MISCELLANY.

AN ECCENTRIC MILLIONAIRE .- Among the subscribers to Audubon's magnificant work on ornithology, the subscription price of which was $1,000 a copy, appeared the name of John Jacob Astor. During the progress of the work, the prosecution of which was exceedingly expensive, M. Audubon, of course, called upon several of his subscribers for payment. It so happened that Mr. Astor (probably that he might not be troubled about small matters), was not applied to before the delivery of the letterpress and plates. Then, however, Audubon asked for his thousand dollars; but he was put off with one excuse or another. "Ab, M. Audubon!" would the owner of millions observe " you have come at a bad time ; money is very scarce; I have nothing in bank; I have in-vested all my funds." At length, for a sixth time, Audubon called on Astor for his thousand dollars. As he was ushered into the presence he found William B. Astor, the son, conversing with his father. No sooner did the rich man see the man of art, than he began : "Ah, M. Audubon, so you have come again after your money. Hard times, M. Audubon-money scarce." But just then, catching an inquiring look from his son, he changed his tone: "However, M. Audubou, I suppose we must contrive to let you have sone of your money, if possible. William," he added, calling to his son, who had walked into an adjoining parlor, "have we any money at all in the bank?" "Yes, father," replied the son, supposing that he was asking an earnest question pertinent to what they had been talking about when the ornithologist came in, "we have two hundred and seventy thousand dollars in the Bank of New York, seventy thousand dollars in the City Bank, ninety thousand in the Merchants, ninety-eight thousand four hundred in the Me-a check for your money."-Men Wno Have

RANGE OF COLUMBIAD SHELL-GUNS .--- The furthest range of a hundred pound shell, even at an elevation of thirty-five degrees given to the gun, is 4,828 yards, the time of flight being thirty-five seconds. The great twelve-inch Columbiad, the largest gun made, loaded with twenty-five pounds powder, a shell of 172 pounds, and the piece at an elevation of thirtyfive degrees, has made a range of only 5,409 yards, the projectile occupying thirty two seconds in its flight. By increasing the elevation to thirty-nine degrees only 100 yards more was gained in the range. From the same gun, with a charge of powder twenty-eight pounds, a shell of 180 pounds, and an elevation of thirty-five degrees, a range of 5,671 yards had been attained; at an elevation of thirty-nine degrees, a range of 5,761 yards, (three and a third miles,) which is the greatest that has ever been accomplished by any gun in our service.

The flight occupied thirty-six seconds .---Charleston is, therefore, perfectly safe from the guns of Fort Sumpter. If it were even within the furthest range of those guns, the angle of elevation necessary to accomplish such a distance is so extreme that to hit the city would be a matter of extreme uncertainty.-The guns of Fort Sumpter can only be raised to an elevation of thirty-three degrees on accouct of the casemates, and, consequently, could do no damage beyond about two miles and a half.

A ten-inch Columbiad, at an elevation of thirty-three degrees, will throw a shell about three miles. There are no such guns in barbette at Fort Sumpter, and if there are any casemate guns of that caliber, no such elevation could be had. The upper surface of the gun would strike against the top of the embrasure at an elevation far short of thirty-three degrees - Charleston Mercury.

DISAGREEABLE FINALE TO A HOUSE-WARM-ING IN PARIS.—Baron be——, of Paris, late-ly gave a dinner to half a dozen friends to 'warm" a house he has just built for himself. It was a bachelor dinner, his wife being in the country. When they were at dessert, a lady entered the room-his wife. There was a disagreeable moment or two for the guests, as surprises are always disagreeable, especially when they come in petticoats. She said, "Gentlemen, I am sorry to disarrange you, but I have something to say to my husband, and I am not sorry to have your company.' She thereupon went up to her husband, who was turning as many colors as a dying dol-phin, and said to him: "Six weeks ago, in the heat of a discussion which I did not provoke, you were coward enough to slap me. As there were no witnesses present, my lawyer tells me I can bring no action. There are witnesses here, now, sir-take that! (giving him a terrible slap) use your witnesses. I expect your lawyer at once." She then quitted the room majestically. The husband has summoned all his friends as witnesses, and brought suit for divorce. A MYSTERY .--- A gentleman residing in Fort Wayne, whose duties require him to be absent from his home much of his time, came home unexpectedly a few evenings since. His wife told him there was no light in the room, and requested him to retire without one, which he did. After retiring he felt unwell, and determined to apply a remedy at once, arose, dressed, and went out to a druggist's. Putting his hand in his pocket to get some change wherewith to pay for the medicine he had purchased, he drew out a handful of gold! He tried the other pocket with the same result, and counting the contents of the two pockets he was plus $400! The pants were not his.---When he again reached home everything was quiet, and the pants he had taken off a few minutes before were gone. Now this is very queer, and can be accounted for on no other hypothesis than that Aladin's lamp worked upon the affair with the wonderful influence of its magical qualities. How otherwise could it have happened ? If any other rational explanation can be given, will some one give it? SHARP MERCANTILE PRACTICE .-- It is said that a certain New York merchant recently found himself in possession of a quantity of linen wrappers, of a very good quality, but so short that no human being, not even an Esquimaux, could wear them with comfort. How to dispose of them at an advantage was a question difficult of solution; but his wits were tion difficult of solution; but his wifs were equal to the emergency, and he hit upon the following plau: He sent a stranger to a certain retail store, with instructions to enquire for short linen wrappers. The merchant could not supply him, and the stranger inquired where he could find the article. Next day another was dispatched on the same mission, and the next day another, and so on, until the retail merchant became convinced that there was an extraordinary demand for short linen was an extraordinary demand for short linen wrappers; and began to lock about to find supply. He did not succeed until he came the establishment of the merchant first me tioned, where he bought the entire lot. It hardly necessary to add, that there has been no demand for the article since.-N. THE AMALGAMATION OF LANGUAGES .- There is a growing tendency in this age to appropriate the most expressive words of other languages, and after a while to incorporate them into our own; thus the word Cephalic, which is from the Greek, signifying "for the head," is now becoming popularized in cinnection with Mr. Spalding's great Headache remedy, but it will soon be used in a more general way, and the word Cephalis will become as commonas Electrotype and many others whose distinction as foreign words has been worn away by common usage until they seem "native a to the manor born."

