PATRIOT AND UNION .- The DAILY PATRIOT AND UNION can be had by Dauphin subscribers, every morning, at the periodical store of J. S. FRAIN.

Collection .- The carriers of the PATRIOT AND Foron beg leave to say that they will, as usual, collect their dues this morning.

APPOINTMENT BY THE GOVERNOR,---C. O. Zimmorman, of this city, has been appointed State Tonnage Agent. Of course Mr. Z. is deserving, and well qualified to fill the office.

DESPERATELY SAVAGE .---- An Eastern 'editor vents his rage in the following manner: "We would say to the rascal who stole our shirt off the vole while we were in bed waiting for it to dry, that we sincerely hope the collar may cut his throat !"

Notice .- The regular monthly meeting of the Harrisburg Printers' Union, No. 14, will be held at the Citizen engine house this (Saturday) evening, at 7 o'clock. Punctual attendance is requested, as arrangements will be made for an anniversary supper. By order,

THE HEAPFIELD RAILROAD .- A report is now current in Greensburg, that the Hempfield Railroad is about to be finished to that place. It is said that the directors of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad are negotiating with those of the Hempfeld Railroad for its completion. If such be the case, the work will hardly commence before spring.

BOUND OVER .--- Two young nigger blackguards named Jake Jones and Bill Greer were before Alderman Kline yesterday, charged with disorderly conduct, obscenity and profanity, in South street. These fellows are candidates for the colored House of Refuge, and there is no question about their election and calling being sure if they continue on their course. One of them gave bail for his appearance at Court, and the other is on parole to do the same thing this morning or go to quod.

MASONIC ELECTION .- The Garnd Lodge, A. Y. M. of Pennsylvania, have elected the following officers for the ensuing year, commencing on St. John's day :- John Thomson, R. W. Grand Master : D. C. Skerrett, R. W. D. G. Master; L. H. Scott, R. W. S. G. Warden ; J. L. Goddard, R. W. Junior Grand Warden; W. H. Adams, R. W. G. Secretary : Peter Williamson, R. W. G. Treasurer. The Hon. Henry'M. Phillips declined being re-elected R. W. Grand Master.

THE LOCK-UP .- But one solitary lodger was found in the lock-up yesterday morning-a live Yankee mechanic from Fall River, Massachusetts. He arrived here in the evening train, in search of work, and out of money. He is a plumber by made. He might have got employment here a few months ago, when times were good, at carrying a forch and attending Republican meetings, but that job is ended, and he is in the wrong shop now .--Parker ought to go down to South Carolina, as we learn Massachusetts men are in great demand there ingt about this time.

correspondent suggests the following plan for con. structing stables so that horses could be easily induced to go out in case of fire. He says:

"Let the sides or walls of the ground floor of stables, of whatever shape they may be built, consist entirely of doors on rollers, on an iron track; the upper floor, or hay-loft, being supported on brick, stone, or iron pillars. Let movable mangers be attached to those pillars. In this way, the de would h oward th a doors.

THE WASHINGTON HOSE COMPANY .--- Last evening we visited the new house of the Washington Hose Company, and found it a very handsome affair throughout. The outside of the building makes a very showy and attractive appearance in daylight, but doubly so when illuminated at night.

The first story of the facade is of iron, with main entrance for the hose carriage, and two side doors. The upper part is of pressed brick.

finished sitting room. The main hall of the building up stairs is finished, but not yet furnished .---Its main attraction is the ornamental window, in four large panes, surmounted by a small wheel of Washington, the Goddess of Liberty, a fire plug his ankle hadly, but not receiving any serious inand hose, and two fire trumpets. All these are jury. enclosed in scroll work and dragons, exhibiting all the colors of the rainbow, and blended to produce an effect which really reflects credit upon the artists, Messrs. J. & G. C. Gibson, No. 125 South Eleventh street, Philadelphia.

On the whole, we doubt whether any house devoted to a similar purpose can be found in the tered the marble yard of Mr. Hugh Sisson, mounted State better got up than this one.

A meeting of the company was held last evening, when the following preamble and resolutions were ner of the building and knocking the end out. The adopted :

WHEREAS, The Washington Hose Company of Harrisburg, having received their beautifully de-signed windows for the front of hose house, from he establishment of J. & G. C. Gibson, of Philadelphia : therefore Resolved, That the thanks of the company be some and appropriate design, which they elaborately and uniquely represented on stained glass, which is justly the admiration of the public, and an ornament to the city. Resolved, That the thanks of this company be tendered to Mr. S. D. McCalla, of Harrisburg, and to J. W. Van Houser, of Philadelphia, for the lively interest manifested in behalf of the company and for the discernment in the selection of an artist.

