CHILD EURNED TO DEATH .- On Monday evening isst, a little girl aged three years, daughter of Mr. Nathaniel Weigle, residing in the borough of York, was burned to death. She had been put to bed a short time previous, and a lighted lamp left in the room, the flames from which communicated with the bed clothing. The fact was not discovered antil the smell of the burning bed clothes attracted the attention of Mrs. Weigle. When she entered the room the child was dead, having been horribly burned about the body.

THE COAL TRADE .- The coal trade continues very active. The receipts for the season at Philadelphia reach the enormous aggregate of 7,514,871 tons, being 1,476,707 in excess of the tonnage from the same sources to corresponding time last year. The demand for coal is still in excess of the supply, and from the present scarcity of vessels and transportation facilities it is not likely that the coming winter's production will more than equal the current demand, so that the next spring will open with empty yards.

CHAPLAINS NOT TO BE HELD AS PRISONERS .-General Meredith, commissioner for the exchange of prisoners, has succeeded in effecting the release of all the chaplains of the Union army now held as prisoners of war by the rebels. In return our government has released all rebel chaplains. About twenty-five were sent to City Point a few days ago, in pursuance of this arrangement. This policy, it is understood, will be carried out in the future, and chaplains will no longer be held as prisoners of war.

MAN KILLED.—On Saturday last, a man named John Johnston, a carpenter in the employ of the Pennsylvania railroad, was killed at the outer depot at that road, this side of Pittsburg. It was his duty to couple the cars of the accommodation train, and being somewhat behind time, was in a hurry to have them coupled before the engine came along. In his haste he pushed one of the cars with such force as to give it more than the ordinary momentum in coupling, and stooping to put the link in its proper place, his head was caught between the bumpers and horribly crushed.

OH, DON'T!-A Washington dispatch says that "Gen. Butler has again applied for an actige cemmand, and intimates that he will resign if not given one soon." What an energetic General the General is! No sooner has he finished his active stumping campaign through Pennsylvania, than he again applies for an "active command," and "threatens to-resign if not given one soon." The powers that be shouldn't allow this. Can't they assign the victorious hero to a command in New York, where one of old Ben's kind of battles is to be fought this fall? At all events, we hope the Beast will recall his rash threat, and still perform before the public in the political ring at $24,000 per annum.

REMARKABLE FRAT. Mr. John Mettler, formerly residing near Easton, and now in his 89th year, did up some tall walking lately. He has been a resident of the State of Ohio for the last two years, but getting tired of Buckeye life, concluded to return to his old hone. He preferred walking to railroading and steamboating, and accordingly set out on his long journey on the 21st of September, arriving at Easton on Saturday, October 16, thus making the trip in fifteen days. The distance traveled when he reaches home will be four hundred and fifty-six miles, in sixteen days! The old antieman hoasts that he can out two cords of wood in one day without any difficulty. Bully for the 90-year old! The marshal ought to enroll his name in the "first class."

WHO 18 HE?-On the field of Gettysburg, after the battles, the dead body of a Union soldier was found, holding in his clasped hands an ambrotype picture of three children, a girl and two boys, aged apparently about nine, seven and five years. In the picture, the youngest child, a boy, is scated in a high chair, between his elder brother and his sister, while the dresses of the two latter are made of the same material. The soldier was buried on the field where he fell, and his grave is marked, but his name could not be ascertained. It is hoped, however, that he may yet he identified by means of the ambrotype of the children found in his hands when his body was discovered. The picture is now in possession of Dr. Bourns, 1104 Spring Garden street, Philadelphia, who can be called upon or addressed in reference to it.

A Long Needed Inproveneur.—An umbrella has long been considered as belonging to the stock of common property, which anybody may appropriate who can first lay his hands upon it, despite the reported decision of the Supreme Court to the contrary. An ingenious inventor named Foote, who believes in the sacredness of private rights, has invented an umbrella lock stand, which secures to every owner of an umbrella his inalienable right to it. It is like an ordinary umbrella stand, but as soon as the umbrella is placed in it, a revolving plate grasps and secures it, and can only be unlocked by a key no bigger than a dime, and easily carried in the pocket. This article has been introduced into Philadelphia for sale. Some inventor has only to secure a man's hat in the same way to make his personal chattels proof against being carried off against his will.

A CURIOSITY .- Some workmen engaged in digging a trench in South Duke street, Lancaster, the other day, twelve feet below the surface of the ground, came upon the inner sole and heel of what was once a lady's shoe, both in a good state of preservation. The sole at the toe terminates in a sharp point, which indicates that it belonged to a fair damsel of the olden time, and has lain buried for eighty or a hundred years. The heel is composed of a neatly shaped block of wood, which at one time was covered with leather, a portion of which still remains. The leather gives some idea of what leather was in the time of our great grandfathers-leather such as was made in the more virtuous days of the republic, before the era of contractors and pine shaving soles had come upon us. This shoe was found in front of the Trinity Lutheran church, at one time a low swamp, which was filled up at an early day.

How IT Runs .- Wherever the draft has taken place it has been found that, as far as raising men was concerned, it was a failure. All classes and conditions have, where it was in their power, avoided personal service by paying commutation, and the fewest number possible have suffered them. selves to be held for service when drafted. This will be seen by reference to any published list of exemptions in any district. Take, for instance, the list of exemptions made by the board at Easton on four days of last week, which foots up as follows: Drafted men held, 2; substitutes accepted, 2, paid commutation, 191! exempted for disability, 57; exempted for all other causes, 37. Total number examined, 289-of whom but 2 were held and but 2 furnished substitutes. If another draft be made, it is clear that, in order to make it effective, it will be necessary to abrogate the clause of Adence and recomition who are not willing to anorthoe life and property in its defence, the world will believe that there was represent that Gevern ment are in earnest for its protection."

