FOR GOVERNOR, HON. GEO. W. WOODWARD, OF PHILADELPHIA.

FOR JUDGE OF THE SUPREME COURT, WALTER H. LOWRIE, OF ALLEGHENY COUNTY.

We publish on our first page this morning the letter of the Hon. Chas. R. Buckalew to the Lycoming county meeting, to which we call the attention of our readers.

Corporations and Coercion. The following resolution, passed originally by the Democracy of Northampton county, was fully endorsed and adopted by the recent Democratic County Convention in Philadelphia.

A district may be in a state of war by reason of the armed rebellion of the inhabitants. That may subject loyal men to the inconveniences of a military occupation and to the rigors of martial law.

A Gospel of Extermination! The War Department has recently added to its paraphernalia, two new officers—a Solicitor and a Judge Advocate General.

A writer of legal opinions and political essays, is Whiting, and in these especially his training and origin are apparent.

A very able writer in the New York World, entitled himself WATNS, has recently given to Stanton's Solicitor, and over his back, the whole administration, a most terrific exhortation.

Mark the words—"each person," (not each rebel, nor each individual guilty of overt acts of treason, but "each person,") inhabiting the several States in rebellion against the Government at Washington, becomes, by that habitation, under the fiat of the President—not by his own acts—a public enemy; and so may be plundered, imprisoned, hung, or treated in any manner the brutality of war may choose to adopt!

The same writer, with an ability and tenacity that could spring only from a master mind, remarks, in reply, that the relations of individuals and of the States to the United States are legal relations. They are always the same.

system of government which she may be compelled to obey and which she has a right to demand that the general government shall respect. To assert that rebellion destroys the institutions of a State, is to admit either that it is too strong for the Federal power, or that our institutions are a failure.

Why not? says Mr. Stanton's solicitor. It may be that many of them are loyal. It certainly is true that sex, age, and inclination has prevented many more of them from participating in the rebellion; but what weight ought such considerations to have with an ardent soldier doing the bidding of the Secretary of War?

A great deal has been demanded for the "military power." "Military necessity" has been made the pretext for assaults upon free speech and a free press.
