Devoted to News, Literature, Poetry, Science, Mechanics, Agriculture, the Diffusion of Useful Information, General Intelligence, Amusement, Markets, &c. VOLUME VI. ALLENTOWN, LEHIGH COUNTY, PA., MAY 20, 1852.

THE LEHIGH REGISTER. Is published in the Borough of Allentown, Lehigh

County, Pa., every Thursday RE AUGUSTUS L. RUSEE. At$150 per annum, payable in advance, and $2 00 if not paid until the end of the year. No paper discontinued, until allarrearages are paid except at the option of the proprictor. ABVERTISEMENTS, making not more than one square, will be inserted three times for one dollar and for every subsequent insertion 'wentyfive cents. Larger advertisements, charged in the same proportion. Those not exceeding ten lines will be charged seventy-five cents, and those making six lines or less, three insertions for 50 who advertise by the year.

TV Office in Hamilton St., one door East!

Highly Important News!

Edelman, Hanse & Ce.

On the south-west corner of Market Square and Hamilton Street, directly opposite the "Eagle Hotel" in Allentown, which articles, such as they style the cheap

Farmers' and Mechanics' Store. They have just returned from Philadelphia, with an entire new and well selected stock of the cheapest and most beautiful

Spring and Summer Goods that were ever exhibited in this place, embracing all the Latest and most Fashionable Styles, to which they invite the attendance of their friends and acquaintances generally. These goods have been selected with great care and attention. We name in part,

Fancy Style Spring Silks, all widths and qualities, Foulard Silks, Black and Fancy Colored Silks, Berege de Laines, Persian Cloths,

Wool French de Laines, Ginghams, French Chintzes, Janey Lawns, Calicors, from 3 to twelve cents a yard. WHITE GOODS,

Of all descriptions, Jaconet and Swiss Edgings, Insertings, Linen and Cotton Laces. 300 New style Ladies' Needle Work Collars from 64 cents to $1,50, Wristbands, Cuffs, &c. A good assortment of Hoisery, Gloves, Mitts, &c. always on hand.

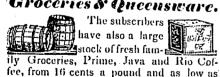

A large assortment of silk and cotton Umbrellas. Parasols of all styles, colors and prices.

GENTLEMEN'S WEAR.

French, English and American Cloths, of various colors, Plain and Fancy Cassimers, Satin and Fancy Vestings, Satinetts. A large assortment of Woolen, Worsted, Linen and Cotton Goods for Spring wear .-Cravats, Pocket Handkerchiefs, Collars, &c. Also, a bealtiful and handsome assortment of Goods for Boys' wear.

than ever before offered in Allentown, and are determined to sell them at a very small advance. They hope therefore that through strict attention to their business, they will be able to draw a large share of public patronage for which they will ever be thankful. by EDELMAN, HANSE & Co. Allentown, April 29, ¶--6m fee, from 16 cents a pound and as low as 6! cents, Sugars, Teas, Molasses Cheese, Spices, Crackers, Raisins &c., &c.,

Groceries & Queensware.

Butter, Eggs, Lard, Hams, Sides, Shoulders, Potatoes, Onions, and Soap, for which Kettles, just received and for sale at very the highest Market prices will be given in exchange for Goods.

All Goods sold at this Establishment are warranted what they are represented to be. Call and examine for yourself. Goods freely shown with strong inducements to buy. EDELMAN, HANSE & Co. ¶---6m

Allentown, April 29,

April 22,

Grain Wanted. 50,000 Bushels of Wheat, Rye, Corn and Oats wanted, for which the highest market prices will be paid by the subscribers, at their store on the South west corner, of Market Square and Hamilton street, in Al-

EDEEMAN, HANSE & Co. Allentown, April 29, ¶--6m

NAILS .- 300 Kegs of the best Nails, and Spikes, just received and for sale O & J SAEGER.

New Goods! New Goods!

Builders Look Here. A NEW ASSORTMENT OF to A liberal deduction will be made to those of the German Reformed Church, nearly opposite the "Friedenshote Office."

The undersigned announce to the public, as or obsiness. The proprietor increase, that they have just returned from Philadelphia and New York, with a very large lot their endown in the least recommodate all who may honor him with The undersigned announce to the public, House Furnishing Articles Cuttery, Couch Trimmings Saddlery and Shoe-findings, all of which BEDS and ROOMS are clean and comwill be sold at extremely low prices. They ask the public to give Sarger's Hardware STORE, sign of the

. J. V' E'ZE. 1 call, in order to convince themselves of the fact, that a 'penny saved is a penny made.'

