STATE EDITORIAL CONVENTION. LANCASTER, Pa , July 16, 1863.

ocratic Editorial Convention met, according to the call of the President, in the room of the Demo cratic Central Club of Lancaster City, at 2 o'clock p m. The Convention was called to order by the President. and, on motion of J. M LAIRD, Esq., or the Greensburg Aryus, J. ALEXAEDER FULTON, Esq., of the Kittanning Mentor, was appointed Secretary.

A. E. LEWIS, Esq., of the Philadelphia Evening Journal offered the following resolution, which was adop-

Resolved, That the Democratic editors of the State of Pennsylvania be recommended to meet in counsel on the same day, and at the same place with the first eting of the Democratic State Central Committee. Col JOHN HONGSON, of the West Chester Jeffersonian offered the following, which was also adopted:

Resolved, That the President of this Convention be requested to confer with the Chairman of the Demo-cratic State Central Committee with reference to the time and place of holding said meeting. The Convention then adjourned.

Humiliation and Praver-

This is the day set apart by President Lincoln for thanksgiving, humiliation and prayer. In consequence no paper will be issued from this office to-morrow, as our hands will all observe the day. Preaching and prayer will take place, we presume, in all the churches, so well were all the movements timed, and so and our citizens will have an opportunity of rapid were the evolutions performed, that no listening to eloquent and pious sermons, and pouring out their hearts to the Merciful Giver of all good things at the foot of the altar. We hope the day may be blessed to the rulers of people, that they may be inspired with wisdom from on high, and the nation, thereby, be work was hard, the fighting severe; but the

The Opposing Factions.

The indications are that the Curtinites will beat the Cameronians, and that both Covode and Kercham will have to postpone their claims for the present. There is a rumor in circulation that Curtin has written a letter declining a nomination, but we know not on what foundation it rests. Another rumor is that he wishes the nomination as an endorsement of pleases—but nobody is bound to believed what his political and official conduct, when a letter he says. The assertion of the Ch-onicle is from him will be read thanking the Convention, false—the Federal administration (which is but respectfully declining to be a candidate.-There is probably some truth in this. In case it prove correct, then Covode and Ketcham can of more than half of its own, and all it ever try their relative strength-but it must be possessed of the Democratic party, while it is mortifying to them and their particular friends not respected by anybody, not even the meanest that Curtin appears in Convention stronger flunkey in its ranks. Refreshing from Washington.

Intelligence of the most reliable character from the Metropolis gives gratifying assurance of the combined good health of all the Royal Family. We are also glad to learn that although the Forney theory of "Republican forms and Monarchical powers" continues in high favor at the palace, no very considerable change has transpired as yet in the surroundings and usages of the establishment. President Lincoln, now and then, it is true, rides out a la Napoleon, accompanied by his body guard of troopers-not much as he Chevalier Forney and Mars Jun., Stanton, are very much exercised in contriving how to put the Democracy of Pennsylvania hors du combat, at the ensuing election. The Chevalier has very naturally suggested that Col. Alex. M'Clure shall get them all tipsey, and rope them into the Union Leagues-quite in the spirit of the advice given by him to Roberts in the Consuelo case. But the astute Secretary, having early adopted the self-evident proposition that all the whisky spilt by the gallant Colonel, in the rebel raid, was public property, has never settled the "little bili" which covers it. Consequently, the Colonel's spirits "crying from the ground" unappeased, are a poor reliance in the campaign now opening. It is thought, if they don't gain advantage enough in the present draft-(contrived specially to catch all Democrats, setting free under the $300 clause all the Black Republicans, at any rate)-an extended system of lettres de cachet will be adopted in the end. "Something must-something will be done," or at least attempted, we have no doubt. Look out for thunder storms early in October.

Borrowed Plumes.

When the intelligence of the fall of Vicksburg was received at Washington, some of the officials made a night of it. Stanton and Halleck in particular, loomed up in their grandest proportions. It was on this occasion the War Secretary waxed so belicore toward a class o people he called Copperheads, who were be "driven hissing to their holes," after the war was over. And Halleck, (out of gratitude for the floging Stanton once gave him in Cali fornia, we suppose,)-seconded the motion as to Copperheads; and he also took great pains to give out that Gen. Grant had served under him in the Southwest-that Grant was his pupil: in fact, Grant's success became Halleck's triumph! We think it was at Ashley's ampitheatre in London, they first introduced trained horses upon the stage, in performing "Timour the Tartar." It was a brilliant success: the animals performed to admiration. Down went the block and paper walls of the castle before their iron hoofs, amid fire and flame. The audience applauded to exetacy; in the very beight of the excitement, a sharp voice rang out from the pit-" I made their saddles! I made their saddles!" Halleck was the London saddler redivivus, in the glare of Grant's victory! It now appears by Admiral Porter's dispatch, that Halleck had nothing whatever to do even with the plans which resulted in the fall of Vicksburg. We copy a portion of the disshould have been made earlier, but, in the patch-tearing the borrowed plumes from a shameless brow:

"The late investment and capture of Vicksburg will be characterized as one of the greatest military achievements ever known. The conception of the idea originated with General Grant. who adopted a course in which great labor was performed, great battles were fought and great risks were run. A single mistake would have involved us in difficulty; but so well were all the plans matured. mistake has occurred from the passage of the fleet by Vicksburg and the passage of the army across the river up to the present time. So confident was I of the ability of General Grant to carry out his plans when he explained them to me that I never besitated to change my position from above to below Vicksburg. blows struck were constant.'

Forney Affirms.

The Washington Chronicle says: "We may confidently affirm that the Federal government is now stronger in the loyal States than ever before." Forney may "confidently affirm" anything. The man who has deliberately made up his mind to lie, take the responsibility and brazen it through, can safely say what he what Forney means) was never as weak in the loval States as now. It has lost the confidence the disloyal element has been tested and found to be easily controllable. tion in support of the Southern rebellion." But Forney's idea runs in a different channel-He means that the Democratic party "has been tested," and the powers at Washington have come to the conclusion that it will bear quietly any degree of opposition. If they presume to act upon this opinion they may find themselves mistaken.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

BY TELEGRAPH. ARMY OF THE POTOMAC.

THE REBELS RECONNOITERING -THEY ARE DRI-VEN BACK-LEE NOT LARGELY REINFORCED,

WASHINGTON, August 4.—Advices from the Army of the Potomac say the enemy yesterday sent a reconnoitering force toward the Rappa. hannock, in the vicinity of Kelly's Ford, probably to ascertain our position and strength, but after a skirmish the foe was driven back. It is generally believed that, up to yesterday, Lee had not received any reinforcements of consequence from Richmond, but the rebels have been sending heavy supplies to the vicinity of Fredericksburg as if intending to re-occupy it in strength. Information has been received that Guerrilla parties scour the country between the Rappahannock and the Potomac south of the Occoquan. Lieut Noland and Lieut. Wilson, the former of the 6th, and the latter of the 5th U. S. cavalry, were wounded in Buford's fight at Culpepper on Saturday.

TROUBLE IN COLUMBUS, OHIO.

AN INVALID SOLDIER TEARS DOWN A VALLANDIG-HAM FLAG-GREAT CROWD GATHERS--ANOTHER

INVALID SOLDIER BADLY BEATEN. CINCINNATI, August 5 .- The Gazette's Columbus dispatch says considerable excitement prevailed there yesterday afternoon over the tearing down, by an invalid soldier, of a flag on which was inscribed the names of Vallandigham and Pugh. The copperheads com menced gathering and crying for vengeance on the author of the act. Another invalid soldier in the crowd was badly beaten for approving of the act. All the soldiers in the city were arrested and put in the guard house to prevent further disturbance. In the evening a crowd assembled before the door of the store where the flag hung. After parading the streets, the crowd went back to the store and presented the owner with a new flag, which will be hung out again to-day. Further trouble is apprehended.

FROM CHARLESTON.

HARD DUTY ON THE IRON - CLADS - OFFICERS OBLIGED TO LEAVE-SERIOUS ACCIDENT.

Boston August 5 .- A letter to the Traveller from the vicinity of Charleston, among other matter, contains the following:

"Since leaving Charleston harbor, I learn that a number of officers of the iron-clads have been obliged to retire, in consequence of the character of their duties on board, and their places supplied by others. There has been another serious accident on board the Nahant. They were condensing water, and as the water had been rather brackish, much pains was taken to remedy the evil. The officer of the deck requested of the hold to bring him a little to try. As the tank was unscrewed, steam and boiling water rushed out, scalding seven of the men terribly, in some instances, causing the skin to peal off. They were attended by Dr. Stedman and others, and are likely to recover. During the recent attack upon Fort Wagner the Nahant had two shots penetrate her deck. while the stern of the vessel was opened three inches by shots from Fort Wagner.

