

Foreign Intelligence.

Arrival of the Cambria

St. John, August 2, 1849.

The Steamship Cambria, Capt. Shannon, arrived at Halifax on the 2d instant, with seven days later intelligence from Europe. The reports from the continent of Europe relative to the state of the growing crops are conflicting, but upon the whole the appearance of the growing crops is encouraging.

All the leading grain markets of England are dull, and prices, as the harvest approaches, show symptoms of a decline.

FRANCE.

The National announces that Prince Camille, the son of Lucien Bonaparte, and Ex-President of the Roman Constituent Assembly, had been arrested at Orleans by order of the Government, on his road from Marseilles to Paris. It is said that having a claim against his cousin, Louis Napoleon, for money lent in aid of his election, the Prince came to France to demand it—the conduct of his cousin against Rome stirred up his ire. It is said that the Prince will not be imprisoned but that he will be forced to embark for England or America.

The questions openly discussed are about a consulate for life for the Empire, Henry V. and the Comte de Paris.

The change of Ministers is considered an event most certain to occur within a very short time.

VENICE. The recent operations against Venice have been discontinued in consequence of the fatal prevalence of fever and sickness amongst the Austrian troops by the excessive heat and hard work.

Revolution in Hungary. A Turkish Ambassador in Paris, received a dispatch on the 19th inst., by courier, announcing that the Polish General, Bem, had again completely defeated the Russians under the command of Leurs, in Transylvania, and that the latter had been obliged to take refuge in Wallachia with a small remnant of his army.

Advices from Vienna on the 13th of July, state that Buda and Pesth had surrendered to the Austrian-Russian troops, on the 11th inst., without resistance.

From a report of Gen. Haynau, addressed to the Emperor of Austria, it appears that a very sharp conflict took place on the 11th before Comora, between the combined armies and the Magyars. The Hungarians fought with fierce impetuosity, but the Austrians claim the victory.

Another and more reliable account of this battle, states that 180 pieces of cannon were brought into the field by the Hungarians, and the loss of the latter in artillery-men may be estimated from the circumstance that several of the guns had to be secured literally by the ditch master (?) in Fenley. Nothing could be more complete than the defeat of the Russian Austrian armies, under Haynau. He was obliged to fall back on Raab, where his head quarters are at present, and which city is filled with wounded. He had been obliged to send 3000 wounded to Presburg, to cover his retreat, Haynau and his staff would have been taken. The Ban Jella-chich lately demanded by a flag of truce the garrison of Peterwardein to surrender.

The commander of the garrison replied: I know well how affairs stand, and that the so-called Ban of Centra will soon find himself surrounded, and with his whole army, be destroyed by the Russians. He holds the enemy in check, making successful sorties. Cornon will soon be invested. [3 o'clock—The lines working had the despatch was ended.]

Action of the People.

A mass meeting was held at San Francisco in June last, Wm. M. Stewart presiding. Hon. T. Butler King made a speech as did several other gentlemen. The following resolution were adopted:

Resolved, That the Congress of the United States having failed to pass any law for the government of this country, the people of California have the undoubted right to organize a government for their own protection.

Resolved, That the people of California are called upon by an imperative sense of duty, to assemble in their sovereign capacity and elect delegates to a Convention to form a Constitution for a State Government; that the great and growing interests of California may be represented in the next Congress of the United States, and that the people of this country may have the necessary protection of law.

Resolved, That we earnestly invite our fellow citizens at large to unite with us in our efforts to establish a government in accordance with the constitution of our beloved country, and that a committee of five persons be appointed by the President of this meeting, to correspond with the other districts, and fix an early day for the election of delegates and the meeting of the Convention, and also to determine the number of delegates which should be elected from this district.

Of this meeting the Alta California remarks that it was enthusiastic and united. The same paper hopes that other districts will follow the example, and that the campaign thus propitiously begun, will not be suffered to flag till the Representatives and Senators of California take their seats in the United States Congress.

A meeting was held at San Jose on the 7th June, Kimball H. Dimmock presiding, to consider Gen. Riley's Proclamation. The Spanish part of the meeting unanimously sustained the General. The following resolutions were adopted by the Americans:

Whereas, we the resident citizens of California, believe ourselves to have been treated by the Congress of the United States in a manner unworthy of the services which we have rendered to the nation, by their neglecting to provide for us a Territorial Government and by their interfering in the question of Slavery; which question, we, the people of California, presume ourselves to be the most affectionate for good or evil:

And whereas, it is indispensable to the well being of society, and especially the greatly growing population of California, that the administration of justice should be in accordance with the established usage of nations, and established upon just and known principles; Therefore be it,

Resolved, That we give our unanimous approval to the proclamation of Governor Riley; and that we believe ourselves now called upon to elect the Delegates recommended by his Excellency, with the avowed object of forming a State Constitution, to be presented to the Congress of the United States, for admission into the Union.