O. & J SAEGER. April, 22,

To Reouse-Recpers.

ENAMELED and tinned inside, cooking vessels, sauce and stew pans, preserve kettles, fish and ham kettles, frying pans, gridirons, wassle irons, &c.
TEA TRAYS and Waiters, from common to fine, in sets and dozens. Also, gothic form, in sets, and in variety of patterns, KNIVES and FORKS-in sets and dozens ; also knives only ; carvers, steels, cook and butcher knives, with a variety of other manufactures.

scissors, shears, from the best makers; one, two, three, and I blade knives. SHOVELS, spades, hoes, chains, rakes pick, axes, &c. SHOVELS and TONGS, Iron and brass polished steel fire sets and standards, coal hods, tailors' frons smoothing frons, &c. for sale by O&ISAEGER. April, 22, IRON.-A lot of Hammered and Rolled Iron, Sheet Iron, American and English a general assortment of extra fine and coarse Band Iron, Hoop Iron, Cast and Shear Gentlemen's Boots, Monroes and Shoes .-Steel, square, flat, and round, just received Also, Ladies' and Misses' Morocco and Pruwith Anvils and Vices, and for sale cheap O & J SAEGER.

GLASS .- 150 Boxes Glass, 8 by 10, 10 by 12, 10 by 14, 10 by 15, 12 by 16, and various other seizes, for sale by O&ISAEGER.

TO SHOEMAKERS.—Just received a new assortment of Morocco and Binding Leather, Lasts, Shoe-thread, Wooden Pegs French Rubers, and numerous other articles belonging to the shoemaking business O & J'SAEGER.

They are satisfied that they have selec- boiled and raw, Turpentine, Newark Varted a stock of goods as cheap if not cheaper nish of all kinds; Glue &c.,-will be sold cheap by O&J SAEGER

PLANES,-A full assortment of Planes of John Bell's best make, also a large assortment of Carpenter's Tools, for sale cheap O & J SAEGER.

TO MECHANICS .- Tools of every de-

just received, Pure and Extra, and for sale by O & J SAEGER.

reduced prices at the store of O & J SAEGER.

 $\P-1y$

To Builders.

A splendid assortment of Front and Parlor Locks with mineral knobs, german Locks, Latches, Bolts, Hinges, Screws, Paint Brush es, and a variety of other building Hardware just unpacking, and for sale cheaper than ever by O & J SAEGER. May 8.

Two Piano Fortes HORSAPES

The undersigned has just finsix and three quarter octavo Piano Fortes with Rose wood cases. Apply at his Piano Forte Manufactory, in Hamilton street, west of Hagenbuch's Flotel, in Allentown. SIMON SWEITZER.

AMERICAN HOTEL, AND GENERAL STAGE OFFICE, Corner of Hamilton and William Streets, ALLENTOWN.

John Y'. Bechiel Announces to his friends and the public, that he has purchased the stock and fixtures of the above named Ho-Biel recently occupied Jonathan Kolb .-The house is one of the largest and most convenient Hotels in the borough, and its location, in the immediate vicinity of the Court house and public offices, makes it a desirable stopas of business. The proprietor therefore, their custom, in the best manner. His TABLE will always be supplied with the best the market affords; the BAR fortable; and, in fact, everything is arranged with a view to the convenience and comfort of his customers. In short, he has determined to spare neither pains nor expense to make his house equal to any in the country, and he therefore respectfully solicits a share of the public patronage. the Easton and Reading Stages, start from A great assortment of House furnishing this house. It is also the stage office for the other lines that leave Allentown. April 29.

Boot & Shoe Establishment In Allentown.

Shaffer & Hunter.

Respectfully inform their friends and the ublic in general, that they have lately bought out the Stock of Mr. John Recser, and will continue at the old stand, in Ham-POCKET and PENKNIVES-Razors, and J. B. Moser's Apothecary Store, where they are prepared to execute all orders in their line of business .. They also inform the public that they have just returned from Philadelphia with a large assortment of own manufacture, Bootees and Shoes. Boys and Childrens, Boots and Shoes-all made of the best material, of their own selection. They will warrant all their work, and orders will de executed at the shortest notice, give full satisfaction, and hopes that a geneand in the neatest manner. The hands in rous public will still extend to her a liberal their employ are of the best that can be patronage, for which she will always feel found, both in the Ladies' as well as Gentlemen's branch of the business.

