LOCAL NEWS.

LOST.—Between Herr's Hotel and Camp Curtin, a pocket book, containing a sum of money and valuable papers. The finder will be liberally rewarded, on returning the same to Capt. Geo. W. P. Davis, Second street above Pine.

YOUNG MEN, TO ARMS!—There will be a meeting of the young men of Harrisburg this (Friday) morning at 10 o'clock, at the Exchange, Walnut street, for the purpose of organizing a company for the defense of the city. By order.

REBEL LIEUTENANTS.—Two rebel officers, captured near Hancock, Md., and taken thence to Bedford, Pa., were sent here day before yesterday by Marshal Kellogg, and are now confined at this post. They will probably be sent east for exchange. The names of the two lieutenants are H. C. Knickley and William Triplett, and they belong to the 18th Virginia cavalry.

PARADE OF THE VETERANS.—Yesterday afternoon the company of the old soldiers of the war of 1812, lately organized in this place, paraded our streets, fully armed and ready for the fray. The route of the procession was from the place of rendezvous at the Court House to the Market street bridge, thence down to Harris' grave, thence up Second and back to the Court House. They meet again this morning at half past eight o'clock.

PATRIOTISM ON "THE HILL."—The clerks and employees engaged in the different departments of the State government yesterday organized a company at the Capitol, tendered their services to the Governor, and were accepted. This very practical demonstration of loyalty took the Governor by surprise, and it proves that the employees of the Commonwealth, while enjoying her bounty, are at the same time willing to battle for her dignity and welfare.

UNFORTUNATE ACCIDENT.—A young man named Landis, a resident of Middletown, and a machinist in the Eagle Works in this place, met with an unfortunate mishap yesterday. While at work at a lathe, his right hand got entangled in the machinery, crushing the three middle fingers to such an extent as to render amputation necessary. The unlucky individual was taken to the office of Dr. Dock, chloroform was administered, and the operation successfully performed.

CARNCROSS AND DIXEY.—Our readers will regret to learn that this deservedly popular troop of minstrels took their departure for Philadelphia yesterday. The causes which led to this step are to be found in the excited and uncertain condition of affairs here, which was liable at any time to take a turn which would subject the company to a more prolonged stay in our midst than their arrangements contemplated. Their performances here were very largely attended and very successful. We hope to have Carncross back when this cruel raid is over, if not sooner.

TABLE OF DISTANCES.—The following table of distances on the Cumberland Valley road, from Harrisburg to Hagerstown, was compiled by our local friend across the way, and is hereby "confiscated" for the use of our readers:

TOWNS.	MILES	TOWNS.	MILES.

FIRST WARD MILITIA.—At seven o'clock last evening this company, under command of Captain Weidman Forster and Lieut. John Nevins, made their first parade. It is composed of the very best material of the city, mentally and financially, and is hard to beat physically. In its ranks we observed some of our most prominent lawyers, financiers and business men. All were armed with muskets, and all kept very good time to the rub-a-dub of the drummer. Although known as the First Ward Militia, the company is made up of recruits from most of the different wards. They broke ranks in the market house, to meet again this morning at 8 o'clock.

THE WAY TO DO IT.—Pittsburg is a live city.—In whatever they undertake, they "mean business." They have been engaged recently in fortifying their town, and to that end all other business was suspended, the stores and factories all closed, and the men went into the trenches with their sleeves rolled up. An actual count of the number thus engaged on Tuesday shows that it considerably exceeded ten thousand. Six hills have been strongly fortified, and heavy guns mounted on the works. The city and surrounding country has furnished the troops to man these guns and hold the works, and the invitation is now extended to Macduff to "come on."

A NEW FLANK COMPANY.—Captain Ed. De Rue, desiring to make himself useful in this emergency, wishes to raise a company of skirmishers, and calls upon the young men of the city to come forward and enroll themselves that they may be properly drilled for the service. Captain De Rue has been engaged for 18 years in Europe and 12 years in this country, as drill master in military schools and camps in active service. Young men of this town have now a rare opportunity to perfect themselves in military tactics, and to make themselves useful to their country under an experienced leader. We most heartily recommend Captain De Rue to the public. He can be found at Omit's Hotel, corner of Third and Walnut streets, at any hour of the day.

