MISCELLANY.

Kissing.—A kiss is like a sermon; "it requires two heads and an application." It deals with the hidden spirit by means of tangible symbols. It is like faith, in that it is "the substance of things hoped for." It is the language of affection, the echo of love, and the Concentration of bliss; it is of "good report," and pleasing to our ears; it is eloquence "dwelling with sweet accents upon the lips." It is both vocal and instrumental "harmonies" in a language and with a sentiment intelligible in all language and in all ages. It is the "seal" of a father's blessing, the "witness" of a mo-ther's love, the "guarantee" of a brother's prosection, the "surety" of a sister's devotion, the "zate" to a lover's heaven, and something that mere friends have nothing to do with. It is very fashionable for Misses of a certain age to insist that "it is all foolishness, and decidedly silly." We never hear such an expression without thinking of a circumstance that actually occurred somewhere in Indiana, if we remember rightly. A gentleman stopped at a house by the wayside for information as to the route he was taking, and found a woman i-oning, with her little child trying to amuse itself upon the floor; the little one was some two and a half years old, very neatly dressed, evidently scrupulously cared for, and eminently handsome. The gentleman, while talking to the mother, picked up the child and kissed it; the little one looked in such perfect astonishment that the gentleman remarked, "Why, my little dear, one would think that you were not used to being kissed." The mother answered for the child, "I don't believe, sir, that she was ever kissed before in her life. I am sure I never did such a thing, and never knew its father to do so." Lord have mercy on that child and send it to somebody to love it, was the gentleman's prayer, as he made sure that his wallet was in its place, and took himself out of the house as fast as possible. Not to know the holy kiss of a mother, the fondling embrace of a father, the earnest lip-press of brothers and sisters, is to fail in the developement of the soul in an essential and vital degree; and surely what is so wondrous holy in infancy, so refining in childhood, so worthy in parents, and so prevalent upon the hearthstone, is not a matter to be disposed of with a sneer, or dismissed with a "Pooh!" Kissing, like the marriage bell, or the blessed truths of the blessed Bible, never wears out; it is, like them, always new, fresh and interesting; and, for the same reason, viz: it deals with the affections, which, unlike the intellect, loves the familiar, delights in the old, and is coy of the new and strange.

The kisses are not small. There is the kiss paternal, the kiss fraternal, the kiss connubial, (and pre connubial,) and the kiss promiscuous. The last two varieties are the only ones to which we object. We have often thought, in reference to the kiss promiscuous, one of the blessings of the man over the woman consisted in being relieved of this conventional duty. It seems to us, in very many instances, like casting pearls before swine; and in illustration of the old adage, "Familiarity breeds contempt. A man or a woman who makes himself or hercelf common in this respect, must not wonder if they are not always appreciated. Notwithstanding all that we have said, we are not slow to confess that in many cases the practice is carried to unseemly and ridiculous lengths. What sense is there in a lady's receiving every feminine caller with the same expressions that she would greet the return of a long absent brother or husband? Is it not a hypocritical lie for Mrs. Jones to thus express affection for Mrs. Quidnunc, when in her heart, Mrs. J. wishes Mrs. Q. at home? Is it not outrageous to be expected to put a mother's lip to every body's baby, clean or dirty ?-London Critic

BEAU NASH, THE KING OF BATH .- A recent essay in an English magazine gives the following sketch of a celebrated character in the fashionable world:

The man was immensely fond of money; he liked to show his gold-laced coat and superl new waistcoat in the Grove, the Abbey ground, and Bond street, and to be known as Le Grand Nash But on the other hand, he did not love money for itself, and never hoarded it. It is, indeed, something to Nash's honor, that he died poor. He delighted, in the poverty of his mind, to display his great thick-set person to the most advantage; he was as vain as any fop, without the affectation of that character, for he was always blunt and free spoken, but, as long as he had enough to satisfy his vanily, he cared nothing for mere wealth. He had gene rosity, though he neglected the precept about the right hand and the left, and showed some ostentation in his charities. When a poor rained fellow at his elbow saw him win at a throw £200, and murmured "How happy that would make me!" Nash tossed the money to him, and said, "Go and be happy then." bably the witless beau did not see the delicate satire implied in his speech. It was only the triumph of a gamester. On other occasions he collected subscriptions for poor curates and so forth, in the same spirit, and did his best towards founding a hospital, which has since proved of great value to those afflicted with rheumatic gout. In the same spirit, though himself a gamester, he often attempted to wir young and inexperienced boys, who came to toes away their money at the rooms, from seeking their own ruin; and, on the whole, there was some goodness of heart in this gold-laced bear. That he was a bear there are anecdotes enough to show, and whether true or not, they sufficiently prove what the reputation of the man must have been. Thus, when a lady afflicted with a curvature of the spine, told him that "She had come straight from London that day," Nash replied with utter heartlessness, "Then ma'am, you have been damnably warpt on the road." The lady had her revenge, however, for meeting the beau one day in the Grove, as she toddled along with her dog, and being impudently asked by him, if she knew the name of Tobit's dog, she answered quickly, "Yes, sir, his name was Nash, and a most impudent dog he was too."

