THE DAILY PATRIOT AND UNION may be had at Jack's Book Store, corner of Third and Market streets.

PATRIOT AND UNION.—The DAILY PATRIOT AND UNION can be had by Dauphin subscribers, every morning, at the periodical store of J. S. FRANK.

THE MAIL.—Under the change of schedule on the different railroads, the time of closing the mails at the Harrisburg Post Office, December 1st, 1860, is as follows:

- PENNSYLVANIA R. R. East—7 a. m.—way mail, 12.15 p. m., 5 p. m., 8 p. m. West—6.30 a. m.—way mail 3.50 p. m., 9 p. m. NORTHERN CENTRAL R. R. North—1 p. m. LEBANON VALLEY R. R. 7.50 a. m. DAUPHIN AND SUSQ. R. R. 1.30 p. m. CUMBERLAND VALLEY R. R. 7.30 a. m., 1 p. m.—way mail.

A lady who had read of the extensive manufacture of odometers, to tell how far a carriage had been run, said she wished to know how far her husband had been in the evening, when they "just stepped down to the post office, or went out to attend a caucus."

SLAUGHTER.—The sleighing yesterday was prime, and every body who could command the tools went in. There was a sound of jangling bells from early dawn until the night had advanced. If any body wants to take a ride they better take advantage of the snow now, or they will probably have to "wait for the wagon."

DEMOCRATIC STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE.—The Democratic State Central Committee will meet at the Beecher House to-morrow. An address on the exigency of the times will no doubt be issued. The meeting will be one of great importance, as the first held since the election, and at which such action will probably be taken as will most thoroughly unite and harmonize the Democratic party in Pennsylvania. A full attendance is anticipated.

SENATOR SIMMONS.—The Rev. Mr. Robinson has been preaching a series of sensation sermons in the Leconte Street M. E. Church, of this city. Some time ago he took for a subject the "Devil's Rocking Chair," and afterwards the "Devil's Funeral Sermon." The death of His Highness Mephistopheles will be glorious news to some people in this city, who thought he still lived, and feared him accordingly.

PAVILION.—What are our citizens doing in the matter of a free bridge over the Susquehanna? If our business men wish to add several hundred thousand dollars annually to the trade of our city, now is the time to move in the matter of a free bridge. It can never be attended to at a more opportune time, and it is scarcely necessary for us to hint that talking will not effect an object of such general interest. We want prompt action in the premises.

NEW MUSIC.—We are under renewed obligations to Mr. O. C. Carter, for favors. He sent us yesterday a number of Lee & Walker's latest music published, viz: "Madeline Polka," by W. P. Cunningham; "Land of My Dreams, Happiest Feelings," with English and German words, by C. Keller; "Dripping Rock Waltz," by Thomas O'Neill; and a gem from the opera of "La Fille du Regiment," arranged for violin and piano. Mr. Carter keeps a general assortment of music and musical merchandise, at his rooms in Market street, near Fourth, east side.

ACCIDENT.—An employe at Murray's livery stable, named Geisweit, while riding a fractious horse up Market street yesterday noon at a rapid rate, turned into Third street at King's corner, and rode over a little apple peddler named Dinger. The escape was a most miraculous one under the circumstances. The knee of the horse struck the boy's back, and the hind foot of the animal just grazed his head. Geisweit was taken before Alderman Peller, where some citizens who witnessed the transaction made information, and a hearing will be had in the matter as soon as practicable.

AN IMPUDENT THEFT.—We know that there are a great many fellows about this city who have no scruples about picking up anything lying about loose, from a four-horse wagon down to a second-hand chew of tobacco, but we thought that an editorial sensation would be the last place upon which they would de-predate. No piano, it seems, is sacred from their intrusion, and nothing portable, except a red-hot stove, is exempt from the liability of being removed by them. Not long ago we had an umbrella removed. As it was not very valuable, we let it pass as a common-place and unavoidable occurrence. Last week Benj. F. French, the bookseller, made as a present of a Dictionary of Quotations from Shakespeare, alphabetically arranged. We laid it upon our table, after writing our name across the title page, but lo! when we looked for it, it was not to be found. Now this is decidedly an aggravate case, and we wish it distinctly understood that from and after this date, no person enters our office except on business, and under no consideration in our absence. If this hint is not fully understood, we shall take occasion to make ourself understood in an unmistakable manner.

THE POOR.—There must be a great deal of suffering in the city which nobody knows of except those who patiently endure it, and hope on for the better time coming. But aside from this, which is told from us, there is not a day that we do not see stalwart men parade our streets with some stamped upon their features—men who would most willingly work at any thing for a mere subsistence, but failing to get work hover between starvation and the degradation of begging. There is something exceedingly revolting to an American citizen to beg, and few can bring themselves down to it until stern necessity—such necessity which is supposed to know no law—drives them to it. Few men who have the necessities as well as the luxuries of life at command, can realize in its full force that able-bodied men have traversed the streets of Harrisburg for forty-eight hours without a morsel of food, and yet such cases have come under our actual observation.

