

Don't be Discouraged.

Don't be discouraged, if in the outset of life things do not go smoothly. It seldom happens that the hopes we cherish of the future are realized. The path of life in the prospect appears smooth and level enough, but when we come to it we find it all up hill and generally rough enough. The journey is a laborious one and whether poor or wealthy, high or low, we shall find our disappointment, if we have built on any other calculation. To endure cheerfully what must be, and elbow our way as easily as we can, hoping for little, striving for much, is perhaps the true plan, but don't be discouraged; if occasionally you slip by the way, and your neighbors tread over you a little, or in other words, don't let a failure or two dishearten you, accidents will happen, miscalculations will sometimes be made; thinks will often turn out differently from our expectations, and we may be sufferers. It is worth while to remember that fortune is like the skies in April, sometimes clear and favorable, and as it would be folly to despair of again seeing the sun, because the day is stormy, so it is equally unwise to sink into despondency when fortune frowns, since in the common course of things, she may surely be expected to smile again. But again—

Don't be discouraged, if you are deceived in the people of the world; it often happens that men wear borrowed clothes, and sometimes those who have long stood before the world, are very rotten at the core. From sources such as these you may be unexpectedly deceived; and you will naturally feel sore under such deception but to these you must become used. If you fear them as most people do, they will lose their novelty before you grow grey, and you will learn to trust men cautiously and examine their character closely before you allow them great opportunities to injure you. But once more—

Don't be discouraged under any circumstances. Go steadily forward. Rather consult your own conscience than the opinions of men—though the last should not always be disregarded. Be industrious—be frugal—be honest; deal in perfect kindness with all that come in your way, exercising a neighborly and obliging spirit in your whole intercourse; and if you do not prosper as rapidly as any of your neighbors, depend upon it you will be happy.

The Smut in Wheat—Its Prevention.

As we have had numerous representations of serious injury from smut to the wheat crop, in parts of this state—the present season, we give the following upon the authority of Sir John Sinclair:

"If the seed is fortified by a solution of copper [Blue Vitriol] that substance not only destroys the germination of any smutty powder attached to the grain, but likewise prevents its being attacked through the root by any other parasitical plant that may be found in the soil, and thus enables it to escape other accidents to which wheat is liable."

Mode of Using the Blue Vitriol.—The mode of using the blue vitriol adopted by the gentleman who gives the recipe is as follows: Into 8 quarts of boiling water, he puts 1 lb. of blue vitriol; and while it is quite hot, he mixes 3 bushels of wheat with 3 quarts of the liquid; and at the end of three hours adds the other three quarts; and the three bushels of wheat are suffered to remain three hours longer, or six hours in all, in the liquid. The whole should be stirred three or four times during the 6 hours, and the light grains taken off. Then a sufficient quantity of [freshly] slaked lime to make the wheat perfectly dry. It may remain in a heap for six hours; it may then be spread open and used the next day, but not sooner. Though it is recommended to spread six hours after it has been limed, and put in a heap, yet there is no risk of its heating, and it may be kept longer than a day, without any risk of injury.

A CHALLENGE TO HORTICULTURISTS.—Five years ago I began to set an orchard. This fall I took from one Baldwin tree three bushels and a half of apples like the sample I send you; from a Rhode Island Greening, two and a half bushels; Roxbury Russet, a half bushel—all like the samples sent. The manner of cultivating my trees is set forth in a pamphlet published last fall. I further challenge the United States to produce so fine samples of peach, cherry, plum, pear, apricot and nectarine trees, for the time they have been set. The apple, when transplanted in the orchard, were about six or seven feet high; cherries the same, peaches were maiden plants. The orchard contains 1200 peach, 1500 pear, 200 cherry and 200 apple trees. Sold from five peach trees $25 worth.

Kossuth and his Landlady. The Courier and Enquirer makes the following statement concerning the last movements of Kossuth before he left for England. It is just in keeping with all his previous movements—

Kossuth had caused to be published in his most respected organ that he was to embark on Saturday the 17th inst. At his boarding house he stated that he should go to Jersey City on the Wednesday preceding and remain there until his embarkation. On the forenoon of the latter day, his baggage having been got in readiness, his bill, amounting to about $150, of which $100 was for regular board and the remainder for a large number of meals and other refreshment furnished to his visitors at his request was presented to his major-domo companion Hajnik, Conferences were there upon had by the latter with Kossuth, who was in an adjacent room and the payment of the face of the bill was refused. Eighty dollars were first offered by Hajnik as a settlement, afterwards ninety and lastly a hundred. The last offer was accompanied with the alternative, 'take that or go to court.' The landlady protested, just as she ought to have done, most indignantly; but baggage being at the door and about to be driven away, she received the 100 dollars, in the apprehensions that he would otherwise get nothing, and with the purpose to take steps which would secure the remainder of dues before Kossuth should leave Jersey City.

Our Country in 1792.

In 1792 the corner-stone of our present Capitol at Washington was laid. At that time, Gen. Washington, in whose honor the new seat of Government was named, officiated. Fifty years afterwards, viz: on the 4th of July 1851, the corner stone of an extension of the building was laid; and the Secretary made an address, in the course of which he presented a sketch of the comparative condition of our country at the two periods.

Then we had fifteen States, now we have thirty-one.

Then the population was 3,000,000 now it is twenty-three.

Then Boston had 15,000, now it has 109,000.

Philadelphia had 42,000, now it has 409,000.

New York had 33,000, now it has 550,000.

Then our imports were 31,000,000, now they are 178,000,000.

The area of our territory was then 800,000 square miles, it is now 3,300,000.

Then we had no railroads, now we have 3,500,000 miles of it.

Then we had 200 post offices, now we have 21,000.

Our revenue from postage then was, 100,000 now it is 5,000,000.

These are only a few facts going to show the rapid growth of our country; and all that we and our children have to do to secure the continuance of its prosperity, is to love, fear, and obey the God of our fathers; to avoid pride contention and greediness; to gain, and cherish in our hearts a true patriotism, and a just sense of obligation to those that shall come after us.