ART IN ROME. - Edmund About, in his new work, "Rome Contemporaine," says: "Rome has a very small number of true artists, and a pleiades of unknown who live upon the reputation of ancestors. There is not a rich traveler who does not think himself bound to bring from Rome a statue, paintings and a portrait. When architects of our Parish in the south of France wish to order any marble, they address themselves voluntarily to a Roman sculptor. The Americans enriched by commerce, construct a Grecian temple upon the borders of an untrodden forest, and that the interior of the house should be in harmony with the exterior, they come to Rome with the intention of making large purchases, they ransack all the studios, and carry off an assortment of objects of art at enormous prices, but really valueless.

FRIGHTFUL TRAGEDY .- On Sunday, the 30th ult., William English, a wealthy planter of Monroe county, Ala., in a fit of insanity, cut the throats of three of his children, and then killed himself in the same manner. A fourth child was saved by a negro girl snatching it up and running from the house.

THE AMALGAMATION OF LANGUAGES .- There is a growing tendency in this age to appropriate the most expressive words of other l nguages, and after a while to in, or; crate the n into our own; thus the word Cephalic, which is from the Greek, signifying "fo the head," is now becom-ing popularized in connection with Mr. Spalding's great Headsche remedy, but it will soon to used in a more general way and the word Cephali: will become as common as Electrotype and many others whose distinction as foreign words has been worn sway by common usage until they seem "native a to the manor horn "

HEADACHE is the favorite sign by which nature nakes known any deviation whatever from the naturel state of the brai ., and viewe tig this light it may be looked on as a sa'eguard intended to give notice of disease which might . therwise escape attention, till too late to b. remedied; and it indications should never be neglected. Headaches may be classified under two names, viz : Symptomatic and Idiopathia Symptomatic !leadache is ex redingly commonand sthe precursor o agreat variety of diseases. among which are Apoplexy, Gout, Sh-umatism and all febrile diseases. In its nervous form it is sympathetic of disease of the stomach constituting sick headacas, of hepatic disease constituting bilinus headache, of worms, constipation and other disorders of the bowels, as well as renal and uterius affections. Diseases of the heart a e very requently attended with Headaches; Ausemia and plet ora are also affections which frequently occasion headache.-Isliopathic Hestische is also very common, being usually distinguished by the name of nervous headache, sometimes coming on suddenly in a State of apparently sound health and pros rating at once the mental and physical energies, and in other instances it comes on slowly, heralded by depression of spirits or acerbity of temper. In most instances the pain is in the front of the head, over one or both eyes, and sometimes proveking vomiting; under this class may also be named Neuratgua.

For the treatment of either class of Headache the Cephalic Pills have been found a sure and safe remedy, relieving the most acute pains in a few minutes, and by its subtle power eradicating the diseases of which Headache is the merring index.

Constipation or Costiveness.

Constipation or Costiveness.

No one of the "many ills flesh is heir to?" is so prevalent, so little understood, and so much neglected as Co-tiveness. Often originating in caret-s-ness or sedentary babits; it is regarded as a sight discrete of two little consequence to excite anxiety, while in reality it is the precursor and companion of man, or the most fatal and dangerous decayes, and unless early eradicated it will bring the sufferer to an untimely grave. Among the lighter evils of which costiveness is the usual attached at are Headache, Colic, Rheumatism, Foul Breath, Piles and others of I ke nature, while a long train of fr ghifal diseases such as Malignant Fevers, Abutessis, Disentery, Di rrbeas, Dyspepsis, Apoplexy, Epilepsy, Paralysis, Hyster-1, Hypschondriasis, Melancholy and Instinty, first indicate their presence in the system by this alarmin, symptom. Not un requently the diseased hamed or givate in Coustipation, but take on an independent existence on less the cause is eradicated in an early stage. From all thest considerations it follows that the disease from all thest considerations it follows that the disease on no person should neglect to get a box of Cephalic Pilis on the first appearance of the complaint, as their timely use will expel the insidious approaches of disease and destroy this dangerous foe to human life.

