"Sam Patche's last leap occurred on the afternoon of the 15th of November, 1829, on a cold, cloudy, and dismal antumn day. The heavens, as if in keeping with the melancholy spectacle, were almost clothed in sackcloth.— The sun refused to look upon the mournful tragedy. But ten thousand human beings, more thoughtless, lined the banks of the river on toth sides, perched also-upon the mills and houses, and in trees, above and below the high banks, to cheer and encourage the poor drunken suicide in his self-immolation. A scaffold was erected thirty feet high, on the island above the falls, as they then were, standing very near where the saw mill upon the brow of the cataract now is. From that scaffold poor Sam dropped into the deep water, as it then was,

"Ten thousand eager eyes watched him as he went like an arrow down against the dark ledge of rocks, a distance of one hundred and twenty-six feet. Ten thousand eyes gazed with breathless anxiety upon the place where he fell, expecting to see him emerge from the water, as he had done most gracefully just one week before, had jumped from the precipice without the scaffold, a distance of 95 feet; boats were put out below and sailed around the spot, ready to pick him up. Ten thousand people, like a great crowd of witnesses still lining the cliffs, still straining their eyes to catch the first glimpse of any dark speck on the waters, no one daring to move or draw a long breath, for near half an hour, until one by one they began to turn away and give him up, many with tearful eyes, many with words saddened and subdued upon their lips, Poor Sam—it was his last leap. How fool hardy!— How wicked!' And some were heard to say 'How wicked to countenance a miserable man in such suicide! If we had not been looking on he would not have done it."

"For two long hours, at least, until darkness stopped their work, eager men hunted all over and through the waters below the Falls, to find the poor remains of the miserable victim of his own folly, but found them not. Next day the search was renewed. Indeed it was kept up with more or less diligence for some time; and yet all in vain for that season.-Searching, fishing in the water day after day, revealed nothing. But the next spring the body was picked up by some unknown person near the mouth of the river, seven miles below, as it was floating out into the lake. It had laid in the water all winter; had gone down over the lower falls also, and still was in such a state of preservation as to be readily identified. It was taken up and decently buried in a spot of ground near at hand."

Novel Law-Suit.-We have just printed a paper book for the Supreme Court in a case, the like of which has never occurred before in this State, and from the fact that the counsel on neither side have quoted any decisions of the Courts on the point at issue, we presume it has not yet been decided anywhere. The case is briefly this: Elisha Harris, of Exeter, this county, died in July, 1858. For some years he had lived alone, his wife being dead, leading a solitary and secluded life .-Letters of administration were granted upon his estate, an inventory made and a vendue of his personal estate advertised. It had been supposed by his neighbors that he was possessed of considerable money and notes, but none of any consequence could be found by his administrators. At the vendue, among some rubbish in an unfinished room of the house, was found a block of wood about three feet long and one foot square, supported by four legs, having on top a horizontal wheel and a perpendicular spindle, apparently some kind of unfinished machinery. This nondescript machine was put up and sold to David M. Huthmacher for the sum of fifteen cents, who paid the bid and took it home. Concluding it was of no use, Huthmacher took his axe and split it open, intending to make firewood of it, when he found a secret drawer nicely fitted in the block containing $100 in bank notes, $446 in gold, $41.34 in silver, two silver watches valued at $60, a pocket compass, and $3,106.89 in notes against persons in the vicinity, besides the title papers to the land of Harris of considerable value. Huthmacher, though poor. immediately gave notice of his discovery, and entered into an amicable action of trover and conversion to determine whether he should hold the treasure or whether it should go back to the estate. On the trial below, Judge Conyngham. in an elaborate opinion, ordered judgment to be entered against Huthmacher. and it now goes to the Supreme Court for final adjudication. When decided it will add a truly novel case to the Reports of Pennsylvania. Col. H. B. Wright for Huthmacher and Gen. E. L. Dana for the estate.—Luzerne Union.