VULCANIZING INDIA RUBBER AND GUTTA PERCHA. -An improved process has been brought forwaad in London for vulcanizing India rubber and gutta perche, in which baths of metallie alloys are used, having their fusing points graduated from two hundred and three to three hundred degrees Fahrenheit. An alloy of fifty parts bismuth, thirty-one of lead, and nineteen of tin, will fuse at two hundred and three degrees, and into this the articles, whether of India rubber or gutta percha, and the sulphur are immersed in an open iron vessel, by which means the moisture is driven off. They are then transferred to a second bath, containing more lead in proportion, and having a fusing temperature of about two hundred and fifty degrees, in which they may be continued for about two hours. when, for common goods, the process will be completed. In the treatment of fine, soft goods, it is considered best to raise the temperature of the bath to two hundred and twenty-five degrees in the packed for shipment to the South. His workshop first hour, and then, in the next four hours, gradually up to two hundred and seventy-five degrees. But coarse goods may be cured in two hours, by raising the heat of the bath to three hundred degrees, and goods which are intended to be cured at a low temperature, may be vulcanized in the first bath, at two hundred and three degrees, by remaining in it sufficiently long. The formation of the substance is facilitated by the increase of temperature, and is stated to be far more thoroughly and quickly accomplished by means of these baths of metallic alloys than it could be by

WHAT WE ARE MADE OF .- Oliver Wendel Holmes tells what we are made of in the following his path, but he finds it scarcely possible to escape complimentary style to human pride :

"If the reader of this paper lives another year his self-pride principle will have migrated from bis present tenement to another; the raw materials even of which are not yet put together. A portion of that body is to be well ripened in the corn of next harvest. Another portion of his future person he will purchase, or others will purfor him, headed up in the form of certain chase barrels of potatoes. A third fraction is yet to be gathered in the southern rice field. The limbs with which he is then to walk will then be clad with flesh borrowed from the tenants of many stalls and pastures, and now unconscious of their doom. The very organs of speech with which he is to talk so wisely, plead so eloquently, or speak effectively, must first serve his humble brethren to bleat, to bellow, and for all the varied utterances of brisled or feathered barn-yard life. His bones themselves are to a great extent in posse and not esse .--A bag of phosphate of lime, which he has ordered from Prof. Mapes for his grounds, contains a larger part of what is to be his skeleton. And more than all this, by far the greater part of his body is nothing at all but water, the main substance of his scattered members is to be looked for in the reservoir, in the running streams, at the bottom of the well, in the clouds that float ever his head, or diffused among them ali.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT AT BALTIMORE.-About quarter past seven o'clock, on Wednesday morn ing, a smash-up occurred on the Northern Central Railway, in Baltimore, which entailed a loss of $2,500, and severely injured two persons. A burthen train, consisting of between twenty and thirty cars, was coming from the Bolton depot. A locofluted columns, caps and cornice, divided into a motive, as usual, was attached to the rear of the cars and thus proceeded towards the Calvert street station. Just after passing the curve at the Res-In the rear of the carriage room there is a finely ervoir, a coupling gave way, and fifteen cars which were in front and on which the brakes were not in use, started down the grade. With every yard the velocity increased until they gained a speed really frightful. A brakesman named M'Intyre attempted window. These are finished in a high style of the to apply a brake, but finding it would not work, at art of Grecian painting-the emblem being a head the last moment he jumped from the car, spraining

> By the time the train reached the corner of Mon ument street, the rate of speed was not less than a mile a minute. At this point the first two cars ran from the main track upon the Monument street track. The third car leaped from the track to the castward, ran across the street and pavement, enon the large blocks of marble, and thence to the roof of the one-story workshop, striking the corother cars followed this, one after another, until there was a pile of some ten of them. Some of the cars ran into Monument street, while others kept down North street. Ten of them were crushed, and all of them more or less damaged.

The whole scene, says the Exchange, was a perfect wreck. Thein contents were scattered in every direction. Butter, oggs, chickens, geese, flour, potatoes, barley, goods, wares and merchandise lay mingled in one confused mass. On the front cars were two young men, named Oliver Smith, whose parents live at Mount Vernon Factory, and William Thomas Menden, living on Bolton street, near Bolton depot. The concussion, as the cars leaped from the track, threw them from the platforms, and they were buried in the ruins. Another young man, named Bernard, of York, Pennsylvania, was in one of the cars, asleep, and it was necessary to cut down the car door to get him out.