Look at the look-up, filled as it is almost every night with men who have not the means to procure a night's lodging. Among them we notice men who are evidently sober, honest, and industrious mechanics. Surely they must have reached the extreme of wretchedness, when they huddle among filthy vagrants. For them something should be done, if nothing more than starting them out for the day with a full meal, that they may at least not feel the pang of hunger. This can easily be done. The Mayor furnishes bread and coffee, if we mistake not, out of the meagre fees of his office. If people would send one half the cold meats that go to the swill tub, or are thrown away, to the look-up, many a heart would be made glad, and many a poor wanderer could start the day with renewed life and energy to fight the battle of life. Will those who have plenty and to spare take this suggestion into consideration?

WORKINGMEN'S UNION MASS MEETING.—The workingmen of this city, irrespective of party, assembled in mass meeting at the Court House, on Thursday evening last, to give public expression to their sentiments, relative to the existing state of national affairs, and the dangers which now threaten the perpetuity of this glorious Union. The room was crowded to its utmost capacity, and a commendable degree of good feeling and unanimity characterized the deliberations of the "house and shew." The speeches were brief and to the point, and the resolutions and address, which are ably written, breathe the spirit of genuine patriotism, and devotion to the Union and the Constitution, which have always marked the sons of toil in this land of the free. The meeting was organized by the appointment of the following officers:

- President—A. K. Black. Vice Presidents—John Till, John B. Simon, Jos. Stroum, K. Greenwall, Edwin Curzon, J. C. Gordon, John Garverich, R. J. Fleming, James B. Thompson, Harry C. Saffler, Aaron Barringer. Secretaries—Amos W. Young, C. F. Melloy, A. J. Eger, Robert R. Barr, O. W. Whitford.

The officers having taken their seats, and the meeting being duly organized, the chairman of the committee appointed to prepare resolutions for the consideration of the meeting, reported the following, which were read and unanimously adopted, and great applause:

WHEREAS, A crisis now exists in the affairs of our country, unparalleled in all its past history, threatening to overthrow all our cherished hopes of future peace, happiness and prosperity, as a nation; and tending to separate the people of these confederated States in one common brotherhood, and which is even now trampling in the dust that glorious charter of our rights, the Constitution of the United States; And whereas, It is the duty of every lover of his country, every true and patriotic citizen, to use all the lawful means for the settlement of existing grievances; and, without regard to party prejudices and party predilections, to stand out boldly and firmly for the Union as it was, for the Constitution as it is, and for the perpetuity of the Federal Government of our glorious Republic; And whereas, The sentiments and wishes of the people are united in favor of the maintenance of the Union, and the preservation of the rights of the people, and the recovery of fugitive slaves; and that we heartily approve the recommendation of our late Governor, Fessler, in his last annual message, to the Legislature, to the effect that the amendments expressed by Governor Curtin in his inaugural address; in order that no pretence may be furnished to those who are seeking redress for alleged grievances, by violating the Constitution and laws of our common country. We are, moreover, unalterably opposed to the enforcement of all the provisions of the Constitution and laws of the United States, in all parts of the country, whether North or South, East or West; but, at the same time, we will cheerfully accept of any fair and peaceable adjustment of real grievances, rather than resort to any violent means.

Resolved, That as a national prerogative, we deem it to be our imperative duty to discontinue any and all legislative acts, whether passed by State Legislatures of the North or of the South, which are not in strict consonance with the true spirit and letter of our National Constitution, as sanctioned by the Supreme Court; and that the only proper and effectual mode of redress for alleged grievances, in any part of this Union, is provided for in the Constitution.

Resolved, That to ensure the perpetuity of the Union, the North and the South must so joyously unite in the maintenance of all the provisions of the Constitution, and the laws of the United States, and that, as the best mode of settling the present national difficulties, we recommend the adoption of the Crittenden resolutions.

Resolved, That we disapprove any and all attempts to divide the Union, to divide the people, and to divide the property of the present national difficulties. Resolved, That the President of this meeting forward copies of the above resolutions to our Senators and Representatives in Congress, and to the State Legislatures of all the States; and that copies of the proceedings of this meeting be furnished to the city papers for publication.

Resolved, That we heartily endorse the sentiments of the workingmen of Louisville, Kentucky, as expressed in the proceedings of their convention, held in that city on the 27th day of December, 1850, and that we will willingly co-operate with them, and with working men everywhere, in any honorable and satisfactory mode of adjusting our present difficulties.

