Whenever it is practicable, every tooth in a child's head should be minutely examined by a careful, conscientious and skillful dentist every few months; and the great importance of special attention to their cleanliness, the avoidance of cold and hot drinks, of the use of any "picks" harder than wood or quills, and of all dentifrices prepared by unknown hands, should be impressed upon the minds of the young with great assiduity.

Harm has been done by propagating the notion that sugar is injurious to the teeth, by diverting attention from real causes of destruction or decay. The eating of any amount of pure sugar cannot injure the teeth directly, because it has no residue; it is wholly dissolved and passes into the stomach.

But let it be remembered that the practice of eating sugars or candies or any other sweetmeats largely will inevitably cause a disorder of the stomach and generate gases there, which will speedily undermine the health of the teeth. By insisting too much on the fact that sugars and candies destroy the teeth, an impression will grow that if these are mainly avoided. the person so doing will have good teeth; and this leads the mind away from the necessity of keeping the mouth clean and the stomach healthful. If these things are well done, and the teeth are kept plugged in a finished style, teeth naturally or hereditarily "poor" may be kept in a good state of preservation for many

All forms of dyspepsia have a direct tendency to destroy the teeth. Whatever causes acidity of the stomach is ruinous to the teeth. A tablespoon of the purest syrup of loaf-sugar, taken three times a day before meals, will destroy the tone of the healthiest stomach in a very short time. And when it is remembered how many patent medicines are made up in the form of syrups and sweet lozenges, and how common the use of them has become, it need not be wondered at, that every second or third person met on the street knows the meaning of "sour stomach," or dyspepsia. It has been shown that if a sound tooth be steeped in syrup for some days, it becomes a soft, pulpy mass. That does not prove that syrup is injurious to the teeth, because it was a dead tooth; and further, such a steeping of a live tooth is impossible. The gastric juice is innocuous to a living stomach, but at the very moment of death that same gastric juice begins to eat up the stomach. So it is inconclusive to reason from the living to the dead, or vice versa.

It is urged by many that calomel is a most deadly agent to the teeth, and yet if a sound tooth is soaked for weeks together in a solution of calomel, no apparent effect whatever is produced on it.

So far from sugars and pure candies injuring the teeth or the health, they would, if used wisely and in moderation, as sole desserts, be actual preservatives of both; especially if alternated, as desserts, with fruits and berries in their natural, raw, ripe, fresh, perfect state by banishing from our tables the pestiferous pie, the leaden pudding, and pastries and cakes of every name, which, as desserts, always tempt to excesses which lay the foundation for diseases which torture for a lifetime or bring speedily to the grave.

Let the spirit of this article be distinctly andertood. Pure sugars and candies do not injure the teeth, except indirectly, by their injudicious use inciting acidity of stomach or dyspepsia, as will any other of food, or drink, or beverage, if extravagantly used. At seasons of the year when fruits and berries may not be had, ripe, fresh and perfect, as desserts, pure sugars and candies may be used as such in their stead to great advantage, Secause they are healthful, being warming, autritious and agreeable; hence, as a table article, they are very valuable, while the almost universal love of them shows that they were intended to be eaten. If a child is not allowed to eat anything containing sugar it will sicken and die in a very short time. Children need the carbon, the fuel contained in sugar, to keep them warm; without it they would perish from cold; hence the love of sweet things is an instinct, implanted by the kind and wise Maker of us all, for the child's preservation. There are a parcel of stupid creatures in the world whose sole stock in trade of brains and logic amounts to this, that "whatever is good is unhealthy." It is not advised that children should be allowed to eat sugar and candy whenever they want it; but that as a dessert, after each regular meal, the use of pure sugars and candies would benefit and not injure.—Hall's Journal of Health.