TWENTY MILLIONS OF DOLLARS SAVED .- Mr. Spalding has soid two millions of bottles I his celebrated Propared Chie and it is estimated that each bottle saves at least ten dollars worth of broken furniture, thus making an aggregate of twinty millions o dollars reclaimed from to alloss by this valuable invention. Having made his clue a household word, he now proposes to do the world still greater service by curing all the aching heas with his Cephalic Pills, and if they are as good as his Glue, Headaches will soon vanish away like snow in July.

Over excitement, and the mental care and anxiety it. Uver exotrement, and the mental care and anxiety incident to the close attention to business or study, are among the numerous causes of Nervous Headachn. The disordered state of min i shall body incident to this distressing complaint is a facat blow to all energy and ambition—the series by this desorder can always obtain speedy relief from these distressing attacks by using one or the Cephalic Pulls whenever the symptoms appear. It quiets the overtasked brain, and soothes the strained and juring nerves, and relaxes the tension of the stomach which always accompanies and aggravates the disordered condition of the brain;

FACT WORTH KNOWING —Spalding's Cephalic Pills are a certain cure for Sick Headache, Bilious Headache, Nervous Headache, Costiveness and General Debility.

GREAT DISCOVERY.—Among the most important of all the great m dict dispoveries of this age may be considered the wat m of vaccination for protection from Small Pox, the Cophatic Pill for relief of Heidache, and the use of Quinine for the prevention of Edvers, either of which is a sure special, whose benefits will be experienced by suffering humanity long after their discoverers are forgotten.

WORTHY OF ANY CONFIDENCE FOR

RESTORING

THE BAL DAND GRAY.

Many, since the great discovery of Prof. Wood, have attempted not only to imitate his restorative, but profess to have discovered something that would produce results identical; but they have all come and gone, being carried away by the wonderful results of Professor Woo's preparation, and have been forced to leave the field to its resistless sway. Read the following:

Barn, Maine, April 18, 1859.

Prof. O J. Wood & Co.: Gents:—The letter I wrote you in 1856 concerning your valuable Hair Restorative, and which you have published in this vicinity and else where, has given ise to numerous conquiries touching the facts in the case. The enquiries are first, is it a fact of my habitation and name, as stated in the communication; second, is it true of all therein contained; third, does my hair still continue to be in good order and of natural color? To all I can and do answer invariably yes. My hair is even better than in any stage of my life for 40 years past, more soft, thrifty, and better colored; the same is true of my whiskers, and the only cause wby it is not generally true, is that the substance is washed off by frequent ablution of the face, when if care were used by wiping the face in close connection with the whiskers, the same result will follow as the hair. I have been in the receipt of a great number of letters from all parts of New England, asking me if my hair still continues to be good; as there is so much traud in the manufacture and sale of various compounds as well as this, it has, no doubt, been basely imitated, and been used, not only without any good effect, but to absolute injury. I have not used any of your kestorative of any account for some months, and yet my hair is as good as ever, and hundreds have examined it with surprise, as I am now 61 years old and not a gray hair in my head or on my face; and to prove this fact, I send you a lock of my hair ken off the past week. I received your favor of two quart bottl

D MOTT'S CHALYBEATE RATIVE PILLS % IRON

AN aperient and Stomachic preparation of Iron puri-fied of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States, and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions, indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case.

Innoxious in all maladies in which it has been tried, it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following has proved adstately curative in each of the minimal complaints, viz: In Debility, Nervous Affections, Emaciation, Dys-persia, Constitation, Diarrica, Dysentery, Incipetent Consumption, Soccyulous Tuberculosis, Salt Rhedm, Mismenstruation, Whites, Chlorosis, Liver Complaints, Chronic Headaches, Rhedmatism, Intermittent France,

MISMENSTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, LIYER COMPLAINTS, CHRONIC HEADACHES, RHEUMATIEM, IMPERMITENT FRVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, &C.

In cases of General Debility, whether the result of acute disease, or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description or written attestation would render credible. Invalids so long bed-ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly re-appeared in the busy world as if just returned from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female Sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent manamms, sanguineous exhaustion, critical changes, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise for which the physician has no nume.

In NERVOUS APPEOTIONS of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old oxides, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and overheating; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanenta remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency which forms them. In Dyspersia, innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked Diarred, even when advanced to Dysen year, confirmed, emaciating, and apparently malignant the affects have been equally decisive and satonishing.

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent heetic, which generally indicate interesting instances.

