Centre Valley Hotel.

The undersigned begs leave to inform his friends and the public in general, that he has rented and now occupies the new Centre Valley Hotel, in Upper Saucon township, Leigh county, lately held by Geo. Wetherhold. The House is beautifully situated, large and roomy, with first rate stabling and water close at hand. Being somewhat experience ed in keeping public house, he flatters himself to be able to give full satisfaction to those who may think proper to favor him with their custom.

He will furnish his bar with the best of liquors, and his table with the choicest the market affords. His bedding are all new, and cleanliness will be observed throughout his establishment.

He invites such of his friends who pass and repass his house, to give him a call.

JOB PRINTING Neatly executed at the "Register" Office.

Wood's Patent Improved, Self-Feeding, Shingle

This valuable Machine was exhibited by Horse-power in the yard of Col. Eli Steckel's Engle Hotel, in Allentown, on the 27th and 28th of May last, and operated to the entire satisfaction of all present. It was proven by said operation, that from 2500 to 4000 perfect shingles can be manufactured from one cord of Wood, at a cost not exceedng One Dollar per Thousand.

The Machine is capable of cutting from 2 to 4,000 shingles per hour, and if permanently located in the county, it would not only prove advantagous to the operator and consumer, but would add greatly to the value of timber land in Lehigh county.

Oak, Poplar and Chestnut shingles and staves have been manufactured with this Machine, under my own knowledge in the counties of Bucks, Delaware, Chester and Berks, by large quantities, and used to perfect satisfaction. The machine can be seen in operation by horse-power, at Mr. Jacob B. Brumbach, in Reading, or by calling on the subscriber who has two manhines in operation, one at Coatsville, by horse power, and one at his mill by water power.

Persons wishing to purchase the right for either location, township or county, will please address a letter to

Song of the Union. BY WILLIAM (ROSS) WALLACE.

Who would raise the cry of "Sever?" Who would rend our starry fold? At Monmouth, Yorktown, Saratoga, Who would say unto our Eagle?

"Let your mighty wings, unfutl'd From the rising to the sunset, Fan no more the Western World!" See ! upon the clouds resplendent, Mid a Grecian patriot-crowd, Sit the Revolution's heroes! Henry cries to you aloud-Cries to you their brave descendants

By the mountain, wave and flood-"Will ye, can ye dare surrender Rights that we baptized in blood?" Freemen! give aloud your answer-"Heroes, marking well our foes,

This our flag is but the dearer Since Disunion's voice arose! We will bear with many a trouble ! We could never dare to sever! Discord, Battle, Death may threaten-But the Union stands forever !

We have sworn it in the Northland By Niagara's awful wave: We have sealed it in the Westland By Kentucky's mighty cave-In the Eastland, in the Southland, We will raise the starry fold That our Washington at Trenton Like a hurricane unrolled."

Declaration of Independence. OF THE United States of America

July 4, 1776. When, in the course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume, among the powers of the earth, the seperate and equal station to which the laws of nature and of nature's God entitle them, a decent respect for the opinions of mankind requires, that they should declare the causes which impel them to the seperation. We hold these truths to be self-evident, we note the country Miller that all men are created equal; that they that all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain and end that he will occupy the same from the first of April next. He further informs his old customers, that he has a great many rooms ready to accomplish a great many rooms ready to accomplish a great many rooms ready to accomplish the governed; that, when module a great many rooms ready to accomplish the governed; that, when ever any form of government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the right of the people to alter or to abolish it, and to instiute a new government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their safety and happiness .- Prudence, indeed, will dictate, that governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly all experience hath shown, that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably ernment, and to provide new guards for their future security. Such has been the patient sufferance of these colonies; and such is now the necessity which constrains The "Eagle Line" of stages running them to alter their former systems of governries and usurpations; all having in direct object the establishment of an absolute tyranny over these States. To prove this, let facts be submitted to a candid world.

He has refused his assent to laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the pub-

He has forbidden his governors to pass laws of immediate and pressing importance, unless suspended in their operation, till his assent should be obtained; and, when so suspended he has utterly neglected to attend to them. He has refused to pass other laws for the accommodation of large districts of people, unless those people would relinquish the right of representation in tho legislature—a right inestimable to them and formidable to tyrants only.

