

RATES OF ADVERTISING.

Four lines or less constitute half a square. Ten lines or more than four, constitute a square. Half a square, one week, $0.25. One square, one week, $0.50. Half a square, one month, $1.00. One square, one month, $2.00. Half a square, three months, $2.50. One square, three months, $5.00. Half a square, six months, $4.00. One square, six months, $10.00. Half a square, one year, $6.00. One square, one year, $12.00.

Books, Stationery, &c.

SCHOOL BOOKS.—School Directors, Teachers, Parents, Scholars, and others, in want of School Books, School Stationery, &c., will find a complete assortment at M. M. POLLOCK & SON'S, 100 N. MARKET STREET, Harrisburg, comprising in part the following: READERS—McGuffey's, Parker's, Cobb's, Angell's, SPELLING BOOKS—McGuffey's, Cobb's, Webster's, BROWN'S, Bury's, Combs's, ENGLISH GRAMMARS—Ballou's, Smith's, Woodbridge's, Montague's, Tappan's, Hart's, Wall's, HIGGINS'S—Grimshaw's, Davison's, Frost's, Williams's, Goodrich's, Pinnoke's, Goldsmith's and Clark's, ARITHMETIC'S—Greenleaf's, Stoddard's, Emerson's, Pike's, Rose's, Colburn's, Smith and Duke's, Davis's, ALGEBRA'S—Greenleaf's, Davis's, Day's, Briggs's, GEOMETRY'S—Walker's School, Cobb's, Walker's, Worcester's Comprehensive, Worcester's Primary, Worcester's Primary, Worcester's High School, Webster's Quarto, &c.

JUST RECEIVED AT SCHEFFER'S BOOKSTORE, ADAMANTINE SLATES OF VARIOUS SIZES AND PRICES, Which, for beauty and use, cannot be excelled. REMEMBER THE PLACE, SCHEFFER'S BOOKSTORE, NO. 15 MARKET STREET.

NEW BOOKS! JUST RECEIVED "SEAL AND SALT" by the author of "Wide, Wide World," "Dollars and Cents," &c. "HISTORY OF METHODISM," by A. Stevens, LL.D. For sale at SCHEFFER'S BOOKSTORE, No. 15 Market St.

UP TOWN! PATENT WEIGH CARTS. For the convenience of my numerous town customers, I have established, in connection with my old yard, a Branch Office and Office in a line with the Pennsylvania Canal, having the office formerly occupied by Mr. E. Harris, where consumers of Coal in that vicinity can purchase their Coal by the TON, WITHOUT EXTRA CHARGE FOR HAULING, and in any quantity they may desire, as low as can be purchased elsewhere.

LETTER, CAP, NOTE PAPERS, Pens, Holders, Pencils, Envelopes, Binding Wax, &c. of the best quality, at low prices, direct from the manufacturers, at SCHEFFER'S CHAP BOOKSTORE.

LAW BOOKS! LAW BOOKS!—A general assortment of LAW BOOKS, all the State Reports and Standard Elementary Works, with many of the old English Reports, scarce and rare, together with a large assortment of Law Stationery, Books, at very low prices, at the office of SCHEFFER'S CHAP BOOKSTORE, No. 15 Market Street, Harrisburg.

Miscellaneous.

AN ARRIVAL OF NEW GOODS APPROPRIATE TO THE SEASON! SILK FANS! LINN PAPER FANS! FANS!!! ANOTHER AND SPLENDID LOT OF SLICED FISHING RODS! Trout Flies, Gut and Hair Snoods, Grass Lines, Silk and Hair Plated Lines, and a general assortment of FISHING TACKLE!

WALKING CANES! Which we will sell as cheap as the cheapest! Silver Head Lined, Sworn Hickory Fancy Canes! Canes! Canes! Canes! KELLER'S DRUG AND FANCY STORE, No. 91 Market Street, South side, one door east of Fourth street job.

B. J. HARRIS, WORKER IN TIN, SHEET IRON, AND METALLIC ROOFING, Second Street, below Chestnut, HARRISBURG, PA.

FISH!!! FISH!!! MACKEREL, (Nos. 1, 2 and 3.) SALMON, (very superior.) SHAD, (Mass and very fine.) HERRING, (extra large.) COD FISH, SMOKED HERRING, (extra Digby.) FOOTER HERRING, GARDINES AND ANCHOVIES.

CHAMPAGNE WINES! D'UO DE MONTREUILLO, REIMS, FRANCE. CHARLES HEIDTBECK, GISELERS & CO., REIMS, FRANCE. ANCIENNE-ILLERY MOUSSEUX, REIMS, FRANCE. SPARKLING MUSELLE, MUMM & CO.'S, REIMS, FRANCE. VERZENAY, REIMS, FRANCE. CABINET.