The assortment they keep on hand is very extensive, comprising every article that may be called for in their line. Persons who are in want of a pair of good

Boots or Shors, an article highly necessary OILS & VARNISH .- Oils of all kinds, to keep your feet warm and dry, will do well to give them a call, before purchasing elsewhere, as they do not intend to charge anything for showing their goods. April 15. ¶—3m

MOTICE.

To the Heirs of Paul Balliet, Rec'd. Notice is hereby given, that the undersigned, one of the executors of the last will scription, such as Bench and Moulding and testament of Paul Balliet, deceased, Planes, Hand, Pannel, and Back Saws, late of North Whitehall township, Lehigh Brace and Bitts, Auger Bitts, Hatchets, county, is ready to pay all the legal Heirs or Representatives of the said estate. Since O & J SAEGER. however, the estate is yet in law, it will be WIIITE LEAD.—2 tons of White Lead | necessary to ask of each and every Heir or Representative, a Refunding Bond, with approved security, before his or her respective portion can be paid. The legal Heirs and Representatives and those who may be in-HOLLOWWARE. -- 500 Iron Pots and terested, are requested to make application for their respective portions to STEPHEN BALLIET, jr.,

Acting Executor April 22.

H G. SICKEL, BRASS WORKER,

Respectfully informs the citizens of Alentown and its vicinity that he continues it his old stand

No. 32 North Second Street the manufacturing of Gus Fixtures, Sickels' Patent Fluid

Lumps, Chandeliers, Girandoles, Boquet Holders, &c., &c. He also manufactures Fluid and Pine

His prices are moderate, and his orders will be filled with the greatest dispatch.— Therefore remember the place, No. 32, North Second Street Philadelphia.

Tanners Furnishing Store! William Grim, CURIER IN ALLENTOWN.

Herewith makes known to his friends and the public in general, that he still continues the

Currying Business

in all its various branches, at his old stand, directly opposite Hagenbuch's Hotel. He has just returned from New York, with a very large stock, which he is determined to sell at city prices.

Sole Leather .- He constantly keeps on hand an assortment of Red or Hemlock tanned sole leather. Also an assortment of Oak tanned, which he will sell at the lowest ping place, as well to the men of pleasure prices. Calfskins and Upper Leather, of the very best quality at reduced prices. Kids .- He has an assortment of Spanish Kids on hand, that cannot be excelled in quality or prices. Oil .- He always keeps on hand the very best quality of Tanners' Oil, which he is able to sell at Philadelphia prices. Persons wishing the above articles will do well to call on him, before they purchase elsewhere.

ALL KINDS OF HIDES

will be taken in exchange for goods, or will be paid for in cash.

Punctuality in his business, and the low prices of his goods will induce not only his old customers to continue their favors, but will induce many new ones to favor him with their calls. He returns his thanks for the favors heretofore received.
WILLIAM GRIM.

May 6.

New Millinery in Allentown! Mes. A. S. Kaufman,

And Fashionable Millinery Stock, comprising the latest styles. Her stock consists in part of Gossamer, Braid, Fine Hair and Blonde, Jenny Lind Looped, Fine Sattin and Pearl. Albora and Sattin, Imperial They also keep and Tripoli, China Pearl, Coburg, and eveing Bonnets of all kinds. Artificial flowers of every description, Caps, &c. Repairing, shaping, whitening and 'pressing done after the latest fashions, and equal going to be teased to death." to any city establishment, and done at the shortest possible notice.

Having followed the business for a number of years, believes herself competent to very grateful. To those who have favored her with their calls, she returns her thanks. April 15,

FOR SALE.

The undersigned offers for sale a second hand Coal Gas Apparatus, which he will warrant to be able to furnish from 50 to 70 lights an evening. It will be put into operation at any place required, and will be sold at a great bargain.

He further informs the public that he will put up the Apparatus, at but a trifling cost. He will put up the Gas Works in villages of from 5 to 50 houses and furnish every thing required for permanent lights at but a trifling cost.

The Apperatus offered above is the one formerly used for lighting east Hamilton street. The wants of the community required more lights than this was able to furnish.

The Apparatus can be seen at any time by calling at the Apothacary Store of W. F. DONOWESKY.

Removal.

GEORGE KECK, TAILOR IN ALLENTOWN.