FLAG PRESENTATION.—We are indebted to Mr. Keyes, the gentlemanly agent of Nixon's circus, an invited guest on the occasion, for the following particulars: A beautiful silk flag was presented to the Philadelphia Police Corps, who so promptly responded to the call for the defence of our State, by their fellow associates. A neat and eloquent presentation speech, by J. D. Watson, Esq., of the North American, was appropriately responded to by the recipient, G. R. Smith, Esq., who received it in behalf of the Corps. After the presentation the company retired to the barracks of the Corps, and partook of a handsome collation. Dr. Gallagher, of the Blue Reserves, being called upon, gave the following toast: "The Philadelphia Police Corps—If they meet they rebels may their Captain show them their best."

PANORAMA OF THE WAR.—Our artist friend, Mr. Harry Davis, is announced to exhibit his grand moving panorama of the Southern Rebellion for one week at Brant's Hall, commencing on next Monday night, 29th inst. The numerous admirers of Mr. Davis' artistic taste and skill will eagerly embrace this opportunity of examining his master piece, which has received the encomiums of connoisseurs and lovers of fine art in all sections of the country. It reveals in one grand panoramic view all the wondrous and stirring scenes that have marked the progress of the mighty drama now rocking this continent from centre to circumference. The thunder and lightning of battle, the shock of arms, the glittering sabres, the charging columns, the victory, the repulse—all these stand forth in vivid reality on the canvass, instinct with life and energy. An exhibition so full of interest will not fail to attract a full share of patronage. See advertisement.

CAPTURED AND PAROLED.—The Cumberland correspondent of the Lancaster Express was captured by the advance rebel cavalry, a short distance this side of Greencastle, on the occasion of their first raid down to Chambersburg. He was mounted at the time, and was just riding out of the village, not suspecting that the rebels were any nearer than Hagerstown, when they came upon him with a yell. He put spurs to the colt, and led his pursuers a regular John Gilpin chase for about two miles, the bullets from their carbines singing past his ears all the while. Coming to a narrow bridge, he found a carriage standing on it and filling up the track. This stopped his career, and in a moment the rebs had surrounded him. They took their prisoner back to Greencastle, where they confiscated his fine horse, $480 in money, and a valuable gold watch and chain. He was then paroled and told to go. He footed it to Chambersburg, and while on his way had a good opportunity of seeing the rebel forces as they overtook and passed him.

The entire force did not exceed sixteen hundred, without any artillery. He did not know what force was in reserve at Hagerstown. Scouts were scouring the country in every direction, stealing horses and cattle. All work was suspended, and hundreds of farmers have not a horse left to plow their corn or haul in their hay and grain. The rebels sent all the horses and contrabands they could find down to Hagerstown. While a train was passing through Greencastle a few citizens of that place re-captured it, taking the rebel guard prisoners. The rebs afterwards threatened to burn the town unless the train was restored, but the citizens refused, and the contrabands had all left for the mountains. While at Chambersburg, they stole many horses, and bought goods with Confederate scrip, which their officers afterwards bought up at a discount with greenbacks, of which they had an abundance. The correspondent says that two or three thousand men could have prevented the raid, and saved the country a world of loss and inconvenience.

THE TERM OF SERVICE.—Considerable misunderstanding and confusion still prevails among the militia in regard to the term of service which will be required of those enlisting for State defence in the Department of the Susquehanna. Although the matter has been definitely explained and settled by the Governor, there are a good many who are at sea in regard to it, and who, fearing that when once mustered in they may be held for an indefinite period of time by the general government, will not venture farther until they see their way clear. Many unjust strictures are ignorantly made upon the Governor and Gen. Couch relative to this matter, when the fact is that they made the safest and most satisfactory arrangement for the speedy return of the volunteers to their homes.—In regard to what is required of those now enlisting, the following letter from Governor Curtin to Captain R. J. Neven, of Lancaster city, is as explicit as any man could desire:

HARRISBURG, PA., June 22, 1862.

