As keeper of the money of all the railroad companies of France, money on which he was authorized to speculate in order to increase the dividends of the companies, he had deposited in the bank of France a sum of thirty millions of francs, and this sum he has managed by some means to cheat the bank and his railroad trea. sury out of. Various delays were given him by the bank, and threats of exposing his frauds were made, but to no effect, and it was the menacing attitude of the bank which for ced the government to take steps in the matter. This money belonged to the stockholders in the various railroad companies, and will be lost as well to them, probably, as to the bank of France; but these are not the only losses the public will sustain in the frauds and failure of M. Mires. In all the industrial enterprises in which he was engaged there will perhaps be heavy losses.

In the management of the combined railroad treasury M. Mires had joined to him four counselors as a committee of surveillance. Of these the Baron de Richemont, receiver of the taxes of Paris, was one. M. Mires was arrested on Sunday, and the Baron de Richemont died suddenly, as it was said of apolexy, on Monday .-But the fact is, he blew his brains out with a pistol-at least, so it is said by every one. Six months ago M. Mires married his only daughter to the young Prince de Polignac, to whom he gave, as a marriage portion, $100,000 -2,000,000 francs. The Prince is the youngest of the sons of the Minister of Charles X., all of whom were authorized by that monarch to bear the title of Prince. He is the same that went out to Nicaragua two years ago with M. Belly, and was charged with the military department of that celebrated expedition.

Mires was arrested when sitting at dinner with the Prince and Princess de Polignac, the latter his daugher. The disaster creates quite a panic in the financial world, for besides the great Railway Bank, Mires was contractor for the loan of the Department of the Seine, director of the great company of the ports of Marseilles, contractor for the Roman railways, for those of the north of Spain, for the Turkish loan, and was also engaged in a host of other enterprises, which may be compromised to an unknown extent. All parties interested are, of course, much alarmed. Disclosures affecting a multitude of persons, many of them in a high position, are anticipated from the judicial proceedings. The government is said to have hesitated whether to stop the course of justice, but the Minister of the Interior, Count Persigny, is reported to have threatened to resign and state his reasons for doing so, if such flagrant violation of the laws was permitted to take place.

GENERAL EDWARD V. SUMNEB.—He was born in Boston, Massa husetts, and in 1819 was a resident of the city of New York. At that time he was appointed second lieutenant in the Second Infantry. In 1833 he was made captain of the First Regiment of Dragoons. He was in service most of the time from 1819 to 1846 in the wilderness east of the Rocky Mountains. At the breaking out of the Mexican war, as commander of his regiment, he went to New Mexico, but being promoted ot the post of Major of the Second Dragoons, he went to join them in Mexico. On arriving at New Orleans he found an order for him to command the regiment of Mounted Rifles. It was a new kind of service, but he ably sustained himself. He was wounded slightly by a bullet, in the head, at Cerro Gordo. At Puebla he took command of his own regiment of Dragoons. At the battle of Cherubusco he led the Mounted Rifles in an attack that decided the fate of the day. At Molina del Rey he made a most gallant charge, in which nearly half of his men and horses were disabled. With about 200 men he rode down upon the lancers, scattering them in every direction. He received the brevet of Lieut-Colonel for his bravery at Cerro Gordo, and that of Colonel for his splendid charge at Cherubusco. In 1854 he went to Europe on official business, and was treated with great distinction. Louis Napoleon paid him marked attention. In 1855 he was made Colonel of the First Cavalry. While in Kansas he made himself popular by his humane and generous treatment of the settlers. General Summer is about 60 years of age.

