The Union Prayer Meeting will be held this afternoon in the Presbyterian church, Market Square, commencing at 4 o'clock. The public is invited to attend.

THE CAMERON GUARD.—Yesterday morning this corps, preceded by the State Capital Band, which discoursed most eloquent music, paraded through our principal streets, and created considerable sensation.

BIRD SHOOTING.—Sportsmen know, but idle lads who wander among our fields and forests do not know or care, that it is against the law to kill blue birds, swallows, robins, or any other insectivorous birds; and that they are liable to a penalty of five dollars for each and every such offence.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—The train from the west was detained several hours yesterday in consequence of an accident caused by a large stone rolling from the side of the mountain on the track. Three cars were badly broken, but fortunately no person was injured. There were three or four car loads of soldiers attached to the train.

AN ALL-WIND THAT BLOWS NOBODY GOOD.—The travel to camp Curtin yesterday was lively. The omnibus men pressed every species of vehicle into the service, and the business done was a thriving one. The dealers in tinware made a "strike" too, as we noticed several wagon loads of tin cups, camp-kettles, and other wares suitable for culinary purposes.

MISCELLANEOUS WAR ITEMS.—The company which arrived from Louisville, yesterday, was under the command of a preacher. We did not learn his name, or the denomination he holds to, but the Church militant may be taken as an evidence that the people are fairly aroused.

There is a high private in one of the companies at the Park whose check on the bank at his home is good for $100,000. He is a high-private, and a valuable one at that, as he says that his companions in arms shall not want so long as he has money.

The war spirit breaks out some curious old relics of the time that tried men's souls. Yesterday we noticed a young soldier in the street who had on a Continental coat worn by his grandfather as fashionably as the close-fitting military coats of the day, it is a relic which any one might feel proud of. Mr. McCalla, the watch-maker, has run out from his door and old rusty revolutionary musket, and labelled it "Spirit of '76."

We were informed yesterday that one company from Pittsburgh, with nearly 100 men, was raised in a day. The captain's father, Gen. William Robinson, of Allegheny city, gave each man an enlisted a bounty of twenty dollars out of his own pocket. This is what we call doing the genteel thing.

One of the rumors of the day yesterday was that the negroes about Tanner's Alley were forming a military company. We hope not—we advise them not to do any thing of the kind. The white soldiers congregated there are no Abolitionists, and they might look upon such a proceeding as a bulesque, and serious consequences might follow. The darbies should not be misled by the statements of the Telegraph, that this is a war for the extermination of slavery. If such were the fact, the principal portion of the troops would be from Bradford, Tioga, Potter and Wayne—from all of which no returns have been received up to the present time.

RECEPTION OF FEDERAL TROOPS AT BALTIMORE.—The following account of the arrival at, and departure from, Baltimore, of the troops which left this city on Thursday morning for Washington, we take from the Baltimore Clipper of yesterday:

It being understood that a large detachment of Federal troops would reach this city yesterday, by the Northern Central Railway, a large crowd of people collected at the Bolton Depot—many armed with revolvers, and others with shot-guns. The passage through the city would be obstructed.—One-half of the whole police force of the city were also in the neighborhood of the depot, drawn up in line on one of the platforms. At two o'clock the long train steamed into the depot, stopped and again moved off to the intersection of Howard Street with the track, where the train was divided. The first three cars, containing the usual passengers, proceeded on to the Calvert Station, and the balance backed nearer to the Bolton Depot, to afford greater facilities for the troops to disembark.

At this time the crowd had considerably swelled in magnitude, and blocked up the road, a number of men appeared in the crowd waving secession flags, but they made no effort to interfere with the troops, some of whom looked quite formidable. The troops having disembarked in good order, moved off as follows:

Company I, 24 artillery, and Company F, 4th artillery, U. S. A., from St. Paul, Minnesota, under command of Major Pemberton—200 men in all. Washington Artillery, Capt. James Wren, from Pottsville, Penn.—116 men. National Light Infantry, Capt. Edward McDonald from Pottsville, Penn.—116 men. Allentown Infantry, Captain Yeager, 50 men; Ringgold Light Artillery, Captain James Mc Knight, from Reading, Pa., 103 men; besides a 64 volunteer company, without uniforms or arms, making in all 650.

They marched along the track to Cathedral street, to Madison, to Howard, to Camden, to the Mount Clare Station and Ohio Railroad, where they all embarked (with the exception of Company J, U. S. Artillery, who marched to the Mount Clare Station, in fifteen cars for Washington. During the entire route of the military they were followed by a crowd of men and boys whooping, yelling and hurrahing for Davis and South Carolina. No violence, however, was attempted, with the exception of an occasional missile being thrown through the ranks of the troops, which struck a negro boy, who accompanied the troops to carry the drum. His face was cut, and bled profusely. At the Mt. Clare station several missiles were thrown into the cars after the troops had occupied them, but they did no damage. After the cars started for Washington the large crowd dispersed, and wended their way to the central station of the city, where the excitement was most intense.