"CAPTAIN: With the approbation of the government at Washington, fully expressed, the term of service of the militia under existing calls, is referred to my judgment.

"They are called to service in the military department of the Susquehanna, and for the emergency, and, as Governor of the State, I will return the troops to their homes when, in my judgment, the emergency has expired.

"Very respectfully, A. G CURTIN.

"Capt. R. J. NEVIN."

The Governor is thus pledged, upon his faith and honor, to recall from service the defenders of the State as soon as her immediate danger shall have passed away, and he may be implicitly relied upon for the fulfillment of his promise both in letter and spirit. Volunteers are required to be mustered into the service of the United States simply because that in this way only can they be justly entitled to the advantages and benefits belonging to that service.

ISN'T IT A PITY.—The New York World says that when the Loyal League evacuated Harrisburg at the approach of poor Milroy's wagon train, they were cheered ironically by the stay-at-home crowd assembled at the depots, whereat one of the valiant Leaguers exclaimed: "It's all very well for you copperheads to remain behind to receive your friends," meaning Lee's army, "but if you fellows were loyal citizens, you would skedaddle too!" Isn't it a pity that Loyal League loyalty is not more prevalent? and had not Governor Seymour better stop sending copperhead regiments over to Pennsylvania and up the Cumberland valley to "receive their friends" from the Confederacy? Bah! Parson Brownlow, the Jupiter Tonans of these unworthy "loyal" disciples, declares that "loyalty leads to the field." The Leaguers around here, however, who arrogate all loyalty to themselves, didn't seem to see it in that light during the late panic. Their loyalty led to Quaker towns, mountain fastnesses, and the uttermost parts of the earth. They take the oath to defend their homes to the last, and never—no, never! to leave the city, except in case of invasion. Many of them are still in exile, and now and then we hear of bands of them being congregated in their "cities of refuge"—promiscuous bands, like that which rallied around King David in the cave of Adullam, whereunto had gathered "every one that was discontented and every one that was in distress." We suppose they are unanimous in favor of prosecuting the war to the "last dollar and the last man."

TO FARMERS WANTING HELP.—We hear a very general complaint made by our farmers of the lack of laborers in the country. The busiest season of the year for the farmer is now at hand, and it finds the country stripped of its best muscle and sinew, owing to the many thousands of young and strong men who have enlisted in the army, or rushed to swell the ranks of the defenders of the State. It is not strange that, with a mighty army of three years' men in the field, and a great army of militia guarding our borders, the rural districts should be drained of their best laboring material.

But it is an ill wind that blows no good. The recent raid has driven into our midst hundreds of fugitive contrabands who are here without employment or sustenance, other than that derived from the government. Most of these men are strong and active, faithful workers, and have been accustomed to labor in the field from infancy. They could be engaged for a very reasonable compensation, and would doubtless be found industrious, efficient and obedient. Farmers in need of help could do no better thing than to come to this place and recruit from the ranks of these poor people. By so doing, they would confer benefits upon themselves, and do the cause of humanity a real service.

WHY IS IT?—The Harrisburg "Telegraph" reaches this city on the day of its publication at one o'clock p. m. The PATRIOT AND UNION is not received until the next day. This detention, we are informed, is simply because Mr. Bergner, Postmaster at Harrisburg and editor of the "Telegraph," has decided to advance the interests of the "Telegraph" over the PATRIOT AND UNION.—The latter is mailed in time to take the 3 o'clock train west, but is never distributed. We leave Mr. Bergner to explain, as we do not wish to do injustice to him, but as we have a decided preference in the journals, we dislike to have a government officer make this discrimination in the absence of a positive order from Gen. Couch.—Pittsburg Post.

A STATEMENT.—An article appeared in last evening's "Telegraph," charging Mr. Charles Segelbaum, who keeps a clothing establishment in Market street, with asking soldiers extortionate prices for certain articles of clothing. From the statement of Mr. S, as well as that of disinterested witnesses, the charge would seem to be harsh and unjust.