Ite has called together legislative bodies at places unusual, uncomfortable, and distant from the repository of their public records, for the sole purpose of latiguing them into compliance with his measures. He has dissolved representative houses repeatedly, for refusing with manly firmness, his invasions on the rights of the people. Fle has refused, for a long time after such dissolutions, to cause others to be elected; whereby the legislative powers, incapable of annihilation, have returned to the people at large, for their exercise; the state remaining in the mean time exposed to all the dan-ger of invasion from without and convulsions

He has endeavored to prevent the population of these states; for that purpose ob structing the laws for naturalization of foreeigners; refusing to pass others to encourage their migration hither, and raising the conditions of new appropriations of lands.

He has obstructed the administration of justice, by refusing his assent to laws, for establishing judiciary powers. He has made judges dependant on his will alone for the tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries. He has erected a multitude of new offices, and sent hither swarms of officers, to harass our people, and eat out their substance. He has kept among us, in times af peace, standing armies, without the consent of our He has affected to render the military independent of, and superior to, the civil power.

He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction, foreign to our constitution, and un-acknowledged by our laws; giving his assent to their acts of pretended legislation.

For quartering large bodies of armed troops among us : For protecting them, by a mock trial, from punishment for any murders which they should commit on the inhabitants of these States. For cutting off our trade with all parts of he world.

For imposing taxes on us without our

For depriving us, in many cases, of the benefits of trial by jury.

For transporting us, beyond the seas, to be tried for pretended offences.

For abolishing the free system of English laws in a neighboring province, establishing therein an arbitrary government, and enlarging its boundaries: so as to render it at once an example and fit instrument, for ntroducing the same absolute rule into these colonies. For taking away our charters, abolishing our most valuable laws, and altering fundanentally the powers of our governments. For suspending our own legislatures, and leclaring themselves invested with power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever.

He has abdicated government here, by declaring us out of his protection, and wagng war against us. He has plundered our seas, ravaged our oasts, burnt our towns, and destroyed the ives of our people.

He is, at this time, transporting large armics of foreign mercenaries to complete the works of death, desolation and tyranny, already begun, with circumstances of cruelty and perfidy, scarcely paralleled in the most otally unworthy the head of a civilized nation.

He has constrained our fellow citizens, taken captive on the highs seas, to bear arms against their country, to become the executioners of the friends and brethren, or to fall themselves by their hands.

He has excited domestic insurrection imong us, and has endeavored to bring on the inhabitans of our frontiers, the merciless Indian savages, whose known rule of warfare is an undistinguished destruction of all ages, sexes, and conditions.

In every state of these oppressions, we have petitioned for redress, in the most humble terms; our repeated petitions have been answered only by repeated injury. A prince whose character is thus marked by very act which may define a tyrant, is unt to be the ruler of a free people.

Nor have we been wanting in attention to our British brethren. We have warned them from time to time, of attempts made by their legislature to extend an unwarrantable jurisdictiion over us. We have remained them of the circumstances of our emigration and settlement here. We have appealed to their native justice and magnanimity, and we have conjured them, by the ties of our common kindred, to disavow these usurpation, which would inevitably interrupt our connexions and correspondence. They, too, have been deaf to the voice of justice and of consanguinity. We must therefore, acquiesce in the necessity which denounces our seperation; and hold them, as we hold the rest of mankindenemies in WAR, in PEACE friends. We, therefore, the Representatives of the United States of America, in general conress assembled, appealing to the Supreme ludge of the world, for the rectitude of our intentions, Do, in the name, and by the authority of the good people of these colonies, solemnly publish and, declare, that these United Colonies are, and of right ought to be, Free and Independent States. they are absolved from all allegiance to the British crown, and that all political connection between them and the State of Great Britain is, and ought to be, totally desolved: and that as free and independent, states they have full power to levy war, conclude peace, contract alliances, establish commerce, and do all other acts and things, which independent states may of right do. And for the support of this declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our Lives, our Fortunes, and our Sacred
