BLAIR COUNTY.—The Democratic Committee of Blair county met in Hollidaysburg on Tuesday, and elected the following delegates to the Democratic State Convention: Senatorial, Thaddeus Banks, Esq.; Representatives, Col. John Cresswell, Jr., Maj. A. J. Crissman and James Lowther.

THE FLAG.—Last evening the flag staff—a ponderous affair, by the way—together with ropes, blocks and other fixtures necessary to erect it, were delivered at the Capitol. The flag and fixtures, together with all the expenses that will be incurred in its erection, will cost the State some four or five thousand dollars.

St. VALENTINE'S DAY.—Yesterday was St. Valentine's Day. There was a time when the mails used to groan beneath the missives sent by love-sick swains and sentimental Misses, and extra clerks were pressed into service at the prominent Post Office. But the custom of sending valentines has become almost obsolete, having long been regarded as one of those which were "more honored in the breach than the observance."

ON EXHIBITION.—A section model of the great Donovan bridge will remain on exhibition at the Brady House for a few days. This is the bridge which came in such strong competition with the tubular bridge on the Great Western Railroad in Canada, when the latter was adopted by the great Engineer, Stevenson, at the instance of others, when his own judgment preferred the Donovan bridge. Engineers and scientific men are invited to examine the model.

COMMITTEE OF INVITATION.—Messrs. Bound, Ketcham, London and Schindler, of the Senate, and Messrs. Peirce, Williams, Armstrong, Tracy, Irwin and Patterson, of the House, were yesterday appointed a joint committee to visit Pittsburgh for the purpose of tendering an invitation to the President elect to visit Harrisburg. They left this morning by the early train. Mr. Welsh, of the Senate, and Mr. Hill of the House were appointed, but refused the honor.

RAILROAD ACCIDENTS IN 1860.—There were 74 accidents on the railways of the United States last year, by which 57 persons were killed and 315 wounded. This does not include accidents to persons less than half that of any year since 1862, and the number wounded were also less. There has been a gradual decline in numbers of killed and wounded for eight years, indicating more care gained by experience. In the past eight years there have been 977 accidents to trains, by which 1,166 were killed and 3,926 wounded. So says Hunt's Magazine.

RE-COINAGE OF CENTS.—The annexed circular has been issued by the director of the U. S. Mint at Philadelphia:

The regulations heretofore prescribed, authorizing the payment of the expenses of transportation of the old copper cents of the U. S. to the mint, will cease on and after the 20th inst. The cents of the new issue will be paid out at the mint in exchange for any of the gold and silver coins of the United States, and also in exchange for the old copper cents if delivered at the mint. The reasonable expense of transportation of the new cents in sums not less than $20 thus exchanged, will be paid by the mint as heretofore.

COAL-BURNING RAILROAD LOCOMOTIVES.—A Schenectady built locomotive, No. 192, owned by the N. Y. C. & R. R. Co., has lately been altered to a coal burning engine at Syracuse, under the supervision of Dyer Williams, Master Mechanic.

The engine has made several trips between Syracuse and Rochester, and the Union says it works quite satisfactorily. The burning of coal is considered quite an improvement and a saving of expense over wood. Two tons of soft bituminous coal are used in making the trip from Syracuse to Rochester, while the engines of the old style use from five to six cords of wood in going the same distance.

GOLD BY THE YARD.—A cubic inch of gold is worth one hundred and forty-six dollars; a cubic foot, two hundred and fifty-two thousand two hundred and eighty-eight dollars; and a cubic yard, six millions eight hundred and seventy-six dollars; which, welded in one mass, would be contained in a cube of twenty-three feet. We would like the individual who made these calculations to let us know just how many elegant suits for gentlemen and youth, would be bought with a chunk of gold about as large as a good sized piece of chalk, at the Brown Stone Clothing Hall of Rock-hill & Wilson, Nos. 608 and 605 Chestnut street, above Sixth, Philadelphia.

SMOKELESS COAL-BURNING LOCOMOTIVES.—It is known that in England the law requires that railway engines shall consume their own smoke. The London Artisan describes one of the modes devised for realizing the end in view. The whole apparatus is exterior to the fire-box, and therefore, not exposed to heat, and is controlled in the most perfect manner by a single stop-cock. Air is admitted, above the fuel, by means of one or more rows of tubes, inserted through the walls of the fire-box and jets of steam are projected through the air tubes from nozzles, one-sixteenth of an inch in diameter, in small steam pipes outside the fire-box, to increase the quantity and force of the air admitted above the fuel, in order to consume the smoke. The jets of steam are used principally when the engine is standing, with the aid of a light draught from a ring jet in the chimney, to carry off the products of combustion, and these may be shut off when not required. The supply of air through the tubes may also be regulated by dampers. The grate bars are placed close together, with narrow air spaces, and the ash-pan and the damper are tightly fitted. It is stated that this plan requires a less weight of coal than the engines formerly did of coke, to do the same duty.