HICKORY WOOD!—A SUPERIOR LOT just received, and for sale in quantities to suit purchasers. Also, OAK AND PINE constantly on hand at the lowest prices. WM. DOCK, JR., & CO.

FAMILY BIBLES, from $1 to $10, strong and handsomely bound, printed on good paper, with elegant clear new SHEFFER'S Chap Book type. GRANBERRIES!!!—A SPLENDID LOT just received by WM. DOCK, JR., & CO.

FOR a superior and cheap TABLE or SALAD OIL go to KELLER'S DRUG STORE.

THE Fruit Growers' Handbook—by W. W. MERRILL, wholesale and retail at SCHEFFER'S Bookstore.

SPERM CANDLES.—A large supply just received by WM. DOCK, JR., & CO.

KELLER'S DRUG STORE is the place to be had the best assortment of Porte Monnaies.

The Patriot & Union

HARRISBURG, PA., FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 15, 1861. VOL. 3. NO. 141.

Coal.

TO THE PUBLIC! JOHN TILL'S COAL YARD, SOUTH SECOND STREET, BELOW PRATT'S ROLLING MILL, HARRISBURG, PA.

Where he has constantly on hand LYKENS VALLEY BROKEN, EGG, STOVE AND NUT COAL.

ALL OF THE BEST QUALITY. It will be delivered to consumers clean, and full weight warranted.

CONSUMERS GIVE ME A CALL FOR YOUR WINTER SUPPLY. Orders left at my house, in Walnut street, near Fifth; or at Brubaker's, North street; J. L. Speltz's, Market Street; Wm. Bostick's, corner of Second and South streets; and John Lingle's, Second and Mulberry streets, will receive prompt attention.

COAL! COAL! ONLY YARD IN TOWN THAT DELIVERS COAL BY THE PATENT WEIGH CARTS! NOW IS THE TIME

For every family to get in their supply of Coal for the winter—weighed at their door by the Patent Weigh Cart. The accuracy of these Carts is no dispute, and they never get out of order, as is frequently the case of the Platform Scales; besides, the consumer has the satisfaction of proving the weight of his Coal at his own house.

I have a large supply of Coal on hand, consisting of S. M. CO.'S LYKENS VALLEY COAL all sizes, LYKENS VALLEY do " WILKESBARRE do " BITUMINOUS BROAD TOP do.

UP TOWN! PATENT WEIGH CARTS. For the convenience of my numerous town customers, I have established, in connection with my old yard, a Branch Office and Office in a line with the Pennsylvania Canal, having the office formerly occupied by Mr. E. Harris, where consumers of Coal in that vicinity can purchase their Coal by the TON, WITHOUT EXTRA CHARGE FOR HAULING, and in any quantity they may desire, as low as can be purchased elsewhere.

LETTER, CAP, NOTE PAPERS, Pens, Holders, Pencils, Envelopes, Binding Wax, &c. of the best quality, at low prices, direct from the manufacturers, at SCHEFFER'S CHAP BOOKSTORE.

LAW BOOKS! LAW BOOKS!—A general assortment of LAW BOOKS, all the State Reports and Standard Elementary Works, with many of the old English Reports, scarce and rare, together with a large assortment of Law Stationery, Books, at very low prices, at the office of SCHEFFER'S CHAP BOOKSTORE, No. 15 Market Street, Harrisburg.

B. J. HARRIS, WORKER IN TIN, SHEET IRON, AND METALLIC ROOFING, Second Street, below Chestnut, HARRISBURG, PA.

FISH!!! FISH!!! MACKEREL, (Nos. 1, 2 and 3.) SALMON, (very superior.) SHAD, (Mass and very fine.) HERRING, (extra large.) COD FISH, SMOKED HERRING, (extra Digby.) FOOTER HERRING, GARDINES AND ANCHOVIES.

CHAMPAGNE WINES! D'UO DE MONTREUILLO, REIMS, FRANCE. CHARLES HEIDTBECK, GISELERS & CO., REIMS, FRANCE. ANCIENNE-ILLERY MOUSSEUX, REIMS, FRANCE. SPARKLING MUSELLE, MUMM & CO.'S, REIMS, FRANCE. VERZENAY, REIMS, FRANCE. CABINET.

HICKORY WOOD!—A SUPERIOR LOT just received, and for sale in quantities to suit purchasers. Also, OAK AND PINE constantly on hand at the lowest prices. WM. DOCK, JR., & CO.

FAMILY BIBLES, from $1 to $10, strong and handsomely bound, printed on good paper, with elegant clear new SHEFFER'S Chap Book type. GRANBERRIES!!!—A SPLENDID LOT just received by WM. DOCK, JR., & CO.

