THE DAILY PATRIOT AND UNION may be had at Jack's Book Store, corner of Third and Market streets.

PATRIOT AND UNION.—THE DAILY PATRIOT AND UNION can be had by Dauphin subscribers, every morning, at the periodical store of J. S. FRANK.

FIRE.—The alarm of fire, on Sunday evening, was caused by the explosion of a fluid lamp in Mr. Mager's Hotel. The department responded to the call, but they arrived at the scene of conflagration a little too late. No damage done.

BEFORE THE MAYOR.—A Highbire loafer was before the Mayor on Sunday. His Honor made out his papers for 20 days, but the jail authorities turned him out yesterday morning, the institution being full.

KANSAS.—A collection in aid of the Kansas sufferers was taken up in the Episcopal Church on Sunday, and we learn that the congregation responded handsomely. This, in addition to what Mr. Gardner has already collected, shows that the people of Harrisburg are not behind their neighbors in dispensing charity when it is really needed. It is quite probable that on next Sunday collections will be taken up in all the churches for this object.

"THE RAIN IT RAINETH ALL THE DAY!"—Yesterday was a terrible day both over head and under foot—just such a day as would tempt nobody to go out unless business of a most imperative nature demanded it. The rain which fell was one of those fine, dismal soakers, which soon penetrates to the skin, and even makes a man feel uncomfortable when he is shielded by an umbrella. The walking, too, was horrible, and especially where people had so far neglected their duty to themselves and their fellow-citizens as to leave the snow lay on the pavement. We did not go to any extraordinary trouble to hunt for local items.

ABOUT BENNETTS.—According to an article in the last number of Harper's Magazine, bedbugs are an American invention, and have been exported from this to all parts of Europe, excepting Ireland, where a bedbug is never to be found. The insect made its appearance in England as early as 1569, when two noblemen were "punished" by them, and the physicians called in great haste. The bug is a parasite of the bed family, and is so tenacious of life that no degree of cold or heat can effect it. Freeze one until you can break it in two; thaw the pieces and they will revive. Thaw the eggs until congealed in ice; let them freeze and they will hatch again as usual. Boil both insect and egg and they will revive as soon as cool. If they can get nothing to eat they will live and propagate on what nourishment they may derive from the atmosphere.

LOCOMOTIVE CYLINDERS.—The London Engineer opposes the use of inside cylinders for locomotive engines, on the ground that they require cranked axles, and it is almost impracticable with powerful engines, to make a cranked axle sufficiently strong to be permanent. The average duration is under three years, and they begin to weaken by alternate springing from the very day they begin to work. If the cranks of an axle were straightened out to the full length, they would be found to be prodigiously long and very weak axles, and the cranking does not help to strengthen this weakness. As regards mechanical structure with inside cylinders in the smoke-box, framing are required to resist the strokes of the piston. With outside cylinders, the ordinary framing lend their aid, and the smoke-box is easily arranged laterally to cover and keep them warm. And though a well-balanced engine on a good line of road, in good order, may keep steady, yet it is a great advantage to retain a low centre of gravity, and keep an engine from rocking even on a bad road. There is, moreover, a very great advantage in removing the gearing pin from below the boiler, and getting it outside within sight and reach.

OUR COURT HOUSE.—When the committee of the Philadelphia Council was in this city, on their way to Cincinnati, it appears they took a stroll through our little one-horse city, to see the sights. Taggart, the reporter who accompanied the expedition, speaks of all our buildings as being very plain—evils of the Capitol lacks ornament to suit his taste. After designating the rotunda and "hall," he goes on to say: Col. Bradford, the eicerone of the party, on passing the court house, called out: "Look over there, gentlemen, and you have a specimen of what they want us to put on Independence Square for our court house. There is a plain substantial brick building, which will cost the country of Dauphin a quarter of a million of dollars before it is finished."