OIL.—The Sunbury and Erie Railroad, even in its unfinished condition, is deriving revenue from a source that was not thought of when the road was projected, and is scarcely appreciated, even now. We refer to the oil wells that have been opened in Warren, Crawford and Erie counties within the past year. Some of these oil wells are within short distances of the railroad, and branch railroads will doubtless be made to reach them and thus obviate the necessity of hauling the oil over the rough country roads.

The annual report of the Company shows that during the year 1860 no less than 22,119 barrels of rock oil were sent over the road to Erie. The progressive monthly increase in the business is shown in the following statement:

Table with 2 columns: Month and Barrels. January: 63, February: 115, March: 414, April: 1156, May: 777, June: 1423, July: 2340, August: 2339, September: 2775, October: 3069, November: 6431, December: 6431.

For the year - - - - - 22,119

It has been ascertained that during the month of January just closed, the number of barrels sent over the road exceeded 14,500. This December showed more than double of November, and January more than double of December. Such rapid augmentations of a business that was scarcely dreamed of a year ago, partake of the character of phenomena, and set at defiance all calculations for the future. But even with vague estimates, it is easy to see that when the Sunbury and Erie Railroad is completed, the business of the oil region, the transportation of the oil to market, the furnishing of machinery, tools, supplies, and the carrying of passengers interested in the region, will give the road a large revenue from a source of which the originators of the enterprise had no conception.

Philadelphia is gaining nothing by this extraordinary development of hidden wealth in North-western Pennsylvania, because the Sunbury and Erie Railroad is not completed. The oil is all carried to Erie, by railroad, or down the Allegheny to Pittsburgh. The supplies for the region are chiefly obtained from New York, and this must continue until the gap of unfinished railroad between Wheaton Station and Warren is closed up. So, too, we must continue to be deprived of the great bulk of the Lake trade, until we bring Erie into direct communication with Philadelphia. New York must continue to receive not only that, but the chief portion of the business of the oil region of Pennsylvania, the supplying of which bids fair to be as valuable a business as the supplying of a young California with the necessities of life.

Thus every year is furnishing new proofs of the necessity of finishing the Sunbury and Erie Railroad. But there are financial difficulties in the way that are insuperable, unless relief is furnished by the State Legislature. The form of relief asked for is shown in the Company's annual report, and we hope that, as a simple and essential measure of State policy, the Legislature will grant what the Company asks.

DESCRIPTION OF RIVERS.—Southey has remarked that rivers may be considered—Physically, geographically and mathematically; Politically and commercially; Historically; Poetically and pictorially; Morally and religiously.

In the earth's structure they have been aptly enough called its veins, just as the mountains and the mighty masses of granite represent its bones; and, like mountain chains, rivers mark out nature's kingdoms and provinces, and are the physical dividers and sub-dividers of continents. Some of the most picturesque features of natural scenery are obviously due to the action of rivers; and in many a mountain gorge and rocky valley we see them still exerting their plastic force in wearing down solid rock, and carrying the debris towards the sea. In mountainous countries some of the grandest scenery of glens and ravines are due to a river having forced its currents; and many a rich and beautiful valley through which a river now calmly flows seems to have been once either stony wilderness or ancient lake. Rome would not have crowned her seven hills if the waters of the ancient lake of the Roman plain had not found an outlet in some pre-historic age through the gorge in which the Tiber flows. The flowery vale of Tempe is said to have been inundated before Ossa and Olympus were separated, as Pliny says, "by divine agency," and gave an outlet to the river Peneus; but we need not go as far as Thessaly for instances where a river flows between approximating precipices, which seem to have been rended asunder by an earthquake, or some giant power.

The geologist sees in rivers "the faithful and continuous chronologers of the earth," the recorders of ages anterior to human records, and even to the existence of man; for, by their endless and uniform flow, they register in visible characters in their channels and valleys successive changes of by-gone time. He is, indeed, led to startling conclusions with regard to the lapse of pre-historic ages, and the antiquity of existing continents, by studying the action of the great rivers. For instance (but it is, perhaps, the grandest example that could be given), the seven hundred thousand tons of water which rush over the precipice at the Falls of Niagara every minute are estimated to carry away a foot of the cliff yearly, and the cataract having evidently once been at Queenstown, four miles below, it has been concluded—assuming this rate of destruction to have been uniform—that the fall has been twenty thousand years in receding to its present site. Again, we see immense deposits accumulating at the mouths of great rivers, and tracts of new land in course of formation—as, for example, at the mouth of the Rhone—by the debris and shingle carried by the river towards the sea; and in the extent of these formations we have, in many instances, proof of the lapse of immense periods of time; thus it has been calculated that the "delta" of the Mississippi, which is fourteen thousand square miles in extent, cannot have been formed in less than sixty thousand years.
