POLICE AFFAIMS .- Before Alderman Kline .- A man was arraigned before Alderman Kline yesterday forenoon by officers Campbell and Brooks, charged with drunkenness and missbehavior. He was committed to jail for ten days.

Rudolph Long, drunk and disorderly, was arrested by officer Deeters in the vicinity of the depot, brought up in a wagon, (the new "wallower" line,) and sent to prison for twenty-four hours from yesterday noon.

A Mr. D. M. Jones was before the magistrate in the afternoon, charged by William Weil, doing business on Market street, with the larceny of a hat. Committed for trial.

Unprecedented.—The success of the popular song, "When this Cruel War is Over," is unprecedented in the annals of the music trade. It is the greatest success ever known in this country .-Within the space of a few months, 130,000 copies of it have been sold, and the demand is increasing instead of falling off. The publishers and owners of the copyright have a music store in Brooklyn, and have hitherto done a limited local business. But they have, through the agency of this one simple ballad, become known throughout the trade and can command every catalogue in the country. The song is a fortune to them. The best work by the most famous composer of the world would not be one-tenth part as profitable. The music and the words of the ballad are not remarkable for beauty or originality, but the melody catches the popular ear, and the words touch the popular

DISTURBANCE IN A NEGRO BEER SHOP .-- A squad of seven or eight soldiers last evening entered a low lager beer saloon, kept by a negro named William Toop, in Short street near Walnut, called for beer, and after drinking it, refused the keeper's request for pay. After a short dispute. the soldiers walked out, taking with them two beer glasses. One of the city police, who was passing at the time of their issuing from the saloon, made information, whereupon two of the soldiers were arrested. The balance succeeded in making their left at very low prices, until the whole are sold. escape. The two who were taken in custody, on being brought before Alderman Kline, proved, with the evidence of the officer who saw them coming out of the saloon, that they were not the ones who took the glasses. The soldiers, on paying for the beer, were dismissed, as the charge against them was not sufficient to justify a commitment. '

We have heard another version of the affair. which says that the difficulty originated in the refusal on the part of the negro to give back a fivedollar bill which a soldier had handed to him, and which he pocketed, rendering no equivalent therefor.

CONCERNING BAD EXAMPLES .- Among the evils that are done under the sun, there is none more mischievous and inexcusable than the bad example set by public men of the present day in their daily walk and conversation. The public officer, of whatever grade, from the highest to the lowest position of trust or profit in the gift of the people, stands as a living exemplar of the justice and purity of the laws. If he is an officer of the law, he is not only sworn to support and enforce the statutes, but is bound in all honor to exemplify by his own conduct that respect for them which he would compel from others. Yet how often are the people chagrined and mortified by the faithless and hypocritical conduct of those to whom they have entrusted the integrity of their laws and the purity of their morals. How often are they deceived by servants who, while making loud professions of their zeal in executing the trusts committed to their charge, are hand in glove with the outlaw and the libertine.

We are prompted to these reflections by the case of a certain ward constable in this place, which has come to our knowledge quite recently, and may be in point in this connection. The name of the individual we suppress, but his bodily proportions. rivaling in girth those of the celebrated ox "Columbus," can neither be suppressed nor "hid under a bushel." This officer has always been forward and over-zealous in his demonstrations against all manner of vice and misconduct, and is said to have carried his zeal for the peace of the city so far as to put a stop to a discussion among a group of soldiers in favor of the merits of Gen. M'Clellan. He is sworn to discourage and return all heuses and persons of bad repute, and to enforce the municipal laws, including, of course, the preclamations of the Mayor. He has been especially vigilant in returning houses suspected of bad repute or of vending liquors without license, particularly if their political views were supposed to lean in a certain direction. Toward the "noon of night" on Friday last this pattern conservator of morals was seen to enter a certain soap factory in the purlicus of the town, with a coarse courtesan hanging on each arm. A look shortly after upon the scene within revealed the modern Falstaff seated between the merry hags, with glass in hand, having "forsworn thin potations" and taken to straight whisky of the rankest kind. And yet this man is sworn to return all places that are such to the best of his knowledge and belief! Comment is superfluous. Live hypocrisy.

