The Patriot & Union.

TUESDAY MORNING, OCT. 6, 1863. LETTERS FROM THE ARMY OF THE POTOMAC.

Soldiers! Read, Reflect, and then Vote. Thousands of Pennsylvania soldiers have been furloughed to come home and vote. These furloughs have been granted only, or mainly to those who were supposed to be favorable to the election of Curtin.

It is not necessary to make any response to Grier's nonsense about his former Democracy further than to state that he always was an outspoken Democrat up to a certain time—after a certain promotion had been made; when he suddenly threw his principles to the winds and covered himself with the shoddy blanket.

My friends at home are called traitors, and I can stand it; and I look to that noble band who are enduring all men can for the sake of principle, to yet bring deliverance to the country. I am for "the Union as it was," and I am for "the Constitution as it is."

From all the accounts published in the papers of both parties, the men encamped in other parts of the State fared no better—perhaps worse. The loudest complaints came from Easton, I believe.

THE PRESIDENT'S PROMISES. Mr. Lincoln's letter to the Springfield (Illinois) Convention, which is now being widely published and flatteringly endorsed by the Republican press, contains the following sentence:

"I do but quote from my speeches when I declare that I have no purpose, directly or indirectly, to interfere with the institution of slavery in the States where it exists. I BELIEVE I HAVE NO LAWFUL RIGHT TO DO SO, AND I HAVE NO INCLINATION TO DO SO."

THE WRITER OF THIS, like Grier, came to the war as a Democrat; like him, he threw down the "stick and rule" and took up a musket; but I have certainly seen nothing during two years and a half of army life to cause me to forsake the party now when it is engaged in such a glorious cause as the preservation of our Constitution and laws.

Letters from the Army of the Potomac.

CAMP NEAR RAPID ANN RIVER, October 1st, 1863. Editors Patriot and Union—Last winter, while lying along the banks of the Rappahannock, I wrote you a resounding opinion of the army in regard to the removal of McClellan.

It is not a few days ago since there was an election held here to elect a Governor for the State of Pennsylvania. We all know that that vote will never be counted, and the query is, why is this vote cast? I will tell you. The cause of Curtin at home is desperate, and unless some great card is played soon he will be consigned to private life.

My friends at home are called traitors, and I can stand it; and I look to that noble band who are enduring all men can for the sake of principle, to yet bring deliverance to the country. I am for "the Union as it was," and I am for "the Constitution as it is."
