Democratic City Executive Committee. The Democratic City Executive Committee for the year 1860 are requested to meet at the Buebler House on Monday, the 4th inst., at 7 o'clock p.m., on business of importance. Punctual attendance A. L. ROUMFORT, is specially requested. Chairman.

Mr. Jester wishes us to say that persons desiring signs painted, or cards gotten up neatly in any style, on glass or paper, can have the same done very cheap at the present time, while trade is slack. Room, No. 15, Union Building, next door to this office.

PLENTY-Game on Broad Top .- Miner. Ditto on the broad tops of some tables herewith a slight variation.

DIAMONDS AND PASTE. -In New York the latest style of ornament for hair-dressing is a diamond hair-pin, composed of a profusion of leaves and pendants neatly set in gold. They are valued at $300 per set. There are some new styles of ladies and gents' breastpins, valued as highly ts $200 .-But imitations of them, hardly distinguishable, are made and sold at a dollar and two dollars each, to the disgust of wealthy fashionables.

DELIGHTFUL WEATHER .- Everybody is charmed with the weather of the last four days, which has not been equalled at this season of the year within the memory of the oldest inhabitant. Those, however, who are so loud in its praise do not reflect what it may likely lead to. Ten days more of it would bring out buds, blossoms and flowers, which would run a most imminent risk of perishing by frosts in the latter part of the month. Such may be the case, but we hope not.

SENT TO THE POOR HOUSE .- A man named Probasen was sent to the alms house vesterday morning to recuperate. He says that getting short of money, he left the cars at Hummelstown, and started on an overland journey towards Buffalo .-A few miles west of this place he was met by three Irish footpads who demanded his money. Probasco told them he had none, whereupon the entire party fell upon him and beat him severely with clubs. The poor man had three gashes in his scalp, and was injured on the foot. Unable to travel, he made his way back and called upon the Mayor, who kindly provided for him.

LECTURE ON THE CRISIS.-Mr. James Worrall, of this city, at the desire of some of our prominent citizens, has obtained from the Speaker of the House of Representatives permission to read from the Speaker's desk this evening, at 71 o'clock, a lecture on the crisis, originally delivered by the eminent divine, the Rev. Alexander G. Mercer, of Boston. This oration-for oration it is-being one of the very best efforts yet made since the crisis began, we do not doubt, from Mr. Worrall's well known ability, will be done ample justice to in the delivery; and, as it is from the pen of a native Pennsylvanian, we are sure it will be listened to with interest by a large audience.

THE OIL FEVER IN MERCER COUNTY, PA .- The Mercer Whig, in alluding to the oil operations of the citizens of that county, says: "As yet they have received no adequate return for the money and labor expended, and we fear large numbers of those who have gone 'prospecting for oil' will never be compensated for their toil. A few, however, have made a nice pile out of the business, and this has but stimulated their less fortunate neighbors to renewed exertions. A number of Wells have been commenced in this county, but as yet no paying wells have been found, though oil in small quantities has been discovered in several Places, and the work is still progressing.

BAD Boys .- There is no town without boys, and, as a consequence, bad ones are always to be found, since, according to the opinion of one of 'em, "all the good little boys we read of in Sunday school books die when they are quite young"-but we do think that Harrisburg can turn out more viciously disposed and impudent boys than any place of its Eize in the State.

A few days ago we had eccasion to chronicle the arrest of two boys for an outrageous assault and battery committed on a third boy. The cause that led to the maltreatment of the boy is as follows: He was walking along the street playing with a iun-glass, when the two boys came up to him and took it from him. Anxious to regain his bauble, the lad offered a certain number of marbles for its recovery. After he got the glass back, however, he could not recognize the justice of paying for what was his own, whereupon the two fell upon him and beat him in a most outrageous manner.