The chairman of the committee appointed to prepare an Address to the Workingmen of the Union, submitted the following, the reading of which was listened to with interest and responded to with enthusiasm: FRIENDS AND FELLOW-CITIZENS: We, as citizens and working men of this great Republic, are determined to lay aside our individual party prejudices and old political preferences, and unite, as national men, who know that under our government all power emanates from the people. We are determined to stand together, and to exert our united strength, and to exert every effort to the full, in support of the principles of justice and equity, and to stand firm as the rock of ages, on the soil of our common country, remembering that it has been won with and bled by the life's blood of our fathers, and that we are to bequeath it to our children, and that we are to bequeath it to our children, and that we are to bequeath it to our children.

Resolved, That we heartily endorse the sentiments of the workingmen of Louisville, Kentucky, as expressed in the proceedings of their convention, held in that city on the 27th day of December, 1850, and that we will willingly co-operate with them, and with working men everywhere, in any honorable and satisfactory mode of adjusting our present difficulties.

AN EVIL TO BE REMEDIED.—The crowded condition of the jail in this city nullifies the reformatory and solitary confinement system most effectually, and as it is not advisable to build an addition to it at present, in consequence of the heavy outlay on the new Court House, the subject of some temporary arrangement has been discussed. The only feasible one that offers, is to convert the cells of new look-up, under the Court House, into places of confinement for vagrants and petty offenders.—There will be none of those cells, finished and fitted up similar to those of the prison, and there would be no extra expense entailed upon the county to keep eighteen petty offenders or vagrants imprisoned there, instead of in the jail. To do so, however, will require a special act of the Legislature, and we hear that such act will either be drawn up by the prison inspectors, or some person else interested.

We would state in this connection that it is not the increase of crime that has made the prison too small, for that has only been in proportion to the increase of population, but the sole cause of it is the increase of vagrancy, which will continue to increase until the establishment of a chain-gang puts a check to it.

AN INDUCEMENT.—Our friend, John Paulis, will have in market, on Saturday morning, a dressed bear. Those of our citizens who are epicures, can gratify their appetites by calling at his stall. The bear will weigh three hundred pounds dressed.

"CRITTENDEN"—There is now no name so common in men's mouths as "Crittenden." The "Crittenden Compromise," the "Crittenden Resolutions," "Senator Crittenden," "Mr. Crittenden," "John J. Crittenden," "Crittenden," "Crittenden," all the Union over. Crittenden stands first in the affections of some we know of. Crittenden is believed by many to be the sheet anchor of the Republic. Crittenden is believed in and sworn by, and Crittenden has become an immensely great name since the occurrence of the emergency which brought the distinguished Kentuckian so prominently forward. But while all the world is talking of Crittenden politically, they are socially discussing the merits of the elegant garments for gentlemen and youths, made at the Brown Stone Clothing Hall of Rock-hill & Wilson, Nos. 605 and 605 Chesnut street, above Sixth, Philadelphia.

FOX'S PATENT PARAGON UMBRELLA.—We yesterday examined something entirely new in the umbrella line, at the store of Mr. Lee, in Market street, near the Post Office, called Fox's Paragon. It is a light steel frame, flexible, and at the same time more durable than the old style. These frames are imported, and a thirty-four-inch umbrella made with one of them is lighter than a thirty-two-inch made after the old style. Mr. Lee alone has this style of umbrella, either of silk, alpaca or gingham, for sale in this city.

It may be as well to state that Mr. Lee has on hand a very general assortment of gold and silver mounted cases, sword cases, and, in short, cases of every style and kind made, which he will sell at manufacturer's prices.

MITCHELL'S ATLAS FOR 1861.—We direct the attention of our readers to a notice in another column of to-day's UNION, of Mitchell's New Atlas, which is now before the public. This work is both the cheapest and best now before the country, and from Mitchell's acknowledged capacity for producing accurate maps, in which he has been engaged for the last forty years, it is destined to take precedence over all other maps now before the country.

We are requested to say that Mr. J. F. Jaggue, who has taken rooms at Mr. Jackson Fleming's, opposite the State Capital Hotel, is now canvassing for the work in this city, and is prepared to furnish the citizens of Harrisburg with the numbers they wish to procure.

Mothers, read this. The following is an extract from a letter written by a pastor of the Baptist Church to the Journal and Messenger, Cincinnati, Ohio, and speaks volumes in favor of the above-mentioned medicine. "We have used the Low's Suffering Children's Remedy: 'We see an advertisement in your columns of Mrs. Wagoner's Suffering Children's Remedy, and in favor of it we feel compelled to say to your readers, that this is no humbug—we have tried it, and know it to be a true and reliable medicine of the day, because it is one of the best.