THE HEATED TERM.—During the past week we have experienced the beginning of the heated term. In many places in this latitude the mercury indicated a temperature of ninety degrees in the shade. The warm atmosphere and sunshine has forced vegetation forward rapidly, had driven thick clothes into wardrobes and brought out the light toggery of the dog-days. The streets are dusty and the earth seems parched. From many parts of the country we hear of fires in the woods .-Fifteen thousand acres of land were burned over on Long Island last week, and we hear that the mountains were flaming furiously on the other side of Altoona. The danger of drouth is more imminent at this season of the year than any other .-As man is a miniature world, he also becomes drouthy in dry weather, and delights to maintain the "radical moisture" with refrigerating drinks and to while away the sultry hours in "thinking on the frosty Caucasus." We trust that the present indications of an early rain will not prove deceptive, and that ere this reaches the reader a drencher shall have descended upon the just and the unjust. Since writing the above, it affords us pleasure to state that we are in receipt of the "drencher" alluded to. STEEL SHIRT COLLARS .- The world has had its silver age and its golden age. Manifestly, in these days of unnumbered and irredeemable shinplasters, with silver and gold ranging up among the fifties, and well nigh driven out of circulation, these ages are about played out, and we are entering upon the age of iron. It is the age of engines, railroads, iron-clads, columbiads, bowie-knives, 500-pounders, bullet-proof vests and steel shirt collars .-They have got to wearing collars and wristbands made of steel down in New York, and their popularity grows apace. Even at a short distance from the beholder, "they look like highly polished linen, differing from that article in their greater lustre and cleanliness." A light and delicate wristband is wrought out of the same material for ladies, and the "Flora M'Flimseys" of Gotham are already fettered with iron. The starch of this species of fabric is perfect in all weathers, and one wipe of a sponge does all the washing. The day is at hand when there will be no more flax-scutchings, sheepshearings or cotton-pickings. We will order our clothes at the iron-works-will sport on Saturday afternoons in best Juniata or Russia iron, warranted not to flaw-will sell our cast-off garments for old iron, and our very conversation will become ironical.

How to READ SHOULDER STRAPS .- The rank and arm of the military officers are designated as follows: The shoulder straps of a Major General bear two silver embroidered stars, one on each end of the strap. A Brigadier General has one silver star only. A Colonel has a silver embroidered spread eagle; a Lieutenant Colonel has two silver embroidered leaves, one at each end of the strap; a Major has two embroidered gold leaves similarly placed. A Captain has two gold bars at each end of the strap; a First Lieutenant one gold bar at each end; and a Second Lieutenant no bar at all. The cloth of the strap, by its color, distinguishes the arm of the service. For general and staff officers it is dark blue; for artillery, scarlet; for infantry, sky blue; for riflemen, green; and for payalry, orange color. Non-commissioned officers are indicated by chevrons," or stripes on the coat sleeve, in the form of a letter V. Corporals wear two stripes; Sergeants three; Orderly Sergeants have a lozenge, or diamond shaped figure within the angle of the chevrons. Sergeant Majors have the three stripes of a sergeant completed into a triangle, base up-

Assaulted by Negroes.-A man by the name of William Mink, a discharged soldier, now in the employ of Mr. Beitel, was last evening assaulted by three negroes while peaceably going to work, in the vicinity of the Sixth Ward House. He was knocked down and beaten without any provocation on his part. Mr. Mink bears on his person the scars received in battling for the cause of the Union: but that cause has been perverted by our leaders, and the indignity he suffered last evening is the legitimate fruits of its perversion.

PENNSYLVANIA NEWS.

About four e'clock on Monday morning an accident occurred on the Northern Central railway, near the Great Gunpowder bridge, caused by the breaking of the axie of a car, one of a freight train bound down, while descending the grade at that point. In consequence, the remainder of the cars were stopped, and shortly after another burthen train followed close on, and ran into the first train, demolishing four of the cars, three of them belonging to the Pennsylvania railroad company.

At the present term of the Lawrence county court true bills were found against G. DeKuster and Joseph Miller for endeavoring to dissuade persons from entering the militia service of the United States, and also for encouraging parties to leave said service. The trial was postponed at the instance of DcKuster, who swore that two material witnesses for the defence were absent.

Mrs. Walters, wife of Samuel Walters, whe recently lived near New Lebanon, Mercer county, but at present a member of one of the Pennsylvania regiments, committed suicide one day last week by cutting her throat from ear to ear with a large butcher knife. She was a lady of intelligence, and highly respected by friends and acquaintances.

were low and supplies correspondingly cheap. At the present time labor demands an average of $1,30 per diem, and all things else in proportion, with no prospects of a diminution, at least until after the summer's work is out of the way.

A woman was walking in a Philadelphia street the other evening, with a box of matches in her pocket, when she fell; the fall igniting the matches, her clothes were ignited; in her alarm she started to run, thereby fanning the flames, and she became go badly burned that she soon after died in the hespital.

On the 21st inst. S. M. Crans, Democrat, was elected Burgess of Williamsport, Lycoming county, over Mudge, Republican, by 59 majority. This is a Democratic gain of about 250. All the Councilmen elected are Democrats, thus defeating the Republicans.

The Shamokin Herald says that on the evening of the 30th ult., George Madox, while on his way home, was waylaid by some person or persons, and so badly beaten upon the head and person that he survived but a feet days. The parties suspected and under arrest, are Michael Boyle, Patrick Boyle and Thomas Boyle-two brothers and an uncle. An inquest was held by D. N. Lake, justice of the peace, and a verdict rendered in accordance with the facts above. The suspected parties are now confined in jail at Sunbury.

On Tuesday of last week a man named Joseph G. Gehoe was so seriously injured by the falling in of "horseback" in a coal bank, owned by himself, in Allen township, Washington county, that his death ensued some three hours afterwards. He left a wife and one child to mourn his untimely