'ardly Realized.

Hi 'ad 'n 'crrible 'eadache this hafternoon, hand I stepped into the hapothecaries hand says hi to the man, "Can you hease me of an 'eadache ?'' "Does it hache 'ard, " says 'e. "Hexcredingly," says hi, hand upon that 'e gave me a Cephalic Pill, hand 'pon me 'onor it cured me so quick that I 'rdly realized 1 'ad 'ad an 'eadache.

IF HEADACHE is the favorite sign by which nature makes known any deviation whatever from the natural state of the brain, and viewed in this light it may be looked on as a sa'eguard intended to give notice of disease which might otherwise escape attention, till too late to be remedied ; and its indications should never be neglect. d. Head. aches may be classified under two names, viz : Symptomatic and Idiopathis. Symptomatic Usadache is exceedingly common and is the precursor of a great variety of diseases, among which are Apoplexy, Gout, Rheumatism and all febrile diseases. In its nervous form it is sympathetic of disease of the stomach constituting sick headache, of hepatic disease constituting bilious headache, of worms, constipation and otherdisorders of the bowels, as well as renal and uterine affections. Diseases of the heart are very frequently attended with Headaches; Anæmia and plethora are also affections which frequently occasion headache .--Idiorathic Headache is also very common, being usually distinguished by the name of nervous headache, sometimes coming on suddenly in a State of apparently sound health and prostrating at once the mental and physical energies, and in other instances it comes on slowly, heralded by depression of spirits or acerbity of temper. In most instan ces the pain is in the front of the head, over one or both eyes, and sometimes proveking vomiting ; under this class may also be named Neuralgia.

For the treatment of either class of Headache the Cephalic Pills have been found a sure and safe remedy, relieving the most acute pains in a few minutes, and by its subtle power eradicating the diseases of which Headache is the unerring index.

Constipation or Costiveness,

Constipation or Costiveness. No one of the "many ills flesh is heir to" is so prevalent, so little understood, and so much neglected as Co-tiveness. Often originating in carelesaness or sedentary habits; it is regarded as a slight disorder of too little consequence to excite anxiety, while in reality it is the precursor and companion of many of the most fatal and dangerous dis-eases, and unless early eradicated it will bring the sufferer to an untimely grave. Among the lighter evils of which costiveness is the usual attendant are Headache, Colic, Rheumatism, Foul Breath, Piles and others of I ke nature, while a long train of frightful discases such as Malignant Fevers, Abcesses, Dyscatery, Diarnteca, Dyspepsia, Apo-plexy, Epilepsy, Paralysis, 'Hysteria, Hypochondriasis, Melaucholy and Hananity, first indicate their presence in the system by this alarming symptom. Not un:requently the diseases named originate in Constipation, but take on an independent existence unless the cause is eradicated in an early stage. From all these considerations it follows that the disorder should receive immediate attention when-ever it occurs, and no person should neglect to get a box of Gephalic Fills on th- first appearance of the complaint, as their timely use will expel the insidious approaches of disease and destroy this dangerous foe to human life.

