Letter from California.

The Pottsville Emporium publishes the following letter from Daniel B. Christ, a California emigrant. It contains an interesting account of his journey across the mountains and of that portion of California, where he now resides.

OREGON, CANNON, Jan. 10, 1850. According to promise I now propose giving you a brief sketch of our suffering and hardships, during the long journey to this Place.

We left Independence, April 26, 1849, and reached the first diggings in California, on the 1st of September, being four months and four days. Our sufferings caused by heavy hail storms, cold weather, want of fuel and water, during the first portion of the journey, were greatly increased in the latter portion by heat, dust, fatigue and the necessity of standing guard one half the

and as soon as camp was formed, every man all other clothing in proportion. Boarding would engage in something, pitching tents, $30 to $36 per week—per day $6—per gathering fuel or grass; this done, all hands meal $2. The reason everything being so except a few who did the cooking, were called on to guard the animals, wagons, provisions, &c. In the morning at 3 o'clock, all would be up and busy in greasing and repairing the wagons, or fixing their feet so as to be able to travel another day.

In crossing the different deserts it almost cost my life-the suffering for want of water was greater than I can describe. Hundreds of my fellow travelers suffered the same and even more; my nearest friend C. got through if some had not gone ahead with ishing. I offered one man $2 for a swallow Crason river, I walked into the stream up about ten minutes, having slaked my thirst, went to shore, laid myself under a tree and fell asleep. Here I remained perhaps an hour and a half, when a portion of our com- lowing spring to California. bany came up with the cattle, having left he wagons 9 miles back on the desert. Here we remained during the afternoon and hight, and about 8 o'clock the next morning started back to fetch the wagons and 3 men who had been left to guard them; to these men water had been sent during the night by persons on horseback. Having got all through except one ox, which died for want of water, we stopped 3 days on Crason river, to recruit both men and cattle. On the balance of the route we found a supply of water. This desert from the sink of Humboldt river to Crason river, is 50 miles, but we had to take our water 20 miles above the sink, which made a distance of 70 miles, and as our canteens would hold but 3 quarts it was not a sufficient quantity for half the distance, so great was the heat and dust.

When I left Independence, I had a very good horse, but after traveling from 4 to 500 miles, running him after Buffaloes, and at one time being chased by five Sioux Indians, all on horseback, who followed me county, Massachusetts, and that Mrs. Allen closely for two miles, at the top of my horses' speed, he gave out, and I was compelfed to travel the balance of the rout, about 1400 miles, on foot, when my real sufferings commenced. Imagine me with my feet blistered, toe nails turned black, and sometimes travelling bare-footed until my feet bled profusely, and you have some idea of my condition—yet many suffered vastly more, even to death itself. From my own knowledge and information received of others. I have no-doubt that not less than from 2000 to 3000 souls left their bodies on this The facts were elicited on a trial in the 1st of April next, to subscribe their oath of horrible overland route, and I would advise all who are determined to visit California, to choose any other in preference.

Strewed along this route too, are many hundreds of wagons which have been abandoned, with immense quantities of provisions, harness, chains, powder, lead, rifles, articles of every d I belonged to got through with their team, idea can be formed of the amount of sufferbut had to part with every thing except bare- ing loss of life even among the wounded horly sufficient provisions to sustain the party. ses in this sanguinary war. It is believed, My friend C. S. Cockill, was less fortunate, however, that had there been in the camp, this mess first broke up, then the Indians a good supply of Merchant's Gargling Oil, stole some of his animals, and he was com- which is so celebrated for its healing proppelled to abandon his wagon; yet with all this privations and suffering he bore up most manfully.

Such a moving mass of men and beasts. as these California emigrants presented, has not been seen since the days of Moses.

