A minor, who over the Schuylkill has been vigorously pushed, is an apprentice in one of our large manufacturing and the western abutment and pier are nearly establishments, to avoid certain disagreeable confinished. The cost of the masonry of the bridge will not exceed $100,000. The iron superstrucsequences, got permission in the winter to shift the ture will be built at the company's shops, and will cost about $40,000. He was taken to the Mayor's real estate. The canals owned by the company carned in office, on a charge of affiliation. The jail stared 1860: him in the face on the one side, and the hymencal Eastern Division halter on the other. Of two evils he chose the Juniata Division Western Division least. Friends were sent for-the consent of all Miscellaneous Receipts parties obtained, and the young man was made a husband and father in the legal way. Sich is life, Expenses of canals for the same period :

and a useful lesson it affords the rising generation. The keeper of a billiard table, up the country, who had been considerably pinched by fellows who were in the habit of telling him to "mind" the games they lost, put up the following notice: "Gentlemen who are not prepared to pay if they lose, are requested not to play."

Lumber transported in same period was 126,494,299 feet, being an increase of 6,419,624 feet. The report further discusses the appearance. value, &c., of the canals, and the means taken to increase their business and income. The Treasurer's statement shows the receipts of the company from all sources, shareholders, loans, bonds, profit and loss, &c, for 1860, were $32,407,-124.14 Total expenditures, including cost of road, (less profit of road,) cost of Main Line, cost of equipment, cost of telegraph, real estate, extension of the lines, stocks of other roads, bills receivable, fuel and materials on hand, &c. $31,758,412 33 - -Balance in hands of agents -280 835 67 of Treasurer -367,876.14 32.407.124.14 It is not proposed to lay any additional road superstructure, during the present year, except what may be necessary to accommodate an increased business at stations, and the extension of the road to the Delaware river above the Navy Yard. The report recites the conditions of the lease for 999 years of the Harrisburg and Lancaster Railroad, with which our readers are familiar, and explains the necessity for that lease. The sinking fund for the redemption of the second mortgage bends now amounts to $532.491. and it'may be judiciously increased by the transfer to it of the stock and bonds of the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad, and other railroads now held by the company. These assets, it is expected, will, in a few years, be worth the amount they cost the company. The continuance of an annual payment of $460,000 made last year to the State, on account of principal and interest due for the purchase of the Main Line from the profits of the road, will extinguish that debt by the year 1890. By steadily pursuing a financial policy calculated to attain these objects, the entire debt of the company in 1875 will be brought within the amount of its gross annual income-a condition of abundant safety to the shareholders, and which can be obtained without any interruption to your regular cash dividends. The means thus diverted from the net revenue of the company can, whenever the amount will justify it, and the financial condition of the coustry will render the measure prudent, be a gratification at all, it is a piece of impudence in | from time to time divided among the shareholders in stock. The re-organization of the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad, after a sale by the bondholders, and the appointment of new directors, etc , to operate the road, is next discussed, and the delay in crecting passenger stations at Philadelphia and Pittsburg is explained, on the ground that the erection of expensive buildings at locations which may turn out to be injudicious, would be bad policy. In regard to the passenger station at Philadelphia, the directors were originally in favor of locating the station at Twelfth and Market streets, but since the street railways have afforded such great facilities as we now enjoy, the beard have re-considered their determination, and now incline to locate it on the flats adjoining the Market street bridge, where the comparatively small value of the property will justify the expenditure necessary to bring the ground to the level of the railway. ELECTRICITY IN WINTER TIME .- The eastern journals contain accounts of a remarkable atmospheric phenomenon, a thunder-storm in mid-winter, which recently visited Massachusetts. The electric force in the atmosphere was particularly manifested on the telegraph wires. Twelve fine wires attached to the relay magnet on the Cape Cod telegraph were burned. At Quincy and at South Braintree the electricity destroyed the magnets. At North Cohasset the magnet was burned, and on the Scituate line thirteen telegraph poles were shivered into kindling-wood. In the town of Hanson thirteen poles were prostrated. At South Braintree the most singular effects were observable. The lady operator at the office there says she heard only one clap of thunder, which sounded like the report of a distant gun. The lightning in the telegraph office played curious but harm less pranks. It ran from one relay to the table, burning two narrow paths to the edge, and from another magnet to a linen collar lying near it, which it blackened and charred.

Experienced operators say they have never before known these wires to be troubled by atmospheric electricity at this season.

A VERY COMMON ERROR .- Beauty, some donkeys think, is the right and inheritance of the wealthy alone; food to eat, clothes to wear, a roof to shelter from the weather, are all that working men should pretond to. And, indeed, if the secret belief of such dull grovellers were told, it would be that all people with less than a good many hun. dreds a year, are stepping out of their sphere and encroaching on the demesne of their belters when they aim at making their dwelling such that it shall please the cultivated eye as well as keep off wind and wet. Such morials cannot understand or sympathize with the gratification arising from the contemplation of objects which are graceful and beautiful; and they think that if there be such a poor man to aim at it. It is, they consider, a luxury to which he has no right ; it is as though a ploughman should wish to have champagne on his simple dinner-table. I verily believe that there are numbers of wealthy men, especially in the ranks of those who have made their own wealth, and who received little education in youth, who think that the supply of animal necessities is all that any mortal but themselves, perhaps, can need.

COLUMBIADS .- Inquiries are made as to the na ture of the cannon salled Columbiads. We find the following description of these formidable guns in an exchange :

A Columbial is a heavy gun, capable of pro-jecting a solid shot or shell, with a large charge of degrees below to thirty above the horizon; it may have below to thirty above the horizon; it may have below to thirty above the horizon; it may have below to thirty above the horizon it may have below to thirty above the horizon it may have below to thirty above the horizon it may have below to thirty above the horizon it may have below to thirty above the horizon it may have below to thirty above the horizon it may have below to thirty above the horizon it may have below to thirty above the horizon it may have below to the horizon it may have below to thirty above the horizon it may have below to thirty above the horizon it may have below to the horizon it have below to the said therefore, to combine the essential qualities of the gun, the howizer, and the mortar, and may be used in the place of either one or the other of mentary allusion is made to the death of Vice President Foster, and compli-these pieces in second the form these pieces in sea-coast defence. It does not diffor in its external shape from ordinary sca-coast cannon.

At present there are two sizes of Columbiads in use in our service, viz: the eight inch and the ten inch. The former weighs about 9,000 lbs, the charge of powder 10 lbs, the solid shot 64 lbs, and the shell 43 lbs. The latter weighs about 15,000 lbs, the eburge of powder 16 lbs, and the solid shot 128 lbs, and the shell 100 lbs.

It is understood that a certain number of ten inch Columbiads are mounted en barbette, or upon the most elevated portion of Fort Sampter; as the extra range of these pieces is about three miles, an extent of country about six miles in diameter will be commanded by them ; this, however, does not embrace the city of Charleston, for that is under-stand to be a stand t stood to be about 33 miles from the fort.
