From the Baltimore Exchange. 'If the politicians will do nothing to bring about a reconciliation between the sections, there is but one thing which remains to be dene, and that is, to appeal to the country .-According to the theory of our Government, the people are the source of all political power; and it is for them to declare what their will is, when those whom they have chosen to reprepent them falter in their duty. In an exigency like the present, considerations of party must give place to loftier views than the mere love of place and power; or even of those abstract principles which, whether right or wrong in theory, can never be of any value in their practical application. A great danger is staring us in the face, and the only problem which demands immediate solution is, how best to meet and overcome it? Why waste time in wrangling over the origin of the disease, when the patient is rapidly approaching that stage in his mortal career which demands, before it is too late, the prompt application of a remedy. Everybody knows whether the grievances of which the South complains have any foundation in fact or not. From Mason's and Dixon's I'me to the Gulf stream, there is but one opinion upon that subject. Everybody knows, too, that the people of many of the Southern States do not only regard these grievances as most serious in themselves, but as ripening into positive peril since the accession to power of a political party actuated by sentiments hostile to the peace of that section, and aggressive from the very nature of the principles that were openly avowed during the progress of the Presidential Campaign, and which constituted the ground of action.

Whether the secoding States were justified, by the imminence of the danger, in separating from the Union, or whether it would have been better for them to have sought redress within the Union, are questions which it is not now worth while to discuss. They have solenmly renounced their allegiance to the Federal Government, and all who undertake to fairly weigh this great fact must come to the conclusion that it was no light matter which could have constrained two millions of people to cast them-selves loose from their old moorings; crush sternly out the memory of the glorious achievements which emblazon the annals of the Republic, and embark upon a new and untried career. Seven other slave States now stand in an attitude of expectancy. Their wrongs are equally great, their fears not less deeply grounded. What course they will finally elect to take will be governed by the manner in which the free States respond to their demands. A powerful wing of the Republican party protests vehemently against making any concessions. It is a pity that the word "concession" should have ever been used in relation to this controversy. It is a term which, from the interpretation put upon it by the extreme Republicans, has led many well meaning people astray. Concession implies a grant of extra constitutional privileges; but these are not what the South wants. She simply asks for a re-affirmation of her rights under the Constitution, and in such language as will admit of no dispute hereafter. She does not even insist upon the whole of her prerogative; for if she took her stand upon the Dred Scott decision, it would warrant her people in taking their slaves into any and all of the Territories of the Union, and in claiming there, for this species of property, the protection of the General Government, As an abstract right she is entitled to do this; but she is willing to waive the right and would accept the Crittenden proposition as a measure of compromise. By yielding thus much, she surrenders to free labor all that territorial area lying North of 36° 80', on condition that in the Territory South of that line slavery shall not be prohibited during the continuance of the Territorial Government; and that when such territory becomes sufficiently populous to justify its claim to be admitted into the Union, it shall be received as a slave or a free State as its constitution may determine. It is proposed further, that Congress shall have no power to abolish slavery in the exists—that it shall not interfere with the transfer of slaves from one State to the other, or with slavery in the District of Columbia while it exists in Maryland and Virginia. These are the chief points embodied in the Crittenden r solutions, and it is asked, for the more perfect observance of them, that they shall be incorporated as an amendment into the Constitution when ratified by conventions of three-fourths of the people of the States. That the border slave States would readily accept the Crittenden plan as a basis of settlement, does not admit of the possibility of a

The States that have already passed ordinances of secession might indeed hold back for a brief period; but if the North met the conciliatory resolutions with the same frank, and manly, and patriotic spirit which characterized the action of the venerable statesman from Kentucky, a re-union of all the States might yet be effected. But the radical Republicans' would rather "let the Union slide," than sacrifice a single plank of the Chicago platform, and hence it is that every effort to bring about a better understanding between the sections, is met by a factious opposition by their represen-tatives in Congress. So long as the prejudices of these men are suffered to over-ride all considerations of patriotism, all hope of the adoption of conciliatory measures, with their sanction, must be abandoned, and as the action of the conservative members of both Houses apnears to be inextricably hampered by these nonconcessionists, we turn first for relief to the Commissioners of the several States, who met at Washington on Monday, and if they fail to agree upon a plan of adjustment the people of every section of the Union must take the matter into their own hands. In the graphic language of Macaulay, "there is a fire running along the ground," and it is the duty of every sincere lover of his country to see that it is promptly and effectually quenched.