In Rhsumatism, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swel-langs and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

In Intermittent fevers it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high remover and usefulness.

new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects. Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use. WOLFE'S PURE SCOTCH AND IRISH WHISKY.

ALL IN BOTTLES.

I beg leave to call the attention of the citizens of the United States to the above Wines and Liquors, imported by Udolfno Wolfe, of New York, whose name is familiar in every part of this country for the purity of his celebrated Schiedam Schapps. Mr. Wolfe, in his letter to me, speaking of the purity of his Wines and Liquors, says: "I will stake my reputation as a man, my standing as a morchant of thirty years' residence in the City of New York, that all the Brandy and Wines which I bottle are pure as imported, and of the best quality, and can be relied upon by every purchaser." Every bottle has the proprietor's name on the wax, and a fac simile of his signature on the certificate. The public are respectfully invited to call and examine for themselves. For sale at Retail by all Apothecaries and Grocers in Philadelphia.

No. 832 Market street, Philadelphia.

Read the following from the New York Courier:

ENORMOUS BUSINESS FOR ONE NEW YORK MERGRANT.—We are happy to inform our fellow-citizens that there is one place in our city where the physician, apothecary, and country merchant, can go and purchase pure Wines and Liquors, as pure as imported, and of the best quality. We do not intend to give an elaborate description of this merchant's extensive warehouse, Nos. 18, 20 and 22, Beaver street, and Nos. 17, 19 and 21, Marketfield street. His stock of Schnapps on hand ready for shipment could not have been less than thirty thousand coses; the Brandy, some ten thousand cases—Vintages of 1856 to 1856; and ten thousand cases of Madeira, Sherry and Port Wines, Scotch and Irish Whisky, Jamaica and St. Croix Rum, some very old and equal to any in this country. He also had three large cellars, filled with Brandy, Wines, &c. in casks, under Custom-House key, ready for bottling. Mr. Wolfe's sales of Schnapps last year amounted to one hundred and eighty thousand dozen, and we hope in less than two years he may be equally success? with his Brandies and W

We understand Mr. WOLFE, for the accommodation of small dealers in the country, puts up assorted cases of Wines and Liquors. Such a man, and such a merchant, should be sustained against his tens of thousands of opponents in the United States, who sell nothing but imitations, ruinous alike to human health and happiness.

BY ROB. J. CULVERWELL. M. D.

The important fact that the awful consequences of self-abuse may be effectually removed without internal medicines or the dangerous applications of caustics, instruments, medicated bougies, and other empirical devices, is here clearly demonstrated, and the entirely new and highly ancressful treatment, as adopted by the celebrated author, fully explained, by means of which every one is enabled to cure himself perfectly, and at the least possible cost, thereby avoiding all the advertised nostrums of the day. The Lecture will prove a boon to thousands and thousands. Sent under seal to any address, post paid, on the receipt of two postage stamps, by addressing Dr. CHAS J. C. Medical.

The attention of Invalids, Physicians, Clergymen, scientific men, and the public generally, is respectfully solicited to the merits of this chemical preparation, containing IRON, SULPHUR, AND PHOSPHOROUS, and which is identical in its composition with the Hematic Globule, or red blood. In all diseases accompanied with DE BILITY, pale countenance and nervous derangement, analyses of the blood show a deficiency of the red globules. Ruddy complexion and a rosy tint of the skin, is always indicative of health; while a pale, wax-like skin and countenance,—which evinces a deficiency of the red globules, accompanies a diseased organism. Preparations of IRON have been given for the purpose of supplying the red globules, but we contend that IRON alone, SULPHUR alone, or PHOSPHOROUS alone, will not meet the deficiency in every case, but that a judicious combination of all these elements is necessary to restore the blood to its normal standard. This point, never before attained, has been reached in the BLOOD FOOD, and its discovery ranks as one of the most scientific and important of the age. Its effects in age. Its effects in are to soften the cough, brace the nerves, strengthen the system, allay the prostrating night sweats, increase the physical and mental energy, enrich the blood by restoring the lacking red globules, increase the appetite, restore the color, and clothe the skeleton frame with flesh. The BLOOD FOOD will be found a specific in all CHRONIC DISEASES of the THROAT or LUNGS, such as Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, &c. Public speakers and singers will find it of great utility in clearing and strengthening the vocal organs. In Dyspepsta, Liver Complaints, Dropsy, Epilepsy, Paralysis, Scropila Gravel, St. Vi. tus' Dance, Fever and Ague, &c., its efficiency is marked and instantaneous.
