FOR THE BENEFIT OF ST. LAURENTIUS CHURCH. A pic-nic, the proceeds of which will be applied for the benefit of St. Laurentius church, on Second street, will be held at Haehnlen's woods on Monday next, 8th inst. An arrearage of debt still remains standing against the church, which it is sought by this means to reduce. An object so worthy will not fail to secure a large attendance.

To OFFICERS AND CIVILIANS IN HARRISRIPO. The shooting gallery of Mr. J. M. Lawrence, No: 213 Market street, near Fifth, which has been closed for the past fortnight, is re-opened and ready for the accommodation of the public. Mr. Lawrence's gallery is well ordered and well fitted up, and those who would become experts in markmanship will find there every necessary appliance for that purpose.

SEIZE ON HIM!-Jones lately asked Smith a series of interrogatories, and finally put the question: "We have had the age of iron, the age of gold, and the age of bronze, but what shall we call the present age?" "Why," says Smith, licking the back of a postage stamp which he was about to apply to a letter, "I think we had better call this the mucilage." "I disagree with you," says Jones, "it is the post-age." Both men are still at large. We recommend a prompt meeting of the "Onion Leek" to consider their case. Let them be tried | Old Salt's daughter, from over the sea, by bull-head court martial and sent to the Dr Tortugas.

THE PANORAMA OF JEEUSALEM.—Those who would form a correct idea of the Holy Land, around which cluster a world of tender and heavenly associations, should repair to Brant's Hall to-night. Barclay's periscope affords an admirable opportunity to study the scenes once hallowed by the Savior and his disciples, and is pronounced, on the authority of Bsyard Taylor and others who are enabled to judge of its merits from personal observation, to be remarkably faithful in every particular. The biblical scholar and the reveller in historic lore will find there the most suggestive and interesting subjects of consideration, and the public in general cannot fail to be pleased with the unusual entertainment which the occasion promi-

ELECTION OF CEMETERY OFFICERS.—The result of the election for cometery officers yesterday is some. what uncertain. Mr. R. A. Lamberton received 137 votes for President, and Mr. Hamilton Alricks 129 votes for the same office. In addition to these 129 votes, Mr. Alricks received 10 votes for manager, exclusive of five other managers voted for on the same ballots, which, if credited to his count for President, elects him by 2 majority.

Mr. Kelker is elected a manager by a clear majority, and Messrs. Colder, Gross, Fager, Cleckner and Smull are tied for the same office.

We await the announcement of the result by those having authority in the matter, and hope to be able to give our readers accurate information in regard to it in our next issue.

THE "EINTRACHT" Pic-Nic .- The pic-nic of this association at Haehnlen's grove yesterday was a complete success. The aggregate receipts realized were much larger than those of any simiar occasion at any former time. Good feeling and harmony prevailed throughout the affair, and the at this time, even a few moments of relaxation in good management reflected credit upon those who conducted the festivities. Whether dancing to the exquisite music farnished by the society, or coquetting within the charmed circle of the "Copenhagen," or quasting the cooling nectar of "Faderland," all seemed alike to enjoy themselves, yielding unreservedly to the sportive spell of gipseying. An hour of such genuine rural delight is worth weeks of humdrum life in the wearisome treadmill of brick-and-mortar-dom. May the "Eintracht" be spared unbroken to furnish us many another such merry-making.

A CHARMING PROMENADE.—A walk through the Capitol grounds just now will repay the man who loves nature in her serene and pleasant moods. The trees have put on their summer livery of richest foliage, and the rank grass has already sprung up to half the stature of a man, so that the promenader, threading his way along the walks, looks from a distance like one "coming through the rye." The grass grows as green upon the hillside slopes, and the birds sing as blithely in the branches, as in the earlier days of the Commonwealth, when the old-fashioned Governors and legislators ascended to the same plain old Capitol, and hoopless maidens moved along the paths. The lounger who strolls through the grounds on these splendid summer days will see here and there a group of promenaders who have turned aside from the brawl of the street to enjoy the tranguil scene, and under the cooling shade of many a tree will be found the soldier sleeping on the eward, dreaming perhaps that he has been mustered out and gone home, and that his fitful simmbers are no more to be broken by "the beat of the alarming drum" or the hiss of battle-bolts. It is well that, even among the dwellings of men, there are spots such as this, where the pure heart of nature beats kindly for all her erring children.