Informs his friends and the public in general that he has removed his shop in the second story above Reber's Store, directly opposite O. & J. Saeger's Hardware Store, where he still continues the

Tailoring Business,

and will at all times be ready to make gentlemen's apparal, after the latest London, Paris, New York or Philadelphia fashions. Having employed experienced hands, and being determined to render satisfaction to feels confident of a continuance of their cus-

He tenders his former customers his grateful acknowledgements for past favors, and hopes by reasonable prices, and punctual attendance to his business, to merit their continuance.

The Bewitching Widow.

Kate Warren! bright, beautiful, bewitching Kate Warren !- it almost seems as if I could see thee now, and, as in days of yore when thy bright eyes shone with a sunlike lustre and thy cheeks were like the roses in thy own gardens. But who is Kate Warren?

Ah, that's it, reader. I was just about to ell thee who Kate Warren was.

Kate was the daughter of an honest farmer—the youngest child, and, of course, petted and spoiled. There were four girls of them-Sally, Frank, Lizzie and Kate; but Kate was the life and soul of the whole family. Active and sprightly as a fawn, she was constantly in mischief, and if any roguery was concocted, Kate Warren, you might be sure, had something to do about it. And yet every body in the neighborhood loved Kute, from the old bed-ridden beldame to the laughing, frolicking child.

If Kate did not labor as hard as her sisters, she was equally as useful. She drove the cows, tended the chickens and turkies, caught the horse and harnessed him when her father was in a hurry, and the way she would leap over a three-barrel fence was a caution to petticoats. Kate would have been a "Bloomer" if Bloomers had been in vogue in her young day; nevertheless, short dressess were then worn, and Kate was not slow at a race.

The first time I met Kate Warren, she was standing, with her sister Lizzie, on a little knoll in her father's pasture, half a mile from home, hallowing with her musical voice to the cows, and as she leaped from rock to rock in her endeavors to make them "fall in" into the cowpath, I thought her the most lovely little sylph I had ever met with.

With all her mischievousness, Kate had a heart-a whole heart-but it was encased so thoroughly that, though numerous "nice young men" had hinted their partiality for her, she cared litle about them-and told them so. She was free-generous to a fault. If she erred it was on the side of humanity and many a poor traveling beggar, was indebted to her interposition for a night's lodging at farmer Warren's dwelling. But time rolled on-Kate grew older; her sisters were all married, and she, despite her own good sense to the contrary, was induced by father, mother, sisters, uncles, aunts and cousins, to wed a young man whose farm adjourned her father's .-Not that she loved him-she never saw the man she loved, and never expected toon hand of their ry other style that can be named. Also Cas- but mother said "it would be a good match,"

Kate would forgot his dinner and when supper-time arrived would be "over to moth-If her husband wanted the horse, and many a time in the busy season would the good man hurry up to the barn for his horse just in season to see Kate driving off Jehu-like, with two or three young girls in the wagon. Mr. Tilton talked to her father and mother, and father and mother talked to Kate; but she told them she married to please them, and was now "her own woman," and "could not allow her domestic for raising a higher standard of responsibilipeople.

One day Kate's husband was compelled to walk three miles, because she, contrary to his expressed wishes, had gone on a drive. What his thoughts were the reader can guess from the fact that in less than a week the old mare had been "swapped" for a five years-old colt, which Kate was told was too high spirited for her to drive.

As on every other subject, Kate differed with her husband on this-the more so as the colt was a beauty-and she admired. besides, the idea that he could "go," which made her auxious for the opportunity to test his qualities; and as soon as the breakfast things were cleared up, Kate led out the colt, and, "hitching" him to the wagon, started to see "sister Frank," who lived some four miles off. The colt was a "prompt traveler," and Kate told her sister she "loved him dearly."

When Mr. Tilton returned to dinner the colt was standing in the yard, with one of the wagonshafts hanging to a portion of the harness, trembling like a frightened rabbit. Her husband was frightened, and procuring a horse of his father-in-law, started off in pursuit of his wife. Half a mile from home he met Kate, skipping merrily along, and snapping her whip with as much satisfaction as though she were comfortably seated in her carriage. Poor man! we cannot chronicle his many sufferings. Kate was killing him by inches all such as may favor him with a trial, he him with all the affection of a loving wife yet, when he was taken sick she tended and when he died, she wept as if her heart was broken, and every body pitied her and said "she must have loved him very affectionately." But Kate's tears were soon dried. She was a widow, with only one child, a curlyheaded, blue-eyed boy, and property worth ¶-2m | ten thousand dollars. It was in her nature | bear ache-corns.