We can only say that Col. Bradford never opens his mouth but what he puts his foot in it, he had better "dry up." When a man volunteers to give information he ought to be furnished with facts, or have discretion enough to approximate on rough estimates. The contract for building the Court House and furnishing all the materials was taken at $69,000. In no event can this amount be swelled to anything like one-half of Mr. Bradford's estimate—and when finished, the Court House will not be just so plain as this astute Philadelphian imagines.

DEATH OF ISAAC G. M'KINLEY.—We are pained to chronicle to-day the demise of one of our most prominent and energetic citizens. Isaac G. M'Kinley died at his residence, at four o'clock yesterday morning, aged 50 years.

There are few men in our city who have held positions to bring them so prominently before the people as the deceased. He was born within a few miles of Harrisburg, and at an early age apprenticed himself to the printing business. His trade mastered, he worked at it but a few years, when he laid down the stick and rule to follow pursuits more profitable and probably more genial to his taste.

He studied stenography when the art was yet in its infancy in this country, and was employed, in connection with John Agg, in taking down the debates in the Reform Convention, which amended the Constitution of Pennsylvania, in 1837-8.

For several years afterwards he was employed as a stenographic reporter in Congress.

About the year 1842, he, in company with Mr. Lesueur, purchased the three Democratic papers then published in Harrisburg, viz: the Keystone, the Reporter and the State Journal, consolidated the three into one, and called it the Democratic Union, for many years the only organ of the party published at the seat of government; and for a number of years M'Kinley & Lesueur occupied the position of State Printers.

During the last two years of President Polk's Administration, Mr. M'Kinley held the office of Post Master in this city.

Mr. Lesueur deceased, and for some years the paper was carried on in the name of the firm, until about the year 1853 or 1854, when it was disposed of to Geo. M. Lesueur & Co.

Since that time Mr. M'Kinley has been devoting his time and attention to the Car Factory, of which he was one of the original projectors.

In all the relations in life Mr. M'Kinley acted the part of a good citizen, an energetic business man, and strictly honest in all his dealings with the world. He leaves a wife and five children—nearly all of the latter grown up to mourn the loss of a true and devoted husband, and a kind and indulgent father. Peace to his ashes.

EXHAUSTING THE SOIL.—The New Orleans Commercial Bulletin remarks that in no country has the exhaustion of the soil been so rapid and so marked as in this country, the exhaustion prevailing alike in the Northern, the Middle and the Southern States. The warning voice which Humboldt addressed to England, and to point out to her the inevitable consequences of the exhaustion of her soil—where more is done, probably, to replenish a single county in that country than is replenished any one of the States of this Union—might be received with tenfold emphasis in a land from which the woods have scarcely yet been cleared away, which we are depleting and robbing every day of its elements of vitality. In New England, says the Bulletin, the product of wheat fell off in ten years, from 1840, fifty per cent., from two million bushels to one million, and the decline has been going on since. If it is said that this is owing to the natural barrenness of New England and the diversion of industry from agricultural to manufacturing pursuits, what shall be said of Kentucky, and the comparatively new States of Georgia, Tennessee and Alabama, much of whose soil is naturally rich, but whose falling off in the production of wheat in the time mentioned, has been still more striking? The yield fell off from twelve million bushels to five in a single decade. The decrease in the great wheat producing State of New York has been equally remarkable. In 1848, the crop was more than thirteen million bushels, while last year it dwindled down to six. Even the great Northwest, whose extraordinary yield last year has kept the price of flour from doubling, is undergoing the same process of depletion, and will, at no distant period, exhibit the same result of diminished crops. Other crops might be mentioned as illustrations of the same truth. The diminution is not referable to a reduced quantity of land sown, but to a reduction of yield per acre. But for the quantity of new lands every year brought under cultivation, this decline of agricultural products would be exhibited in a more startling light. This state of things the Bulletin justly considers real cause for alarm. The process of ruin is going on steadily, and casting long, dark shadows on the future. Before it is the Garden of Eden; behind it a desolate wilderness. When the general productiveness of the soil is destroyed, a blight comes over every element of our natural and individual wealth, over commerce and manufactures, over trade and mechanical industry, and threatens, indeed, our very existence. This impending ruin may, and ought to be averted; but it can only be by united, vigorous and prolonged effort. We must inaugurate a system of replenishment and compensation, of internal regeneration and recuperation, or the present exhaustive process of cultivation will burn up the earth as if a scourge of fire had passed over its surface.