TWENTY MILLIONS OF DOLLARS SAVED.—Mr. Spalding has sold two millions of bottles of his celebrated Prepared Glue and it is estimated that each bottle saves at least ten dollars worth of broken furniture, thus making an aggre-gate of twenty millions of dollars reclaimed from to al loss by this valuable invention Having made his Glue a household word, he now proposes to do the world still greater service by curing all the aching hear's with his Cephalic Pills, and if they are as good as his Glue, Head-aches will soon vanish away like snow in July. 11 11 1 1 1 - 1

The enquirice are, first, is it a fact of my habitation and name, as stated in the com-munication; second, is it true of all therein contained; third, does my hir still continue to be in good order and of natural color? To ail I can and do answer invariably yes. My hair is even better than in any stage of my life for 40 years past, more soft, thrifty, and better colored; the same is true of my whiskers, and the only cause wby it is not generally true, is that the substance is washed off by frequent ablation of the face, when if care were used by wiping tho face in close connection with the whiskers, the asme result will follow as the hair. I have been in the receipt of a great number of letters from all parts of New England, asking me if my hair is su continues to be good ; as there is so much irand in the manufacture and sale of various compounds as well as this, it has, no doubt, been basely imitated, and been used, not only without any good effect, but to absolute injury. CHRONIC HEADACHES, REFURATION, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, & O. In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of acute disease, or of the continued diminution of nerrous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description or written attestation would render credible. Invalids so long bed-ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly re-appeared in the busy world as if just returned from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female Sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent manasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, critical changes, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise for which the physician has no name. In NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old oxides, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and overheating ; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation. It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action. by dispersing the local tendency which forms them. In DYSEFSTA, innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant Costiceness. In uncluekted DIARRHGA, even when advanced to DYSEN TERY, confirmed, emaciating, and apparently malignant the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing. In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating congh, and remittent hectic, which generally indicate IM-of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances. ILP OVER EXCITEMENT, and the mental care and anxiety incident to the close attention to business or study, are among the numerous causes of Nervous Headache. The disordered state of mind and body incident to this di-tress-ing complaint is a fatal blow to all energy and ambition.— Bu erers by this disorder can always obtain speedy relief from these distressing attacks by using one of the Cephalic Pills whenever the symptoms appear. It quiets the over-tasked brain, and soothes the strained and jurning merres, and relaxes the tension of the stomach which always ac-companies and aggravates the disordered condition of the brain.

FACT WORTH KNOWING .- Spalding's Cephalic Pills are a certain cure for Sick Headache, Billous Headache, Nervour Headache, Costiveness and General Debility.

GREAT DISCOVERY.—Among the most important of all the great medical discoveries of this age may be considered the system of vaccination for protection from Small Pox, the Cephaic Pill for relief of Hoadache, and the use of Quinine for the prevantion of Ferera, either of which is a sure specific, whose benefits will be experienced by suf-fering humanity long after their discoverers are forgotten.

DID you ever have the Sick Headache ? Do you 1.7 DD you ever have the sick Headache? Do you remember the throbbing temples, the fevered brow, the loathing and disgust at the sight of food? How totally unfit you were for pleasure, conversation or study. One of the Cephaluc Pills would have relieved you from all ths suffering which you then experienced. For this and other purposes you should always have a box of them on hand to use as occasion requires.

vous or Sick Headache may be prevented ; and if taken at the commencement of an attack immediate relief from pain and sickness will be obtained.

I beg leave to call the attention of the citizens of the United States to the above WINES and Liquons, im-ported by UDOLPHO WOLFE, of New York, whose name is familiar in every part of this country for the purity of his celebrated SCHEDAM SCHAPPS. Mr. WOLFE, in his letter to me, speaking of the purity of his WINES and Liquons, says: "I will stake my reputation as a man, my standing as a merchant of thirty years' resi-dence in the City of New York, that all the BRANDT and WINES which I bottle are pure as imported, and of the best quality, and can be relied upon by every purchaser." Every bottle has the proprietor's name on the wax, and a fac simile of his signature on the certificate. The public are respectfully invited to call and examine for themselves. For sale at ERTAIL by all Apothecaries and Grocers in Philadelphia. Sole Agent for Philadelphia. No. 532 Market street, Philadelphia. Bead the following from the New York Courier: ENORMOUS BUSINESS FOR ONE NEW YORK MERCHANT.--We are happy to inform our fellow-citizens that there is one place in our city where the physician, apothecary, and country merchant, can go and purchase pure Wines and Liquors, as pure as imported, and of the best quality. We don to intend to give an elaborate description of this merchant's extensive business, although it will well re-pay any stranger or citizen to visit UDOLFNG WOLFE's and Nos 17, 19 and 21, Marketfield street. His stock of Schnapps on hand ready for shipment could not have been less than thirty thousand cases: the Brandy, some ten thousand cases - Vintages of 1836 to 1856; and ten thousand cases of Madeirs, Sherry and Port Wines, Scotch and Irish Whisky, Jamaica and St. Croix Rum, some very old and equal to any in this country. He also had three large cellars, Shiled with Brandy, Wi shelves, and replace it with wours of participation of Liquors. We understand Mr. WOLFE, for the accommodation of small dealers in the country, puts up assorted cases of Wines and Liquors. Such a man, and such a merchant, should be sustained against his tens of thousands of op-ponents in the United States, who sell nothing but imi tations, ruinous alike to human health and happiness.