FOR a superior and cheap TABLE or SALAD OIL go to KELLER'S DRUG STORE.

THE Fruit Growers' Handbook—by W. W. MERRILL, wholesale and retail at SCHEFFER'S Bookstore.

SPERM CANDLES.—A large supply just received by WM. DOCK, JR., & CO.

KELLER'S DRUG STORE is the place to be had the best assortment of Porte Monnaies.

The Patriot & Union.

FRIDAY MORNING, FEB. 15, 1861.

THE NATIONAL CRISIS.

It is stated that the Hon. Reverdy Johnson's resolution, amended in the following form, has, in this Conference, been carried by 10 to 9, Iowa and Massachusetts not being present:

"Congress shall have no power to legislate upon the subject of servitude anywhere, except to perform its duties under the Constitution in respect to fugitives from service or labor, and to suppress the foreign slave trade; nor shall any Territorial Government have power to sanction or protect involuntary servitude in any Territory north of the southern boundary of Kansas, and the northern boundary of New Mexico, nor to prohibit, or impair, or affect the holding of persons to service or labor in any Territory, south of said line, in the same manner as such persons were so held and protected under the laws of the State or Territory from which they were removed."

This vote was mixed, and only signified a preference for the pending proposition over others which had been presented. Several who voted negatively, expressed their willingness to accept it as a finality, if nothing better could be done. Mr. Johnson's resolution is intended to be added to a portion of the Guthrie plan.

THE SOUTHERN CONFEDERATION—VIEWS OF THE PRESS. The press of the seceding States generally profess to be pleased at the result of the deliberations of the Southern Congress at Montgomery. The choice of Messrs. Davis and Stephens as President and Vice-President of the "Confederated States of North America," is warmly commended.

The idea that we have destroyed the government of our fathers can no longer obtain. We have resurrected it from the ruins of time and political passions, and placed it once more on the high way to greatness and renown. It had been abandoned, debauched and destroyed by others; and for the South has been reserved the honor of restoring it to its pristine purity and vigor. All else is a dead carcass and a mockery—let those adhere to it who will.

We hope the convention will now do another act in keeping with what has already come from their hands. They have revived the government and constitution of their fathers; let them rear aloft over that government the dishonored flag of the heroes of other days—the Stars and Stripes—and call upon the friends of justice and equal rights to rally around it. It is ours by right, and it should not be left to desecration by vandal hands. Those glorious old times, "too," "Hail Columbia!" and the "Star Spangled Banner," are ours, and we should wear them from tongues that dishonor and pollute their soul-stirring strains. All these come from the South, and we have never seen the day when we were not willing to fight for our property in them, if need be at the cannon's mouth.

The new confederacy thus formed by the South, on the principles that entered into the old confederacy, let us call on our brethren of every State, both north and south, who are willing to subscribe to those principles and preserve them in their purity, to join us, and become, each, a luminary in the grand constellation of 1861. On this latter point, though, we would annex a qualification, and press it upon the convention now in session, with the hope that it will be made a feature of the new constitution. No State should be admitted into the Union except by a vote of two thirds of both branches of the Congress. At a future day we may enlarge on this suggestion, and show its necessity.

The Charleston Courier, speaking of the election of Mr. Davis, remarks: His claims and qualifications marked him for the Presidency without regard to geographical position, but the choice is commended to increased approval by the fact that it bestows a married honor on a citizen of Mississippi, a State that will maintain its choice for the place in the "Confederated States of America."

Georgia had strong claims for a high place of representation in the new government, and that honor has been given in the person of a citizen, who more than any other prominent representative of the South, commands the confidence of all parties, and the affectionate admiration of friends. Alexander H. Stephens is a statesman of whom any State or people might well be proud, and to whom any one could safely trust any power or responsibilities.

We congratulate our Southern Representatives in Montgomery, on the eminent propriety and acceptableness of their choice for the highest offices of the Provisional Government, that must be charged with the common destiny and defense of the Confederate States, and we receive this election as an omen for good. We hope to hear soon of the complete organization and inauguration of the Provisional Government, charged with all the powers needed for asserting practically the rights and interests of the Southern league, and claiming the recognition of other powers.

APPAIRS IN CHARLESTON. Lieut. Hall, bearer of dispatches from and for Major Anderson, reached the city on Saturday on his return from Washington. He proceeded to Fort Sumpter, accompanied by Col. F. J. Moses, Jr., and M. A. Moore, of the executive staff.

A photographer, by special permission of the Governor, visited Fort Sumpter on Friday, and succeeded in taking several life-like likenesses of Major Anderson and a group of the officers under his command. He offers to "take" Fort Sumpter at the shortest notice.

The Mercury announces that at an early day it is expected that the South Carolina State Convention will be summoned together again, with a view to the action of the Montgomery Convention or Congress, and without any reference to Fort Sumpter.