When the Wisc King proposed to divide the child between the claimants, the true mother cried out, "Oh, my Lord, give her the living child; in no ways slay it." It was the false mother that said, "Let it be neither mine nor thine, but divide it."

The Beechers and Greeleys who refuse to yield anything for the sake of the countrywho see the impending sword, and are willing to let it fall-who mock at division, and would see the country annihilated and dead, rather their truth by the voice of their own sympathetic hearts.

In this contest, the scriptural idea is fulfilled, that by giving up we gain, and what we yield will be returned manifold in the blessings of peace, and unity and true liberty. -Albany

BLUNDERS OF THE ENGLISH PRESS.—A paper published not many miles from Liverpool, gravely announces to its readers that South Charleston had gone out of the Union, and that Georgia, Mobile and Alabama would probably soon follow her. The same journal, in concluding its remarks, breathed a fervent editorial prayer, conjuring General Dred Scott, whom it styles the "Commander-in-Chief of the American forces," to prompt and energetic action, that the spread of secession may be arrested.

THE AMALGAMATION OF LANGUAGES.—There is a growing endency in this age to appropriate the most expressive words of other languages, and after a while to incorporate then into our own; thus the word Cephalic, which is from the Greek, signifying "for the head," is now becoming popularized in cinnection with Mr. Spalding's great Headache remedy, but it will soen be used in a more general way, and the word Cephalia will become as commonas Electretype and many others whose distinction as foreign words has been worn away by common usage until they seem "native a to the manor born."

'ardly Realized.

Hi 'ad 'n 'crrible 'eadache this hafternoon, hand I stepped into the hapothecaries hand says hi to the man, "Can you hease me of an 'eadache?'' "Does it hache 'ard, " says 'e. "Hexceedingly," says hi, hand upon that 'e gave me a Cephalic Pill, hand 'pon me 'onor it cured me so quick that I 'srdly realized I 'ad 'ad an 'eadache.

HEADACHE is the favorite sign by which nature makes known any deviation whatever from the natural state of the brain, and viewed in this light it may be looked on as a sa'eguard intended to give notice of disease which might otherwise escape attention, till too late to be remedied; and it indications should never be neglected. Head aches may be classified under two names, viz : Symptomatic and Idiopathic. Symptomatic 'teadache is exceedingly common and s the procursor o: a great variety of diseases, nong which are Apoplexy, Gout, Sheumatism and all febrile diseases. In its nervous form it is sympathetic of disease of the stomach constituting sick headache, of hepatie disease constituting vilious headache, of worms, constipation and other disorders of the bowels, as well as renal and uterine affections. Diseases of the heart are very frequently ttended with Headaches; Auæmia and pletrora are also affections which frequently occasion headache.— Idiopathic Headache is also very common, being usually distinguished by the name of nervous headache, sometimes coming on suddeuly in a State of apparently sound health and prostrating at once the mental and physical energies, and in other instances it comes on slowly, heralded by depression of spirits or acerbity of temper. In most instan ces the pain is in the front of the head, over one or both eyes, and sometimes proveking vomiting; under this class may also be named Neuralgia.

For the treatment of either class of Headache the Cephalic Pills have been found a sure and safe remedy, relieving the most acute pains in a few minutes, and by its subtle power eradicating the diseases of which Headache is the unerring index.

BRIDGET.—Missus wants you to send her a box of Cephalic Giue, no, a bottle of Prepared Pills—but I'm thinking that's not just it asither; but perhaps ye'll be aither knowing what it is. Ye see she's nigh dead and gone with the Sick Headache, and wants some more of that same as relaived her before.

Principle of the Pills and dont be all day about it sither.

Constipation or Costiveness.