MILITARY NEWS.—The war fever still runs high in our midst.

The wild excitement has somewhat abated, and things have settled down to matter of fact detail, but the ardor and enthusiasm of the people seems rather on the increase. All day yesterday troops came into town, and so much was our attention engrossed by the tap of the drum that we could not find time to hunt up local items.

Camp Curtin is located in the Park, and is under the charge of General E. C. Williams. Some two hundred tents were erected on Thursday, and yesterday morning the companies in the city marched out and took possession. The commissary department, during the day, supplied all the wants of the men. Those of them unarmed will remain here until they are furnished by the General Government with arms and equipments. Those armed and uniformed left the city this morning—comprising some four or five companies.

Our reporter visited the Park House about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and returned with the following list of companies then in camp. The list is doubtless imperfect, all of the companies not having reported at headquarters:

State Capital Guards, of Harrisburg, Capt. W. B. Sipes, 62 men. Wyoming Artillery, Capt. A. H. Emery, Wilkes-Barre, 67 men. Easton Volunteers, Captain C. H. Hickman, 86 men. Easton Guards, Captain Samuel Yobe, 95 men. Union Rifles, Captain G. M. Good, 78 men. Hollidaysburg Fencibles, Captain F. P. Minier, 76 men. Reading Rifers, Captain T. M. Cooley, 89 men. Johnstown Infantry, Captain T. H. Lapsley, 84 men. Johnstown Zouave Cadets, Captain J. M. Powers, 80 men. Pittsburg Turner Rifles, Captain H. Amling, 104 men. Independent Infantry, Bloomfield, Captain H. D. Woodruff, 80 men. Bellefonte Fencibles, Captain J. B. Mitchell, 120 men. Tyrone Artillery, Captain J. Bell, 70 men. Wayne Guards, Williamsburg, Blair county, Captain W. L. Neff, 75 men. Juniata Rifles, Hollidaysburg, Captain A. M. Lloyd, 75 men. Green Castle Light Infantry, Capt. J. B. Strickler, 45 men. Chambers Artillery, Chambersburg, Capt. J. B. Housem, 156 men. St. Thomas Artillery, Franklin county, Captain J. B. Elder, 35 men. Cameron Guards, Harrisburg, Capt. J. M. Eyster, 110 men. Shawnee Guards, of Columbia, Lancaster county, Captain Welsh, 90 men. Lewisburg Infantry, Captain McDannels, 87 men. Negley Zouaves, Allegheny county, Captain O. M. Irvin, 80 men. Logan Rifles, Altoona, Captain Zink, 80 men. About four o'clock, the Lancaster Fencibles, Captain Franklin, accompanied by their splendid brass band, arrived. They numbered 78 men. Also, the Union Rifles, Captain Dunn, of Delaware county, numbering 80 men. Citizen Guards, Johnstown, Captain Linton, 65 men.

At a little after 8 o'clock, the Jackson Rifles, Captain Hambricht, of Lancaster, arrived. They numbered probably 125.

The same train brought the West Chester Rifles, Captain Vedder, numbering 70 men. The Reading Artillery, 80 in number, Captain Alexander, arrived about the same time. Camp duty and vigorous military discipline will be enforced from to-day. The following orders were issued yesterday:

By order of E. C. WILLIAMS, Brig. Gen. Commanding. JOSEPH F. KNIFE, Aid de Camp.

THE GERMANS DOING.—A meeting of the German citizens of Harrisburg was held at the hotel of Daniel Wagner, on Thursday evening, which was largely attended, and very enthusiastic. Col. Charles Buchler presided, and addresses were delivered by Messrs. Buchler, Gebhard, Haas, Meyer, E. W. Shell, and others, and strong resolutions were passed in support of the Union. A muster roll for a company, to be called the Kosuth Sharpshooters, was prepared, and quite a number of signatures obtained.

THE WEATHER.—We do not like to make any cautious opposition to the operations of the Clerk of the Weather, but, for this season of the year, we have had a spell that almost any person would object to. Rainy, cloudy and cold all the time. Our fastidious friend Fox says the rains of the last week are annuals, which never fall when the Hickside Quakers have big meetings in Philadelphia. If that is the fact, we hope they will get through with their business at an early day.

TELEGRAPHIC COMMUNICATION.—Yesterday Col. Thomas A. Scott placed the Executive Chamber in telegraphic communication with Washington city, by running a connecting wire from the Pennsylvania Railroad office to the Capitol. An operator has been placed at the disposal of the Governor by Col. Scott. This will enable Gov. Curtin to get dispatches relating to the war from any and every part of the country.