NUMBER 33:

to enjoy herself, and why should'nt she? The second year of her widowhood, Kate visited Boston, and spent a few months at the residence of a friend. While here, she became acquainted with Mr. Blifkins (not Blifkins, of the Carpet-bag,) a bookkeeper in an extensive dry goods establishment.—
He gallanted her about the city, took her to the opera theatres, concerts, &c., and really. thought (though he was on the shady side of thirty and a little bald, that Kate loved him. Whether the "ten thousand" had anything to do with his affections we cannot tell. He was very attentive to her, and promised to visit her, at an early period after her return home. About a month after Kate had arrived ome one pleasant Saturday afternoon, Mr. Blifkins rung the bell at the door of her residence, and was met by the Mistress .-He appeared pleased to see her, and extended his hand. Kate drew back. "Realty, he had the advantage of her-she was sure she did not know him," and when he mention the name of "Blifkins," she had never heard it before—there must be some mistake. To add to the annoyance of Blif-, kins, Kate motioned to the servant-girl, a witty-daughter of Erin, and winking to her, left Blifkins to her tender mercies. Bridget told him she was sure no jintle-man would insult a lone widow in her own. house, and in order to give greater effect to her words, she placed her hands-which, unfortunately for Blifkins, had but just emerged from the damp flour which she was "mixing" when the gentleman arrived

-on his coat. Poor Blifkins!-he was dumbfounded! There was no tavern in the town, and he was compelled to beg a lodging, and, what was worse, the innocent man was compelled to invent a falsehood as the reason for his visit. He returned to Boston "a sadder but wiser man," fully satisfied that middleaged book-keepers should never make love to be witching widows. Kate is still the same-driving and frolicking, gay and thoughtless; and though time has made a few furrows on her brow, her admirers have not decreased, but whether any of the "lords of creation" will be able to make a wife of the "bewitching widow," is a matter which for the present is locked in the mysterious casket of her own heart. Freedom Against Force.

Somebody writes in this wise. "The securing of married women's rights in their own property; the protection of their power in that of the husbands; the exemption of the homestead and of a liberal amount of and Kate to get rid of them, said "Yes, if household furniture from execution for debt she must get married, she'd as soon marry all of which are rapidly coming, whatever Henry Tilton as any body, and she wasn't else results, will have the effect of putting business on a new basis Poor fellow! he'd better have committed ter.—Mean men will find some way of playsnicide. As it was, it was next thing to it. ing the sneak and rascal, then as they do now; but most likely the force of opinion will be as effectual in the collection of debts as that of law. Gambling debts and mar-Kate was sure to want it the same moment! riage fees, in this country, and physcian's in England are paid punctually, because they are debts of honor. Collecting money by rigorous legal measures has been called "grinding the face of the poor;" publishing the insolvency and unpunctuality of debtors under the new system will "be putting them out of countenance." The thing is going to be tried, and it is worth the experiment, arranginents to be meddled with by other ty in business relations, and will doubtless, do as much good as society is capable of getting out of it. If there is any good in human nature it is to be expected that personal honor will keep pace with personal liberty. All these things are calculated to give dignity to the man, which is surely the best way of regulating all questions of prop-

Power of Imagination.

A year since, Elijah Barnes, of Penn., killed a rattlesnake in his field, without any injury to himself, and immediately after put on his son's waistcoat, both being of one color. He returned to his house, and on attempting to button his waistcoat he found to his astonishment, that it was much too small. His imagination was now brought to a high pitch, and he instantly concieved the idea that he had been imperceptibly bitten by the snake, and was thus swollen from its poison. He grew sudden-ly very ill and took to his bed. The family n great alarm and confusion, summoned three physicians, and the usual remedica were prescribed and administered. The patient, however, grew worse every minute, until at length his son came home, with his father's waistcoat dangling and about him.

The mystery was soon unfolded, and the patient being relieved from his imaginary apprehensions, dismissed his physicians, and was restored to health.

HE THAT BLOWS the coals in quarrels he has nothing to do with, has no right to complain if a spark flies in his face.

With is an old toper's nose like the sale ty valve of an engine? Because they is both sure indicators of when steam is up

. I hay

People's toes are like oaks when

Nov. 27, 1851. April 8,