BRASS BOUGHT FOR GOLD .- A Bad Speculation. The Philadelphia Ledger says the sale of brass bars for gold ones, which was successfully tried a few years ago, has been repeated within a day or two, a German of this city having been swindled out of $520 by that means. The bars sold are about six inches long and an inch and a half wide, and a quarter of an inch thick, and colored to bear a very close resemblance to gold. In order to effectually deceive, the party who wants to sell has a file coated with particles of gold, which he rubs on the edge of one of the bars. The particles of the genuine metal falling into a piece of paper, they are taken to a jeweller, who, pronouncing them gold, it has been regarded as sufficient to satisfy the purchaser of the character of the bars. This was done in the case referred to. The German was told that the party offering to sell was on the point of leaving the city, and that he could not remain to get the bars coined. Believing this, and that he was about to make a handsome sum by the operation, he became the purchaser of most valueless pieces of metal, under the idea that he was buying so much gold.

THE PROCESSION OF THE EQUINOXES .- In consequence of the precession of the equinoxes, the starry heavens are continually changing their aspect from every portion of the earth's surface. The early races of mankind beheld in the far north the glorious constellations of the southern hemisphere rise before them, which after remaining long invisible, will again appear in those latitudes after the lapse of thousands of years. The Southern Cross began to become invisible 52 deg. 30 min. north latitute, 2,000 years before our ers, since, according to Galle, this constellation might previously have reached an altitude of more than 10 deg. When it disappeared from the horizon of the countries of the Baltic, the great pyramid of Cheops had already been erected more than 500 years.—Humboldt, COL. WAITE NEXT IN COMMAND TO GEN. Twiggs.—Col. Waite, who succeeds Gen. Twiggs, is a native of New York, about sixty years of age, and has been in the army about forty years. He fought gallantly in the Mexican War, was promoted from Major to Lieutenant Colonel for his distinguished services at Cherubusco, and the brevet of Colonel for his intrepid conduct at Molino del Rey, where he was seriously wounded. To high military talents and undoubted courage, he unites remarkable firmness, judgment and modesty. Since last December he has commanded a regiment under Gen. Twiggs.

Frontier life has many difficulties, especially in social matters. A betrothed couple were recently married at St. Francis, New Brunswick, who had made five journeys to the residence of a Justice of the Peace, thirty miles and back, before finding him at home and all things else agreeable. They were ready for wedlock six months ago, and have traveled about 800 miles, going and coming, over rough wilderness reads, before their constancy and patience reaped a final reward. May they have smooth journeys for the remainder of life!

ENGRIOUS BUSINESS FOR ONE NEW YORK MIRGUAYS.

We are happy to inform our fellow-citizens that there is one place in our city where the physician, apothecary, and country merchant, can go and purchase pure Winer and Liquors, as pure as imported, and of the best quality. We do not intend to give an elaborate description of this merchant's extensive business, although it will well repay any stranger or citizen to visit Ubolfino Wolfe's extensive warehouse, Nos. 18, 20 and 22, Beaver street, and Nos 17, 19 and 21, Marketfield street. His stock of Schnapps on hand ready for shipment could not have been less than thirty thousand cases; the Brandy, some ten thousand cases—Vintages of 1836 to 1836; and ten thousand cases of Madeira, Sherry and Port Wines, Scotch and Irish Whisky, Jamaica and St. Croif, Rum, some very old and equal to any in this country. He also had three large cellars, filled with Brandy, Winea &c. in casks, under Custom-House key, ready for bottling. Mr. Wolfe's sales of Schnapps last year amounted to one hundre's sales of Schnapps last year amounted to one hundre'd and eighty thousand dozen, and we hope in less than two years he may be equally success with his Brandies and Wines.

His business merits the patronage of every lover of his species. Private families who wish pure Wines and Liquors for medical use should send their orders direct to Mr. Wolfe, until every Apothecary in the land make up their minds to discard the poisonous stuff from their shelves, and replace it with Wolfe, for the accommodation of small dealers in the canada.

We understand Mr. Wolfe, for the accommonation of small dealers in the country, puts up assorted cases of Wines and Liquors. Such a man, and such a merchant, should be sustained against his tens of thousands of opponents in the United States, who sell nothing but imitations, ruinous alike to human health and happiness.