THE STAR SPANGLED "BANG'R" IN TROUBLE AGAIN .- If ever a poor flag suffered the "slings and arrows of outraged fortune," it is the Star Spangled Banner. If "Kirby" is disposed to "shuffle off this mortal coil," his last dying request is that he may be wrapped up in the American flag. If Mr. Florence is desirous of getting off a "gag," he clutches the stars and stripes, straddles once or twice across the stage, strikes a dramatic attitude, looks fishy about the eyes, heaves a sigh, sheds a tear or two, and gazing intently on the stars, exclaims, "Thank God! they are all there." This clap-trap is of the most ingenious species; hence the audience applaud. If Miss Richings is anxious to make herself notorious. she manages to get taugled up in the star spangled "bang'r," and at once it is heraled about the country that she has trampled that "storied emblem" under her feet. The last infliction our national emblem has suffered from, occurred at Wyman's Hall, a few evenings since. The Democrat thus relates it:-"When the tattered flag was shown which the heroic Kane planted at the farthest point of his daring journey, a gentleman stepped before the audience, asked leave to take the flag, raised it to his lips, and after reverently kissing it, pressed it to his heart. The effect upon the audience was resistless, and instantaneously all arose to their feet and most enthusiastically endorsed the action by three hearty cheers."

If the man who did that will present himself at our office, we will give him a nice little stick of candy with red ribbons around it .- St. Louis Bulletin.

An Alleged Swindle.—An extensive swindle is said to have come to light in New York within a day or two. The story runs that a well-known official, holding a State office, was entrusted with $30,000 or $40,000 by certain parties, a few weeks ago, to engineer through the Legislature of New York certain contracts, that instead of using the cash to grease the machine and secure the contracts, he put it into his own pocket, and decamped for parts as yet unknown.

WOLFE'S PURE COGNAC BRANDY WOLFE'S PURE MADEIRA, SHERRY AND PORT WOLFE'S PURE JAMAICA AND ST. CROIX RUM. WOLFE'S PURE SCOTCH AND IRISH WHISKY.

I beg leave to call the attention of the citizens of the Ounted States to the above Winks and Liquors, imported by Udolpho Wolfe, of New York, whose name is familiar in every part of this country for the purity of his celebrated Schiedam Schapes. Mr. Wolfe, in his letter to me, speaking of the purity of his Winks and Liquors, says: "I will stake my reputation as a man, my standing as a merchant of thirty years' residence in the City of New York, that all the Brandy and Winks which I bottle are pure as imported, and of the best quality, and can be relied upon by every purchaser." Every bottle has the proprietor's name on the wax, and a fac simile of his signature on the certificate. The public are respectfully invited to call and examine for themselves. For sale at Reyall by all Apothecaries and Grocers in Philadelphia.

Read the following from the New York Courier:

Enormous Business for one New York Merchant.

We are happy to inform our fellow-citizens that there is one place in our city where the physician, apothecary, and country merchant, can go and purchase pure Wines and Liquors, as pure as imported, and of the best quality. We do not intend to give an elaborate description of this merchant's extensive business, although it will well repay any stranger or citizen to visit Ubolero Wolff's extensive warehouse, Nos. 18, 20 and 22, Beaver street, and Nos. 17, 19 and 21, Marketfield street. His stock of Schnapps on hand ready for shipment could not have been less than thirty thousand cases; the Brandy, fonce ten thousand cases—Vintages of 1836 to 1856; and ten thousand cases of Madeira, Sherry and Port Wines, Scotch and Irish Whisky, Jamaica and St. Croix Rum, some very old and equal to any in this country. He also had three large cellars, filled with Brandy, Wines, &c. in casks, under Custom-House key, ready for bottling. Mr. Wolff's sales of Schnapps last year amounted to one hundred and eighty thousand dozen, and we hope in less than two years he may be equally successf sith his Brandies and Wines.

His business merits the patronage of every lover of his species. Private families who wish pure Wines and Liquors for medical use should send their orders direct to Mr. Wolff's nutil every Apothecary in the land make up their minds to discard the poisonous stuff from their shelves, and replace it with Wolff's pure wines and Liquors.

shelves, and replace to the accommodation of small dealers in the country, puts up assorted cases of Wines and Liquors. Such a man, and such a merchant, should be sustained against his tens of thousands of opponents in the United States, who sell nothing but imitations, ruinous alike to human health and happiness.