IRELAND.—The Dublin Freeman's Journal, a liberal paper, announces that "the rental of Ireland has, within the last twenty years, risen from £10,000,000 to £15,000,000, and the revenue has risen nearly three millions beyond what it was a century ago. Within thirty years the tonnage of Ireland has doubled; and within thirty-three years the foreign imports have risen from £1,500,000 to £5,500,000." This increase of rental and trade is very remarkable, considering how greatly Ireland has been depopulated since 1847. We scarcely know how to believe it, but the Freeman's Journal is a liberal paper, very reliable in its statistics.

In a French journal, the Monde, of Paris, an anti-English author, named M. E. Xavier de Fontaine, thus crowns together his accusations against Great Britain, not excepting her treatment to Ireland:

In Ireland, great philanthropists! what have you done in Ireland to chastise her for having remained faithful to her God and her faith? Is it true—Yes or No—that she is dying of inanition under the iron hand of your landlords—that, except a potato, the only food of the country, the rest of her products are sold in the English markets to pay the rent? Is it true that fishing on the coast by the natives of the sister isle is prohibited—that under the boasted regime of the model country the population has diminished by 2,500,000 in less than fifteen years? Is it true that the Old of England has had in London a course of public lectures on the assassination of foreign sovereigns, before the eyes and in the hearing of the English Government, and that twelve jurymen declared upon their honor, before God and men, that the assassin Bernard was not guilty? Have you not tried to brew a little French wine on the coast of Savoy, and if Russia and Prussia had listened to the advice of Lord J. Russell, would not torrents of blood have flowed once more at your instigation? Was not the last speech of your Premier, on closing Parliament, from beginning to end, an insult to our country? Did not Palmerston say that Great Britain would not recognize the annexation of Savoy, and that he had no more right to give than the other to accept?

Tax word "Selah," which is used in the Psalms seventy-four times, and thence in the prophecy of Habakkuk, must have some significant meaning, and yet there seems to be much doubt in reference to the matter. It is a Hebrew word, which the translators have left as they found it, because they could not agree as to its meaning. The Targum and most of the Jewish commentators give to the word the meaning of eternally, forever. The version of the Septuagint translation appears to have regarded it as a musical or rhythmic note. Homer regards it as indicating a change of tone; Matheson, as a musical note, equivalent perhaps to the word repeat. According to Luther and others it is equivalent to the exclamation, Silence! Gesenius says Selah means, "let the instruments play and the singers stop." Woehler regards it as equivalent to sursum corda! (up, my souls!) Sommer, after examining all the seventy-four passages in which the word occurs, recognizes in every case "an actual appeal or summons to Jehovah; they are calls for aid, and prayers to be heard, expressed either with entire directness, or if not in the imperative, "hear, Jehovah!" and the like, still earnest addresses to God, that he would remember and hear, &c. The word itself he regards as indicating a blast of trumpets by the priests. Selah itself he thinks is an abridged expression used for Higgaion, indicating the sound of the stringed instrument, and Selah a vigorous blast of trumpets. Some think the word marks the beginning of a new measure of verses; and others that it joins what follows to that which goes before, and shows that what has been said deserves always to be remembered. Some have thought Selah showed the cessation of the actual inspiration of the Psalmist; and others that it is simply a note to indicate the elevation of the voice; still others, that it is equivalent to Amen, be it so, or let it be.