The impositions practiced by larger boys upon smaller ones are of the most infamous kind, and there appears to be a general system of persecution practiced upon boys newly arrived in town. One gentleman informs us that his son, for weeks, paid tribute in apples, cakes, cents, or whatever else he could raise, to a larger boy, merely to avoid being whipped by him. This is downright highway robbery, for a boy placed in bodily fear dare not even inform his parents. Once in a while these young candidates for the penitentiary wake up the wrong passenger, but the lesson is of no avail, as they seem to be willing to risk the chances.

There are many parents who know nothing of the conduct of their children, and, consequently, their petty acts of rascality go unpunished. Peo-He do not like to bring a boy within the pale of justice, because it looks like a small proceeding, and some have found to their cost that it will not do to take the law in their own hands, since it is Painfully evident that too many parents think their children incapable of doing wrong.

Let people adopt a firm determination either to Punish their boys when they do wrong, or submit to what they get for doing so, as a penalty for disobedience, but where gross and flagrant outrages are perpetrated by boys upon those who are physitally their inferiors, let the law be enforced. An example made of a few by imprisonment in jail, of the House of Refuge, might work a reformation in some who are marking out a clearly defined path of crime and iniquity.

this city has been the recipient of one of those magnificent lottery promises sent broadcast over the land from Wilmington, Delaware. He makes the following answer, which he unfortunately must have dropped before he sealed it. A friend who picked it up handed it to us for publication: HARRISBURG, Feb. 19, 1861. MESSRS. EGERTON & Co., Wilmington, Delaware Gentlemen:-Your, I must say, kind favor of the 16th inst. was received yesterday, and read with great pleasure. Herewith find ten dollars, ($10,) as your arrangement is perfectly satisfactory. My heart is all in a flutter of excitement anticipating the $5,000-so much so that it is with the greatest difficulty I can write. If you had made the amount $10,000, I do not believe I could have answered your kind favor. This is the very thing I have been hoping for, and at last my wishes are crowned with success. I have been wanting to buy a farm near the city; but a want of the "ready" has compelled me, with evident reluctance, to postpone that purchase; but now I shall be able to indulge. I shall negotiate this afternoan. My happiness, dear Egerton & Co., will be complete in every respect, as I will now be able "to go in and win" the girl of my boyish love, who has stuck to me through all my poverty; but owing to the opposition of her old folks, we have remained in single blessedness. I will speak to the old gentleman this afternoon, and inform him of my good fortune. I have already informed my dearest, and she is delighted, and says if she could only see dear old Mr. Egerton she would kiss him for his mother .-You wish the money shown. When I get it, gentlemen, it shall be heralded from one end of the city to the other. Notice shall be given in both Houses of the Legislature; and then you will reap a rich reward, as I shall use my influence among the members to patronize your truly beneficial institution. I shall not even exempt the clergy, as such an act of kindness to the truly deserving is unprecedented, and all classes should be informed. I am not at all prejudiced against receiving money in this way, dear Egerton. No, sir. Any way, only so I get it-that is my motto. Send me a draft on the Harrisburg Bank at sight, and I will handle the money immediately, and show it to all I know. I think some of having a levee in my room, and receive all my friends-will have the money laid out on a table in piles of $100 each, and will call the attention of visitors to it, at the same time expatiating upon the merits of your truly beneficial institution. Your name shall be in everybody's mouth-your kindness to me and mine shall become proverbial in this city. My children (if I have any) shall be learned to bless your name, and my first boy shall be called Egerton & Co. On the 22d, President Lincoln is expected here, and he shall be informed of my extraordinary luck, and will be requested to indulge in a package of tickets in your truly beneficial institution. There will be an immense crowd here on that day, who shall lend their voices in praising your truly beneficial institution. Egerton & Co.that name shall never be effaced from my memory, but will live and thrive there like a green bay tree; and as my age increases, so shall my love for your truly beneficial institution. Your kindness to me has not been without its result already. My tailor has informed me that he is in no hurry about his bill. and my shoemaker insisted on taking my measure for a new pair of boots. Unlimited credit has been offered me in an up-town grocery, (where good liquor is sold,) and the Young Men's Christian Association have agreed to reinstate me as a member. The young ladies, who have passed me heretefore with silent contempt, now give me a smile of welcome and would like to draw me on hut I om

