For all of which it is a speedy and certain remedy, and never fails. This Liniment is prepared from the recipe of Dr. Stephen Sweet, of Connecticut, the famous bone setter, and has been used in his practice for more than twenty years with the most astonishing success.

AS AN ALLEVIATOR OF PAIN, it is unrivaled by any preparation before the public, of which the most skeptical may be convinced by a single trial. This Liniment will cure rapidly and radically, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, GOUT, and all kinds of rheumatic affections, and all kinds of nervous diseases.

FOR NEURALGIA, it will afford immediate relief in every case, when used according to the directions. It will relieve the most painful cases of HEADACHE in three minutes and it is warranted to do it.

TOOTHACHE also will it cure instantly. FOR BRUISES AND SWELLINGS OF THE FACE AND GENERAL LAMENESS, arising from imprudence or excess, this Liniment is a most happy and unfailing remedy. Acted directly upon the nervous system, it loosens and revitalizes the system, and restores it to its natural vigor.

FOR PILES.—As an external remedy, we claim that it is the best known, and we challenge the world to produce an equal. Every victim of this distressing complaint should give it a trial, for it will not fail to afford permanent relief in a majority of cases. It will effect a radical cure.

QUINCY AND SORE THROAT are sometimes relieved by the use of this liniment, but a liberal application of this liniment will never fail to cure.

SPRAINS are sometimes very obstinate, and enlargement of the joints is liable to occur if neglected. The worst cases may be conquered by this Liniment in two or three days.

BRUISES CUTS, WOUNDS, SORES, ULCERS, BURNS AND SCALDS, yield readily to the wonderful healing properties of DR. SWEET'S INFALLIBLE LINIMENT, when used according to directions. Also, CHELSEA, RIVINGTON, FINE, AND INSOLUBLE BITES AND STINGS.

EVERY HORSE OWNER should have this Liniment at hand, for its timely use at the first appearance of lameness will effectually prevent the disease from increasing, and all horses are liable and which render so many otherwise valuable horses nearly worthless.

Over a hundred voluntary testimonials to the wonderful curative properties of this Liniment have been received within the last two years from persons in the highest ranks of life.

CAUTION. To avoid imposition, observe the signature and likeness of Dr. Stephen Sweet on every label, and also "Stephen Sweet's Infallible Liniment" blown in the glass of each bottle, without which they are genuine. For sale by all druggists.

THE PATRIOT & UNION.

THURSDAY MORNING, JULY 30, 1863.

To the Editors of the Patriot and Union: GENTLEMEN.—On account of unavoidable causes I am prevented from furnishing you with the numbers of "Luther Martin" as speedily as I intended to do, and there will be some delay at present; but if spared I will complete them as my time will admit.

Yours, &c., LUTHER MARTIN.

STATE RIGHTS AND STATE REMEDIES.—No. 4. To His Excellency A. G. Curtin, Governor of Pennsylvania: RESPECTED SIR.—In my No. 3 I referred to the fact that, in 1792, the friends of a monarchical government in the Senate of the United States at that time, attempted to follow the customs of royal governments by having the President's head and name, &c., stamped on each gold and silver coin, and that the Federal Judiciary, in the same year, attempted to coerce State rights in the case of Georgia.

This was in accordance with the teachings of the Vice President, John Adams; and we have the authority of the late President, James Monroe, in confirmation of numerous facts, long since recorded as part of our history, that monarchical principles were not exterminated by the revolution, and that a portion of the Whigs had struggled for independence, not for republican liberty. This is true.

For Mr. Adams, the elder, had labored, and was among the great advocates of the monarchical party. He had labored with great zeal and persevering industry to establish independence, and in the dawn of that independence, with no less zeal and ability to inculcate monarchical principles. Those who are not familiar with the discussions of 1797-9-9, will better understand these facts by perusing some extracts from his book, entitled "Defence of the American Constitution," written in the years 1796-7-8, and immediately before the organization of the convention which adopted the present Constitution of the United States.