A REPORTER IN THE ARMY.—We yesterday noticed, in the ranks of the Lancaster Fencibles, Benjamin Ober, Esq., printer and reporter of the Lancaster Evening Express. Ben. had a formidable looking shooting-iron on his shoulder—bronze-barrel, old pattern—and we feel assured that he will use it with the same facility that he does the pen, or the stick and rule, if the opportunity offers.

TO THE CITIZENS OF HARRISBURG.

CAMP CURTIN, HARRISBURG, APRIL 13, 1861. At the request of many citizens, I publish the following list of men who are now members of the "State Capital Guards," and who, when they march in defence of the Union, will leave families and others more or less dependent upon the kindness and generosity of the public. Some of these families are not asking for charity, but it would make a soldier's heart lighter to know that, come what may, their left behind would be cared for:

Jacob Loyer, Hardscrabble—wife and four children. Godfrey Kaechner, two children with his brother, at Fabnestock's brick yard. John Davis, Liberty street—wife and two children. George W. Starry—wife at Loban's, near Harrisburg. George Shiny, Duncannon—mother. H. H. Lutz, North street—three sisters. Robert Nixon, Duncannon—wife and two children.

Jacob Barringer, Fifth and Walnut streets—wife and mother. David C. Martin, Pear alley—mother. Hugh McCarroll, Fifth street—wife and child. Frazer Clendenning, Basin avenue—wife and child. Wm. F. Spade, Blackberry alley—mother. Wm. H. Hoover, Hardscrabble—wife and child. I make no appeal for these persons who are now left without protection, because none is necessary. It will be enough for the people of Harrisburg to know who and where they are, and they will have many and true friends. Wm. B. Sipes, Capt. "State Capital Guards."

BOOKS AND UMBRELLAS.—It is a strange thing, but no less strange than true, that a few persons understand the conscientious principles which generally regulate all actions when "books and umbrellas" are called into question. The law of numm et fenum has been applied with a liberality which would have rejoiced the heart of a true philanthropist, but unfortunately this liberal theory is never practiced when one's purse is the object concerned. Is money needed? the individual's ideas of his inability and his consequent regrets are expressed with a nice distinction, but a lamentable confusion occurs in the attempt to restore borrowed books and umbrellas. We spoke of money, but we forgot to state that should one be simple enough to part with a small sum, his memory needs no refreshing; the time and place for the "return" are remembered and noted down. Is a book borrowed? it often becomes a handsome article—passes from old to young hands, sometimes is seized upon by an infantile specimen who looks upon bound literature as a common toy, and thus meets with an untimely end.

An umbrella is borrowed, taken home, and some one going out hastily seizes the new article; perhaps it is taken to an office, and the first needy friend promises solemnly to return it in a few moments. The rightful owner grows impatient, sends for his property, and receives a dingy, worn article, which looks ashamed to come where it does not belong. Now this may seem extravagant, but we have really heard of persons who kept an old article expressly for their friends.

And we know, too, of persons enjoying a fine library, and wishing to dispense its advantages, declaring that they had been so badly treated, their valuable editions mutilated, and sometimes volumes never returned, that they had determined never to lend another book. We really think a law should be established to regulate these valuable articles; first, that no one save a conscientious lover of literature should be privileged to ask for a book, and secondly, that not one should receive an umbrella unless he will return it so soon as he reaches home.

REVOLVERS FOR THE CAMERON GUARD.—An effort is being made to purchase, by subscription, a Colt's revolver for each member of the Cameron Guard. Nearly $500 were subscribed yesterday, and the requisite amount will probably be made up to-day. This is a very convenient side-arm to carry for protection, but they must be handled with great care or accidents will occur.

WOOD'S MINISTRIES.—This inimitable company will give their last entertainment at Brant's Hall this evening. As a minstrel band this company has never been excelled by any that has visited this city, and those who have not heard them should by all means avail themselves of the last opportunity.

BEFORE THE MAYOR.—Only two customers were entertained in the city lock-up on Thursday night. One was arrested as a vagrant, and the other volunteered his services to take charge of the lock up for the night. They were both discharged.

The amount of coal shipped over the Lebanon Valley Railroad for the week ending Thursday, the 17th inst., was 3,698 tons. This was again an increase over the previous week of about 500 tons.

ACCEPTED.—The services of the Lancaster Fencibles' Band has been accepted as a regimental band. There will be no better in the Pennsylvania line, and few, if any, in the army.

NEW STORE.—Good News for the Ladies.—This morning will be opened at the corner of Walnut and Second streets, in Shoemaker's row, a large assortment of fancy and staple dry goods, which will be sold at prices to suit purchasers.