Resolved, That we now call upon all our fellow-citizen of Upper California to unite with us, and that we manifest at the ballot-box the time appointed, our desire to carry out the views recommended in said proclamation, as we believe them to be the views of the great majority of the people of California.

Remedy for the Cholera.

Dr. L. Cox, of New York, has issued a little pamphlet, upon this disease, which at this time, will be useful, if widely circulated. The great point that he makes is, that what are called "the premonitory symptoms," of the Cholera, are the Cholera itself, and must be attacked as such:

"Diarrhea, therefore, is regarded as the grand and ruling feature of the disease, and upon its proper treatment depends all the succeeding symptoms as well as the final result. The common Cholera of the Country commences in the stomach, with pain and nausea, violent vomiting and then copious discharges, first of fecal matter, and then of bile, with violent pain in the intestines. In the epidemic or Asiatic Cholera on the contrary, neither nausea nor pain is first manifest. The patient is first attacked with looseness without pain; then come thinner dejections, large fluid passages, and finally pure fluid, of a marked character, in large quantities, with great violence, yet often without pain or nausea. There is, therefore, a clear distinction between the two diseases."

The doctor then proceeds to treat of the philosophy of the disease, and the way to meet it. Cholera, the doctor regards, as simply a sudden, and violent discharge of the fluids of the blood. And this theory explains every symptom of the disease. The exhaustion which follows is precisely similar to that induced by loss of blood, except the difference in the color of the skin; and that is explained by the fact that the water of the blood, instead of the red blood, is discharged. Nausea attends both hemorrhages. Cramps always manifest themselves in case of death from loss of blood. The sudden reduction of the bulk of the body is ascribed to the same cause—the loss of its fluids. The same thing accounts fully for the coldness of the surface, as well as for the burning heat of which the patient complains. The collapse of the whole body, the sinking of the eye, the shrivelling of the fingers, and the pinched appearance of the features, all bear testimony to the fact that the blood vessels loose their fluid contents. So also of all the other symptoms.

He closes his treatise with the following Directions for Treatment which we copy in full.

In order to serve as some guide in the attendance of a physician, it will be well to recapitulate and to divide the disease into its several stages, briefly stating the several treatments in each.

I. First we have what might be considered strictly the incipient stage. This stage is often unnoticed, or perhaps does not always occur, but it most generally happens, and is characterized by loss of appetite, nausea, disturbance in the bowels, feebleness of the muscles, and languor. Here follows the remedy.

1st. Rest in the horizontal position, if possible.

2d. The use of cordials, such as eight drops of camphor spirits, or a table spoonful of brandy with water as a medicine only, and not to be retained afterwards as a diet drink, and great care to avoid all improper articles of diet and exposure of the person to irregularities of temperature.

II. Then the stage of diarrhoea comes on without pain, and is marked by its insidiousness only. The remedies are:

1st. Rest on the back.

2d. The use of a suppository of opium: consisting of one grain, which is calculated only for the beginning of the diarrhoea, and this is often sufficient to arrest the disorder without further activity in the treatment.

3d. In addition, the patient should use camphor or brandy as before directed, either ammonia or other cordials.

III. The next stage may be regarded as the advanced period of the diarrhoea, when the fecal contents of the bowels having passed off, there is simply the discharge of the rice water. This is the precursor of collapse. The remedy here must be more potent than in the former cases.

1st. Rest in the horizontal position.

2d. An injection of from two to four teaspoonfuls of laudanum, to be instantly repeated if the first dose not remain. This frequently closes the bowels for a period of from three to five days. If at this moment, before collapse takes place, you can succeed in arresting the discharge from the bowels, the patient is safe. If not, he will assuredly die.

3d. The next object is to restore the fluid to the blood. If nausea or vomiting prevail, the best remedy is ice or ice water. Chicken tea and other drinks should be freely used.

4th. The cordials are then of importance. Brandy and camphor are all important, but nothing without opium can be relied on.

V. When collapse has taken place, the same indications of treatment remain, but in a degree more urgent, the same treatment in larger quantities must be used, they will be often successful, and probably always, provided coagulation of blood has not taken place. But in that case, there is no possibility of recovery.

If the patient will implicitly obey these principal directions, there is positively no need to fear pestilence, otherwise so fatal. The disease is diarrhoea, easily checked. Of this it will be afraid, even when unattended with pain. In its tendency it is fatal; but it is, perhaps, one of the easiest possible diseases to cure; if it be subjected to proper treatment.—New-York Express.
