An OLD FIREMAN.—At the head of the Washington Hose Company, yesterday, was Jacob Tripler, a veteran of 71 years, during 50 of which he has been a fireman. He belongs to the United States Hose Company, of Philadelphia.

Found .- A small MEDALLION was picked up in the street yesterday, which is, no doubt, highly valued by the owner, and can be had by proving property and paying charges. Inquire of the local editor, PATRIOT AND UNION office.

THE NATIONAL GUARDS .- The Regiment of National Guards on parade yesterday, so far as looks and drill are concerned, can safely challenge competition in any country in the world.

Next to them were the Allen Rifles, of Allentown, a company disciplined in the use of the rifle equal to any company in the regular army.

PRESENTATION.—Yesterday morning, on behalf of the Washington Hose Company, C. O. Zimmerman presented to Col. W. G. Murray, of Hollidaysburg, a set of equipments of the Friendship Company, of which Mr. M. is a member. The presentation speech was made by Mr. Zimmerman, to which a suitable reply was made by Col. Murray, and we only regret that we have not both for pub-

Police Cases .- Margaret O'Brien, a white woman, was found drunk among the darkies in Bassa Cove yesterday. She was taken before the Mayor, who gave her an award of 30 days in the stone jug. Dan Massener got on a bender yesterday, became disorderly, and abused his family, for which the Mayor gave him a license to rusticate for 30 days in the same institution.

About ten loafers were turned out of the lock-up yesterday morning.

FLAG RAISING.—An enthusiastic reporter in describing the flag raising at Independence Hall, says:-"The flag will be run up in man-of-war style, the rope will be pulled by Abraham Lincoln. and the Stars and Stripes will unfurl their glory in the oriental sunlight. Mr. Lincoln will then return to the Continental and take breakfast, merely stopping on his way to take a view of the magnificent Brown Stone Clothing Hall of Rockhill & Wilson, Nos. 603 and 605 Chesnut street above Sixth, Philadelphia."

OUR THANKS .- Captain Waltman is not a very thin-skinned man, no how. Notwithstanding we gave him a first-class notice, which some people | ledged to be one of the finest companies here. with less good nature in their composition might have deemed equivocal, he gave our office a salute as he marched his company past yesterday after-

We also acknowledge several salutes from the Logan Guards, of Lewistown, one of the finest companies on parade.

We also acknowledge a serenade from the Benvenue Brass Band, for all of which we beg to re-

OPERATIONS OF THE PICKPOCKETS .- Notwithstanding the notice published throughout the State, warning people who contemplated visiting here to beware of pickpockets, we find the light-fingered profession did quite a paying business-no less than a dozen persons having complained at the Mayor's office alone of being plundered.

Mr. R. J. Fleming, of this city, had his pocket picked of a wallet containing ten dollars.

. A gentleman from the West had his pocket-book taken, in which there was a sum of money and a check on a St. Louis bank for one hundaed and fifty dollars-payment of which was stopped by telegraph. W. B. Lemmon, of New Brighton, Beaver county, had his pocket-book taken from him. It contained sixty dollars, in notes, and a number of postage

A man from Centre county, whose name we did not learn, was despoiled of a chronometer watch valued at two hundred dollars. It was wrenched from the chain by breaking the ring.

Peter Mullin, of this city, found a wallet in his Pocket, which contained a number of papers, but no money. From the papers in the book, it evidently belongs to H. G. Moser, of the firm of Moser & Royer, supposed to reside in Cumberland county. The book is at the Mayor's office.

A young man named Hynica picked up a pocket-book containing a number of papers, which had been plundered of its valuable contents, if it contained any.