William Henry Treason, Esq., has been appointed commissioner to Tennessee on the part of South Carolina. The Marion Artillery, Capt. King, numbering 55 men, were transferred from Castle Pinckney to Fort Johnson on Sunday. Major Wagner's command at Castle Pinckney now consists of Company A, German Artillery, numbering 60 men. Three companies were ordered on special service on Saturday and Sunday along the coast.

A salute was fired in Charleston on Saturday in honor of the adoption of the constitution of the Southern Confederacy. FLAG OF LOUISIANA—ORIGIN OF THE PELICAN. In the Louisiana Convention on the 4th inst. Mr. Elgee offered a resolution that a committee of three be appointed to report upon the adoption of a flag for the State of Louisiana.

Mr. Elgee stated that the Pelican flag at present in use to represent the State, and adopted by the Governor in 1818, had no legal or legislative sanction, and that, in fact, Louisiana never had a flag of her own. He read that the meaning of the symbol, when adopted by the Governor who designed it, was this: That the mother pelican represented the maternal care and fostering aid of the United States Government, whilst the little pelicans represented the States. It was true that Louisiana made the symbol good, by the ample manner in which she had always fed her young; but if it were true, as he had read, that the big pelican represented the United States Government, the sooner we abolish the pelican the better. The resolution was adopted unanimously.

A STRANGE SCENE. A strange scene will be presented at Washington on the 4th of March—a scene never contemplated and never before witnessed. The paid troops of the Federal Government will be collected together, not to protect and defend the country from an invasion by a foreign enemy, but to secure the inauguration of an Abolition President against a real or supposed opposition from citizens of the commonwealth, over which he is to preside. Hitherto, patriotic volunteers from all sections have been proud to honor such occasions with their presence. Now, the President elect is to ride into power, not with the volunteer elation of national patriotism, but as the conquering hero of a military despotism with a national army at his bidding, to protect him from the imagined interference of unwilling and estranged countrymen.