THE MINOBILY REGIME.—On the fourth of March, for the first time in the history of our government, was an administration installed in power, in opposition to the wishes of all the slave-holding States of the Confederacy, and a large majority of the people of the United States. Mr. Lincoln was elected to the high office of Chief Magestrate upon a purely sectional issue, in opposition to the institutions of fifteen sovereign States, divided by a geographical line from the other States, and by a party whose leading dogma is eternal warfare upon slavery in every State and Territory of the Union. Upon this dangerous issue, therefore, a party has been borne into power whose principles are antagonistic to the welfare and perpetuity of the Republic, and that too by a meagre mirority of the popular vote of the nation. The aggregate vote for Mr. Lincoln, ascertained by the returns, amounted to only 1,865,840; whilst the whole vete cast for all the candidates was 4,739,982-making the official vote cast against him and his party 2,874,142. If from those who voted for him we deduct the old line Whigs and Conservatives, who merely desired a change in the government, but did not intend to endorse the Chicago platform, and who if they had the privalege of voting at this moment would cast their suffrages in a very different direction, the strictly Republican vote would not exceed one million, against upwards of three million seven hundred thousand opposed to the Chicago platform. Yet, in the face of all these facts and figures it hrs been claimed ever since the Presidential election, that this small Republican minority have a right to enforce their odious policy over the large and overwhelming majority of the American people, even should it eventuate in the overthrow of the Constitution, the disruption of the Union, and all the horrors of internecine strife and bloodshed .- Lancaster Intelligencer ..

AMOUNT OF TOBACCO ON THE GLOBE.-The present annual production of tobacco has been estimated by an English writer at 4,000,000 000 pounds! This is smoked, chewed and snuffed. Suppose it all made into cigars, 100 to the pound, it would produce 400,000,000,000.—
Four hundred billions of cigars! Allowing this tobacco, unmanufactured, to cost on the average 10 cents a pound, and we have $400,000,000 expended every year in producing a noxious, deleterious weed. At least one and a half times as much more is required to manufacture it into a marketable form, and to dispose of it to the consumer.

In the English Navy, during the last official year, more than one million of pounds were expended in building forty-nine ships and vessels, nearly two hundred thousand pounds in; altering unlaunched sailing vessels to steamers, and more than three hundred thousand pounds in converting vessels launched as sail-ships into screws.

I beg leave to call the attention of the citizens of the United States to the above Wines and Liquors, injoined by Udolero Wolfe, of New York, whose name is familiar in every part of this country for the purity of his celebrated Schiedam Schapps. Mr. Wolfe, in his letter to me, speaking of the purity of his Wines and Liquors, says: "I will stake my reputation as a menchant of thirty years' residence in the City of New York, that all the Brandy and wines which I bottle are pure as imported, and of the best quality, and can be relied upon by every purchaser."
Every bottle has the proprietor's name on the wax, and a fac simile of his signature on the certificate. The public are respectfully invited to call and examine for themselves. For sale at Retail by all Apothecaries and Grocers in Philadelphia.

Enormous Business for one New York Mirgelant.

We are happy to inform our fellow-citizens that there is one place in our city where the physician, apothecary, and country merchant, can go and purchase pure wines and Liquors, as pure as imported, and of the best quality. We do not intend to give an elaborate description of this merchant's extensive business, although it will well repay any stranger or citizen to visit Udolpho Wolfe's extensive warehouse, Nos. 18, 20 and 22, Beaver street, and Nos. 17, 19 and 21, Marketfield street. His stock of Schnapps on hand ready for shipment could not have been less than thirty thousand cases; the Brandy, some ten thousand cases—Vintages of 1836 to 1856; and ten thousand cases of Madeira, Sherry and Port Wines, Scotch and Irish Whisky, Jamaica and St. Croix Rum, some very old and equal to any in this country. He sisp had three large cellars, filled with Brandy, Wines, &c., in casks, under Custom-House key, ready for bottl

Such a man, and such a merchant, should be sustained against his tens of thousands of opponents in the United States, who sell nothing but imitations, ruinous slike to human health and happiness.
