TOTHE LADIES,

We would invite them all to attend, and by their presence, and a display of the vari. stoves, of all sizes and prices. ous productions of their taste and skill encourage the object of the Society. The approving smile of woman will stimulate and encourage any enterprize; while the refining and cheering influence of her presence on oc-casions like this are so striking and important, that her aid may be considered indispensable to complete success. Come then ladies! from far and near; bring your specimens of needle work or other productions of your hands, to swell the general display; or if you have nothing to exhibit, come and see of every description used for family purpo what your sisters can produce, and how much each of you can contribute to encourage the noble enterprize of exalting the condition of the human family and promoting their comfort and happiness. Ample arrangements will be made for your accommodation, and every practicable effort used to render your visit agreeable. EDWARD KOHLER, PRESIDENT.