It appears that these soldiers entered the store, and asked the price of their stockings. The lad in attendance (Mr. Segelbaum was not in) handed a pair, which he said he would sell for twenty-five cents, and another for thirty-five. The soldier demanded to know if they had not a better article, to which the boy replied by showing a pair marked at forty-five cents. Still wanting a better pair, the soldier was shown one for sixty-two cents, and told it was the best article in the store. This last pair, which we examined, is of British manufacture, seameless, and very finely wrought. The soldier swore that he could get a pair like that a great deal cheaper in Philadelphia, to which the lad replied that he would have to go there for them, as that kind of stockings could not be sold for less here. The soldier then called the lad a rebel, to which the boy retorted that he was no more of a rebel than his accuser. This remark was followed by an assault on the part of the soldier, which the boy eluded for a time, and finally drew a revolver from the drawer in self-defence.

We have no desire to shield any person who practices the slightest extortion upon the volunteers in our midst. On the contrary, we will expose and condemn such on all occasions. But it is but just that in this affair we should correct the false impressions and statements that have been sent out in regard to it.

We make the above statement purely on the authority of Mr. Segelbaum, and do not assume to say that it is correct, but are willing to hear both sides of the story.

SLIGHT SCRIMMAGE.—Two of the fugitives from the Cumberland valley had a bit of a difference at the White Hall Hotel yesterday. The one was the postmaster at the county seat of Franklin county, and the other a member of the medical profession and a dweller in our neighboring town of Mechanicsburg. Each accused the other of cowardice in leaving home, and each endeavored to demonstrate that the other was the most Simon-pure skedaddler of the two. The difference of opinion was irreconcilable, and, after crimination and recrimination, it came to blows. The lesser one, seeing that the enemy was too many for the muscular forces in his department, began to get out his revolver, when the bystanders interfered, thus putting a quietus to the rage of the ratankerous braves, and squelching out our hopes of a sensation item.

THE MAYOR'S PROCLAMATION.—We call attention to the proclamation of Mayor Roumfort, which will be found in our advertising columns, and which we trust will be strictly obeyed by all citizens.—In the midst of the unusual excitement which has pervaded our city during the past few days, and induced many to recommend acts of the most consummate folly, the Mayor has remained cool and went steadily on in the discharge of his duties. This has resulted in preserving the best of order with the least possible inconvenience to the citizens, and if they continue to sustain him by a prompt compliance with his orders there will be no danger of having martial law declared, which may otherwise be deemed necessary by the military authorities.

THE FLIGHT FROM THE VALLEY.—The throng of fugitives from the Cumberland Valley was greater yesterday than at any time previous. Immense processions of panic-stricken unfortunates came through town throughout the day, driving their horses, cattle and sheep before them, and bringing wagons filled with household goods and human freight. The proportion of negroes had greatly increased, and the poor homeless fugitives looked desolate and hapless enough to bring tears to the eyes of the most callous hearted beholder. The sight of the little sucking infants, crying in their mothers' arms, was such as to call forth an involuntary curse on the fell demon of war, that had thus come to torment them before their time.

ATTENTION, SECOND WARD.—A meeting of the citizens and young men of the Second ward will be held at the Second Ward house this morning at 9 o'clock to effect a military organization for the defense of our city. Come one, come all.

AYER'S COMPOUND EXTRACT SARSAPARILLA.—No one remedy is more needed in this country than a reliable Alterative, but the sick have been so outrageously cheated by the worthless preparations of Sarsaparilla abroad that they are disgusted even with the name. Yet the drug cannot be blamed for the impositions from which they have suffered. Such is Ayer's Extract of Sarsaparilla, as its truly wonderful cures of the great variety of complaints which require an alterative medicine have abundantly shown. Do not, therefore, discard this invaluable medicine, because you have been imposed upon by something pretending to be Sarsaparilla, while it was not. When you have used AYER'S—then and not till then, will you know the virtues of Sarsaparilla. For minute particulars of the diseases it cures, we refer you to Ayer's American Almanac, which the agents below named will furnish gratis to all who call for it.