THE PERIOD FOR WHICH MANY OF OUR SUBSCRIBERS HAVE paid for their papers being on the eve of expiring, we take the liberty of issuing this notice, reminding them of the same. Those who order that they RENEW THEIR CLUBS.

We shall also take it as an especial favor if our present subscribers will urge upon their neighbors the fact that the Patriot and Union is the only Democratic paper printed in Harrisburg, and considering the large amount of reading matter, embracing all the current news of the day, and TELEGRAPHIC DISPATCHES From everywhere up to the moment the paper goes to press, political, miscellaneous, general and local news market reports, it is decidedly THE CHEAPEST NEWSPAPER PUBLISHED IN THE STATE.

There is scarcely a village or town in the State in which a club cannot be raised if the proper exertion be made, and surely there are few places in which one more energetic man cannot be found who are in favor of the dissemination of sound Democratic doctrines, who would be willing to make the effort to raise a club.

O. BARRETT & CO., HARRISBURG, PA. N. B.—The following law, passed by Congress in 1860, defines the duty of Postmasters in relation to the delivery of newspapers to club subscribers: (See Little, Brown, & Co.'s edition of the Laws of 1860, page 382, chapter 131, section 1.)

"Provided, however, that where packages of new papers or periodicals are sent by post to distant places, the names of the subscribers and the names of the clubs shall be handed to the post office; and he shall deliver the same to their respective owners."

To enable the Postmaster to comply with this regulation, it will be necessary that he be furnished with the list of names composing the club, and paid a quarter's (or year's) postage in advance. would be convinced that the people of America would not be happy without an HEREDITARY Chief Magistrate and Senate, or, at least, for life."

He kept a diary of passing events, and a portion of the record of daily occurrences has been taken from its depository—where it had better been left—and exposed to the light of day, by a member of his family. In this diary the compromise by which the Constitution was established, and without which it could never have been established, is denounced in the following language: "The impression produced upon my mind is, that the Constitution of the United States is morally and politically vicious."

Again: "Benjamin, portions above his brethren, has ravaged as a wolf; in the morning he has devoured the prey, and at night he has divided the spoils." This means that the South has fattened upon the North, as the wolf is gorged with his prey. He pronounces this judgment upon the land of Washington, of Patrick Henry, of Jefferson, of Madison, of Marshall, of Monroe, of Jackson, and upon the land of a host of her statesmen and warriors, as true and tried as in field or cabinet ever maintained the honor of their country in times as perilous as any country ever encountered and survived.

But, sir, at this time he considered the whole executive power "placed in the hands of one man," and he procured his Congress and Senate to enact the infamous and unconstitutional Alien and Sedition laws. The Alien law was passed and approved by President Adams on the 25th June, 1798. The 1st section begins in these words: "Be it enacted, &c., That it shall be lawful for the President of the United States, at any time during the continuance of this act, to order all such aliens as he shall judge dangerous to the peace and safety of the United States, or shall have reasonable grounds to suspect are concerned in any treasonable or secret machinations against the government thereof, to depart out of the territory of the United States, within such time as shall be expressed in such order, &c. And in case any alien so ordered to depart, shall be found at large within the United States, after the time limited in such order for his departure, &c., he shall, on conviction thereof, be imprisoned for a term not exceeding three years, and shall never after be admitted to become a citizen of the United States."

The 2d section empowered "the President of the United States, whenever he may deem it necessary for the public safety, to order to be removed out of the territory thereof, any alien who may, or shall be in prison in pursuance of this act," &c., "and if any alien so removed, or sent out of the United States by the President, shall voluntarily return thereto, unless by permission of the President of the United States, such alien, on conviction thereof, shall be imprisoned so long as, in the opinion of the President, the public safety may require."

