From the Easton Sentinel. We nail to our must head to-day the nominees of the Democratic Convention for Governor and Supreme Judge, Hon. George W. Woodward and Hon. Walter H. Lowrie, names familiar to almost every voter in Pennsylvania, and we will keep them there until both are triumphantly elected on the second Tuesday of October next, which they will be, so sure as they live.

We most heartily congratulate the conservative people of Pennsylvania on the opportunity which is now afforded them of contributing their support to the election of two gentlemen so eminently qualified for their respective positions and so high in the confidence of the public.

Such men the times demand. Both are now upon the Supreme Bench, the one having been elected in 1852, and the other in 1851, and both are justly celebrated for great ability as judges and statesmen. Judge Woodward knows the interests of Pennsylvania, and he is just the kind of man to see that they are properly cared for.

His nomination has struck the opposition dumb, and notwithstanding their ingenuity in raising objections to the nominees of the Democratic party, thus far they have spoken of him only as a highly honorable man. Set down old Northampton for 3,500 majority for Woodward and Lowrie.

From the Juniata Register. The nomination of George W. Woodward for Governor was the most fortunate and happy nomination that was ever made. His nomination was unsolicited by himself. It was made by the people in spire of the machina-tions of political tricksters, and was the inauguration of a new era in the making of political nomimations.

In all the elements which are requisite to the office of Governor Judge Woodward possesses them in the highest degree. No better man lives in the State of Pennsylvania than George W. Woodward. His eminent abilities. his purity of character, and love of law and order and the Constitution, has made him strong in the affections of the people, and they now feel a certain confidence that under his administration every right of person and of property will be respected.

The nomination of Walter H. Lowrie for

Supreme Judge was a just tribute to an able and upright judge. The nomination of these men has created the greatest enthusiasm, and the entire party rejoices that their nominees are men who are equal to the great emergency in which the country is now involved.

From the Lackawanna Register. We congratulate the Democracy of the whole country upon the nomination, hy the State Convention, of a ticket over which every individual has reason for exultation. The nomination to the office of Governor of the Keystone State, of one of her purest and ablest sons, is hailed with delight by every lover of his country throughout the length and breadth of the land.

It is conceded by all that in point of purity of character, integrity of purpose, as well as ability, that the Hen. George W. Woodward is second to no individual in our glorious old Commonwealth, for the high and honorable position for which he has been nominated by the lion-hearted Democracy. His elevation to the Executive chair will place this State along side of New York and New Jersey, and will form a trid which will ensure safety and tran-quility to the citizens of all. He is too well known throughout the State to require any endorsement from those among whom he has lived from childhood. All that is to be done is simply to arouse the people to a full sense of the danger with which they are threatened and the news of his triumphant election with gladden the hearts of the friends of liberty

The Hon. Walter H. Lowrie, our candidate for Judge of the Supreme Court, was nominated by acclamation- sufficient endorsement of his fitness and qualifications for the position. He, too, will be elected. The people delight to honor men who reflect honor upon the office.

The news of the nomination of a Sate ticket was never more enthusiastically received; nor were the opposition so completely taken by surprise. Many of them admit that the election of our ticket is a foregone conclusion. From the Perry County Democrat.

The Democratic State Convention has given us George W. Woodward for Governor and Walter H. Lowrie for Judge of the Supreme Court. The former is a native of Luzerne, but for some years a resident of Philadelphia; the latter is of Allegheny county. Both are justices of the Supreme Court at the present time. The nomination of these pure, able, patriotic men is hailed by the Democracy of the State with unfeigned delight. Preferences for other men have been lost sight of, and all now concur in the opinion that no better nominations could be made. In this county Clymer men and Witte men and Franklin men are all satisfied and will give the nominees a cordial support. With such standard-bearers the victory is ours if the work of organization already inaugurated throughout the State is persevered in. Let every Democrat put on the harness. The contest is for the preservation and perpetuation of the principles which made us the great and glorious country we had before the mad efforts of fanatics succeeded in producing civil strife. It is another contest for the maintenance of the doctrine of self-government-for the prerervation of the liberty of speech, a free press and the reserved rights of the people under the Constitution. Let the people at once arouse and with "Woodward and Lowrie, the Constitution and the Union" as our rallying cry, we we will sweep the State from Lake Erie to the Delaware.

From the West Branch Democrat. The Democracy of this Commonwealth could. not have selected a more worthy and competent individual for the office of Governor at this critical period of our national history. He is emphatically the man for the times, and will meet the issues as they arise-after weighing their importance-with a due sense of their bearing upon the interests of the State and nation. Soaring above the narrow confines of party cliques, and party machinations, he will take hold of the creations of the hour, weighing each point at interest with an eye single to the good of the whole country. With the Constitutions of the State and nation as his guide, he will adjust his course accordingly. Judge Woodward, for a long series of years has occupied a proud position in the public eve. Recognized as one of the ablest jurists of the State, his judicial decisions have commanded more than ordinary consideration. The radicals may concentrate their attacks at any point in his public life; they may denounce him as a copperhead, as a rebel sympathizer, as a constitution-loving Democrat, it will avail them nothing; he will receive the largest vote exer given to any man for Governor of this Commonwealth.