was swallowed by a noble to whom he confided it—swallowed by the faithful noble rather than delivered to the robbers, and was found in his body, which was disinterred for the purpose of recovering it. The Duke of Brunswick dares not leave Paris, at any period of the year; his diamonds keep him chained there. He dares not sleep from home (some people reckon this liberty of pillow one of the great franchises of Paris) a single night. Then, he lives in a house constructed not so much for comfort as security. It is burglar proof, surrounded on every side by a high wall; the wall itself is surmounted by a lofty iron railing, defended by innumerable sharp spear-heads, which are so contrived that if any person touches any one of them, a chime of bells begins instantly to ring an alarm; this iron railing costs him $14,127. He keeps his diamonds in a safe, built in a thick wall; his bed is placed against it, that no burglar may break into it without killing, or at least waking him, and that he may amuse himself with them without leaving his bed. This safe is lined with granite and iron, the lock has a secret which must be known before they can be opened; if they are opened by violence, a discharge of firearms takes place, which will inevitably kill the burglar, and at the same time a chime of bells in every room in his house are set ringing. He has but one window in his bed-room; the sash is of the stoutest iron; the shutters are of thick sheet iron. The ceiling of his room is plated with iron several inches thick, and so is the floor. The door opening into it is of solid sheet iron, and cannot be entered unless one be master of the secret combination of the lock. A case of a dozen six-barrelled revolvers, in which he keeps a secret which must be known before they can be opened; if they are opened by violence, a discharge of firearms takes place, which will inevitably kill the burglar, and at the same time a chime of bells in every room in his house are set ringing. He has but one window in his bed-room; the sash is of the stoutest iron; the shutters are of thick sheet iron. The ceiling of his room is plated with iron several inches thick, and so is the floor. The door opening into it is of solid sheet iron, and cannot be entered unless one be master of the secret combination of the lock. A case of a dozen six-barrelled revolvers, in which he keeps a secret which must be known before they can be opened; if they are opened by violence, a discharge of firearms takes place, which will inevitably kill the burglar, and at the same time a chime of bells in every room in his house are set ringing. He has but one window in his bed-room; the sash is of the stoutest iron; the shutters are of thick sheet iron. The ceiling of his room is plated with iron several inches thick, and so is the floor. The door opening into it is of solid sheet iron, and cannot be entered unless one be master of the secret combination of the lock. A case of a dozen six-barrelled revolvers, in which he keeps a secret which must be known before they can be opened; if they are opened by violence, a discharge of firearms takes place, which will inevitably kill the burglar, and at the same time a chime of bells in every room in his house are set ringing. He has but one window in his bed-room; the sash is of the stoutest iron; the shutters are of thick sheet iron. The ceiling of his room is plated with iron several inches thick, and so is the floor. The door opening into it is of solid sheet iron, and cannot be entered unless one be master of the secret combination of the lock. A case of a dozen six-barrelled revolvers, in which he keeps a secret which must be known before they can be opened; if they are opened by violence, a discharge of firearms takes place, which will inevitably kill the burglar, and at the same time a chime of bells in every room in his house are set ringing. He has but one window in his bed-room; the sash is of the stoutest iron; the shutters are of thick sheet iron. The ceiling of his room is plated with iron several inches thick, and so is the floor. The door opening into it is of solid sheet iron, and cannot be entered unless one be master of the secret combination of the lock. A case of a dozen six-barrelled revolvers, in which he keeps a secret which must be known before they can be opened; if they are opened by violence, a discharge of firearms takes place, which will inevitably kill the burglar, and at the same time a chime of bells in every room in his house are set ringing. He has but one window in his bed-room; the sash is of the stoutest iron; the shutters are of thick sheet iron. The ceiling of his room is plated with iron several inches thick, and so is the floor. The door opening into it is of solid sheet iron, and cannot be entered unless one be master of the secret combination of the lock. A case of a dozen six-barrelled revolvers, in which he keeps a secret which must be known before they can be opened; if they are opened by violence, a discharge of firearms takes place, which will inevitably kill the burglar, and at the same time a chime of bells in every room in his house are set ringing. He has but one window in his bed-room; the sash is of the stoutest iron; the shutters are of thick sheet iron. The ceiling of his room is plated with iron several inches thick, and so is the floor. The door opening into it is of solid sheet iron, and cannot be entered unless one be master of the secret combination of the lock. A case of a dozen six-barrelled revolvers, in which he keeps a secret which must be known before they can be opened; if they are opened by violence, a discharge of firearms takes place, which will inevitably kill the burglar, and at the same time a chime of bells in every room in his house are set ringing. He has but one window in his bed-room; the sash is of the stoutest iron; the shutters are of thick sheet iron. The ceiling of his room is plated with iron several inches thick, and so is the floor. The door opening into it is of solid sheet iron, and cannot be entered unless one be master of the secret combination of the lock. A case of a dozen six-barrelled revolvers, in which he keeps a secret which must be known before they can be opened; if they are opened by violence, a discharge of firearms takes place, which will inevitably kill the burglar, and at the same time a chime of bells in every room in his house are set ringing. He has but one window in his bed-room; the sash is of the stoutest iron; the shutters are of thick sheet iron. The ceiling of his room is plated with iron several inches thick, and so is the floor. The door opening into it is of solid sheet iron, and cannot be entered unless one be master of the secret combination of the lock. A case of a dozen six-barrelled revolvers, in which he keeps a secret which