ACCIDENT ON THE RAILROAD .- Calvin Ray, a brakesman on the Penusylvania Railroad, was badly injured at Lewistown yesterday. He was in the act of getting off the train, when his foot slipped, and his head struck a rail on the track, cutting the back part of his head in the most shocking manner. He was left at Lewistown.

ARRIVALS LAST EVENING.—The Chambers Artillery, the Hollidaysburg Fencibles and Juniata Rifles, the Van Tries Cornet Band, and a large number of strangers arrived last evening. The Repass Band, of Williamsport, and a band from Chester county, came at noon. The western train this morning, due at 7 o'clock, will bring about twenty companies of military. The eastern trains will also bring a number of companies.

LOOK TO YOUR INTEREST .- Do you want one of the patent Paragon umbrellas?-a cane mounted with gold, silver or ivory? The place to get any of these articles is at the store of M. H. Lee, No. 74 Market street, near the Post Office. He has a very large stock to select from, and sells at the lowest possible prices. Strangers in want of any articles in this line should not fail to call at Mr. Lee's establishment.

GRAND INSTRUMENTAL CONCERT .- We call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of the concerts proposed to be given by the Hanover Band, in this city, next week. The reputation of this band is such as to warrant us in saying that hey will give entire satisfaction. The programme selected will consist of the choice music of the day, which will be executed on silver instruments the latter a novelty in itself worth the price of

DIDN'T WANT AN APPETITE.-The Mountain Democrat is responsible for the following:

"A disappointed candidate called for an 'eve opener' in the Orleans Hotel, Sacramento. The bar-keeper speedily completed a cocktail, and was topping it off with absynth. 'What's that—what's that?' demanded the man outside of the counter. It's absynth, sir; it'll give you a good appetite. Appetite, h-1! take that stuff out : take it out ! I don't want no appetite—what's a feller want of an appetite when he hain't got money enough to pay for his breakfast?'"

How to Make a Coal Fire .- If everybody knew how to make a coal fire, there would be more comfort inside and less smoke outside the houses, in cold weather. During the "cold spell" the Cockneys have been permitted to enjoy, the smoke is said to have settled down upon London like a dense fog. Nearly all this might have been prevented by knowing how to make a coal fire, which is: Before you throw on coals, pull all the fire to the front of the grate, towards the bars, fill up the cavity at the back with the cinders or ashes which will be found under the grate, then throw on the coals. The gas evolved in the process of roasting the coals, will be absorbed by the cinders, and render them in an increased degree combustible .-The smoke will thus be burnt, and a fine glowing, mokeless fire will be the result.

Local Legislation.-A day or two ago Mr. Boughter read a bill in place in the Senate authorizing a reduction in the shares of stock of the Commonwealth Insurance Company of this city. from fifty dollars a share to twenty-five dollars. As we did not see the bill, we are unable to under-Hand its particular aim or object, and therefore merely give the information as an item of news. Those interested more directly than we are will Mobably take an opportunity—and an early one at that—to see what is in the wind.

There has also been a bill read in place for the appointment of an auctioneer in the city of Harrisburg. Stuff! The auction business amounts to very little in Harrisburg, and we believe there are but two men engaged in it. If the object of this bill is to make one of them quit his business to table the other to have a monopoly, then we say the bill is grossly unjust, and ought not to pass by my means. The citizens of Harrisburg have not Eked for the creation of such an office.

THE GOVERNOR MAY FIX THE TIME OF AN EXECU-110x - We mentioned lately that a novel point had been raised by the counsel for a man named Cathcart, convicted in Clearfield county, Pa., of the murder of his wife, viz : that "the sentence was indefinite, no time having been fixed for its being tarried into effect, and no other person having authority to fix the time." The case was argued on a writ of error, before the Supreme Court, at Phildelphia, and Judge Strong delivered the opinion of the court on Thursday, affirming the judgment of the Clearfield court. Several errors were as-Egned. Of the one referred to, Judge Strong said: "The only remaining assignment of error is the eleventh. It is that the sentence is indefinite, no time being fixed for its being carried into effect, and In other person having legal authority to fix the time. This is certainly a novel exception to be taken at this late period in the history of the Comhenwealth. It would be out of place here to spend time in showing how the power to designate the time of execution is vested in the Governor. That it always has been exercised by him is not denied, and it would not be difficult to show that it has been rightfully exercised. But that question is not on this record. The matter for our considera-tion is whether a sentence of death which does not appoints any of execution is a proper sentence.

