Last Hours of Ex-President Polk. A correspondent of the New York Herald, writing from Nashville, under date of the 15th inst., gives very interesting particulars on the last hours of the ex-President.

Having taken up his abode here, the ex-President gave himself up to the improvement of the grounds, and was seen every day about his dwelling, aiding and directing the workmen he had employed. Now overlooking a carpenter, now giving instructions to a gardener, often attended to Mrs. Polk, whose exquisite inste constituted the element of every improvement. It is not a fortnight since that I saw him on his lawn, directing some men who were removing decaying ceders. I was struck with his erect and healthful bearing, and the active energy of his manner, which gave promise of long-life. His flowing gray locks made him appear beyond the middle age of life. He seemed in full health. The next day, being rainy, he remained within, and began to arrange his large library; and the labor of reaching books from the floor and placing them on the shelves, brought on fatigue and slight fever, which the next day assumed the character of disease in the form of chronic diarrhoa, which was with him a complaint of many years' standing, and readily induced upon his system by any over exertion.

For the three first days, his friends felt no alarm. But the disease baffling their skill, (and for skillful physicians Nashville will compare with the first cities in the Union,) Dr. Hay his brother-in-law, and family physician for twenty years, was sent for from Columbia. But the skill and experience of this gentleman, aided by the highest medical talent; proved of no avail. Mr. Polk continued gradually to sink from day to day. The disease was checked upon him four days before his death, but his constitution was so weakened, that there did not remain recuperative energy enough in the system for healthy re-action. He sunk away so slowly and insensibly, that it was eight hours before he died, after the heavy death respirations commenced. He died without a struggle, simply ceasing to breathe, as when deep and quiet sleep falls upon a weary man. About half an hour preceding his death, his venerable mother entered the room, and kneeled by his bedside, offered up a beautiful prayer to the "king of kings and lord of lords," committing the soul of her son to his holy keeping. The scene was strikingly impressive. Major Polk, the President's brother, was also by his bedside, with other members of the family.

Upon the coffin was a plain silver plate. with these words:

THE CHOLELA .- The cholera has again appeared in England, and several cases have occurred in Manchester and other parts of the country. At Paris the disease is making a most frightful havoc, even more so than in 1837. Upwards of 4000 deaths have already occurred, and in one day, there were about 900 cases and 600 deaths reported.

Marshal Bugeaud and many other persons of eminence have fallen before the scourge. It has broken out anew in Siberia, Vienna and Presburg, and is raging most fearfully at Alexandria and Cairo in Egypt. The British Government repudiates all ognizance or sanction of the proceedings of the French in their treatment of the Romans. Different and apparently reliable statements are made from parts of Ireland, to the effect that the potato rot has made its appearance in some distances, but generally the vines look vigorous. The weather is represented as continuing very favorable, and the crops in nearly all parts of England and Ireland are said to look inusually promising.

NEW ORLEANS, June 24.

Dates from San Francisco to the 18th of May have been received here, giving most favorable accounts of the prospect of the gold liggers. Some of them do not earn enough to clear their expenses, while others make fortunes. Thousands of emigants are arriving every week. A number of disappointed fortune seekers were returning to their homes. There were about eight thousand diggers at the mines. Very much suffering prevails.

A letter to the Picayune, dated San Francisco, May 18, says that the proclamation is disregarded, and the utmost anarchy prevailed. Governor Smith and troops had een proclaimed refugees and taken shelter board the American ships. The soldiers were hunted down like wolves.

[Our New Orleans correspondent has condensed his despatch so closely that it is with the utmost difficulty that we can make it ont. The above however, appears to be what he wishes the wires to say ]—Rire.

word about this report. It is doubtless unfounded. There has been an encountre between the whites and the Indians at the placers. Capt. Richardson and his company, from New York, arrived at Mazatlan on the 19th, tract. and sailed on the same day for San Francisco.

A Tough Story.

Talk not of tough stories in Yankee newspapers, after reading the following from a St. Petersburg journal :- "A returned traveller from the north tells me of a curious mode they have in Siberia of procuring the skin of the sable. Their fur is the greatest perfection in the depth of winter, at which ime the hunter proceeds to the forest armed with a pitcher of water, and some carrion meat; he deposits the bait at the foot, and climbs to the top of a high tree. As soon as the animal, attracted by the scent, arrives. the man drops some water on his tail, and it instantaneously becomes frozen to the ground! On which, descending from his elevation with incredible rapidity, his pursuer with a sharp knife cuts him transversely on the The sable, from the excess of pain, taking an extraordinary spring forward, runs off, and (his tail being fast to the ground) out of his skin, of course, leaving it a prey to the hunter! Upon expressing a slight doubt as to the probability of this mode of skinning the animals, my friend assured me that he could never have believed it, had he not frequently tried it himself."