Two men named James Benson and James Rogera were arrested on suspicion of being pickpockets, and committed for a further hearing. No doubt they would have had a much larger field for their operations but for the timely notice

THE MILITARY .- Our various reports of affairs yesterday precludes us from giving as detailed an account of the military that visited us as we would desire. It gives us pleasure to state that the display has never been excelled here. Some of the finest companies that this State boasts of were here. The Regiment of National Guards of Philadelphia, is a body of citizen soldiers that cannot be excelled, and the enconiums they received yesterday from strangers from all parts of this State assembled here, were certainly flattering. to them. The Philadelphia Zouaves and the Johnstown Zouaves were both very fine companies, and reflected credit upon the respective communities from which they came. The Allen Rifles, of Allentown, drilled upon the Capitol grounds, to a compared favorably with them. crowd of several thousand persons. Their movements were done with precision and skill, and elicited the applause of the spectators. Previous to their departure for home, last evening, the National Guard Regiment went through the manual of arms and saluted the National colors, in Market street, before a dense crowd of our citizens and strangers. The case and precision which accompanied all their movements was the theme of remark of all who witnessed their manœuvres. The whole display Jesterday proved conclusively to us that our volunteers are fully up, so far as efficiency in tacties are concerned, to the best drilled soldiers of the country. We have reason to be proud of them, and

LIST OF THE COMPANIES AND OFFICERS.

NUMBER OF MEN IN PROCESSION, &C., &C.

The ever glorious twenty-second of February, 1861, will long be remembered in this city, as a day of patriotic devotion to the country. In the present distracted state of our country no day more appropriate could have been selected for a patriotic demonstration than the anniversary of the birth of the Father of his Country. Right nobly did people respond to the call, without respect to political bias, age, sex or condition.

The day opened propitious, and before the sun was up our streets were alive with people; still every train added to the crowd, until there was a perfect sea of moving humanity. A large number of public, as well as private houses, were gaily festooned with American flags, giving our city a complete holiday appearance. From the cupalo of the Pennsylvania Railread works, the cotton mill, the State Lunatic Asylum, all the engine houses and hotels the starry banner floated from morning until night.

The procession formed in Market street between 10 and 11 o'clock, after which it marched through the principal streets, varying the route somewhat from that published. The following was the order of procession.

Major Gen. Kem, Commander and Chief Mar-

Field and Regimental efficers visiting. National Guard Regiment of Philadelphia, Col. Peter Lyle Commandant. Geo. Magee, Lieut. Col.; D. W. C. Baxter, Lieut. Col. The Regiment consisted of eight companies, uniformed and equip_ ped according to U.S. regulations. They wore the regulation overcoat, and presented a very fine appearance. The regiment was accompanied by their regimental band, numbering 34 instruments, exclusive of the drum corps, which consisted of fourteen instruments. They were much admired, and acknowledged to be the finest regiment on parade. Their officers were, Company A, Capt. J. W. Fritz; Company B, Capt. Alfred Sellers; Lieut. H. A. B. Brown, Act. Adj.; Company C, Capt. H. Neff; Company D, Capt. Joseph Ellis; Company E, Capt. James M. Leddy; Company F, Capt. Wm. A. Clory; Company G, Capt. Wm. J. M'Farren; Company H, Capt. Wm. H. Thorpe. The band accompanying and belonging to the regiment was led by J. Stephenson Beck and Chas. Dodsworth, and was considered one of the finest on parade.

The National Grays, Capt. Peter Fritz, of Philadelphia, followed, and were much admired for their fine soldierly appearance. The Grays is one of the oldest companies of the city of Philadelphia and they well sustained the honor of their city in all their military movements. They were accompanied by a fine drum corps.

Wayne Artillerists, Norristown, Captain Wm. R. Leshler. 42 men and martial music.

Philadelphia Zouaves, Captain Edmund Baudin. Fifty-four men, with martial music. The Zouaves created considerable sensation, as they were the first company of the kind that has ever visited this city. Accompanying the company, and we believe a member of it, is a female, who takes the capacity of "the Daughter of the Regiment." Altogether they were a fine looking and well drilled

Washington Grays, Bethlehem, Captain Selfridge with 34 men, accompanied by the Allentown Band. Sergeant Jesse Morgan, formerly of this city, was acting orderly of the Greys. They presented a very fine appearance, and were acknow-

The Lehigh Cornet Band followed, with the Allen Rifles. The company was under the command of Captain Tilghman H. Good, and mustered 38

After them came the Jordan Artillerists, from Allentown, under the command of Captain Sausler, with 32 men and martial music. The Artillerists were a fine looking company and attracted considerable attention.