A VALUABLE INVENTION FOR TRAVELERS.—W. J. & R. H. Scott, of Albany, have recently patented and are now engaged in manufacturing a pocket-proof pocket and lock. The lock is made to weigh from two pennyweight to half an oz. It is intended to be placed in the pocket, a little below the mouth, and to hold the pocket shut. The lock is hid from view, and can only be opened by a key. The wearer of the garment having the lock so attached, unlocks his pocket at will. The lock is made of iron and steel. The pocket is constructed of wire and cloth. It is light and elastic, so much so that you would not discover any difference between it and the ordinary pocket in pants of the most fashionable style. When this pocket is attacked by a knife, or the ordinary ring, in the hands of a pickpocket, he will find resistance, and most likely will be caught in the act, as well as when trying to enter at its mouth. Most pockets, however, are picked at the mouth, and that must be guarded with the greatest carelessness, and this is so arranged that should an incision be made into the pocket without the wearer knowing of the attack, it cannot be made large enough to allow even a professional pickpocket to extract anything.—One of them, with lock, can readily be basted in an ordinary pocket.

IMPORTANT DECISION TO RAILROAD TRAVELERS.—An interesting case has been on trial in the U. S. Circuit Court of New York, the parties being Eljah Jones vs. the New Jersey Railroad Company.

It was claimed that Mr. Jones and his brother went to the office of the company to get tickets for Metuchen by the 3.20 train. When the conductor came around for his tickets, plaintiff mentioned that he would have to stop at Newark; thereupon the conductor asked for his fare to Newark, and would not receive the ticket tendered him by the plaintiff, and for which he had paid the sum of 50 cents; but he insisted on the fare to Newark, and on refusal of plaintiff to pay, he ejected him by force from the cars about a mile and a half from Jersey City, and left him there to take care of himself.

On the other hand, however, it was proved that the plaintiff was in the wrong train; that he should have taken did not leave until forty minutes after the train in which they took passage; that by the rules of the company all tickets were to be used on a continuous train; a ticket for Metuchen or New Brunswick did not authorize a passenger to leave the train at any intermediate place without giving up his ticket; that in this case Mr. Jones did not offer the ticket in payment; and that he was not ejected roughly.

The Judge charged the jury that a ticket sold with the printed notice thereon, "Good for passage on a continuous train on this day only," would not allow a passenger to stop at an intermediate station, and then continue his passage in another train. The jury gave a verdict for defendants.—The plaintiff claimed three thousand dollars damages.

CURE FOR IN-GROWING NAILS.—It is stated by a correspondent of the Medical and Surgical Journal that cauterization with hot tallow is an immediate cure for in-growing nails. He says: "The patient on whom I first tried this was a young lady who had been unable to put on a shoe for several months, and decidedly the worst case I had ever seen. The disease had been of long standing. The edge of the nail was deeply undermined; the granulations formed a high ridge partly covered with skin, and pus constantly oozing from the root of the nail; the whole toe was swollen, and extremely tender and painful. My mode of proceeding was this: I put a very small piece of tallow in a spoon and heated it over a lamp until it became very hot, and dropped two or three drops between the nail and granulations. The effect was almost magical. Pain and tenderness were at once relieved, and in a few days the granulations were all gone, the diseased parts dry and destitute of feeling, and the edge of the nail exposed so as to admit of being pared away without any inconvenience. The cure was complete, and the trouble never returned. I have tried this plan repeatedly since, with the same satisfactory result. The operation causes little if any pain, if the tallow is properly heated."

THE UNIFORM OF THE BRITISH ARMY.—The uniform of the English army has been red for but comparatively a short period. Up to the middle of the sixteenth century the color of the uniform appears to have been white; though in 1544 a part of the forces of Henry VII were ordered to be dressed in blue coats, guarded with red, without badges; the right hose red, and the left one blue. In 1584 Elizabeth commanded that the cassocks of the soldiers sent to Ireland should be a sad green or russet. The cloaks of the cavalry during her reign were red. In 1633 the dresses of the soldiers were gray, and those of the drummers purple. The universal scarlet of the line was not adopted until after George I ascended the throne.
