THE soldiers of the war of 1812 are requested to meet at the office of David Harris, on Tuesday afternoon 12th inst., at4 o'clock, to take action in regard to the parade on the 22d inst.

ATTENTION, HIVERS, No. 2.—A special meeting will be held this (Tuesday) evening, at 72 o'clock, 10 transact important business. By order.

VAL. B. HUMMEL, Sec'y.

ATTENTION, PAXTON HOSE .- A special meeting of the Paxton Hose Company will be held this evening, at 7 o'clock. Punctual attendance is requested of every member. Turn out, one and all.

MAIL AGENT .- We are highly gratified to announce the appointment of our friend James Ons. low as Route Agent on the Pennsylvania Railroad between Altoona and Pittsburg. James is one of the craft, and a worthy and distinguised member of the Democratic party. The western papers will lose the services of a vigorous and facile pen, but Inole Sam will gain by it. Capt. Donnavan, too, oses a valuable aid in furthering his great Delaware bridge project.

NEW SIGNS.—The enterprising Knoche, who lets to opportunity slip to keep his business fairly before the people, has just placed two emblematical tigns in front of his music store. They are from the shop of Jester & Co., next door to our office, and are ornamental in the highest degree. Mr. Knoche is determined not to let business lag for want of means to inform the public where he is, and Jester & Co. are determined to get as much work as possible in their line by executing their jobs artistically.

Fire Marshal.—David Mumma, Jr., was appointed Chief Marshal of the fire department for the parade on the 22d, by Gen. Keim, but not being an active fireman, he declined the honor tendered him. On Saturday evening a committee from each of the fire companies met at the Hope house, and elected J. B. Cox, of the Washington Hose Company, as Chief Marshal, and also appointed a committee to apprise the committee of arrangements of their action, which duty was performed yesterday afternoon, and the new arrangement was deemed satisfactory.

REMARKABLE CHAGNE. -The weather, which was cold and blustering during the greater part of last week, suddenly changed, and yesterday, so far as temperature was concerned, was not much unlike a spring day. Such sudden changes are terrible n people who are not fortified with cast-iron or gutta percha constitutions, compelling them to fall back on the by-laws. So far as we are individually concerned, we have been terribly under the weather for some time past, and have been decidealy in pursuit of locals under difficulties. We have placed ourself under charge of Dr. Dock, and have strong hopes of recuperating.

SUPPERING IN THE SIXTH WARD .- We learn indirectly through one of the up-town ministers of the Gospel, that there is much suffering in the Sixth ward of this city. The preacher in questien, hom his own slender income, has been dealing out liberally among those who are in absolute want of the necessaries of life, and it strikes us that the Example he sets should serve as a lesson to those The profess to be governed by the ruling princitle of the Bible, which so strongly urges charity apon the followers of the Lord. People who are disposed to doubt the existence of want in our city, would do well to take a stroll through the quarter Edicated.

ORIGIN OF OIL WELLS .- In Venango and the bordering counties where the people live, talk and tten swear by their oil wells, the newspapers conant themselves with discussing the origin of these ingular natural productions. The Spectator man, who is "well up in his catechism," finally carries of the palm by establishing Job as the first man hat ever sprung a well. He says:

"Job xxxix, 6, the text reads-The rock poured me out rivers of oil.' This is the oldest record of the Petroleum business and more ancient than the accounts of the discovery of oil in Birmah, which only dates back some 400 years. Job was a rich man, and probably owned a 40 barrel well. He was the first operator in Petroleum of whom we lave any account, though oil is also mentioned in Jeuteronomy xxxii, 13."

SEVERAL Scotch Mountain Sheep have recently been introduced into Morris county, N. J., on the farm of S. F. Headley, Esq. Their wool is deteribed as being of a better quality than any other long-wooled breed-long, wavy and soft, with no harsh or wiry feeling like most of the mountain breeds-peculiarly adapted to worsted-stuffs, and the carcass is said to give the very best and highest favored mutton. They live and thrive on their lative mountains on very coarse vegetation, and are kept in very large flocks of 8,000 to 15,000 often. Those in this country appear docile and quiet, have black or spotted faces with a symmetrical form of head, neck and body, unsurpassed by any animal of the woolly kind. Lambs four menths old weigh eighty pounds each.