must be known before they can be opened; if they are opened by violence, a discharge of firearms takes place, which will inevitably kill the burglar, and at the same time a chime of bells in every room in his house are set ringing. He has but one window in his bed-room; the sash is of the stoutest iron; the shutters are of thick sheet iron. The ceiling of his room is plated with iron several inches thick, and so is the floor. The door opening into it is of solid sheet iron, and cannot be entered unless one be master of the secret combination of the lock. A case of a dozen six-barrelled revolvers, in which he keeps a secret which must be known before they can be opened; if they are opened by violence, a discharge of firearms takes place, which will inevitably kill the burglar, and at the same time a chime of bells in every room in his house are set ringing. He has but one window in his bed-room; the sash is of the stoutest iron; the shutters are of thick sheet iron. The ceiling of his room is plated with iron several inches thick, and so is the floor. The door opening into it is of solid sheet iron, and cannot be entered unless one be master of the secret combination of the lock. A case of a dozen six-barrelled revolvers, in which he keeps a secret which must be known before they can be opened; if they are opened by violence, a discharge of firearms takes place, which will inevitably kill the burglar, and at the same time a chime of bells in every room in his house are set ringing. He has but one window in his bed-room; the sash is of the stoutest iron; the shutters are of thick sheet iron. The ceiling of his room is plated with iron several inches thick, and so is the floor. The door opening into it is of solid sheet iron, and cannot be entered unless one be master of the secret combination of the lock. A case of a dozen six-barrelled revolvers, in which he keeps a secret which must be known before they can be opened; if they are opened by violence, a discharge of firearms takes place, which will inevitably kill the burglar, and at the same time a chime of bells in every room in his house are set ringing. He has but one window in his bed-room; the sash is of the stoutest iron; the shutters are of thick sheet iron. The ceiling of his room is plated with iron several inches thick, and so is the floor. The door opening into it is of solid sheet iron, and cannot be entered unless one be master of the secret combination of the lock. A case of a dozen six-barrelled revolvers, in which he keeps a secret which must be known before they can be opened; if they are opened by violence, a discharge of firearms takes place, which will inevitably kill the burglar, and at the same time a chime of bells in every room in his house are set ringing. He has but one window in his bed-room; the sash is of the stoutest iron; the shutters are of thick sheet iron. The ceiling of his room is plated with iron several inches thick, and so is the floor. The door opening into it is of solid sheet iron, and cannot be entered unless one be master of the secret combination of the lock. A case of a dozen six-barrelled revolvers, in which he keeps a secret which must be known before they can be opened; if they are opened by violence, a discharge of firearms takes place, which will inevitably kill the burglar, and at the same time a chime of bells in every room in his house are set ringing. He has but one window in his bed-room; the sash is of the stoutest iron; the shutters are of thick sheet iron. The ceiling of his room is plated with iron several inches thick, and so is the floor. The door opening into it is of solid sheet iron, and cannot be entered unless one be master of the secret combination of the lock. A case of a dozen six-barrelled revolvers, in which he keeps a secret which must be known before they can be opened; if they are opened by violence, a discharge of firearms takes place, which will inevitably kill the burglar, and at the same time a chime of bells in every room in his house are set ringing. He has but one window in his bed-room; the sash is of the stoutest iron; the shutters are of thick sheet iron. The ceiling of his room is plated with iron several inches thick, and so is the floor. The door opening into it is of solid sheet iron, and cannot be entered unless one be master of the secret combination of the lock. A case of a dozen six-barrelled revolvers, in which he keeps a secret which must be known before they can be opened; if they are opened by violence, a discharge of firearms takes place, which will inevitably kill the burglar, and at the same time a chime of bells in every room in his house are set ringing. He has but one window in his bed-room; the sash is of the stoutest iron; the shutters are of thick sheet iron. The ceiling of his room is plated with iron several inches thick, and so is the floor. The door opening into it is of solid sheet iron, and cannot be entered unless one be master of the secret combination of the lock. A case of a dozen six-barrelled revolvers, in which he keeps a secret which must be known before they can be opened; if they are opened by violence, a discharge of firearms takes place, which will inevitably kill the burglar, and at the same time a chime of bells in every room in his house are set ringing. He has but one window in his bed-room; the sash is of the stoutest iron; the shutters are of thick sheet iron. The ceiling of his room is plated with iron several inches thick, and so is the floor. The door opening into it is of solid sheet iron, and cannot be entered unless one be master of the secret combination of the lock. A case of a dozen six-barrelled revolvers, in which he keeps a secret which must be known before they can be opened; if they are opened by violence, a discharge of firearms takes place, which will inevitably kill the burglar, and at the same time a chime of bells in every room in his house are set ringing. He has but one window in his bed-room; the sash is of the stoutest iron; the shutters are of thick sheet iron. The ceiling of his room is plated with iron several inches thick, and so is the floor. The door opening into it is of solid sheet iron, and cannot be entered unless one be master of the secret combination of the lock. A case of a dozen six-barrelled revolvers, in which he keeps a secret which must be known before they can be opened; if they are opened by violence, a discharge of firearms takes place, which will inevitably kill the burglar, and at the same time a chime of bells in every room in his house are set ringing. He has but one window in his bed-room; the sash is of the stoutest iron; the shutters are of thick sheet iron. The ceiling of his room is plated with iron several inches thick, and so is the floor. The door opening into it is of solid sheet iron, and