"SHAKY."-It is reported that there are two hundred and sixty cases of fever and ague in the borough of Middletown, this week. At this rate the ancient borough will soon be transmuted into a grand Shaker settlement, with quinine as the principal commodity of exchange.

FISH STORY .- A fish of the sturgeon species, measuring 6 feet 5 inches, and weighing 75 pounds, was caught in the Susquehanna in a "pot" of Mr Hostetter, near Turkey Hill, on Wednesday, September 3d. The monster was caught by Jacob H. Hershey, residing near Washington borough.

DANGEROUS COUNTERFEIT,-Counterfeit two dollar bills on the People's Bank of Kentucky are in circulation. They are well executed and calculated to deceive good judges of money. Vignette, pigs of lead, barrels, bales, &c .- right end, 2, female erect with flag, squaw kneeling at her feet -left end, two men dressing a hog, two across 2.

THE RIVER.—The river at the present time is exceedingly low. We have heard of several cases of chills and fever among families residing along the river bank, which is no doubt occasioned by the lowness of the river. We are informed that the chills and fever is very prevalent in Middle-

DEATH OF COMMISSIONER MOYER.—John Moyer, Esq., one of the Commissioners of this county, died on the 7th inst., at his residence, in Lykens township, of typhoid fever, supposed to have been contracted on the Gettysburg battle ground .-Seven out of a party of ten who visited the battle greund in company with Mr. M. are said to have died of the same disease.

ONLY Son OF HIS GRANDPATHER.-In Providence, a week from last Thursday, one conscript sought exemption on a certificate, duly sworn to, that he was the only son of his grandfather, who is dependent upon him for support. The only son of his grandfather was constrained to put on the uniform of Uncle Sam, and will hereafter pass as only the son of a gun.

COMMAGE AT THE MINT.—The gold coinage at the United States Mint, for the month of August, amounted to $216,580 in double eagles, and $40,-496 97 in fine bars-in all, $257,076 97. The silver coinage in the same time was $28,879, and in cents 35,500. The aggregate value of the coinage for the month was $292,865 76, covering a total of 3,562,353 pieces.

THE EXHIBITION AT BRANT'S HALL.—The exhibition given last evening at Brant's Hall, for the benefit of the soldiers at the Cotton Factory Hospital, was well attended. The hall was crowded, and the audience, by the applause with which they received the performers, evinced their appreciation of the performance. We cannot speak in detail of the exhibition; suffice it to say that everything passed off pleasantly, and Mr. Hamilton, under whose superintendence it was gotten up, acquitted himself creditably.

LEATER BONNETS AND FLOWERS. - Dame Fashion now endorses the generally received opinion that for some things there is "nothing like leather." An exchange says: "We yesterday were shown ladies' bonnets made of leather. What is mere, they are very pretty. In a week or so they will be in the market. We also examined very beautiful artificial flowers, the foliage of which was made of the same material. The colors are almost the natural has of the material—russet, in different shades. The price is about the same as for Lowers with foliage of muslin or velvet,"

THOSE TYPOGRAPHICAL MARKS .- It seems now to be conclusive that the queer marks in the editorial columns of the Philadelphia Ledger are used to denote the authors of the different articles. The Lancaster "Inquirer" says, that to satisfy themselves as to why they were used, they wrote to a gentleman intimately connected with the "Ledger" establishment, and in reply to the inquiry he said: "They are to distinguish what reperter writes the articles : each reporter has his mark. When the system was first introduced the compositors often times used two or more different marks, but now that the plan is in working order you will find but one mark in each article." So the mystery is over. Let the quid-nuncs and those thirsting after knowledge draw a long breath.

THE FOLLOWING COMMUNICATION from a young lady who almost daily visits the hospitals for the purpose of ministering to the wants and alleviating the sufferings of our wounded soldiers, has been elicited by certain remarks of a very rude abaracter which, some days since, appeared in the "Telegraph." The tone and purport of the communication will meet with general approbation:

MR. EDITOR: My attention was called some time last week to an article in the "Telegraph" in reference to the treatment of rebel prisoners in our midst, about which I have a few words to say. In no city of its size in the Union have the ladies done more to alleviate the sufferings of our soldiers, and tempt their fastidious palates when sick, than have the ladies of Harrisburg; and yet, but few of these same patriotic ladies who have been in the habit of visiting the hospitals here to attend to the wants of our soldiers, but have also, when rebel prisoners were confined in those hospitals, spoken to, and treated them kindly; and I cannot understand how this conduct affects their patriotism. One would suppose their indefatigable exertions in the cause of the Union and its suffering heroes would have placed their Union sentiments beyond all question; and, in fact, it has in the minds of all thoughtful, sensible people, (to which class the writers of the articles referred to do not belong) and I would not pay any attention to their malicious attacks, but that, for the honor of Harrisburg ladies, I do not desire the impression to go abroad that they are in the habit of giving "aid and comfort" to the enemy.