From these extracts we find the Congress of the United States unconstitutional delegating to the Executive head of the United States the whole powers of the Executive, Legislative and Judicial branches; thus converting the Government into a despotism, controlled by a single man. He is judge, jury and executioner; his mere suspicions sufficient to banish, exile, fine and imprison any alien, without trial, proof or hearing. The countrymen of Lafayette, Montgomery, DeKalk, &c., are his victims.

I beg of your Excellency not to conclude that you are reviewing many of the acts of the present Federal Executive. We shall fairly compare these acts heretofore.

But let us proceed, by quoting the second section of what is known as the Sedition Law of John Adams. It is in these words: "Sec 2. That if any person shall write, print, utter, or publish, or shall procure to be written, printed, uttered, or published, or shall knowingly and willingly assist or aid in writing, printing, uttering, or publishing any false, scandalous and malicious writings against the Government of the United States, or either House of Congress, or the President of the United States, with intent to defame the said Congress or the said President, or to bring them or either of them into contempt or disrespect, or to excite against them or either of them or any of them the hatred of the good people of the United States, &c., such persons, being thereof convicted before any court of the United States having jurisdiction thereof, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding two thousand dollars, and by imprisonment not exceeding two years.

"Approved July 14, 1798. "JOHN ADAMS"

Your Excellency knows that Thomas Jefferson was the Vice President at this time. He could not take advantage of this section if so minded; but he could be vilified and slandered with impunity so far as the Sedition act was concerned. It was only the President that was shielded by this law. Jefferson was a terror to those who were determined to establish an American monarchy, and they took advantage of this exclusion of the Vice President, and poured out their vials of vilification and slander on his devoted head, both in private and in public.

He was charged him as being the ally of France; a French Jacobin; the "paramour of Dusky Sally;" "the seducer of Mrs. Walker;" the "Salt Philosopher;" the "vindicator of his mulatto children;" "Tommy Red Breeches," &c., &c. But he had no redress under John Adams's Sedition Law—nor had any other Democrat.

But let us see what was done under these acts. A standing army was raised and organized, under the ostentatious pretext of a war with France, and officered by the high-toned sprigs of federalism. No Democrat would be trusted—the black cockade was the loyal badge at that time—enormous taxes and stamp duties were laid, as at the present time. Thus prepared, President Adams commenced his tyranny upon the people, fortified by his Alien and Sedition laws, because they would not bow down and worship at the shrine of his unconstitutional acts. Matthew Lyon and Mr. Hawsell, of Vermont, were arrested under the Alien and Sedition laws, and fined and imprisoned.

PUBLISHED EVERY MORNING, SUNDAYS EXCEPTED. BY O. BARRETT & CO. THE DAILY PATRIOT AND UNION will be sent to subscribers residing in the Borough for five cents per week, payable to the Carrier. Mail subscribers, five dollars per annum. THE WEEKLY PATRIOT AND UNION is published at two dollars per annum, (regularly in advance.) Ten copies to one address. Agents: For circulation in the interior, contact with this establishment. An extensive JOB OFFICE, containing a variety of plain and fancy types, unequalled by any establishment in the interior of the State, for which the patronage of the public is solicited.

Mrs. Brotherton, the author of "Arthur Brandon," has just sent forth a new novel under the suggestive title of "Respectable Sinners." There has been much inquiry about the Mr. Conway who recently waited on Mr. Mason, the rebel commissioner in London, and represented himself as authorized by the anti-slavery party of the United States to engage for a cessation of the war on a basis of a separation of the States, provided the south would emancipate its slaves. A New England paper says: "Mr. M. D. Conway is a Republican of the Sumner and Wilson pattern. He is the editor of a paper called the Boston Commonwealth, which was established avowedly to aid in securing the re-election of Mr. Sumner to the Senate."

PERSONAL. General Meade, the new leader of the Army of the Potomac, is a grandson of George Meade, of Philadelphia, an eminent Irish American merchant, whose firm, (Meade and Fitzsimmons) in 1781, contributed ten thousand dollars to a fund for the relief of the famishing army of General George Washington.