After the Artillerists came the Allen Infantry, Captain Thomas Yager, with thirty-four men and martial music. They were a fine looking company and reflected credit upon the old "Tenth Legion." The military, as a body, from the old "Legion," were as fine a set of men as were on parade, and we do not wish to be partial in awarding to them at least the palm of not being beaten.

The next in order of parade was the 14th Division, under command of Brigadier General M'Gill and aids, of Centre county. The aids were not mounted, owing to an insufficiency of horses, but they presented a very martial appearance.

The Scott Infantry, of Huntingdon, was the first to bring up this division. They were commanded by Captain George Dare, and numbered 70 men. The numerical strength of this company was the subject of many encomiums from the strangers present in

The Union Guards, of Petersburg, Huntingdon county, followed, commanded by Captain Jos. Johnston, with forty men and a drum corps. Lieutenant R. A. Ramsey was in command, and reflected credit upon himself and his corps by the soldier like manner in which he controlled his men-The Scott Artillery, of Huntingdon county, followed, commanded by Capt. Simon Wright, with thirty-eight men. The Artillers was a very fine looking company, and elicited much praise.

The Jackson Artillery, also of Huntingdon county, was with this brigade. They were a fine looking company, under the command of Capt. S. B. Grossmen. They numbered forty men, with their martial music, and presented a very fine appearance.

The Standing Stone Guards were the next in parade. They were from Huntingdon county, also, and belonged to the same brigade with the foregoing companies. Lieut. B. F. Miller is attached to this company, and had them here at the inauguration of Gov. Curtin, and he deserves credit for his efforts in bringing the military of Huntingdon county to this city. It gives us pleasure to state that Lieut. Miller is one of the most active military men in Huntington county.

Perry county was represented by the Ringold Artillery, of Newport. Capt. J. H. Crist had command, and his company was composed of forty-five men. They were accompanied by martial music.

The Independent Infantry, of Bloomfield, also represented Perry county. They were out in full force, having forty-five men. Capt. H. D. Woodruff had command of them. The Infantry is a fine body of men, and although not so well drilled as some of the companies that were here, they

The next company was the Logan Guards, of Lewistown. Capt. J. B. Selheimer was in command, and he had forty men. They were well drilled, marched well, and more than that we can't say of them. We have but one remark to make in regard to the Logan Guards, and that is, we wish that all the companies up the Juniata Valley were as well drilled as they.

The Mifflin County Cavalry, Captain G. R. Mitchell, followed the Logan Guards. The company were without their horses, but made a very fine display. They numbered about thirty men. The Johnston Zouave Band, led by Mr. Julius wish for them that encouragement which their efall had the stars and stripes flying. They pre- here.

The Hollidaysburg Fencibles, Capt. F. P. Minier, forty men, with martial music, followed .-They were a well drilled company, and presented a very fine appearance. Sergeant John McKeage, the orderly of the company, has our thanks for

The Tyrone Artillery, Capt. J. Bell, with fortythree men and martial music, followed. They presented a very fine appearance.

Captain Jacob Szink, formerly of this city, was here with his fine company, the Logan Rifles, of Altoons. The company did not present that large. appearance which it has on former visits to this city, (which was owing, we learn, to the men who are members of the company being detained by business on the Pennsylvania Railroad.) With their slim numbers, though, they presented a very fine appearance. They mustered thirty-two men. The Juniata Rifles, of Hollidaysburg, followed the Logans. They had fifty men, under command of Captain A. M. Lloyd. The rifles were a fine looking body of men.

The Tyrone Cavalry followed with thirty men, inmounted. They were under the command of Captain J. Crother. They mustered about thirty

The Ringold United Infantry, of Patterson, Juniata county, belonging to the First Brigade, Fourteenth Division, Pa. volunteers, under command of Captain M'Williams, paraded with thirtyfive men.

The Citizen Guards, of Johnstown, under command of Captain John Harrigan, had martial music and thirty-five men. They presented a fine appearance.

The Johnstown Cadet Zouaves, a company similar in appearance to the Philadelphia Zouaves, brought up the line. Their uniform was similar to the Chicago Zouaves, and in their drill and general movements was not far behind them. Captain J. M. Power, their commander, deserves praise for the perfection which he has brought his company They numbered about 50 men.

