THE NATIONAL CRISIS.

FROM THE BALTIMORE EXCHANGE.

We earnestly desire to do Mr. Lincoln nothing and impartially justice; to "extenuate nothing," nor "to set down aught in malice." His admirers claim for him the possession of every quality that should distinguish a great ruler.

A SENSATION IN NEW YORK. A tremendous sensation was created in New York on Wednesday by the appearance of a bogus newspaper called "Extra Express," with the following flaming head lines over the matter printed:

THE COMMON TERRITORIES. From the Journal of Commerce. Two boys, brothers, whom for convenience sake, I shall designate by the initial letters N. and S., respectively, wanted an apple; but the price was two cents, and each of the brothers had one and only one, in his pocket.

If there are not evidences sufficient to prove that not only is there something wrong, and really wrong, in the present condition of affairs, but also that the crisis is of too grave a nature to be treated flippantly, we are at a loss to understand what signs and portents would satisfy the President elect that the country is in peril.

THE COMMON TERRITORIES. From the Journal of Commerce. Two boys, brothers, whom for convenience sake, I shall designate by the initial letters N. and S., respectively, wanted an apple; but the price was two cents, and each of the brothers had one and only one, in his pocket.

This, then, is the point at issue. The South insists upon PROTECTION in ALL the Territories; PROHIBITION IN NONE. The North, on the contrary, wants PROTECTION IN ALL; PROHIBITION IN NONE.

Now in what way can this dispute be peacefully adjusted? What would be a fair and reasonable compromise? Mr. Crittenden's proposition (with the Powell amendment) would settle the question, absolutely, North and South forever.

Can any proposition possibly be more fair—more reasonable? The South, some weeks ago, would have accepted this proposition, and distinctly said so.

THE CHICAGO PLATFORM.

The Chicago Democrat pitches into the platform of its party in the following style: All platforms are humbugs, and intended to be such. Take the platforms of all the political parties since the foundation of our government and you will find that they are capable of a double construction.

THE STRUGGLE FOR POWER UNDER THE LINCOLN REGIME. The speeches of Mr. Lincoln in the West are the signal for an active development of opposing combinations that have been in existence for some time to control him.

THE COMMON TERRITORIES. From the Journal of Commerce. Two boys, brothers, whom for convenience sake, I shall designate by the initial letters N. and S., respectively, wanted an apple; but the price was two cents, and each of the brothers had one and only one, in his pocket.
