

From the Boston Evening Traveller.

Latest from California.

We stated in Friday's Traveller, that we had seen a private letter from San Francisco, dated January 20th, which contained statements in respect to the gold mines, exceeding, if anything, the marvellousness of former accounts. It having been very courteously suggested by one of our contemporaries, that the whole thing was a deception, we now publish the letter entire—with a single exception—and with the name of the writer attached. It was written to a relative in this city, and there is no room to doubt its authenticity. The original letter is in our possession. It is postmarked at St. Louis, and came overland, no doubt; but by what particular route, we are not informed. There is no possibility or improbability in a letter reaching us in 55 days from San Francisco. We are informed that a person was in this city on Saturday, who left San Francisco on the 23d of January! The exception to which we have alluded, is a statement no less marvellous than others contained in the letter, but for private reasons, it is withheld:

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 20, 1849.

DEAR UNCLE—I set myself down to write a few lines, to let you know that I am in the land of the living, and that I am now enjoying tolerably good health. While I was in the gold diggings, my health was bad for a month or so, for there we had no houses, and for the most part had to sleep on the ground or under rocks, where we could get a place. Talk of the army—I never saw half the hardship while I was in the service, that I have seen in the gold diggings. Could we have houses, or good tents, however, we could be comfortable even at the diggings.

As for gold, I have gold, I have got plenty. I have got about 798 pounds. It sells here for from 12 to 16 dollars the ounce. I was in the diggings three months and a half, and if I had had something to wash out the dirt clean, I should have got as much again; for we can get nothing near all of it out. I have a number of pretty large pieces—one piece weighing five pounds.

I want you to come out here; you can get just as much gold as you want. I know where there is a ledge, that is almost solid gold; but I shall not tell any body, nor work at it, till my friends come out. I found it out by one of the Indian chiefs, whose life I saved, when he was about to be murdered. A great many are killed, and nothing is said about it.

The gold country is immense. I have been five hundred miles up the country; and the further we go, the thicker the gold is. I think on the river where I was, the fountain head is in the mountains, but it is awful travelling to get up to my ledge. I know where there is plenty of silver in the mountains. We found that when I was with the Indians. They took me prisoner, and I was with them nine months. At last I discovered that one of the chiefs was a Free-mason, and he at once set me free. I find that a great many of the Indian chiefs are Free-masons. I was made a mason by the recommendations of an aged friend, before I left Michigan. I left there when the first war began, and went and joined Colonel Fremont's regiment. We crossed the mountains, and I got taken by the Indians. I was released in consequence of being a Mason; and I would advise all that intend to come out to this wild country, to be masons, for they will find true friends among the Indians: The Indians hold masonry to be sacred—which it is.

If you was here, you could make money at your trade, just as fast as you please; for mechanics here will not work at their trades because they get rich so much faster at the gold diggings.

You never saw such a set as there is in this place. There are people of all nations and of all colors. If Congress does not make some laws, and strict ones, too, I do not know what we shall do. It will be "the hardest scold off." The population here is getting to be awful bad; and it is caused by that curse of the earth—rum. If that had been kept out, there would have been no trouble here.

It is warm weather here now. No snow. There was some snow at the diggings, but not much.

If you come out, come with a number. The more that come together, the better they can do. I understood yesterday that news had come from Monterey, that they had found an inexhaustible gold mine, about 60 miles from there, and also some silver mines; but we take no notice of silver mines, which can be got at half the trouble of the gold. Quicksilver is here in abundance, in all the hills.

Don't delay in coming, and bring a good company with you. If you can get here in July or August, you can get up the country before the rainy season commences, and then you can get fixed, so that you can work at the mines all winter if you please. There are plenty of moose and deer in the mountains, and cattle and all kinds of game and fowls. Wild turkeys are as plenty as prairie hens in Wisconsin. Wild horses are as thick as they can be; and on the branch of the river where I have been, they have never been called out.

Bring out some good boats that will draw two or three feet of water. Take with you, thick clothing and flannel shirts. Bring some good garden seeds, and all sorts of vegetable seeds. I have been to a portion of the country, about which there is not much known, and where gold is plenty. Grapes and other fruit grow wild in abundance. There was once a settlement there, but now not a person living. There are ruins there of an old church, and that very old. You can make out that it was a church, and that is all.

Yours,
G. W. MORRILL.