"The Act of Assembly of the 31st May, 1718, entitled 'An Act for the advancement of justice and dued 'An Act for the advancement of justice and more certain administration thereof,' enacted that whenever convictions should happen, it should be lawful to give judgment, according to the manner, form and direction of the laws of that part of Great Britain colled England, in like cases. The provition was, indeed, hardly necessary, for without it for Courts, being common law Courts, would have that power, unless restrained by statute. The ner and form of giving judgment in England, is 1718, in cases of conviction for murder, was pre-casely that which the Court of Oyer and Terminer depted in this case. The convict was sentenced W death by hanging, but the sentence did not fix the line and place of execution. That such was the mode and form of pronouncing judgment in pital felonies, appears from all the books. Rafall's entries, 2, Hale's Pleas of the Crown 399. oke's entries 352, 3 and 3 Burr, 1812. Nor was changed by the statute of 25, sec. 2, c 37, which nacted that all persons found guilty of willful order should be executed on the day next but one fer sentence was passed See sec. 3, Burrows, id. Lex va. King et al. decided in 1765. In that it was said but to be usual at the Assizes to the day and place. the day and place of execution. The judgment se was then strictly in accordance with the forms and requisites of the law.

We have thus reviewed this entire record, and the conclusion to which we have come is, that it states the indement of

THE CELEBRATION To-DAY .- The following orders issued by Gen. Keim will give the reader a full understanding of what is to take place to-day unless some unforseen event should interfere: GENERAL ORDERS-No. 2.

HEAD QUARTERS, 5th Div. P. V., Harrisburg, Feb. 5, 1861.
The Joint Committee of the Senate and House of Representatives have appointed the undersigned, Officer Commanding and Marshals of the day, to celebrate the anniversary of the Birth of Washington, and do honor to the Flag of the Union, by displaying it on this grand occasion from the Dome of the Capitol, which Flag is sanctified by his toil, his patriotism and the glorious achievements of our

MIDDLETOWN ITEMS .- From the Journal of yes-

Converted .- During the late revival in the M E. Church, of this borough, under the charge of the Rev. W. B. Gregg, some fifteen persons were converted, a number of whom joined the church A Lecture - Rev. W. B. Gregg, pastor of the M. E. congregation, will deliver an address in the above church, before the O. of U. A. M., on Saturday evening, the 23d inst. A very interesting discourse may be expected. All are invited to at-

Market Company.—The stockholders of the Middletown market company are requested to meet at Union Hallon Monday evening, the 11th of March. Pavements .-- The sudden thaw of last week, follow ing the cold snap, had a bad effect on the pavements on Union street. Along the Emaus grounds the pave has been so badly damaged as to require relaying.

Lumber .- We understand that several rafts arrived at the White House on Monday. The river is now in fine rafting order, but it is rather early in the season to expect a general run of lumber. It is presumed that there will be a heavy business done in this trade the coming spring.

Serious Accident .- On last Monday, a serious accident happened to Mr. M. R. Alleman, a highly esteemed citizen of Londonderry township, about one mile east of this borough. It appears that while a man in his employ was in the act of handing him a piece of timber from an elevated position, in Mr. A's barn, the stick fell and struck Mr. A. on the forehead, knocking him senseless. He was immediately carried into the house, where he lay speechless for several hours. He is now doing well, and we understand is able to walk about. His face was considerably bruised.