cannot be entered unless one be master of the secret combination of the lock. A case of a dozen six-barrelled revolvers, in which he keeps a secret which must be known before they can be opened; if they are opened by violence, a discharge of firearms takes place, which will inevitably kill the burglar, and at the same time a chime of bells in every room in his house are set ringing. He has but one window in his bed-room; the sash is of the stoutest iron; the shutters are of thick sheet iron. The ceiling of his room is plated with iron several inches thick, and so is the floor. The door opening into it is of solid sheet iron, and cannot be entered unless one be master of the secret combination of the lock. A case of a dozen six-barrelled revolvers, in which he keeps a secret which must be known before they can be opened; if they are opened by violence, a discharge of firearms takes place, which will inevitably kill the burglar, and at the same time a chime of bells in every room in his house are set ringing. He has but one window in his bed-room; the sash is of the stoutest iron; the shutters are of thick sheet iron. The ceiling of his room is plated with iron several inches thick, and so is the floor. The door opening into it is of solid sheet iron, and cannot be entered unless one be master of the secret combination of the lock. A case of a dozen six-barrelled revolvers, in which he keeps a secret which must be known before they can be opened; if they are opened by violence, a discharge of firearms takes place, which will inevitably kill the burglar, and at the same time a chime of bells in every room in his house are set ringing. He has but one window in his bed-room; the sash is of the stoutest iron; the shutters are of thick sheet iron. The ceiling of his room is plated with iron several inches thick, and so is the floor. The door opening into it is of solid sheet iron, and cannot be entered unless one be master of the secret combination of the lock. A case of a dozen six-barrelled revolvers, in which he keeps a secret which must be known before they can be opened; if they are opened by violence, a discharge of firearms takes place, which will inevitably kill the burglar, and at the same time a chime of bells in every room in his house are set ringing. He has but one window in his bed-room; the sash is of the stoutest iron; the shutters are of thick sheet iron. The ceiling of his room is plated with iron several inches thick, and so is the floor. The door opening into it is of solid sheet iron, and cannot be entered unless one be master of the secret combination of the lock. A case of a dozen six-barrelled revolvers, in which he keeps a secret which must be known before they can be opened; if they are opened by violence, a discharge of firearms takes place, which will inevitably kill the burglar, and at the same time a chime of bells in every room in his house are set ringing. He has but one window in his bed-room; the sash is of the stoutest iron; the shutters are of thick sheet iron. The ceiling of his room is plated with iron several inches thick, and so is the floor. The door opening into it is of solid sheet iron, and cannot be entered unless one be master of the secret combination of the lock. A case of a dozen six-barrelled revolvers, in which he keeps a secret which must be known before they can be opened; if they are opened by violence, a discharge of firearms takes place, which will inevitably kill the burglar, and at the same time a chime of bells in every room in his house are set ringing. He has but one window in his bed-room; the sash is of the stoutest iron; the shutters are of thick sheet iron. The ceiling of his room is plated with iron several inches thick, and so is the floor. The door opening into it is of solid sheet iron, and cannot be entered unless one be master of the secret combination of the lock. A case of a dozen six-barrelled revolvers, in which he keeps a secret which must be known before they can be opened; if they are opened by violence, a discharge of firearms takes place, which will inevitably kill the burglar, and at the same time a chime of bells in every room in his house are set ringing. He has but one window in his bed-room; the sash is of the stoutest iron; the shutters are of thick sheet iron. The ceiling of his room is plated with iron several inches thick, and so is the floor. The door opening into it is of solid sheet iron, and cannot be entered unless one be master of the secret combination of the lock. A case of a dozen six-barrelled revolvers, in which he keeps a secret which must be known before they can be opened; if they are opened by violence, a discharge of firearms takes place, which will inevitably kill the burglar, and at the same time a chime of bells in every room in his house are set ringing. He has but one window in his bed-room; the sash is of the stoutest iron; the shutters are of thick sheet iron. The ceiling of his room is plated with iron several inches thick, and so is the floor. The door opening into it is of solid sheet iron, and cannot be entered unless one be master of the secret combination of the lock. A case of a dozen six-barrelled revolvers, in which he keeps a secret which must be known before they can be opened; if they are opened by violence, a discharge of firearms takes place, which will inevitably kill the burglar, and at the same time a chime of bells in every room in his house are set ringing. He has but one window in his bed-room; the sash is of the stoutest iron; the shutters are of thick sheet iron. The ceiling of his room is plated with iron several inches thick, and so is the floor. The door opening into it is of solid sheet iron, and cannot be entered unless one be master of the secret combination of the lock. A case of a dozen six-barrelled revolvers, in which he keeps a secret which must be known before they can be opened; if they are opened by violence, a discharge of firearms takes place, which will inevitably kill the burglar, and at the same time a chime of bells in every room in his house are set ringing. He has but one window in his bed-room; the sash is of the stoutest iron; the shutters are of thick sheet iron. The ceiling of his room is plated with iron several inches thick, and so is the floor. The door opening into it is of solid sheet iron, and cannot be entered unless one be master of the secret combination of the lock. A case of a dozen six-barrelled revolvers, in which he keeps a secret which must be known before they can be opened; if they are opened by violence, a discharge of firearms takes place, which will inevitably kill the burglar, and at the same time a chime of bells in every room in his house are set ringing. He has but one window in his bed-room; the sash is of the stoutest iron; the shutters are of thick