No one of the "many ills flesh is heir to" is so prevalent, so little understood, and so much neglected as Co-tiveness. Often originating in carelessness or sedentary habits; it is regarded as a slight disorder of too little consequence to excite anxiety, while in reality it is the precursor and companion of many o' the most fatal and dangerous d'acases, and unless early eradicated it will bring the sufferer to an untimely grave. Among the lighter evils of which costiveness is the usual attendant are Headache, Colic, Rheumatism, Foul Breath, Piles and others of I ke nature. While a lung train of fr ghtful diseases such as Malignant Fevers, Abcesses, Dyscatery, Diarrhora, Dyspepsia, Apoplexy, Epilepsy, Paralysis, Hysteria, Hypochondriasis, Melaucholy and Insanity, first indicate their presence in the system by this alarming symptom: Not un'requently the diseases named originate in Constipation, but take on an independent existence inless the cause is eradicated in an early stage. From all these considerations it follows that the disorder should receive immediate attention whenever it occurs, and no person should neglect to get a box of Cephalic Pills on the first appearance of the complaint, as their, timely yee will expel the institute approaches of disease and destroy this dangerous foe to human life. No one of the "many ills flesh is heir to" is so prevalent il Over exottement, and the mental care and anxiety incident to the close attention to business or study, are among the numerous causes of Nervous Headache. The disordered state of mind and body incident to this distressing complaint is a fatal blow to all energy and ambition—surerors by this disorder can always obtain speedy relief from these distressing attacks by using one of the Gephalic Pills whenever the symptoms appear. It quiets the overtasked biain, and soothes the strained and jurging nerves, and relaxes the tension of the stomach which always accompanies and aggravates the disordered condition of the brain.

TWENTY MILLIONS OF DOLLARS SAVED.—Mr. Spalding has sold two millions of bottles f his celebrated Prepared Glue and it is estimated that each bottle saves at least ten Glue and it is estimated that each bottle saves at leakt ten dollars worth of broken furniture, thus making an aggre-gate of tw-nty millions of dollars reclaimed from to alloss by this valuable invention. Having made his Glue a household word, he new proposes to do the world still greater service by curing all the aching hea s with his Gephalic Pills, and if they are as good as his Glue, Headaches will soon vanish away like snow in July.

FACT WORTH ENOWING —Spalding's Cephalic Pills are a certain cure for Sick Headache, Bilious Headache, Nervous Headache, Costiveness and General Rebility.

GREAT DISCOVERY. "Almong the most important of all the great medical discoveries of this age may be considered the sistim of vaccination for protection from Small Pox, the Caphalic Pill for relief of Headache, and the use of Quinine for the prevention of Ferers, either of which is a sure specific, whose benefits will be experienced by suffering humanity long after their discoverers are forgotten.

II. Did you ever have the Sick Headache? Do you remember the throbbing temples, the fevered brow, the losthing and disgust at the sight of food? How totally unfit you were for pleasure, conversation or study. One of the Cephalic Pills would have relieved you from all the suffering which you then experienced. For this and other purposes you should always have a box of them on hand to use as occasion requires.

By the use of these Pills the periodic attacks of Nerzous or Sick Headache may be prevented; and if taker at the commencement of an attack immediate relief from pain and sickness will be obtained. They seldom fail in removing the Nausea and Head.

ache to which females are so subject. They act gently upon the bowels, - removing Costive.

For Literary Men, Students, Delicate Females, and all persons of sedentary habits, they are valuable as a Laxative, improving the appetite, giving tone and vigo to the digestive organs, and restoring the natural elasticity and strength of the whole system.

The CEPHALIC PILLS are the result of long investigation and carefully conducted experiments, having been in use many years, during which time they have prevented and relieved a vast amount of pain and suffering from Headache, whether originating in the servous system or from a deranged state of the stomach.

They are entirely vegetable in their composition, and may be taken at all times with perfect safety without making any change of diet, and the absence of any disagreeable taste renders it easy to administer them to children. BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS

THE BALD ANI) GRAY.

Many, since the great discovery of Prof. Wood, have attempted not only to imitate his restorative, but profess to have discovered something that would produce results identical; but they have all come and gone, being carried away by the wonderful results of Professor Wood's preparation, and have been forced to leave the field to its resistless sway. Read the following:

Prof. O. J. Wood. Co.: Gents:—The letter I wrote you in 1856 concerning your valuable Hair Restorative, and which you have published in this vicinity and else where, has given rise to numerous enquiries touching the facts in the case. The enquiries arc, first, is it a fact of my habitation and name, as stated in the communication; second, is it true of all therein contained; third, does my hair still continue to be in good order and of natural color? To all I can and do answer invariably yes. My hair is even better than in any stage of my life for 40 years past, more soft, thrifty, and better colored; the same is true of my whiskers, and the only cause why it is not generally true, is that the substance is washed off by frequent ablution of the face, when if care were used by wiping the face in close connection with the whiskers, the same result will follow as the hair. I have been in the reacipt of a great namber of letters from all parts of New England, asking me if my hair still continues to be good; as there is so much traud in the manufacture and sale of various compounds as well as this, it has, no doubt, been basely imitated, and been used, not only without any good effect, but to absolute injury. I have not used any of your Restorative of any account for some months, and yet my hair is as good as ever, and hundreds have examined it with surprise, as I am now 61 years old and use a gray hair in my head or on my face; and to prove this fact, I send you a lock of my hair taken of the pnsy weke. I received your favor of two quart bottles last summer, for which I am very grateful: I gave it to my friends and thereby induc

We are happy to inform our fellow-citizens that there is one place in our city where the physician, apothecary, and country merchant, can go and purchase pure Wines and Liquors, as pure as imported, and of the best quality. We do not intend to give an elaborate description of this merchant's extensive business, although it will well repay any stranger or citizen to visit UDOLPHO WORP'S extensive warehouse, Nos. 18, 20 and 22, Beaver street, and Nos 17, 19 and 21, Marketheld street. His stock of Schnapps on hand ready for shipment could not have been less than thirty thousand cases; the Brandy, some ten thousand cases—Vintages of 1836 to 1856; and ten thousand cases of Madeira, Sherry and Port Wines, Scotch and Irish Whisky, Jamaica and St. Croix Rum, some very old and equal to any in this country. He also had three large cellars, filled with Brandy, Wines, &c. in casks, under Custom-House key, ready for bottling. Mr. Wolfe's sales of Schnapps last year amounted to one hundred and eighty thousand dozen, and we hope in less than two years he may be equally successf with his Brandies and Wines.

His business merits the petronage of every lover of his species. Private families who wish pure Wines and Liquors for medical use should send their or lers direct to Mr Wolfe, until every Apothecary in the land make up their minds to discard the poisonous stuff from their shelves, and replace it with Wolfe's pure Wines and Liquors.

The attention of Invalids, Physicians, Clergymen

The attention of Invalids, Physicians, Clergymen, scientific men, and the public generally, is respectfully solicited to the merits of this chemical preparation, containing IRON, SULPHUR, AND PHOSPHOROUS, and which is identical in its composition with the Hematic Globule, or red blood. In all diseases accompanied with DERILITY, pale countenance and nervous derangement, analyses of the blood show a deficiency of the red globules. Muldy complexion and a rosy tint of the skin, is always indicative of health; while a pale, wax-like skin and countenance, which evinces a deficiency of the red globule, accompanies a diseased organism. Preparations of IRON have been given for the purpose of supplying the red globules, but we contend that IRON alone, SULPHUR alone, or PHOSPHOROUS alone, will not meet the deficiency in every case, but that a judicious combination of all these elements is necessary to restore the blood to its normal standard. This point, never before attained, has been reached in the BLOOD FOOD, and its discovery ranks as one of the most scientific and important of the age. Its effects in are to soften the cough, brace the nerves, strengthen the system, allay the prostrating night sweats, increase the physical and mental energy, enrich the blood by restoring the lacking red globules, increase the appetite, restore the color, and clothe the skeleton frame with desh. The BLOOD FOOD will be found a specific in all CHRONIC DISEASES of the THROAT or LUNGS, such as Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughts, &c. Public speakers and singers will find it of great utility in clearing and strengthening the vocal organs. In Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Dropsy, Epilepsy, Paralysis, Scrofula Gravel, St. Vitus' Dance, Fever and Ague, &c., its efficiency is marked and instantaneous. In no class of diseases, however, are the beneficial effects of this remedy so conspicuous an is those harrassing

We have the utmost confidence in recommending the BLOOD FOOD to all who may be conscious of a loss of vitality or energy; and to those whose mental or bodily powers are prostrated through over use, either of the mind or body, and we deem it our duty to say that in all cases of Weakness and Emaciation, and in all diseases of the Kidneys or Bladder, this preparation has a claim upon the attention of sufferers which cannot be over estimated. A faithful trial will be found the most convincing proof in regard to its efficacy that could be asked for. With the above remarks, and with the numerous testimated.
