The Patriot & Union. WEDNESDAY MORNING, JUNE 24, 1863. THE DEMOCRATIC PRESS OF THE STATE ON THE NOMINATIONS.

The Philadelphia Age, after remarking upon the astonishing material progress of this country, followed by an equally astonishing decline in morals, affecting private transactions as well as politics.

We had grown rich too fast, and many of the vices of wealth had begun to attack the basis of our free institutions. We had become indifferent as to the manner in which our government was administered.

As an immediate consequence of the withdrawal of the best and wisest men from politics, the public mind has become degraded.

With the decline of our statesmen came the disregard for our public institutions and for the Constitution of the United States.

In politics, as in the common intercourse of life, honesty is the best policy, and we should not be ashamed to have our names put in nomination.

The Convention did well also in re-nominating for Judge of the Supreme Court the distinguished Chief Justice, Walter H. Lowrie.

THE BATTLE OF WINCHESTER. CAUSE OF THE DISASTROUS DEFEAT. From the New York Herald.

chester are situated on two hills to the north-west of the town, consisting of "the main work" nearest to Winchester, and "the star fort" further north, both being connected with each other by a road.

But since fortune has cast upon another those weighty responsibilities which Franklin would have borne so well, they have fallen, we are proud to say, into hands as able, true and incorruptible as his.

Our faith is in the recuperative energy of the people. They have, during a protracted, sanguinary strife, developed heroic qualities.

What we have said of the nomination of the Hon. George W. Woodward for Governor, applies equally to the nomination for Supreme Judge of the Hon. Walter H. Lowrie.

The action of the Democratic Convention at Harrisburg, on Wednesday last, has given general satisfaction to its friends and disappointed the hopes of its enemies.

ter years righteously expounded our laws, will take care when he comes to be Governor of this free Commonwealth, that that Constitution and those laws, shall be respected by Congress high and low, in office and out of office.

But the voice of a free people—and it will be lifted up for "the Union, the Constitution and the Government of the laws." We will look then to our State Government as the protector of our rights, the bulwark of peace and justice, the barrier between weakness and state force.