NEWSPAPERS IN TURKEY .-- An interesting leter from Constantinople has the following interest-ng items : There are now published in Constantinople more than twenty newspapers; one in English—a well conducted weekly, with a daily bulletin, having a arge circulation; three in French-one daily ned by the government; one semi-weekly, with a daily bulletin—an ably conducted paper, which is very apt to expose all the weak points of the Svery apt to expose an the week paper; three in Turkish—one official, one semi-official, and one alterate independent; one in Greek, having a trackind appear to the control of the contro arge circulation representing Greek influences; ten in Armenian, one owned by the American mission and edited by Rev. Dr. Dwight, which is partially religious and partly secular; one or two of the thers are able papers, but most of them are of a rather low order, and devote themselves especially is slandering the American missionaries. There are also two Bulgarian papers, which have a good Greulation and much influence, especially at this exciting crisis of the Bulgarian church. There as also a small German paper, but it has died out, MESSES. EDITORS: I deem it necessary in vindication of myself to ask you to insert in your par per the preamble and resolution which I offered on the 2th inst., and which were passed by the Good Will Fire Company, that the citizens of Harrisburg may judge of their character.

It has always been a rule of my life to pursue a mild, conciliatory course in all my transactions with the world, and looking with horror at the prospect of revolution, of anarchy and fraternal strife between brethren of one country, my motive was to do whatever lay in my power, in the humble sphere in which I was placed, to allay the animosity which so unfortunately exists, and refrain from doing any act which might have the least semblance of retaliation to the course pursued by the South.

According to the principle laid down, I shall not reply to the Telegraph any further than to ask them to examine the matter fully and fairly, and if they have done me any injustice, I trust, I know, they will have the magnanimity and candor to do me justice. I ask nothing else. Those principles laid down I shall stand by. I shall die, if it is necessary, in their defence. W. K. VERBEKE. At a meeting of the Good Will Fire Company, held on the evening of the 8th inst., the following preamble and resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, The Legislature of Pennsylvania have determined to raise the American flag on the dome of the State Capitol on the 22d inst., and having received an invitation to participate in the ceremonies, the Good Will Fire Company desiring to express their love and veneration for the flag of their country, of their true devotion to it, and of their willingness, if necessary, to die in its de-fence; yet, considering the unfortunate condition of the country, when conciliation and mutual forbearance should be cultivated and exercised by every one to the fullest extent, and as some might view the act as a retaliatory measure against their brethren of the South, for raising the Palmetto

flag; therefore be it

Resolved by the Good Will Fire Company, That, while they love their country's flag, and pledge themselves with their lives to uphold it whenever and wherever it may be in peril; but desiring their country's peace, prosperity and welfare, and that concord and fraternal feeling may be revived among their fellow-countrymen, and fearing that the act of raising the flag at the present time would have a tendency to aggravate, rather than soothe the unkind feelings unhappily existing between the North and the South. They therefore deem it proper and expedient not to take part in the ceremonies, which, under other circumstances, they might enter into with pleasure, and consider it an honor to participate therein.

Attest: G. B. Egle, Secretary.

THE ADAMS EXPRESS .- According to the correspondent of the Philadelphia Sunday Dispatch, the bill for chartering the "Guarantee Express Company" is merely a bill to "pinch" the Adams Express Company, and may be regarded as one of the tricks of legislation. The correspondent says:

"There is a bill pending in the House to charter the "Guarantee Express Company." After due examination, I have come to the conclusion that it is a "pinch bill," and its object is to make the Adams Express Company "come down." I hope the company will adopt the motto, "Millions for defence, but not one cent for tribute." I know that the company is looked upon as a large money-making monopoly, but it is only by those who do not understand its vast ramifications. I have sometimes myself profaned at what I considered an exhorbitant charge for freight on a small package, but it was owing to ignorance.

"The Adams Express Company is an organization under the limited co-partnership laws of the State of New York, and does business under an entire and absolute individual liability principle. If they agree to carry a thousand dollars or a grind-stone for you, they are responsible for its safe delivery. They have lost thousands upon thousands of dol lars by robbery, fire and accident, and yet they have never failed to reimburse any man who has had a claim against them. This has established a confidence in them as common carriers which no cry of monopoly can ever shake. The enormous amount of money they pay to railroad companies, and their own agents and employees, together with the losses they sustain, renders it doubtful about their profits being so enormous as they are generally computed. If, however, a charter was asked for by a company in good faith to establish a healthy competition, I should wish them success; but such a transparent humbug as the Guarantee arrangement deserves the condemnation of every honest man opposed to black-mailing. Cel. Bingham has been here, and has so far enlightened some of the members of the object contained in the bill, that ${f I}$ am pretty well satisfied that it will go overboard."

Since the above was in type, we have received the Philadalphia Inquirer, which makes allusion to the matter, and states that the limited co-partnership law of this State and New York are alike -based upon a law of France, which makes the co-partners liable only to the amount they each invest in the co-partnership. This is a legal interpretation to the law not justified by equity or reasonable sound sense. If such an assumption were tenable, the laws of co-partnership would relieve men from the necessity of going to the Legislature to procure charters for corporations, which is always done with an eye single to getting rid of the individual liability clause, over and above the amount of stock subscribed.