As I am now in the midst of gold diggings, I will endeavor to give you an account of this wonderful country as far as my limited knowledge will permit. In the first place I must say that Gold is fully as plenty as it has been represented in the public prints, if not more so. Since I came here, I have seen thousands of dollars that was dug in one day within half a mile of me .--

The largest amount that I have seen taken out in one day by four men, was a little over nine pounds, or $1,834. The largest piece of Gold I have seen was worth about $332. Larger piece have been obtained, one of which I was told was worth over $700, yet it is by no means all who come here that make fortunes. Many become discouraged and go home, cursing the country -others leave on account of bad health, and others more determined work on until they sacrifice their lives. Those who have a desire to visit this land of Gold, will do well to first try our mode of living for a few weeks; our provision is rusty fat pork and slapjacks, the latter a cake made of flour and water, and baked either in a pan or in the ashes. But when we get out of flour, Acorns roasted in the fire, are used as a substitute. In addition to this let them go daily into some stream, and labor hard, standing up to their ankles in mud and water; on Sunday travel on foot a distance of 12 miles for a new supply of this choice provision; return wearied out, rook supper, lay down under a tree, wrapped carefully in a blanket to prevent taking cold and thus pass the night in dreaming of large lumps of Gold. Let them try this and it will afford some idea of life in California.

A number of those who came out this senson have already made their fortunes and rcturned home, no doubt to give a flattering inig, ag d 3 years.

account of the country, while another portion penniless and disheartened are struggling to make their way home, and still another portion remain here or wander about the territory, for lack of means to get away.

The prices at this time in the town of Culloma, where I do my trading, about 12 or Butter, $1,50, Beans, $1 per lb., Dried coming stronger every day. Apples or Peaches, $1.50 lb, Apples or Potatoes, $1,25lb., Onions, $1,50 per lb. Eggs, $1 a piece or $12 per dozen, Coffee 75 cents per lb. Sugar, $1 lb. Molasses 25 to $1,50 per qt., Ten is one of our cheapest articles being from $1,25 to $1,50 per lb., Rice 80 cts. to $1 per lb, Salt, $1 per lb, Saleratus $4 per lb, and all other groceries in propor-tion. For a small Tin Bucket which holds about 3 quarts, I paid $4. A wash pan to wash Gold in, a little larger than our wash basins at home from 86 to $8 a piece. Coarse Boots, $60 to $80 per pair; under drawers We traveled from 18 to 25 miles per day $6 under shirts $8 coarse pants $18 to $15 meal $2. The reason everything being so high at this time is the difficulty and expense of transportation; from Sacramento to Culloma, 45 miles, the transportation is altogether on pack animals, and the merchants have to pay 50 cents fright, per pound. The place at which I am now working is a deep gorge or hollow between two mountains; from Oregon-hence the name it bears

"Oregon Cannon."
My friend C. S. Cockill is with me at this time; he is a whole souled friend, and S. Cockill, (of Liewellyn,) would not have I could not have made a better selection for got through if some had not gone ahead with a travelling companion. I fear nothing so horses to get water for those who were per- long as he is with me, the I must admit we are two hard looking cases; and I have no of water, but he refused it. On reaching doubt that if hard pushed either of us could grin a Grizzly Bear out of countenance .to my middle and drank horse fashion; in He has lost some flesh but is still in good health.

I intend being at home by October or November next, but expect to return the fol-D. B. CRIST.

The Parkman Murder.

Recent events occurring in Franklin couny, Massachussetss, render it probable that John Weeks, the individual traced by the New Orleans Delta to be the author of the Texas letter about the Parkman murder, was the man named B. F. Cannon, of Wendell, who disappeared from that town suddealy on the 9th of November last, with some $500 of borrowed money; that he was seen 3 or 4 weeks after this in New York, where he also suddenly disappeared and was not again heard from.

Some time in February, his daughter, a Mrs. Allen, in Worchester Co., received letters purporting to come from persons on board a steamer plying in Texas, stating that a man under the assumed name of John Weeks, died of cholera on board that boat on the 2d of February; and that he stated that he belonged in Greenwich, Hampshire was his daughter, to whom he requested to have his trunk and effects sent by a Mr. Vance, of Vermont, to whom they were entrusted. Mr. Vance arrived a few weeks ago, bringing the trunk and other articles, which the family of Mr. Cannon recognized as his property. Mr. V. and his wife both testified to the striking resemblance which the pretended Weeks bore to a deguereotype likeness of Mr. Cannon. Several other circumstances are mentioned which go to Weeks, on whose motion Mr. C. had been formance of their respective duties declared insolvent in January last.