The Latrobe Light Infantry, of Westmoreland county, under the command of Captain J. J. Beirer numbering fifty-four men, made a very fine display. They were under the command of Lieutenant Coulter, and were accompanied by martial mu-

The Chambers Artillery, of Chambersburg, of Franklin county, under command of Captain Housam, followed the Latrobe Infantry. Captain H. has had his men to this city frequently, and they have always behaved themselves in a gentlemanly and becoming manner. Their drill yesterday spoke volumes in favor of the discipline of their captain. They paraded about fifty men.

The Sumner Rifles, Captain Huhn, of Carlisle, numbering sixty men, made a very fine appearance. They were a very fine looking company, and elicited much admiration.

The Junior Cadets, also of Carlisle, composed of young men, under twenty-one years of age, under the command of Captain William M. Porter, made a very creditable display.

The Greencastle Light Infantry, Captain J. B. Strickler, numbering thirty-five men, followed next. They were a fine looking body of men. The Jones Artillery, of Safe Harbor, commanded by Captain George H. Hess, having 35 men. came next. They presented a very fine appearance. The Lancaster Fencibles, Captain Franklin, was the next company. They numbered 35 men, and were dressed in the regular U.S. uniform, with a very neat overcoat of their own adoption. We take the privilege of saying that the Fencibles are as fine a looking military company as can be found anywhere-we wont except any. They make an appearance that cannot be excelled. The Washington Rifles under command of Captain J. K. Waltman, accompained by the Mt. Joy Brass Band, brought up the rear of the military portion of the procession. The Rifles looked and marched well, and their band played very finely. The Cameron Guards, Captain J. M. Eyster, numbering thirty-five men, of this city, acted as an escort to most of the companies that arrived here. The Guards were on duty at the Capitol all day, and deserve credit for the arduous and laborious duty they performed.

The Juniata Cavalry, of Mifflin county, under command of Col. John J. Patterson, acted as a special escort to the committees who had charge of the celebration. They were the only mounted company that participated in the ceremonies.

The Reading Artillerists, under command of Captain G. W. Alexander, we did not observe on parade, although we met them doing guard duty at the Capitol grounds. They were a fine-looking body of men, numbering thirty-odd. Their fatigue caps, in our estimation, looked neater and more comfortable than their large bear skin ones. They made a very imposing appearance while on guard duty on Capitol Hill. During the march Major Knipe, formerly of the U.S. army, fired a salute of thirty-four guns upon Capitol Hill, which was done in a style reflecting considerable credit upon him and the squad under his command

Paxton Hose Company, of Harrisburg. Benvenue Brass Band. Good Will Fire Company.

There were eleven brass bands in the civic procession—some of them among the best in the State This portion of the turn-out must have numbered about 1,500 persons. The quaint appearance of the Knights Templar, with their mysterious devices, attracted great attention.

The fire department never made a more creditable display. The companies were all out in full force, and all the engines and hose carriages were decorated with flags and evergreens. The Paxton was, as usual, accompanied by the aborigines, and their hose carriage was displayed to great advan-

The procession reached the Capitol a little before 12 o'clock, when the flag was run up the flag staff, on the dome, by the old soldiers, to the inspiring airs of "Yankee Doodle," and " Star Spangled Banner," amid the prolonged cheers of the assembled thousands. After the raising of the flag, the military reformed on Second street, and marched to the lower end of the city, where they met Mr. Lincoln, President elect, and escorted him to the Jones House, where he was welcomed in a few remarks by Gov.

Curtin. From thence, he was taken to the Capitol. It is computed that there were no less than forty thousand strangers in the city, and some estimate the number much larger.

The military display was the finest ever witnessed in the State, outside of Philadelphia.

In conclusion, we are gratified to note that there was less intoxication than might have been expected on such an occasion, and the day passed off without an accident of any kind.

A GAY PARTY CAPTURED .- Yesterday, Elliott Robinson, of Indiana county, made information before the Mayor against one John Mondarf, whom he charged with abducting and eloping with the wife of Daniel Stiffy, of Westmoreland county, and carrying away divers goods and chattels belonging to the aforesaid Stiffy. A warrant was issued, and the parties found at the tavern of Mr. Livingston, a few miles up the river. They were arrested, and are now in jail.