Heretofore, I have been indulging in York county sixes and R. G. whisky; but mark the change your truly beneficial institution has made. I now smoke the best Havana cigars, and General Williams mixes my Tom and Jerry, and occasionally a whisky punch, all owing to your truly beneficial institution. You desired me to keep this matter strictly private; but, dear Egerton, imagine a man placed in my situation. I am a man of highly nervous and sanguine temperament, and for full half an hour after receipt of your kind favor was speechlessthen informed Betsy Ann-and then the thing was out. Loquacity of the female sex is proverbial. and I could not keep it myself. But what diffe. rence will it make to you. I will have to tell it after receiving the money, and the information already given will facilitate matters very much .-Dear Egerton, I will close, and await the arrival of my draft with all the patience I can command. Give my love to "Uncle Fuller," and believe me Yours truly, &c.

LIFE IN NEW YORK-Saturnalians Dispersed .-On Tuesday night the police of New York made a descent upon a public hall, in which was collected a large number of sporting men, police detectives and abandoned females. The occasion which brought the party together, was known as a "Macontosh ball," the peculiar feature of which was. that the male dancers were appareled in female attire, and the latter donned the habilaments of their opposite sex. In the midst of the hilarity a whisper went round the room that the police were coming to break up the ball. Instantly a rush was made to escape, and, in the greatest confusion, the company made their exit. The carriages were taken possession of without ceremony, and driven rapidly away, many of the counterfeit women having gladly seated themselves on the box with the drivers. This movement was not premature, as the police came up in time to arrest nine of the offenders, whose trepidation had rendered them helpless. Seven of the prisoners proved to be men. although they were got up regardless of expense in famale apparel, ringlets, rouge, and everything excepting jewelry, of which about $6,000 worth, principally in diamonds, was distributed upon the person of one of them. The police conducted the whole party to the station-house, where a large crowd had assembled to learn the cause of the excitement. After spending the remainder of the night in the cells, all of them, still wearing their ball-dresses, were taken to the police court, where their appearance excited much merriment. Justice Connolly exercised compassion, and, instead of sending them to prison as vagrants, as was generally expected, merely required a surety from each of them in the sum of $500, to keep the peace for six months. Two or three of them found bonds. men, but the others, not being so fortunate, were

THE FIRST DAY OF SPRING .- To-day is the first of spring. The skies are clear and bright, the air is bland, and the vernal season seems to have come literally as well as almanacly. Nature appears to be ready to spring forward revivined and disenthralled, and we may soon look (if Jack Frost keeps his distance) to see the trees don their

THE MARKET.—By the kind permission of the rheumatics (may it go back to plague the inventor) we were permitted to visit the market on Saturday morning for the first time for a month. We found an abundance of everything in season, and prices ruling in favor of the buyer to such an extent that we could not but believe that we are a favored people. Butter sold from 16 to 18 cents a pound, and fresh eggs could be had in abundance. Among the new articles, we noticed that Haus, the fish dealer, had a fine supply of fresh shad. As they are brought all the way from Norfolk, they are not so cheap as to allow every one to indulge in them-neither are they anything to compare to the Sasquehanna shad, which will be in our market in a few days. Onion sprouts appeared as one of the delicacies of the season. Young ladies who are fond of perfumery bought them up with avidity. Meats sold at about former prices. In a word everything was cheap and plenty.

BOND OF UNION YET DISCOVERED BETWEEN THE NORTH AND SOUTH,

PROF. WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE. READ WHAT A DISTINGUISHED PHYSICIAN OF ST. LOUIS SAYS OF IT.

St. Louis, July 10th, 1860.
O. J. Wood, Esq.: Dear Sir—Allow me the pleasure and satisfaction to transmit to you the beneficial effects of your Hair Restorative after a trial of five years. I commenced using your Restorative in January, 1855, since which time I have not been without a bottle on which time I have not been without a was quite. mines which time 1 have not neen without a DOVII on hand. When I commenced the use, my hair was quite thin, and at least one-third gray. A few applications stopped its falling, and in three weeks time there was not a gray hair to be found, neither has there been up to this time.

stopped its falling, and in three weeks time there was not a gray hair to be found, neither has there been up to this time.