I have General Meade described as very highly, (says a correspondent) He is a tall, slim, grey-haired man, wearing glasses, an old slouched hat, a blue blouse with corduroy pants tucked into his long gaiters, and a military hat in looks and actions, plain of speech and familiar and free in conversation when not occupied with business. The whole style of the man is unassuming and plain even to severity.

"THE CHIVALRY" IN PARIS.—Says a correspondent: "We have quite a Congress of Southerners here. I saw a few days ago, in the grand saloon of the Grand Hotel, Hon. James M. Mason, Hon. John Slidell, Hon. Mr. Lamar, Judge Rost, Hon. Mr. DeLeon, some time Consul General to Egypt, and others in no special official position, too numerous to mention. The grand saloon looked like the ball-room of the 'Virginia White Sulphur Springs' in a cold, lone, gloomy way, the looks and actions, plain of speech and familiar and free in conversation when not occupied with business. The whole style of the man is unassuming and plain even to severity."

Secretary Chase left Washington on Monday morning in a special car for Philadelphia, New York and Newport. The Republican reports that while absent he is to give away his eldest daughter in marriage to United States Senator and ex-Governor Sprague.

GUZOT.—Guzot wears his seventy six years well; his eyes retain all its vivacity, his mouth all its pride, and yet there reigns in his features (which are so aristocratic and worthy of a sculptor's art) an air of perfect beauty and serene serenity. Monsieur Thiers is ten years younger than his illustrious and old colleague and rival, but he does not look younger than Monsieur Guizot; yet he is as young as the latter in his clear ideas and quickness of expression. M. Thiers wears at his button hole only a microscopic bit of red ribbon, and M. Guizot though like M. Thiers a grand cross of all the great orders of Europe, and more than M. Thiers, decorated with the Order of the Golden Fleece, yet he wears nothing whatever upon his dress coat, which, buttoned up to the chin, allows one to see exactly the knobs of his white cravat. As for M. Dupin, Sr., he is only forty instead of eighty years old, he could not be more active of body, nor in possession of a clearer, more logical, more brilliant intellect than he possesses at present."

HOW SOLDIERS DEAL WITH REBEL RAILROADS. A letter from Gen. Grant's army to the Springfield (Ill.) Journal, describing the recent operations of our forces near Jackson, says: "Our operations on the railroad were of a novel character. The regiment would be formed in line on one side of the road, and at the command every man would take hold on the command lever of the rail, straightening up, would literally lift the track from its bed, completely capsizing it. Then, piling the ties together and setting them on fire, we laid the rails across the top, rendering them unfit for future use."

USING UP CATTLE.—The number of bullocks consumed by the army of the Potomac during the time the campaign between their march from Catlett's station towards Fredericksburg under Burnside, and their return from Catlett's station under Hooker, was thirty five thousand. Fresh army beef is self-transported, and the saving in transportation effected by driving cattle for army supplies is found to be equal to one and a quarter pounds per man per day.

PREFERS DRAFTED.—The Washington, Pa. Review says: There appears to be a Providence in the recent conscription, in one respect at least. A large number of those blustrious pulpit politicians, who have so earnestly impressed upon others the christianity of shedding blood, have been conscripted. Of course they will go; those anxious to wage a war of extermination should not hesitate about "wading in gore" themselves. Well said.

THE SADI-CROP IN WISCONSIN.—The Madison (Wis.) Journal says: The wheat crop in this vicinity, which a few weeks ago promised a magnificent yield is now seriously endangered. The remarkable hot and sultry weather for some days past has had a most injurious effect upon the crop. An insect has also appeared which is making depredations upon it.

SUBSTITUTES WILL SKEWDAULE.—We learn that on yesterday eight substitutes, who were to have the honorable distinction of representing so many Boston merchants in the "60,000 strong" of Father Abraham, slid out of the cars at Yarmouth Junction and vanished. They were Canadians from the vicinity of St. Hyacinthe, and are probably ready to take the money and go for substitutes again, or as often as wanted.—Portland Advertiser.