Reader, from what source do you think we derive the above proposition? It is true, every word of it, and pity 'tis 'tis true"-pity that it should be needful to address such an admonition to the government, so truthfully charging it by implication with having filled the best places in its gift with insincere, hypocritical, loud-mouthed demagogues, "whe are not willing to sacrifice life and property in its defence." We repeat, it is true and sensible, and were the government to "reject from its confidence and recognition" the class named, it would sweep out out of office a full half of those now enjoying Federal patronage. But who makes this startling proposition? Who dictates thus to the government? Perhaps it is some brave soldier, who returns wounded from the field where he has perilled his life for his country, and whose heart swells with indignation as he sees most of the offices filled with drawling, stayat-home demagogues, who have never offered to "sacrifice life or property" in behalf of their country. Or perhaps the advice comes from a 'copperhead," who has been in the military service of his country, but who has no show for patronage because he didn't stay at home and blow the trumpet for shoddy.

Well, it is none of these. Would you believe it, reader, when we tell you that the above sentence is a literal extract from an editorial in the "Telegraph?" Don't laugh; it may strike you as being absurd and ludicrous as coming from there, but such is the fact. It was not originally istended as a "goak." Read it carefully, and then ponder. What would be the effect on Bergner, if government should act on his advice? He would be called upon to hand over his postmaster's cemmission instanter. He has never taken up arms for the government-and never will. His editorial corps have not been in the army, nor are they represented there. The Deacon may, like Artemus Ward, be willing to "sacrifice" all his ablebodied relations "in defence of the government," but, so far as he himself is concerned, he has done nothing but stay at home, shoveling up the greenbacks, preaching up the beauties of the conscription, and urging men to go to the war. So far from "sacrificing life and property" for his government, the late rebel raid proved conclusively that he wouldn't do either, provided he had twentyfour hours' notice and the trains kept running. What a beautiful specimen is he to preach up the daty of making sacrifices. Were his advice to the government acted upon, he and his boss writer would be driven from the governmental crib, to browse henceforth among the thistles of retired

WEATHER INDICATIONS .- The weather prognosticator of the Pittsburg "Dispatch" has established a very fair reputation for accuracy and reliability in that department, and our own observation has satisfied us of the general correctness of his con clusions. In fact, he is the most reliable and ac corate man connected with that concern. In his last weather article be says: "In my article of the 10th of Sept. I stated that if it stormed on the 12th inst., there would be rain on an average every five days until the middle of October. There have been eight several days on which it rained in the 36 days. Having been unexpectedly called away the last month, I was unable to produce my monthly indications." He calculates the indications from Oct. 12th to Nov. 11th as follows: "Twenty-four cloudy and part cloudy days, of which ten will be rainy and six clear sunshine days; weather moderate, with no hopes of a rise in the river to the middle of November." Nous verrons.

MARRIAGE BY FRIENDS' CEREMONY .- Those of ur readers who have never seen the marriage ceremony of the Quaker sect, might have enjoyed the privilege yesterday forenoon at Alderman Kline's office, where Robert Eastman and Ann Eliza White, both of Bucks county, were duly united before that official. The ceremony was very short and simple. The magistrate said nothing whatever. The man repeated the formula, "I take this woman to be my wedded wife, to live together in the holy estate of matrimony; I will love, &c. as long as we both shall live." The woman then repeated the same, merely changing the form to suit the sex, and "they twain were one flesh," without a word from the Alderman.

Correction.-In noticing the case of a girl who was arrested the other day for wearing male attire, we stated that she obtained her clothes at the public house of Mr. Ryan, on State street, where she was stopping. This was incorrect. The outfit was furnished by a person named Jos. Lynch, of whose occupation or whereabouts we were not informed. The matter is not one of great moment, but we desire that Mr. Ryan's uame should not be compromised in connection with it.

ALTERED TREASURY NOTES,-Cares of persons amested for offering altered Treasury notes are numerously reported in our exchanges. From the frequency with which these notes are offered, there is no doubt that a large number of them are in circulation. Shopkeepers should closely scrutinize the greenbacks offered them, especially those purporting to be $10 issues.

A Monster Gun.-The patterns have been made and preparations commenced at the Fort Pitt foundry, Pittsburg, for the casting of a gun which will have a bore of twenty inches Its length will be twenty feet, and its greatest diameter at the breach, five feet four inches. It will weigh about 114,000 pounds.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

THE GREAT SECRET .-- It is admitted by all physicians that the grand secret of health and long life lies in keeping the blood and various fluids of the body in a high degree of fluidity. When you feel continued pain in the head or bowels, or any continued uneasiness in any organ or other parts of the body, you can prevent serious sickness by taking BRANDRETH'S PILLS. Bleeding may give momentary ease, because the blood left will have more room. But as the body is made from the blood and sustained by the blood, to waste our blood is to waste our life and ruin our constitution. But Brandreth's Pills relieve the circulation as readily as bleeding by only taking away what it can well spare, and they never mort. Mrs. Hooper, of Barnstable, Mass., was cared of St. Vitus Dance, General Debility, poorness of bleed and costiveness of many years standing, by Brandreth's Pills. The case at length is published in the Pamphlets. sale in Harrisburg by