sheet iron. The ceiling of his room is plated with iron several inches thick, and so is the floor. The door opening into it is of solid sheet iron, and cannot be entered unless one be master of the secret combination of the lock. A case of a dozen six-barrelled revolvers, in which he keeps a secret which must be known before they can be opened; if they are opened by violence, a discharge of firearms takes place, which will inevitably kill the burglar, and at the same time a chime of bells in every room in his house are set ringing. He has but one window in his bed-room; the sash is of the stoutest iron; the shutters are of thick sheet iron. The ceiling of his room is plated with iron several inches thick, and so is the floor. The door opening into it is of solid sheet iron, and cannot be entered unless one be master of the secret combination of the lock. A case of a dozen six-barrelled revolvers, in which he keeps a secret which must be known before they can be opened; if they are opened by violence, a discharge of firearms takes place, which will inevitably kill the burglar, and at the same time a chime of bells in every room in his house are set ringing. He has but one window in his bed-room; the sash is of the stoutest iron; the shutters are of thick sheet iron. The ceiling of his room is plated with iron several inches thick, and so is the floor. The door opening into it is of solid sheet iron, and cannot be entered unless one be master of the secret combination of the lock. A case of a dozen six-barrelled revolvers, in which he keeps a secret which must be known before they can be opened; if they are opened by violence, a discharge of firearms takes place, which will inevitably kill the burglar, and at the same time a chime of bells in every room in his house are set ringing. He has but one window in his bed-room; the sash is of the stoutest iron; the shutters are of thick sheet iron. The ceiling of his room is plated with iron several inches thick, and so is the floor. The door opening into it is of solid sheet iron, and cannot be entered unless one be master of the secret combination of the lock. A case of a dozen six-barrelled revolvers, in which he keeps a secret which must be known before they can be opened; if they are opened by violence, a discharge of firearms takes place, which will inevitably kill the burglar, and at the same time a chime of bells in every room in his house are set ringing. He has but one window in his bed-room; the sash is of the stoutest iron; the shutters are of thick sheet iron. The ceiling of his room is plated with iron several inches thick, and so is the floor. The door opening into it is of solid sheet iron, and cannot be entered unless one be master of the secret combination of the lock. A case of a dozen six-barrelled revolvers, in which he keeps a secret which must be known before they can be opened; if they are opened by violence, a discharge of firearms takes place, which will inevitably kill the burglar, and at the same time a chime of bells in every room in his house are set ringing. He has but one window in his bed-room; the sash is of the stoutest iron; the shutters are of thick sheet iron. The ceiling of his room is plated with iron several inches thick, and so is the floor. The door opening into it is of solid sheet iron, and cannot be entered unless one be master of the secret combination of the lock. A case of a dozen six-barrelled revolvers, in which he keeps a secret which must be known before they can be opened; if they are opened by violence, a discharge of firearms takes place, which will inevitably kill the burglar, and at the same time a chime of bells in every room in his house are set ringing. He has but one window in his bed-room; the sash is of the stoutest iron; the shutters are of thick sheet iron. The ceiling of his room is plated with iron several inches thick, and so is the floor. The door opening into it is of solid sheet iron, and cannot be entered unless one be master of the secret combination of the lock. A case of a dozen six-barrelled revolvers, in which he keeps a secret which must be known before they can be opened; if they are opened by violence, a discharge of firearms takes place, which will inevitably kill the burglar, and at the same time a chime of bells in every room in his house are set ringing. He has but one window in his bed-room; the sash is of the stoutest iron; the shutters are of thick sheet iron. The ceiling of his room is plated with iron several inches thick, and so is the floor. The door opening into it is of solid sheet iron, and cannot be entered unless one be master of the secret combination of the lock. A case of a dozen six-barrelled revolvers, in which he keeps a secret which must be known before they can be opened; if they are opened by violence, a discharge of firearms takes place, which will inevitably kill the burglar, and at the same time a chime of bells in every room in his house are set ringing. He has but one window in his bed-room; the sash is of the stoutest iron; the shutters are of thick sheet iron. The ceiling of his room is plated with iron several inches thick, and so is the floor. The door opening into it is of solid sheet iron, and cannot be entered unless one be master of the secret combination of the lock. A case of a dozen six-barrelled revolvers, in which he keeps a secret which must be known before they can be opened; if they are opened by violence, a discharge of firearms takes place, which will inevitably kill the burglar, and at the same time a chime of bells in every room in his house are set ringing. He has but one window in his bed-room; the sash is of the stoutest iron; the shutters are of thick sheet iron. The ceiling of his room is plated with iron several inches thick, and so is the floor. The door opening into it is of solid sheet iron, and cannot be entered unless one be master of the secret combination of the lock. A case of a dozen six-barrelled revolvers, in which he keeps a secret which must be known before they can be opened; if they are opened by violence, a discharge of firearms takes place, which will inevitably kill the burglar, and at the same time a chime of bells in every room in his house are set ringing. He has but one window in his bed-room; the sash is of the stoutest iron; the shutters are of thick sheet iron. The ceiling of his room is plated with iron several inches thick, and so is the floor. The door opening into it is of solid sheet iron, and cannot be entered unless one be master of the secret combination of the lock. A case of a dozen six-barrelled revolvers, in which he keeps a secret which must be known before they can be opened; if they are opened by violence, a discharge of firearms takes place, which will inevitably kill the burglar, and at the same time a chime