HONORABLY DISCHARGED .- Passing through the denot yesterday morning, our eye caught sight of two of those long pine boxes with the spectacle of which we have in the past year become so sadly familiar. We approached and read the directions: "C. M. Holmes, Co. C, 151st regiment P. V., Nicholson, Wyoming county, Pa." "C. M. Brown, -th regiment, Chamberburg, Pa." We passed on, and in a moment more had forgotten to think about knew not, but we felt that somewhere there were eyes that would gather dimness while gazing on the inscriptions, and hearts that would throb in mortal anguish over the dead within, whose wounds, like "poor, dumb mouths," cried out against the horrible thing that is done in the land. Let them be comforted in the thought that their beloved have received an honorable discharge from the battle of life. The clods of the valley will be sweet above the dead, and their kinsmen, weeding their graves in after years, and thinking of the mighty cause in which they fell, will —"tell their doom without a sigh, For they are freedom's now, and fame's." There may be yet deeper depths of sorrow awaiting the nation; the pall of universal grief may come over us, spreading with blackest horror from the zenith to the herizon's rim. "The unforseen governs?" and God alone knows whether times of greater distress shall come upon us-times when we shall shrink from the prospect of existence, and, like him in Holy Writ, shall "praise the dead which are already dead, more than the living which are yet alive." When that time comes, if come it ever shall, many a stricken Rachel, now mourning for children that are not, will bless the Providence that "took them away from the evil

AN EXPLANATORY NOTE .- In our comments on the late hoax of the Johnstown fire, published in the Telegraph of Friday, we indulged in some reflexions upon the conduct of the operator on the hill, which seemed to be fully justified by the circumstances, but which may be modified by the following note from Mr. Sees, the said operator, upon whom our strictures mainly fell. We certainly meant no injustice to any person, but simply recorded the indignant protest of an outraged and gulled community against such a needless and wanton imposition. Some one is to blame in the matter, but on whom that blame should be visited we do not fully decide, leaving that matter to the public. Here is the note: Mr. EDITOR:-The article published in your paper this morning does me, I think, great injustice. The contents of no private dispatch or other message were divulged. That I was egregiously hoaxed. I admit, but that an intentional wrong was committed, I deny. The statement was a general one, intended for any operator who chose to notice it. I immediately asked the question, "Who is writing?" Answer, "Johnstown office."

"Are you joking, or in earnest?" Answer, "No, sir; it is a positive fact." These are the very words made use of. This will show that I have divulged the contents of no private message, but made use of information that was my own property as much as though a dispatch giving this information had been addressed to me.

I gave this news to all who asked me, and among these Mr. Berguer, who put it in the form of a special. I regret the publication as much as any one, I am sure ; but I cannot justly be accused of divulging the contents of private dispatches. O. W. SEES. Respectfully,

THE YARKEE LAUREATE'S ODE .- The everlasting flunkeyism of the beef-eating Britons has never been better hit off than in the following Yankee parody on Tennsyon's ode to the Princess Alexandra, on the occasion of her marriage with the Prince of Wales. Its democratic author does not allow the pageantry of state to blind him to the. flunkey flummery that underlies it all:

Welcome her, Bull, with melodious bleat! Welcome her, blundering jam of the street! Tell her "the Lion can never be heat!" Scatter the populace under her feet! Break, happy land, into riot and fight! Make music, 0 waits, in the dead of the night! Welcome her, beer-drinking, beef-eating wight! Read to her sermons from Reverend Blair! Flutter the red rag in every one's sight! Words from the windy orators tear! Raise a wild rumpus in city and shire! Clang all the bells to the Rouge's March air ! Britons, in joy set your houses on fire! Welcome the bride of the son of his sire,

Old Salt's daughter, as happy as fair, Brids of a meekly blushing heir, Whose whiskers can scarcely be called a pair! Hurrah for the pudding, hurrah for the plums! Love us and keep us all under your thumbs! For English, or Scotch, or Irish, we. Cockney or swell, or whatever we be, We are each all Snob in our welcome of thee, Alexandra!

LETTER FROM MAYOR ROUMFORT.—As we did no arrive at the banquet of the Citizen fire company until a late hour on Saturday evening, our report of the proceedings had upon this occasion was necessarily imperfect and incomplete. An important item which was not included in that report was the letter of Mayor Roumfort, in reply to the invitation of the committee of arrangements to be present on the occasion, which was read befere our arrival on the ground, and which is herewith subjoined. We regret that it did not appear in its proper order yesterday, but submit it now without comment, as it is couched in language that can be well understood:

I do this more readily in regard to "Hoofland's German Bitters," prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, of this city because I was prejudiced against them for years, under the impression that they were chiefly an alcoholic mixture. I am indebted to my friend, Robert Shoemaker, Esq., for the removal of this prejudice by proper test, and for encouragement to try them when suffering from great and long continued debility. The use of three bottles of these Bitters, at the beginning of the present year, was followed by evident relief and restoration to degree of beadily and mental vigor which I had not felt year, was followed by evident renet and restoration to a degree of bedily and mental vigor which I had not felt for six months before, and had almost despaired of regaining. I therefore thank God and my friend for drecting me to the use of them