Ohio.—The Ohio Statesman, states that a bill districting the state in a perfectly unexceptionable manner, passed the House at Columbus on the 10th, and that if it passes the Senate, all discord on the subject will cease.

Minnesota.

The act organizing this new Territory, bounds it on the north by the British possessions, east by the State of Wisconsin and the Mississippi river, south by Iowa, and west by the Missouri and White earth rivers. Provision is made for the division of the Territory, if Congress see fit. The government is to be organized in the usual manner, consisting of a governor, secretary, and legislative assembly. The last former hold office for four years. The first consists of a council elected every two years, and an assembly chosen annually, on the principle of universal suffrage. All laws enacted by this body are to be submitted to the U. S. Congress, and if disapproved, are annulled. The act contains the usual provisions for a territorial judiciary establishment. The governor's salary is fixed at $1500, but he receives $1000 additional as Superintendent of Indian Affairs. The salary of the Secretary and each of the Judges is $1800. The per diem of members of the Legislature is three dollars, and the sessions are limited to sixty days. The laws in force in Wisconsin at the date of its admission into the Union, remain in operation in the new Territory, until modified by the Legislature thereof; and the laws of the United States, as far as applicable, are extended thereto. The Legislature is to hold its first session at St. Paul, at a time to be named by the Governor, and thereafter wherever it may establish the seat of government. The Governor appoints the time and place for holding the first election of members, as also of a Congressional Delegate. All subsequent elections are to be regulated by the territorial law. The Act appropriates $20,000 for the erection of public buildings at the seat of government, and $5000 for the purchase of a library.

A Governor for this Territory is yet to be appointed, the Senate having rejected Gen. Taylor's nomination of Mr. McLaughery, of Indiana.

Value of Honesty.

An old trader among the Northern Indians, who had some years ago established himself on the Wise-Ya, tells a good story with a moral worth recollecting, about his first trials of trading with his red customers. The Indians, who evidently wanted goods, and had both money (which they called shu-ne-ah) and furs, flocked about his store, and examined his goods, but for some time, bought nothing. Finally, their chief, with a large body of his followers, visited him, and accosted him with—"How do Thomas; show me goods; I take four yards calico, three coon-skins for yard; pay you by 'nby—to-morrow;" received his goods and left. Next day, he returned with his whole band, his blankets stuffed with coon-skins. "American man, I pay now;" with this, he began counting out the skins, until he had handed him over twelve. Then after a moment's pause, he offered the trader one more, remarking, as he did it: "That's it. 'I handed it back," said the trader, "telling him he owed me but twelve, and would not cheat him. We continued to pass it back and forth, each one asserting that it belonged to the other. At last he appeared to be satisfied; gave me a scrutinizing look, placed the skin within the folds of his blanket, stepped to the door and gave a yell and cried with a loud voice:—"Come, come, and trade with the pale face, he honest; he no cheat Indian; he no cheat Indian; his heart big. He then turned to me and said: "You take that skin; I tell Indian no trade with you—drive you off like dog—but now you Indian's friend, and we your's." "Be fore sundown, I was waist deep in furs, and loaded down with cash. So I lost nothing by my honesty."

Arrival of the Canada.

St. Jons, March 23, 1849.
The Steamship Canada, Capt. Judkins, with European news to the 10th inst., arrived at Halifax on Thursday the 22d inst., shortly after 9 o'clock, having experienced very heavy weather on the passage.

There is a greater degree of dullness and gloom in the Grain trade throughout all the leading markets than there has been for a long period. Prices continue to droop, and from present appearances, under the pressure of heavy arrivals from abroad, the bottom has not yet been reached.

The disastrous accounts from India and the news by the Niagara, that there was a large excess of receipts of cotton at the principal shipping ports in America over the corresponding period last year gave a decided check to the market in the early part of the last week, and since then the demand has been contracted to the supply of the immediate wants of consumers, which has caused prices to decline one-quarter of a penny per pound. Fair Uplands are now quoted at 4s, Mobile 5s, and Orleans 5s; sales for the week 2220 bales.

The importations of breadstuffs from the United States during the last fortnight, have been unusually large, prices for all descriptions have been in favor of the buyers. There is a large supply of Wheat and Flour, Indian Corn and Meal in the market, and large quantities are being warehoused, purchasers are made merely to supply immediate wants. These remarks will apply to all the leading corn markets, throughout the kingdom.