THE INFLUENCE OF A GOOD WOMAN .- I sometimes think, says a modern essayist, the influence of a good woman is greater than that of a good man; there are so many avenues to the heart left open to her gentle approach, which would be instantly barred up at the sound of rougher footsteps. One may tell anything to a good woman. In her presence pride sleeps or is disarmed. The old child-feeling comes back upon the world-weary man, and he knows not why he has reposed the unsought confidence which has so lightened his heart; why he goes forth ashamed that one so feeble is so much mightier; why he could fly from the foe for whose approach he so courageously tarries; why he thinks of the dagger, or pistol, or poison cup, while she, accepting the fierce blast of misfortune, meekly bows her head till the whirlwind be overpast-believing, hoping, knowing, that Heaven's bright smile of sunshine will break through at last.

The world-weary man looks on with wonder, reverencing, yet not comprehending. How can he comprehend—he who stands in his pride, with his panting soul uncovered, in the scorehing Sahara of reason, and then complains that no dew falls, no shower descends, no buds, blossoms, nor fruit cheer him? How can he who faces with folded arms and defiant attitude comprehend the twining loveclasp and satisfied heart-rest which comes only to love? Thank God, woman is not too proud to take what she so needs; that she does not plant her foot, and refuse to stir, till her Guide tells her why Me is leading her by this path instead of that; and though every footprint be marked with her heart's bleed, she does not relax her grasp, or doubt His faith! Well may her glance, her touch, the rustle of her garments even, have power to soothe and bless; well may the soft touch of such upon brows knotted with the world's strife bring coolness and peace. Oh, woman ! with your arms akimbo, leave it to profane Delilahs to hold Samson by shearing his locks! Be strong-minded as you will, if only you be pure and gentle-hearted!

A Manchester paper says that a new article of commerce introduced by the late French treaty is the "bois duree." This "bois duree," or hardened wood, which has been improperly described as wood softened and then hardened, is made from sawdust, which, under the influence of a high temsawdust, which, under the influence of a high temsawdust, which, under the influence of a high temperature and the enormous pressure of six hundred tons, acquires a hardness a good deal exceeding that of wood. It is of a very fine grain, and fears no atmospherical variation; but its principal merit Suicide.-A man by the name of Krause, committed suicide in Allentown on Wednesday night, by hanging himself in a stable belonging to one of the hotels in that place. Cause temporary insanity or more properly, mental dejection produced by destitution and want. He was about eighty years of age, and was, at one time, in good circumstances, and a respected citizen of Allentown.

At a meeting of the Good Will Fire Company, the following resolution was adopted: Resolved, That the members of the Good Will Engine Company unite with the members of the different fire companies of this city in the ceremo-nies attendant upon the hoisting of the American flag on the dome of the Capitol of Pennsylvania, ordered by the Legislature, now in session, tetake place on the 22d day of the present month—that eing the anniversary of the birthday of Washington, the founder of our glorious Union.

STEEL PENS AND PARALYLIS .- At the examina tion of the Framingham Normal School recently, President Felton spoke in strong terms of the serious effects of steel pens and of their tendency to injure or paralyze the nerves of the arm. The proof of the pudding is in the eating of it, and we are consequently prepared to say that steel pens have never hurt our right arm, after a constant practice of twenty years. To be sure, much of our long experience has been gained in the agreeable duty of writing notices of the elegant garments for gentlemen and youths, made at the Brown Stone Clothing Hall of Rockhill & Wilson, Nos. 603 and 605 Chesnut street, above Sixth, Philadelphia.

Fox's PATENT PARAGON UMBRELLAS .- In the manufacture of an umbrella (an article equally indispensable in this climate to health as well as comfort,) weight is a most important consideration.

Numerous as have been the improvements made in them since their first introduction into this country, about the year 1780, until the Paragon frame was invented by Mr. Fox, of London, and patented by him, it was considered impossible to combine extreme lightness with requisite strength. The novel principle adopted by Mr. Fox in its construction, that in a recent trial in the Court of Queen's Bench, in connection with this patent, the Paragon frame was proved to be the lightest ever made, being less than half the weight of whalebone, although considerably stronger.

Messrs. Fox & Co. have made arrangements to supply the American trade, and at low cash prices. It is well to state that they can be had in silk and gingham, and can be bought at Mr. F. Lee's umbrella and cane manufactory. He has also a large assortment of gold, silver and fancy headed canes, which he will sell at lower prices than can be had elsewhere, No. 74 Market street, near the Post
