slaveholders may call their roll of the slaves on Bunker Hill, about which these orators have declaimed so largely: 3, to enact a Congressional slave code, which has been proclaimed so long from the house tops; 4, to expand slavery by Congressional action. Not one of these things is demanded! Yet these Black Republicans have made the great body of the people of the North believe that the South were pressing them all! In this way, by rank falsehood—by ascribing to the South purposes which it does not entertain—they have poisoned public opinion at the North, elected Abe Lincoln, and inflicted incalculable mischief on the country.

But to return to Gov. Magoffin. He thus commences an elaborate consideration of Lincoln's election:

"I agree with you, that the election of Mr. Lincoln is no cause for secession or rebellion. It is not so regarded by the people of the State. It is true, he has been elected by a sectional party, upon sectional ideas, with a reckless sectional hostility to an institution the South will not surrender. The people in the slave States, and a large majority of true men in the free States, no matter whether they were the supporters of Mr. Breckinridge, Mr. Bell or Mr. Douglas, took the ground that if he were elected, and if he attempted to carry out his principles and purposes, it would dissolve the Union. Kentucky says after the election, in my judgment, what all parties here declared before, and that is, she will not submit to the carrying out of his principles. The fathers of the Republic, with General Washington at the head, have warned us against the formation and success of a sectional party as the only danger to the liberties of the people or to the safety of the Confederacy. The Republicans have paid no attention to these warnings, but blindly, madly, without regard to consequences, they have declared this Government could not exist as part free and part slave, but must be all free. It matters little whether we have to give up our slave property, or whether our children will be compelled to do it. They have made their threats that they intended to deprive us of it sooner or later, and in the free States, as far as they dare or had the power, they have put their threats into execution.—They have passed laws in thirteen of the free States, I believe, which prohibit the execution of the fugitive slave law, and have set at nought the Constitution of the United States."

After a further citation of facts as to the nullification of the Constitution in the free States, Gov. Magoffin goes on as follows about Kentucky's wrongs and the election of Lincoln:

"Kentucky has over $170,000,000 in slave property. She is losing at the rate of over $200,000 per annum of that property. When I stated, in my annual message to the Legislature, the loss was $100,000, few believed it. I have reliable information it is double that sum, and will soon be again doubled, if not in some way arrested. That property, more than one-third of all we possess, guarantied to us by the Constitution of the United States and our laws, worked for, acquired, and left us by our fathers—that property we are working for, and wish to leave to our children, will soon be rendered valueless, and Kentucky become a free State, if these principles and purposes be carried out. Yet, with all these grievances, while no slave State has nullified a law of Congress, or refused a right to a free State under the Constitution—with all this loss of property by Kentucky—with the further fact staring us in the face that the State of Ohio has violated a great constitutional right of the State of Kentucky, in refusing to deliver up upon my demand a fugitive from our State who has been indicted for stealing our slaves—with all these facts and outrages, hard to be borne, I would say that the mere election of Lincoln is not sufficient cause for secession or rebellion. He is elected under the forms and according to the Constitution of the United States. We would say to our sister States of the South, we have more cause of grievance than all of the cotton States put together, occupying as we do, over seven hundred miles of border line. Look at our exposed position—the constant tampering with our negroes by the Abolitionists—the immense annual loss we sustain—the direct infringement of our rights in refusing to execute the Fugitive Slave Law, and in the robbery of our property—in the danger to the lives of the owners when they go to the free States to re-capture their slaves—in the insults, and taunts and injuries to the Federal officers who attempt to do their sworn duty in executing the Fugitive Slave Law, as in the recent mob in Ohio, and in the case of Booth, of Wisconsin—in the wholesale stealing every day going on of our negroes, and the refusal of the people and Governors to deliver up either the property or the thieves; all this, and much more we complain of, and don't intend to submit to; but we cannot justify you in breaking up the Government and going out of the Union on account of the election of a man upon a bad platform, and the worst political principles and purposes.

"We say to you and to the Republicans, we stand here as pacificators, as arbitrators. We entreat you of the South not to take this rash step, and to you of the North we say calmly, but fearlessly and firmly, without threats, you must not encroach upon our constitutional rights as expounded by the highest and purest tribunal in the land. You must stay your arm of fanaticism, of passion, of vengeance, of violence, and of power, for we are resolved to resist unto death any violation of our rights under the Constitution. We will resist aggressions, we will defend the Union under the flag of our fathers, following in their footsteps and encouraged by their example, no matter what the odds may be against us. Mr. Lincoln has been elected according to all the forms of law under that Constitution which we revere and regard as the depository of our rights and the shield of our safety; and notwithstanding his threats, and the danger of carrying out his principles, he may not do it. We must wait for an overt act, hoping that truth and reason and justice, embodied in a clear and impartial delineation of our rights under the Constitution, as expounded by the Supreme Court of the United States, will yet prevent it."

That's a plain story of wrong and aggression of the North upon the South. No sane person, we presume, will deny that it is a duty of the General Government to care for and protect the rights of such citizens as, under local laws, own property in the labor of slaves. Has it not been so since Washington's day? Was not indemnification for this property provided for in the Treaty of Ghent? Did not President John Q. Adams, in his messages, repeatedly call attention to the non-fulfilment of this treaty, and actually obtain millions of dollars of Great Britain for slaveholders? Here we are told that Northern citizens thieve on this property, in one State alone, to the amount of two hundred thousand dollars annually! What has the North to say to this? Suppose raids should be made on property in Massachusetts, to this amount, or a tithe of it annually, what would its people do? It will not answer to say to Kentucky, what you complain of is not really loss of property; for Massachusetts, in accepting the Federal Constitution, agrees that labor in slaves is property, and as such its owner is as much entitled to protection as the owner of a ship or a factory.

A State thus wronged has, at least, a right to plead with South Carolina to stand by a common country; no State has a larger right to do this than Kentucky; and we hold up to the admiration of every patriot the way in which Governor Magoffin does this. Here is a noble appeal if there ever was one:

"To South Carolina, and such other States who may wish to secede from the Union, I would say, the geography of this country will not admit of a division—the mouth and sources of the Mississippi river cannot be separated without the horrors of civil war—we cannot sustain you in this movement merely on account of the election of Lincoln. Do not precipitate us by premature action into a revolution of civil war, the consequences of which will be the most frightful to all of us. It may yet be avoided. There is still hope, faint though it be. Kentucky is a border State, and has suffered more than all of you. She claims that, standing upon the same sound platform, you will sympathize with her, and stand by her, and not desert her in her exposed, perilous, border position. She has a right to claim that her voice, and the voice of reason and moderation and patriotism, shall be heard and heeded by you. If you secede, your Representatives will go out of Congress, and leave us at the mercy of a Black Republican Government. Mr. Lincoln will have no check. He can appoint his Cabinet and have it confirmed. The Congress will then be Republican, and he will be able to pass such laws as he may suggest. The Supreme Court will be powerless to