At Liverpool, on the 9th, white Wheat was sold in small quantities at 10d a 7s 2d. Southern Flour 25s 9d a 2s; Western Canal, 25s a 25s 6d; Philadelphia and Baltimore, 24s 6d a 25s 3d. Best Northern yellow Corn 29s 6d, and mixed 28s 6d per quarter. Meal is quoted at 13s a 14s per bush.

FRANCE.—The French Government continues to gather strength, and there is evidently a growing disposition on the part of the nation to crush any attempt at public disorder. Upon the whole, the prospects of tranquility are more favorable than they have been during the past year.

Mr. Duffy refuses to have any public subscription made for his defence against the prosecutions of the Crown.

Gen. Taylor and Mr. Bodisco.

The day before yesterday the Russian Minister, Boyar Bodisco, had a special audience of Gen. Taylor, for the purpose of congratulating him on his accession to the Presidency. His speech, and the reply to it from Gen. Taylor, were published in the Washington Intelligencer. Mr. Bodisco commenced:

Mr. President:—Remarkable military deeds, accomplished amidst trying difficulties and enhanced by great modesty, have brought to the knowledge of the American people your high qualifications. Your energy and your wisdom have been deservedly appreciated and magnificently rewarded by the Supreme Magistracy to which the choice of a great nation has elevated you.

The conservative principles you have proclaimed, and the assurances you have given, will be everywhere accepted as pledges of Peace, and all interested in the welfare of the Union most sincerely wish that the success of your Administration should completely correspond to your good intentions and devotion to your country.

The Emperor, my august master, (continues Mr. Bodisco) taking a permanent interest in the welfare of the United States, has learned with great satisfaction that the national decision has called to the Presidency a citizen so distinguished for his eminent qualities and his great integrity.

Gen. Taylor's reply to Mr. Bodisco was in admirable taste:—
Sir:—The desire which you have expressed to render yourself worthy of the confidence of this Government cannot fail to be realized, if your future career shall correspond to your past conduct.

Thanking you, sir, for the kind allusions you have been pleased to make touching myself personally, I welcome you most cordially as a gentleman with whom official relations will be made agreeable by the courtesy of his department and as the representative of a great nation on terms of the most friendly intercourse with my country.

The Lion's Leap.

Once when I was travelling in Namaqualand, I observed a spot that was imprinted with at least twenty spots of marks of the lion's paw; and as I pointed them out, a Namaqua chief told me that a lion had been practicing his leap. On demanding an explanation, he said, that if a lion sprang at an animal, and missed it by leaping short, he would always go back to where he sprang, and practise the leap, so as to be successful on another occasion; and he related to me the following anecdote.

I was passing near the end of a craggy hill, from which jutted out a smooth rock, of from ten to twelve feet, when I perceived a number of zebras galloping around it, which they were obliged to do, as the rock beyond was quite steep. A lion was creeping towards the rock to catch the male zebra which brought up the rear of the herd. The lion sprang, and missed his mark; he fell short, with only his head over the edge of the rock, and the zebra galloped away, switching his tail in the air. Although the object of his pursuit was gone, the lion tried to leap on the rock a second and third time, till he succeeded. During this, two more lions came up and joined the first lion. They seemed to be talking for they roared a great deal to each other, and then the first lion led them round the rock again and again. He then made another great leap, to show what he and they must do another time. The chief added, that they were evidently talking to each other, although they talked loud enough, but I thought it was as well to be off, or the might have some talk about me.—Maryatt Scenes in Africa.

DIED.

On Sunday evening, March the 18th, at Catsaqua, Maria, only daughter of Owen and Caroline Rice, aged 19 years, 10 months and 14 days.

In her death the community has been thrown into deep gloom, so universally was she beloved, in this truly afflictive dispensation of an all wise Providence. Her parents have lost a dutiful and affectionate daughter—the church to which she was attached, a truly consistent and exemplary member—the Sabbath school at Catsaqua, a faithful teacher, and her numerous relatives and friends, a kind and agreeable companion. It may be truly said of her that

"None knew her but to love,
None named her but to praise."
But they have the consolation to know that their loss is but her gain. "Truly the memory of the just is blessed."

In Towamensing, Carbon county, on the 21st of February, Mr. Paul South, a Revolutionary soldier, aged 91 years. He was the father of 6 children, and had 60 grand, and 57 great grand children.