After my hair was completely restored, I continued its use by applying two or three times per month. My hair has ever continued healthy, soft and glossy, and my scalp perfectly free from dandruff. I do not imagine the facts above mentioned will be of any particular advantage to you, or even flatter your vanity at this late day, as I am well aware they are all well known already, and even more wonderful ones throughout the Union. I have occupied my time in traveling the greater part of the time the past three years, and have taken pride and pleasure in recommending your Restorative and exhibiting its effects in my own case. In several instances I have met with people that have pronounced it a humbug; saying they had used it, and without effect. In every instance, however, it proved by probing the matter, that they had not used the article at all, but had used some new article, said to be as good as yours, and selling at about half the price. I have noticed two or three articles myself advertised as above, which I have no doubt are humbugs. It is astonishing that people will patronize an article of no reputation, when there is one at hand that has been proved beyond a doubt.

Apparently, some of those charlatans have not brains enough to write an advertisement, as I notice they have copied yours, word for word in several instances, merely inserting some other name in place of yours.

I have, within the past five years, seen and talked with more than two thousand persons that have used your preparation with perfect success—some for baldness, gray halr, scald head, dandruff, and every disease the scalp and head are subject to.

I called to see you, personally, at your original place of business here, but learned you were now living in New York,

York,
You are at liberty to publish this or to refer parties to me. Any communication addressed to me, care box 1920, will be promptly answered. Yours, truly,
JAMES WHITE, M. D.

Warren Springs, Perry Co., PA., June 7th, 1850.

PROF. WOOD: Dear Sir—I was induced more than a year ago to try your valuable Hair Restorative, for the purpose of cleansing my head of dandruff. I had suffered with it upon my head for years, and had never been able to get anything to do me any good in removing it, although I had tried many preparations, until I saw your advertisement in a Harrisburg paper. Being there at the time, I called at Gross & Ross's Drug Store and bought a bottle, and now am prepared to recommend it to universal use, for it has completely removed all dandruff from my head, and an application once in two weeks keeps it free from any itching or other unpleasantness.— I must also state that my hair had become quite white in places, and, by the use of your preparation, has been restored to its original color. I am now 50 years of age, and although I have used two bottles of the Restorative, no one has any knowledge of it, as I allow a few gray hairs to remain in order to have my appearance comport with my age. My head is now of less trouble to me, in keeping it clean, &c., than at any time since I have been a child. I consider your preparation of great value, and although I do not like to expose myself, I consider it my duty to say so. You can use this, or any part of it, in any shape you think proper, if it is worth anything to you.

Yours, &c.,

Bloomington, Ind., July 30th, 1859.

Dear Sir:—I here send you a statement that I think you are entitled to the benefit of. I am a resident of Bloomington and have been for over thirty years. I am now over 50 years of age. For about twenty years past my hair has been turning considerably gray, and was almost entirely white, and very stiff and unpliant. I had seen a number of certificates of the very wonderful effect of your Hair Restartive, but supposed there were almost entirely white, and very stiff and unpliant. I had seen a number of certificates of the very wonderful effect of your Hair Restorative, but supposed there was more fiction than truth in them; but entertaining a strong desire to have my hair, if possible, restored to its original color and fineness, as it was in my younger days a beautiful black, I concluded I would make the experiment, commencing in a small way. I purchased one of your small bottles, at one dollar, and commenced using, following directions as nearly as I could. I soon discovered the dandruff removed, and my hair, that was falling off in large quantities, was considerably tightened, and a radical change taking place in the color. I have continued to use it till I have used three of your small bottles, and just begun on the fourth. I have now as pretty a head of dark brown, or light black hair, as any man, or as I had in my youthful days when a boy in the hills of Western Virginia. My head is entirely clear of dandruf, and the hair ceased entirely falling off, and is as soft and fine, and feels as oily, as though it was just from under the hands of a French shampoore. Many ofmy acquaintances frequently say to me, "Butler, where did you get that fine wig?" I tell them it was the effects of your Restorative. It is almost impossible to convince them that it is the original hair of the same old gray head. Yours, truly,