The news of the late rebel reverses had reached England, and the effect was considered so favorable for the Union that the rebel loan declined 18@20 per cent. discount, and a perfect panic ensued in that description of stock. ROCHESTER, Au ust 5.—The draft com menced this morning. There was no excitement. The draft has already been finished in five wards, and there are no signs of a row.

WAR WITH ENGLAND PROBABLE. OPINION OF THE "WASHINGTON REPUBLICAN."

(SEMI-OFFICIAL) Washington, August 5 - The National Republican, of this afternoon, contains an editorial to which much semi official importance is attached. Among other things it says: "If there shall be a slight occasion for hostilities, the two nations, Great Britain and America are likely to be involved in war. What then will happen? Our steam marine will be at once converted into privateers, and the commerce of Great Britain will be driven from the ocean. Thus does the criminal neglect of the Queen's advisers tend to the disturbance of the peace of the world. 'War is not desirable, even with England-but war is not the greatest of evils. A nation of spirit cannot submit to injustice, to insolence and to ourrage, through a series of years, and make no effort to avenge its wrongs. "The course of England, during the trying period of our domestic troubles, has alienated every American of the loyal States, whatever his opinions upon the administration, or the conduct of the war. These are significant facts, and indicate what the future has in store for us. The machinations of Napoleon in Mex ico deserve attention, but the country should bear in mind the great fact that the United States can restore the Mexican nation to its place as a Republic whenever the attempt shall be made, and indeed it is not improbable that Napoleon will find an excuse for quitting a postession which promises no good to the

A. K. M'Clure offered the following: Resolved, That all resolutions submitted to this Convention relative to candidates, or declaration of principles to be adopted, be referred to the committee on resolutions without debate, and that no member of this Convention shall be permitted to speak longer than ten minutes at one time, nor more than once on the same

T Marshall thought they might as well not allow any one to speak at all; that he could not imagine why they wished to refer the matter to such a committee, and he hoped the resolution would not be pressed. Col. M'Ciure offered it to facilitate matters; such resolutions were common, and if members objected he would not press it. . George Lawrence desired to promote peace and harmony, but they could not be suppressed, and he desired the fullest freedom of expression and debate

Col. M'Clure said he did not wish to be misunderstood or misrepresented. If the resolution was objectionable to members he would withdraw it.

Resolution was withdrawn. The committee on contested seats unaniously reported in favor of B. Hamilton, Clearfield county, C. P. Walter, Eighth senatorial district, G Mason, Ninth senatorial district, George Landon, W. C. Murcier, Brad ord councounty, J. P. Hacker, Lancaster county, D.

only legitimate one, its call being broadest. W. B Mann argued at length in favor of Landon, because he thought he was the reprepresentative of the largest number. George Lawrence endorsed the report of the committee. No more contestants being dissatisfied the report was adopted.

The committee on organization reported the following: President-Col. Lemuel Todd, of Cum land.

On motion to postpone its consideration, eighty-four voted for its postponement and forty-five against it.

Mr. Marshall said the Old Guard of Allegheny, who could smother Lancaster in majorities, was instructed against him. [Applause.] The resolution of M'Kennan was again brought up. Mr. Mann opposed its being again brought Mr. Vincent opposed it as impolitic. Mr. Fuller said there was good cause for the resolution, as it was doubtful about electing Curtin. He was for a new man. He had helped to elect Curtin, and had stood by him. He knew him well, and if chosen he trusted in God he would be elected; but he was not the choice of the yoemanry in this section of country, and there would be trouble in giving him a majority. He knew they had power to nominate Curtin, but he could only support him under protest. He would not assign his reasons; he continued in earnest appeal not to force Curtin upon them. Mr. Fuller, of Fayettee, offered a letter, which was read: PITTSBURG, August 5 .- President of National Union State Convention-Sir: Conscious that the riumph of our principles and the success candidates, at this time, is of paramount importance to individual gratification or personal advancement-from my intercourse with representative men of the party since my arrival in this city, believing that victory points to the selection of a new man as our standard bearer in the approaching contest, and upon whom the entire support and strength of the organization can center, I have determined to withdraw my name from your consideration, and improve the opportunity of so doing which our organization represents. I am inwilling at this crisis in State and nation t say or do anything which may put in jeogardy our success, and I have taken this step oping thereby to do my part towards renoving causes of strife, which will work diaster to us all in future, unless satisfactory adustment is made now.