Fatally Burned .- On last Sunday night a widow lady by the name of Emily C. Bennett, residing on Ann street, in this borough, was fatally burned.— It appears the lady was subject to spasms, and while proceeding up stairs with a fluid lamp she was attacked with one of her spells, when she fell, one of her arms resting upon the lamp, which set fire to her clothing. The arm that came in direct contact with the lamp was burned to a crisp, and her breast was also burned in a horrible manner. After the fire had done its worst the lady became sensible, and attempted to get up; and in the effort to do so, was heard by her daughter, who immediately ran to her, and did all in her power to extinguish the still burning habitments of her mother. In this she finally succeeded, but was badly burnt herself in the act of putting out the fire. Mrs. Bennett lingered in great pain until Tuesday, when death put an end to her sufferings.

Relief for Kansas .- A short time since a number of ladies of our borough made an effort to raise funds for the relief of the sufferers in Kansas, which proved quite successful. Some seventy dollars were collected and sent to Leavenworth, and by this time is no doubt doing good to starving humanity. The ladies are always first and last in charitable acts, and like Napoleon Bonaparte, have a habit of accomplishing whatever they un-The ladies connected with this late act of philanthrophy deserve a great deal of credit, and too much can hardly be said in their favor.

ARRESTED.—A fast young man named John Marshal, was arrested yesterday by officer Garman, on a charge of attempting to rob a stranger of ten dollars on the night previous. He was taken beto be Court below. The judgment is affirmed." fore Alderman Maglaughlin, who committed him to answer.

An Odn for the 22d of February .-- We are indebted to a fair friend for the following ode, which she informs us she clipped from an old newspaper, with the request that we publish it on the birth-day of the Father of his Country-with which request we take pleasure in complying. We can heartily subscribe to the patriotic sentiments of the composition, and thank the lady whose good taste, patriotism and intelligence prompted her to send it to us for re-publication, and desire to embrace this opportunity to direct the lost stanza to the particular attention of the rail-splitting, Unionshattering and coercion-loving Republicans of the Legislature, and those who have come to our city for the purpose of paying court to a man who is about to assume the responsible position of Chief Magistrate of this Nation, with the declaration on his lips, that he is in favor of inaugurating a civil war, with all its terrible and bloody consequences:

OUR NATIONAL FLAG. Fling out the nation's Stripes and Stars, The glorious standard of the free, The banner born in Freedom's wars, The hallowed gem of Liberty. On mountain top, in valley deep, Wherever dwell the free and brave, O'er graves where Freedom's martyrs sleep, Columbia's Flag must freely wave.

Raise high the bright, auspicious flag. From every height and lowly glen, In forest, dell or jutting crag, Afar among the haunts of men; The sparkling banner, widely flung, wave o'er land and sea, And Freedom's anthem sweetly sung, Shall swell our country's jubilee.

Oh! let the world that flag behold, The emblem of the brave and free, The brightest crown of streaming gold That decks the Goddess Liberty ! Spread out its folds till Heaven's high dome Reverberates the holy sound, That all oppressed have found a home On Freedom's consecrated ground.

Fling out our country's banner wide, Our emblematic, starry gem; Our Union never shall divide While floats that silken diadem. Year after year, the brilliant stars Shall indicate the strength of all; Let all beware of civil wars, That curse of mankind—Freedom's fall.

MITCHELL'S NEW GENERAL ATLAS. -- Save the Principal of one of our best seminaries: "I have examined Mitchell's New General Atlas, and find it to be decidedly the best work of the kind that I have ever seen. As a map view of the world, it seems to leave nothing to be desired. The statistical tables, and the plans of the principal cities, evidently prepared with much care and accuracy add greatly to its worth. The enlarged maps of the several States, showing the county boundaries -and, also, of all the countries to which any special interest attaches, add immensely to its value. The typographical execution of the work is beyond all praise, and it is indeed a splendid illustration of the progress of art in that direction. Every teacher should have a copy, for reference, in his school. It should be in every library and reading room-and no family that can afford the expense should be without it."