Policemen Darling, Davidson and Carlisle were soon on the spot, and, together with citizens, went work to extricate the man. A few minutes' labor sufficed to reach them, and one, who had a leg broken, was sent to the Infirmary. In a few minutes several hundred people of allages, classes and sex had assembled. The "wreckers" went to work, and articles which were soattered about, were borne off by the thieves. Eggs, butter and poultry suffered most. The police were busy in assisting out the wounded, and could not watch the proparty, which suffered greatly in a few minutes.

The loss of Mr. Hugh Sisson is considerable. He had a'large quantity of finished work standing in the yard, and a number of boxes had just been is so much damaged that most of it will have to be rebuilt. A lady who was about to caoss the street when the runaway cars came down narrowly escaped injury. Fortunately none of Mr. Sisson's hands had commenced work when the accident occurred. All day yesterday a number of men were employed in clearing away the wreck.

LITTLE FAULTS .- Homes are more often dar. kened by the continual recurrence of small faults, than by the actual presence of any decided vice. These evils are apparently of very dissimilar magnitude; yet it is easier to grapple with one than the other. The castern traveler can combine hisforces, and hunt down the tiger that prowls upon the musquitoes that infest the air he breathes, or the fleas that swarm in the sands he treads ; the drunkard has been known to renounce his darling vice; the slave of dress and extravagance, her besetting sin ; but the waspish temper, the irritating tone, rude dogmatic manner, and the hundred nameless negligences that spoil the beauty of association, have rarely done other than proceed till the action of disgust and gradual alienation has turned all the currents of affection from their course, leaving nothing but a barren track, over which the mere skeleton of companionship stalks alone.

chester county, New York, says, November. 1858: "I was, two years ago, attacked with fever and ague, which, notwithstanding the best medical advice, con-tinued to sorely afflict me for six tedious months; I be-came yellow as saffron, and reduced to skin and bone. Medicine and physicians were abandoned in despair. As an experiment, I concluded to try a single dose of six of Brandreth's Universal Vegetable Pills, on an empty stomach, early in the morning. The first dose second to arouse all the latent energies of my exhausted frame. I feared the worst-their purgative effect was different from anything I had ever used or heard of. At length this effect ceased, and I seemed lighter and breathed freer. That evening I was indeed sensibly botter and slept soundly all night. The next day I followed the same course, and continued to take the pills in this way about three weeks, when I found myself entirely cured. My health-has been surprisingly good ever sinc." ENGLISH POST OFFICE .--- The astonishing numberof 523,000,000 letters were carried through the British post office last year, which was an increase of 19,000,000 over the previous year. In the year 1839, when the penny postage system was introduced, there was only 75,000,000. The increase, therefore, is seven-fold in twenty years. The English postage system is a model for all nations. It is the cheapest, the most comprehensive, and the best managed in the world. It is not possible for letters to be carried so cheaply in America as in England; because the routes are more extensive and the population so sparse in most of the States; but the British money-order system might be readopted with great benefit to the people. We use the word re-adopted, for this system was once connected with our post office, and then disconnected from it about thirtsen years ago, on account of the peculations which sprang up in the minor post offices, and which entailed great loss to the Government. In England, during 1858, there were no less than the sum of $61,000,800 sent through the post office by money orders, most of which were in small sums.

THE LAST OF THE DEER FAMILY .- Some years ago Capt. G. Nelson Smith, then a member of the Legislature, made a present of a pair of fawns to the State. The latter, as in duty bound, accepted them, and had a small pen built in the rear of the Capitol, and placed them in charge of the superin. tendent of the public grounds. They certainly were an ornamental appendage, although not a useful one, and their antics and gambols served for a long lime to delight the juveniles. As they grew up, however, the buck began to manifest a terribly tyrannical disposition over the doe, to which she submitted with becoming meekness. By and bye the old fellow became a daddy, but instead of this little streak of domestic bliss mollifying him, and moulding him into a kind and gentle parient, he became more tyrannical than ever to the entire household. We are at a loss to conjecture what motives actuated the old fellow in his base treatment of his family-certainly not jealousy, for never was harem more secure from the intrusion of other bucks, and to deny the paternity of the offspring would have placed him high upon the list of lunatics. We must therefore conclude that he hectored, browbeated, bullied and tyrannized over his family like many two-legged monstersmerely because he could. He took offence at both of his first born, and gored them to death, and he did the same with the next two.' Last spring two more fawns came into the world, and he took an early opportunity to run his antlers through one of them. A seperate compartment was built for the fawn, and Mr. and Mrs. Buck were permitted to occupy their own side of the house.

Some five or six weeks ago, in one of his ungov. ernable fits of anger, the buck made an attack upon the doe, and gored her so that she died eventually. After this last achievement he manifested some penitence, and under the impression that he had reformed, the fawn was let into his side of the house to bear him company. Yesterday morning | he took another of his angry fits and gored the young one to death. The powers that be immediately passed judgment upon him, and at noon he was decapitated by butcher Casey. A just retribuwarning to other tyrannical heads of the household, I neor, at 4 o'clock, as usual.