If the writer in the "Telegraph" had so far modified his remarks as to make them read : "Two ladies of Harrisburg, when visiting our hospitals, habitually sweep by our soldiers, with elevated noses and skirts, to carry sweet smiles, boquets, and a few delicacies to the rebels; and four gentlemen of the same place are band-in-glove with these rebel prisoners, giving them all the information, aid and comfort in their power, to the utter neglect of Union soldiers," no one would have taken exception to it, but every one rejoice to see those six turned from the hospitals at the point of the bayonet as a disgrace to a city over which the Dressers. Price $1, $1 50 and $3 per box, according to Star Spangled Banner floats; but I do strongly size. protest against this wholesale "slaughter of the innocents.''

Harrisburg has the reputation of being the "city of churches" as well as "of hotels," and Harrisburg ladies are noted for their piety and good works. It is only right and proper, according to all the dictates of humanity and christianity, that prisoners should be treated politely and kindly by those who chance to come in contact with them; and if they are in extreme pain and in want of things not always obtainable in a hospital, it is only obeying a divine injunction to supply their needs. The "Sanitary" and "Christian Commissions" always give alike to the sick and wounded of both armies, and no one objects; then why find fault with the ladies?

I was particularly scrry to see that the writer of one article was a sick Union soldier. It always painfully surprises me to see—as I have seen in a few instances—one of "our men" who has had numberless kindnesses and delicacies heaped upon him, jealous of a word or look bestowed on a disarmed foe. Such a person certainly forgets what he would desire if their positions were reversed; and also forgets the magnanimity which should characterize a defender of this glorious Republic. I would like to inquire of that soldier-letter-writer if he did not exaggerate a little in that picture of the leave-taking of the rebels?—if he was particular in inquiring if those ladies were Harrisburgers, or Baltimoreans whose sons, husbands and brothers were those same rebel risoners? His picture of the "old lady" was a very good likeness of the aged mother of a white-haired Rebel Colonel here at that time.

I would also like to ask this literary seldier whether he is acquainted with the domestic affairs of those "wives and daughters of vile copperheads?" if so, are not their "dear ones" in the ranks with him fighting for that old Union those "wives and daughters" love so well? And if any of their male relatives were at home during the recent rebel invasion, what did those "she-secesh" do? urge them to work with a "pick" in the fortifications, or pack up household goods? shoulder a musket, or take the night train for Philadelphia? I would further ask him, which is in accordance with the Christian doctrine—to treat a polite rebel with equal politeness, or follow the example of one of our soldiers who acted in this manner: A number of Union and rebel wounded were in the same room; a Union convalescent was bringing in a Union man's dinner, when, seized with a sudden pain in his scarcely healed wound, or for some other equally good reason, he was unable to proceed past a group of rebel officers, one of whom stepped forward with a polite "I will relieve you, sir," and preceded up the aisle to the man, who, raising himself the little he was able, called out fiercely, "You G-d. d-d, &c., don't bring that to me."* Yet a few evenings previous that same man, with charming consistency, accepted a piece of delicious melon, with surly thanks, from the hands of a kind rebel In conclusion, I hope the ladies will do as they have heretofore done-treat every sufferer with kindness, remembering that rebel officials, not rebel soldiers, are accountable for the horrid Libby prisons, and Union officials, not Union ladies, should avenge them; remembering, also, if this Union is to be restored, it must be by fostering kindly feelings between the people of the two sections, and especially between the soldiers of the two armies.

Hoping, Mr. Editor, you will excuse the length of this, I subscribe myself

EVER A UNION LADY.

I would have avoided using even the sign of this blasphemous expression, if I could have shown the vindictive feelings of the man as well

Although not disposed to favor or recommend Patent Medicines in general, through distrust of their ingredients and effects, I yet know of no sufficient reasons why a man may not testify to the benefits he believes himself to have received from any simple preparation, in the hope that he may thus contribute to the benefit in the bope that he way thus centricute to the benefit of others.

I do this more readily in regard to "Boonand's Germas Bitters," prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, of this sity, because I was prejudiced against them for years, under the impression that they were chiefly an alcoholic mixture. I am indebted to my friend. Robert Shoemaker, Esq., for the removal of this prejudice by proper tests, and for encouragement to try them when suffering from great and long continued debility. The use of three bottles of these Bitters, at the beginning of the present year, was followed by evident relief and restoration to a degree of bedily and mental vigor which I had not felt for six months before, and had almost despired of regaining. I therefore thank God and my friend for directing me to the use of them