Bloomington, Ind., July 30th, 1859

PROF. WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.—In another column will be found an advertisement of this well-known and excellent preparation for restoring gray hair to its original color. The Hair Restorative also cures cuts. neous cruptions, and prevents the hair falling off. We have seen many authentic testimonials in proof of these assertions, some of which are from gentlemen whom we assertions, some of which are from gentlemen whom we have known for many years as persons of the most reliable character. Don't dye till you have tried this Restorative.—Boston Olive Branch.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE. - We are not in the habit WOOD'S HAIB RESTORATIVE.—We are not in the habit of puffing every new discovery, for nine cases of ten they are quack nostrums, but we take great pleasure in recommending Professor Wood'sarticle to all whose hair is falling off, or turning gray. Our well-known contributor, Finley Johnson, Esq., has experienced the benefits of its application, and joins with us in speaking of its virtues. Let all try it, and bald heads will be as rare as snow in Summer.—Battimore Patriot.

Wood's HAIR RESTORATIVE —Unlike most specifics, this is proved, by unimpeachable evidence, to possess great efficacy as a restorer of the hair to its pristine great emeacy as a restorer of the nair to its pristine vigor. Where the head had become almost bald because of sickness, the use of this article has produced a beautiful growth of thick, glossy hair. It is therefore a valuable preparation for all classes. Its ingredients are such as to effectually eradicate dandruff and other important of the control of the contro such as to effectually eradicate fundrulf and other impurities, which operate so injuriously to the hair. It also has curative properties of another description. In many cases pimples and other disfigurements of the skin disappear wherever it is used. There is no hazard ataching to the trial of this remedy, and its effects can only be beneficial, as the compound, if it does not cause a manifest improvement, is incanable of doing have a manifest improvement, is incapable of doing harm, as its component elements are perfectly innoxious.—Boston Transcript, April 22, '59.

A GENUINE BOON .- In our capacity as conductor of a A GENUINE BOON.—In our capacity as conducted a public journal we are called upon to advertise the curealls of the day, each of which claims to be unadulterated in its composition and infallible in its curative effects—with what justice we leave our readers to determine. In one instance, however—Prof. Wood's Hair Destructive—we are so well assured of the notable mine. In one instance, however—Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative—we are so well assured of the notable qualities of the article that we give it our endorsement as all that its inventor and vender claims it to be. Its effect upon a falling head of hair is universally known to be magical; like lime or guano on exhausted land, it brings its crop wherever applied. Our own thatch is fortunately healthy, but we advise our friends with sparsely growing hair to try the Restorative.—Columbia Snu.

QUACK NOSTRUM—The majority of hair washes, hair dyes, hair tonics, hair coils, and the numberless preparations which are now before the public under such extravagant, hyperbolical and fantastic titles as we see paraded in show windows and newspaper headings, as hair preparations, are all humbugs of the first water; their real merit, when they possess any, is, that they do no harm. Hog's lard, whale oil, lard oil, sweet oil, scented and colored, make up, when in beautiful wrappers, and white flint glass bottles, the costliest character of tonics, and when thus costly, are baptised with some tri-syllable term, and caught at by verdant young and old of both sexes. Such is not the character of Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative. This gentleman comes before the world without any "highfalutin" Xilophloforium or any other astounding and startling catch-penny term; he simply advertises a Hair Restorative—what it expresses, precisely—and as a Restorative it acts. Buy Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, and as you value your scalp, aye, your very brains, apply nothing else; for it may be that you will get some worse substance than perfumed lard oil on your cranium. Remember, Wood's Restorative for the Hair is the best article extant.—New York Day Book.