NOVEL MODE OF RECORDING A MARRIAGE .--- JUStice Waite, of St. Louis, lately came into possession of a dollar bill, upon the back of which the following had been written with a pen;

"This dollar bill, together with a miserably executed half dollar, was all that Mr. George H. Cox, of Oshkosh, Wis., gave me for marrying him to Miss Celia Rice, on the 4th of October, 1859. The beautiful engraved certificate I gave them was worth fifty cents, and the recording of the marriage (according to law) cost twenty-five cents, leaving me but a quarter of a dollar with which to advertise it, and as the papers charge fifty cents for such advertisements, which would bring me in debt, I chose this more economical method of advertising said marriage, and letting the world know that Mr. George H. Cox and Miss Celia Rice are married according to lew.

(Signed,) HENRY REOUA. Pastor M. E. Church."

DEATH OF AN OLD PRINTER .-- We were called ipon yesterday to announce the death of Mr. Matthew Atkinson, which took place at six o'clock in the morning, at Olewine's Island. Mr. Atkinson was in the 79th year of his age, and probably the oldest printer in the United States, having served his apprenticeship with Benjamin Moyer, publisher of the Morgenviethe, a German paper, a file of which, published in 1799, Mr. Atkinson had preserved. It is thus evident that he labored among the type, rules and presses (for he was both a compositor and pressman) for upwards of sixty years ! He continued working for John Bear & Son, in Lancaster, up till some time in July last. when old age compelled him to succumb. What a change he lived to see in the art preservative of all arts! The funeral will take place from the residence of Mr. W. W. Boyer, this afternoon, at 11 o'clock.

evening, and also published by the Telegraph, that Gen. Geo. A. C. Seiler and Maj. John W. Brown had been appointed Notaries for this city. We are not prepared to say whether such appointments have or have not been made. We would say that | 10 pieces of Black Cloth for Cloaks ; a large asthey are very good, and will not fail to give satisfaction, although we believe that few persons take any delight in transacting business with a Notary, no matter how clever he may be.

ASSAULT AND TEREATS .--- A Teuton peddler of almanacs, named Francis J. Gruber, had another of the same persuasion, but who follows the ocsupation of husking corp, before Alderman Kline, for assault and threatening to kill him, the aforesaid Gruber. At the Alderman's office the latter relented, and agreed to drop the suit, providing Brown, the offender, would pay the costs .---Brown backed, and went to jail.

A FINE RESTAURANT .--- The restaurant under the Buchler House will be opened this evening. A glance at the arrangements satisfies us that it will be a first class establishment, such as we have few. of in this city. The rooms have been papered. painted, and fitted up with gas fixtures, so as to give everything a cheerful look, and we are told that the cuisine will be under the immediate supervision of an eminent professor of the art of cooking. The intention of the proprietor is to serve up all kinds of game in season, to be had in the Eastern or Western markets, and particular attention is to be paid to the oyster and ale departments .---The former will consist of the best of Cove and Morris River, and the latter will include all on tap made in the State that has a name and reputation. Mr. Bolton has evinced a commendable spirit of enterprise in fitting up this establishment, regardless of expense, and certainly merits a large share of public patronage.

The Harrisburg "committee" must be more faithful than the Williamsport Court House Committee. Ours immediately abandoned the Court House work when street-paving was commenced, and betook itself to a superintendence of the latter, until the season closed, when the committee disbanded. It is true that the members, after street-paving was stopped, returned to overseeing the Court House, but there has been no organization sincethe members separately and irregularly perform their labors now behind the windows of neighbor-ing stores, shops and hotel. Lycoming Gazette.

Singular coincidence !- just the way with our committee to a dot. They remind us of a plucky Yankee whose wife hid him under the bed when she received male company. One day the unfortunate Jeremiah heard sounds he did not fancy, whereupon he stuck his head out from under the bed to take an observation. His better-half saw him, and shook her fist at him angrily. "I will peck," said he-"I will peek, if I die for it !" Our committee will superintend, if they die for it !

From the Independent, New York, July 28, 1859. G.DE.—Our advertising columns contain some testi monies to the value of a new article known as "Spald-ing's Prepared Glue," useful to housekeepers for mending furniture. It is prepared with chemicals, by which it is kept in the proper condition for immediate use, the chemicals evaporating as soon as it is applied, leaving the glue to harden. We can assure our readers that this article has the excellent phrenological quality of "large adhesiveness." adhasiya
