The lady storekeeper's husband called on the Mayor next morning with the order, and the bill, and asked for the "spondulicks." The Mayor, after examining both documents, said he wouldn't pay, for four reasons: firstly, his brother's plantation was not on the Opelousas railroad; secondly, his brother never owned a plantation; thirdly, he had no brother; and fourthly, and lastly, he never wrote the order. The collector's eyebrows went up on his head so forcibly that his hat fell off. He whistled one long note; laughed; exclaimed, "sold again, by -, " and traveled .- N. O. Crescent.

A PHANTOM CARPENTER.—Certain odd noises have perplexed the worshippers of St. John's Church in Detroit for some time past. The Free Press tells this story of the cause:—These sounds were abundant at night, and caused great perplexity among the neighbors, who through wonder and other sentiments, were unable to sleep. An investigating committee was the consequence, which, after arduous service, principally expended in breakneck excursions on the ridge of the roof, and perilous slides down inclined planes and scaffold poles, discovered the cause. A loose board in the roofing was the source of it all. It was a very peculiar board. It hung in such a way that when the wind whistled through the building at night it pounded like a hammer and squeaked like a saw, and thus made a very good phantom carpenter. Then it made eccentric sorties this way and that, and produced other sounds such as might have emanated from a posse of stonemasons in full blast, and was even accused by imaginative people of having articulated in good English the words "more mort," as though the ghostly hod-carriers might have been dilatory. In this and in other ways, entirely at variance with the proprieties of the place, it managed to make a great deal of noise and create no little talk.

FATAL EFFECT OF FORTUNE TELLING-A few days ago in Cincinnati an inquest was held on the body of Conrad Walter, a young man twenty years of age, who committed suicide by deliberately shooting himself in the head with a pistol.

Deceased lived with his parents, and was always considered a sober, steady and industrious boy. It was given in evidence before the jury yesterday, that some years ago he went to a fortune-teller in the city to consult his fate .-The sybil informed him gravely that as soon as he arrived at the age of twenty he would die or be killed—that he could not possibly live to the age of twenty-one except in misery and woe, to which he would prefer death. Walter was twenty years of age a couple of weeks since. Happening to be out of employment at the time, he believed the prediction of the fortune-teller was about to be verified, if not a regarded his death, at least with regard to the misery of his life. This, it is thought, induced him to commit the act of self-destruction, as no other reason can be assigned, and such was in part the verdict of the jury. The case is certainly a sad comment on the amount of faith which young people too often place in the sayings of the unprincipled class alluded to. - Cincinnati Commercial.

THE NEGRO PATRIOT.—Senator Wilson, in a recent speech, said that the first martyr of the revolution was a negro named Crispus Attucks. The Boston Courier thus disposes of that claim to honorable mention in his-

"History and tradition both are sadly at fault, if Crispus was a patriot, or the son of a patriot. According to the most reliable information from these sources, he was neither more nor less than a turbulent, rowdy black man, temporarily in Boston at the time, being a sailor or cook, attached to a coasting vessel, then in the harbor, and bound for North Carolina. He went into State street, not dreaming of being a patriot, or entertaining the remotest idea of becoming a hero; but because there was a row, and for the mere fun of the thing. He possessed the moral qualities of a patriot in the ratio of his physical capacities as a mobocrat and bully. Fortunately for his memory he was killed. If he had survived that rencontre, he would not have lived another day, and to die in a less glorious manner. As it happened, accident made him a hero, but polities can never make him a patriot."

A plausible English lad, Charles A. Thor oylson, who pretended to have untold wealth and rich uncles, was recently sent to jail in Rochestor for swindling. He aroused the sympathy of Darius Perrin, Esq., banker, who believing that he was a neophyte in crime, and reclaimable by the use of proper measures, became his security, had him released from jail, took him home, and supplied him with every comfort as a member of his family. The dastardly young scamp behaved so well that he won the esteem of his benefactor and his family. Early on Wednesday morning, however, he stole to young Perrin's room, picked his pocket of the office and safe keys, and decamped with $154 50. The astonished and indignant family did not discover the yourg rascal's disappearance till breakfast time, when he was telegraphed in all directions, and arrested at Utics, on the arrival of the early morning

In September 1805, a penniless young mechanic, lately arrived from England, encountered a pleasant faced gentleman, in his wandering about New York, standing in the door way of his house. He was made welcome to stop there till he could get employment and a home. Twenty-five years after, that same meshanic was employed by Major Noah, then surveyor of the port, to put together a machine, then in the Custom-House, and take models of it. This was done; improvements were made. and he died in 1833. The son succeeded his father in the business and further improved it to what it is to-day; the machine is Hoe's 10 cylinder press; the penniless Engligh lad was Robert Hoe; the good samaritan was Grant Thorburn.

THE FIRST ABOLITIONIST.—A Southern clergyman says that in all his reading of the Bible, he never succeeded in finding any account of an Abolitionist in it. We beg to differ with him, for we believe there is one referred to frequently—we mean Satan. He is the genuine, original, Simon Pure Abolitionist. He has always been in favor of abolishing every thing that was good. He was the first to advocate the "higher law." He tried the experiment in heaven, and got kicked out for his audacity, and then undertook to content himself with the reflection that it was "better to reign in hell than serve in heaven."

vous or Sick Headache may be prevened; and if taken at the commencement of an attack immediate relief from pain and sickness will be obtained.

They seldom fail in removing the Nausea and Head ache to which females are so subject. They act gently upon the bowels, - removing Costive.

For Literary Men, Students, Delicate Females. and all persons of sedentary habits, they are valuable as a Laxative, improving the appetite, giving tone and vigor to the digestive organs, and restoring the natural elasticity and strength of the whole system. The CEPHALIC PILLS are the result of long investigation and carefully conducted experiments, having been in use many years, during which time they have prevented and relieved a vast amount of pain and suffering from Headache, whether originating in the nervous system or from a derauged state of the stomach.

They are entirely vegetable in their composition, and may be taken at all times with perfect safety without making any change of diet, and the absence of any desagreeable taste renders it easy to administer them to children.

and country merchant, can go and purchase pure Wines and Liquors, as pure as imported, and of the best quality,
We do not intend to give an elaborate description of this merchant's extensive business, although it will well repay any stranger or citizen to visit Unoleho Wolfe's extensive warehouse, Nos. 18, 20 and 22, Beaver street, and Nos. 17, 19 and 21, Marketfield street. His stock of Schnapps on hand ready for shipment could not have been less than thirty thousand cases; the Brandy, some ten thousand cases—Vintages of 1838 to 1856; and ten thousand cases of Madeira, Sherry and Port Wines, Scotch and Irish Whisky, Jamsics and St. Croix Rum, some very old and equal to any in this country. He slip
